REV. J. O. YOUNG, D.D.

PROLOGUE.

By a Friend.

OFT has the Buskin'd Muse, with Action mean,
Debas'd the Glory of the Tragic Scene:
While puny Villains drest in Purple Pride,
With Crimes obscene the Heav'n-born Rage bely'd.

To her belongs to mourn the Hero's Fate,
To trace the Errors of the Wise and Great;
To mark th' Excess of Passions too refin'd,
And paint the Tumults of a God-like Mind;
Where mix'd with Rage, exalted Thoughts combine,
And darkest Deeds with beauteous Colours shine.

Such Lights and Shades in a well-mingled Draught,
By curious Touch of artful Pencils wrought,
With soft Deceit amuse the doubtful Eye,
Pleas'd with the Conflict of the various Dye.

Thus thro' the following Scenes with sweet Surprise,
Virtue and Guilt in dread Confusion rise,
And Love and Hate, at once, and Grief and Joy,
Pity and Rage, their mingled Force employ.

Here the soft Virgin sees with secret Shame,
Her Charms excell'd by Friendship's purer Flame,
Forc'd with reluctant Virtue to approve,
The generous Hero who rejects her Love.

Behold him There with gloomy Passions stain'd,
A Wife suspected, and an injur'd Friend;
Yet such the Toil where Innocence is caught,
That rash Suspicion seems without a Fault.
We dread a while lest Beauty should succeed,
And almost wish ev'n Virtue's self may bleed.

Mark well the black Revenge, the cruel Guile,
The Traitor-fiend trampling the lovely Spoil
Of Beauty, Truth, and Innocence oppress,
Then let the Rage of Furies fire your Breast.

Yet may his mighty Wrongs, his just Disdain,
His bleeding Country, his lov'd Father slain,
His Martial Pride, your Admiration raise,
And crown him with involuntary Praise.

THE REVENGE.

ACT I. SCENE I.

Enter Zanga.

WETHER first Nature, or long want of Peace, (tell;
Has wrought my mind to this, I cannot
But Horrors now are not displeasing to me :

I like this rocking of the Battlements.
Rage on ye Winds, burst Clouds, and Waters roar!
You bear a just Resemblance of my Fortune,
And suit the gloomy Habit of my Soul.

Enter Isabella.

Who's there? My Love!

Ifab. Why have you left my Bed?
Your Absence more affrights me than the Storm.

Zan. The Dead alone in such a Night can rest,
And I indulge my Meditation here.

Woman, away. I choose to be alone.

Ifab. I know you do, and therefore will not leave you;
Excuse me, Zanga, therefore dare not leave you.

Is this a Night for Walks of Contemplation?

Something unusual hangs upon your Heart,

And I will know it: By our Loves, I will.

To you I sacrific'd my Virgin Fame;

Ask I too much to share in your Distress?

Zan. In Tears? Thou Fool! then hear me, and be In Hell's Abyss, if ever it escape thee. (plung'd

To strike thee with Astonishment at once,

I hate Alonzo. First recover that,

And then thou shalt hear farther.

Ifab. Hate Alonzo!

I own, I thought Alonzo most your Friend,

And that he lost the Master in that Name.

Zan. Hear then, 'Tis twice three Years since that Great Man

(Great let me call him; for he conquer'd Me)

Made me the Captive of his Arm in Fight.

He slew my Father, and threw Chains o'er me,

While I with pious Rage pursu'd Revenge.

I then was young, he plac'd me near his Person,

And thought me not dishonour'd by his Service.

One Day (may that returning Day be Night,

The Stain, the Curse of each succeeding Year)

For something, or for nothing, in his Pride

He struck me. (While I tell it, do I live?)

He smote me on the Cheek—I did not stab him;

For that were poor Revenge—E'er since, his Folly

Has strove to bury it beneath a Heap

Of Kindnesses, and thinks it is forgot.
 Insolent Thought ! and like a second Blow !
 Affronts are innocent, where Men are worthless;
 And such alone can wisely drop Revenge.

Ifab. But with more Temper, Zanga, tell your Story :
 To see your strong Emotions startles me.

Zan. Yes, Woman, with the Temper that befits it.
 Has the dark Adder Venom ? So have I
 When trod upon. Proud Spaniard, thou shalt feel me !
 For from that Day, that Day of my Dishonour,
 I from that Day have curs'd the rising Sun,
 Which never fail'd to tell me of my Shame.
 I from that Day have blest the coming Night,
 Which promis'd to conceal it ; but in vain ;
 The Blow return'd for ever in my Dream.
 Yet on I toil'd, and groan'd for on Occasion
 Of ample Vengeance ; none is yet arriv'd.
 Howe'er at present I conceive warm Hopes
 Of what may wound him sore, in his Ambition,
 Life of his Life, and dearer than his Soul.
 By nightly March he purpos'd to surprise
 The Moorish Camp ; but I have taken Care
 They shall be ready to receive his Favour.
 Failing in this, a Cast of utmost Moment,
 Would darken all the Conquests he has won.

Ifab. Just as I enter'd an Express arriv'd.

Zan. To whom ?

Ifab. His Friend, Don Carlos.

Zan. Be propitious,

O Mahomet, on this important Hour,
 And give at length my famish'd Soul Revenge !
 What is Revenge, but Courage to call in
 Our Honour's Debts, and Wisdom to convert
 Other's Self-love into our own Protection ?
 But see, the Morning Ray breaks in upon us,
 I'll seek Don Carlos, and enquire my Fate. [Exit.

Enter Manuel and Don Carlos.

Man. My Lord Don Carlos, what brings your Express?
Car. Alonzo's Glory, and the Moors Defeat.

The Field is strew'd with twice ten thousand slain,
 Tho' he suspects his Measures were betray'd.
 He'll soon arrive. O, how I long to embrace
 The first of Heroes, and the best of Friends! —
 I lov'd fair Leonora long before

The Chance of Battle gave me to the Moors,
 From whom so late Alonzo set me free;
 And while I groan'd in Bondage, I deputed
 This Great Alonzo, whom her Father honours,
 To be my gentle Advocate in Love,
 To stir her Heart, and fan its Fires for me.

Man. And what Success?

Car. Alas, the cruel Maid —
 Indeed, her Father, who tho' high at Court,
 And powerful with the King, has Wealth at Heart,
 To heal his Devastations from the Moors,
 Knowing I'm richly freighted from the East,
 My Fleet now sailing in the sight of Spain,
 (Heav'n guard it safe thro' such a dreadful Storm)
 Caresses me, and urges her to wed.

Man. Her aged Father
 Leads her this way.

Car. She looks like radiant Truth,
 Brought forth by the Hand of hoary Time —
 You to the Port with speed, 'tis possible
 Some Vessel is arriv'd. Heav'n grant it bring Tidings, which Carlos may receive with Joy.

Enter Alvarez and Leonora.

Alv. Don Carlos, I am labouring in your Favour
 With all a Parent's soft Authority,
 And earnest Counsel.

Car. Angels second you!

For

For all my Bliss or Misery hangs on it.

Alv. Daughter, the Happiness of Life depends
On our Discretion, and a prudent Choice;
Look into those they call unfortunate,
And closer view'd, you'll find they are unwise:
Some Flaw in their own Conduct lies beneath,
And 'tis the Trick of Fools to save their Credit,
Which brought another Language into Use.

Don Carlos is of ancient, noble Blood,
And then his Wealth might mend a Prince's Fortune.
For him the Sun is labouring in the Mines,
A faithful Slave, and turning Earth to Gold.
His Keels are freighted with that sacred Pow'r,
By which ev'n Kings and Emperors are made.

Sir, you have my good Wishes, and I hope [To Car.
My Daughter is not indispos'd to hear you. [Ex. Alv.

Car. O Leonora! why art thou in Tears?
Because I am less wretched than I was?
Before your Father gave me leave to woo you,
Hush'd was your Bosom, and your Eye serene.
Will you for ever help me to new Pains,
And keep Reserves of Torment in your Hand,
To let them loose on every Dawn of Joy?

Leon. Think you my Father too indulgent to me,
That he claims no Dominion o'er my Tears?
A Daughter sure may be right dutiful,
Whose Tears alone are free from a Restraint. —

Car. Ah my torn Heart!

Leon. Regard not me, my Lord,
I shall obey my Father.

Car. Disobey him,
Rather than come thus coldly, than come thus
With absent Eyes, and alienated Mien,
Suff'ring Address, the Victim of my Love.
O let me be undone the common Way,
And have the common Comfort to be pity'd,
And not be ruin'd in the Mask of Bliss,
And so be envy'd, and be wretched too!
Love calls for Love. Not all the Pride of Beauty,

Those

Those Eyes that tell us what the Sun is made of,
 Those Lips, whose Touch is to be bought with Life;
 Those Hills of driven Snow, which seen are felt;
 All these possess, are nought, but as they are
 The Proof, the Substance of an inward Passion,
 And the rich Plunder of a taken Heart.

Leon. Alas! my Lord, we are too delicate;
 And when we grasp the Happiness we wish'd,
 We call on Wit to argue it away:

A plainer Man would not feel half your Pains;
 But some have too much Wisdom to be happy.

Car. Had I known this before, it had been well:
 I had not then solicited your Father
 To add to my Distress; as you behave,
 Your Father's Kindness stabs me to the Heart.
 Give me your Hand — Nay, give it, Leonora,
 You give it not, — nay, yet you give it not —
 I ravish it. —

Leon. I pray, my Lord, no more.

Car. Ah, why so sad? You know each Sigh does shake me;
 Sighs there, are Tempests here. —
 I've heard, bad Men would be unblest in Heav'n:
 What is my Guilt, that makes me so with you?
 Have I not languish'd prostrate at thy Feet?
 Have I not liv'd whole Days upon thy Sight?
 Have I not seen thee where thou hast not been?
 And, mad with the Idea, clasp'd the Wind,
 And doated upon Nothing?

Leon. Court me not,
 Good Carlos, by recounting of my Faults,
 And telling how ungrateful I have been.
 Alas! my Lord, if talking would prevail,
 I could suggest much better Arguments,
 Than those Regards you threw away on me;
 Your Valour, Honour, Wisdom, prais'd by all.
 But bid Physicians talk our Veins to Temper,
 And with an Argument new-set a Pulse;
 Then think, my Lord, of reasoning into Love.

Car. Must I despair then? Do not shake me thus:

My Tempest-beaten Heart is cold to Death.
 Ah! turn, and let me warm me in thy Beauties.
 Heav'ns! what a Proof I gave but two Nights past
 Of matchless Love! To fling me at thy Feet,
 I slighted Friendship, and I flew from Fame;
 Nor heard the Summons of the next Day's Battle:
 But darting headlong to thy Arms, I left
 The promis'd Fight, I left Alonzo too
 To stand the War, and quell a World alone. [Trumpets]

Leon. The Victor comes. My Lord, I must withdraw.

Car. And must you go?

Leon. Why shou'd you wish me stay?
 Your Friend's Arrival will bring Comfort to you,
 My Presence none; it pains you and myself;
 For both our sakes, permit me to withdraw. [Ex. Leon.]

Car. Sure, there's no Peril but in Love. Oh how
 My Foes wou'd boast to see me look so pale!

Enter Alonzo.

Car. Alonzo!

Alon. Carlos! ——— I am whole again,
 Claspt in thy Arms, it makes my Heart entire.

Car. Whom dare I thus embrace? the Conqueror
 Of Africk?

Alon. Yes, much more, Don Carlos' Friend.
 The Conquest of the World would cost me dear,
 Should it beget one Thought of Distance in thee.
 I rise in Virtues to come nearer thee.
 I conquer with Don Carlos in my Eye,
 And thus I claim my Victory's Reward. [Embracing him]

Car. A Victory indeed! Your godlike Arm
 Has made one Spot the Grave of Africa;
 Such Numbers fell! and the Survivors fled
 As frightened Passengers from off the Strand,
 When the tempestuous Sea comes roaring on them.

Alon. 'Twas Carlos conquer'd, 'twas his cruel Chains
 Inflam'd me to a Rage unknown before,
 And threw my former Actions far behind.

Car.

Car. I love fair Leonora. How I love her!
 Yet still I find (I know not how it is)
 Another Heart, another Soul for thee.
 Thy Friendship warms, it raises, it transports
 Like Musick, pure the Joy, without Alloy,
 Whose very Rapture is Tranquillity :
 But Love, like Wine, gives a tumultuous Bliss,
 Heighten'd indeed beyond all mortal Pleasures;
 But mingles Pangs and Madness in the Bowl.

Enter Zanga.

Zan. Manuel, my Lord, returning from the Port,
 On Business both of Moment and of Haste,
 Humbly begs leave to speak in private with you.

Car. In private?—Ha!—Alonzo, I'll return,
 No Business can detain me long from thee. [Ex. Car.]

Zan. My Lord Alonzo, I obey'd your Orders.

Alon. Will the fair Leonora pass this way?

Zan. She will, my Lord, and soon.

Alon. Come near me, Zanga;

For I dare open all my Heart to thee.

Never was such a Day of Triumph known.

There's not a wounded Captive in my Train,

That slowly follow'd my proud Chariot Wheels,

With half a Life, and Beggary, and Chains,

But is a God to me: I am most wretched.

In his Captivity, thou know'st Don Carlos,

My Friend (and never was a Friend more dear)

Deputed me his Advocate in Love,

To talk to Leonora's Heart, and make

A tender Party in her Thoughts for him.

What did I do? I lov'd myself. Indeed,

One thing there is might lessen my Offence,

(If such Offence admits of being lessen'd)

I thought him dead; for (by what Fate I know not)

His Letters never reach'd me.

Zan. Thanks to Zanga,

Who thence contriv'd that Evil which has happen'd. [Aside.]

Alon.

Alon. Yes, curs'd of Heav'n! I lov'd myself, and now
In a late Action, rescued from the Moors,
I have brought home my Rival in my Friend.

Zan. We hear, my Lord, that in that Action too,
Your interposing Arm preserv'd his Life.

Alon. I did—with more than the Expence of mine;
For oh! this Day is mention'd for their Nuptials.
But see, she comes—I'll take my leave, and die.

Zan. Hadst thou a thousand Lives, thy Death would please me.

Unhappy Fate! My Country overcome:
My six Years Hope of Vengeance quite expir'd!——
Would Nature were——I will not fall alone:
But others' Groans shall tell the World my Death. [Aside.

Enter Leonora.

Alon. When Nature ends with Anguish like to this,
Sinners shall take their last leave of the Sun,
And bid his Light adieu.

Leon. The mighty Conqueror
Dismay'd! I thought you gave the Foe your Sorrows.

Alon. O cruel Insult! are those Tears your Sport,
Which nothing but a Love for you could draw?

Africk I quell'd, in hope by that to purchase
Your leave to sigh unscorn'd; but I complain not;
'Twas but a World, and you are——Leonora.

Leon. That Passion, which you boast of, is your Guilt;
A Treason to your Friend. You think mean of me,
To plead your Crimes as Motives of my Love.

Alon. You, Madam, ought to thank those Crimes you blame;

'Tis they permit you to be thus inhuman,
Without the Censure both of Earth and Heav'n——
If fondly thought a last Look might be kind.
Farewel for ever.—— This severe Behaviour
Has, to my Comfort, made it sweet to die.

Leon. Farewel for ever!—— Sweet to Die!—— O
Heav'n!

[Aside.
Alonzo.

Alonzo, stay, you must not thus escape me ;
But hear your Guilt at large.

Alon. O Leonora!

What could I do ? In Duty to my Friend,
I saw you ; and to see, is to admire.
For Carlos did I plead, and most sincerely.
Witness the thousand Agonies it cost me.
You know I did, I fought but your Esteem,
If that is Guilt, an Angel had been guilty.
I often sigh'd, nay, wept ; but could not help it ;
And sure it is no Crime to be in Pain.
But grant my Crime was great ; I'm greatly curs'd.
What would you more ? Am I not most undone ?
This Usage is like stamping on the Murder'd,
When Life is fled ; most barbarous and unjust.

Leon. If from your Guilt none suffer'd but yourself,
It might be so——Farewel. [Going.

Alon. Who suffers with me ?

Leon. Enjoy your Ignorance, and let me go.

Alon. Alas ! what is there I can fear to know,
Since I already know your Hate ? Your Actions
Have long since told me that.

Leon. They flatter'd you.

Alon. How ? Flatter'd me !

Leon. O search in Fate no farther !
I hate thee, O Alonzo ! How I hate thee !

Alon. Indeed ! And do you weep for Hatred too ?
O what a doubtful Torment heaves my Heart !
I hope it most---and yet I dread it more.
Shou'd it be so ; should her Tears flow from thence ;
How wou'd my Soul blaze up in Extasy !
Ah, no ! How sink into the Depth of Horrors !

Leon. Why would you force my Stay ?

Alon. What mean these Tears ?

Leon. I weep by Chance ; nor have my Tears a Meaning——

But oh ! when first I saw Alonzo's Tears,

I knew

I knew their Meaning well.

[Alon. falls passionately on his Knees, and takes her Hand.

Alon. Heavens ! what is this ? That Excellence for which Desire was planted in the Heart of Man ;

Virtue's supreme Reward on this side Heav'n ;
The Cordial of my Soul !—and This destroys me—
Indeed, I flatter'd me that thou didst hate.

Leon. Alonzo, pardon me the Injury
Of loving you. I struggled with my Passion,
And struggled long ; let that be some Excuse.

Alon. Unkind ! You know I think your Love a Blessing

Beyond all human Blessings ; 'tis the Price
Of Sighs and Groans, and a whole Year of dying :
But oh the Curse of Curses !——O my Friend !——

Leon. Alas !

Alon. What says my Love ?—Speak, Leonora.

Leon. Was it for you, my Lord, to be so quick
In finding out Objections to our Love ?
Think you so strong my Love, or weak my Virtue,
It was unsafe to leave that Part to me ?

Alon. Is not the Day then fix'd for your Espousals ?

Leon. Indeed, my Father once had Thought that Way ;
But marking how the Marriage pain'd my Heart,
Long he stood doubtful ; but at last resolv'd,
Your Counsel, which determines him in all,
Should finish the Debate.

Alon. O Agony !

Must I not only lose her, but be made
Myself the Instrument ? Not only die ;
But plunge the Dagger in my Heart myself ?
This is refining on Calamity.

Leon. What ! Do you tremble, lest you should be mine ?

For what else can you tremble ? not for that
My Father places in your Power to alter.

Alon. What's in my Pow'r ? ——O yes, to stab my Friend ?

Leon.

Leon. To stab your Friend were barbarous indeed!
Spare him—and murder me—I own, Alonso,
You well may wonder at such Words as these,
I start at them myself, they fright my Nature.
Great is my Fault; but blame not me alone,
Give him a little Blame, who took such Pains
To make me guilty.

Alon. Torment! [After a Pause, Leon. speaks.

Leon. O my Shame!
I sue, and sue in vain; it is most just.
When Women sue, they sue to be deny'd.
You hate me, you despise me, you do well;
For what I've done, I hate and scorn myself.
O Night fall on me; I shall blush to Death.

Alon. First perish all.

Leon. Say, what have you resolv'd?
My Father comes, what Answer will you give him?

Alon. What Answer! Let me look upon that Face,
And read it there—Devote thee to another!
Not to be borne! A second look undoes me.

Leon. And why undo you? Is it then, my Lord,
So terrible to yield to your own Wishes,
Because they happen to concur with mine?
Cruel! to take such Pains to win an Heart,
Which you was conscious you must break with parting.

Alon. No, Leonora, I am thine for ever, [Runs and embraces her.

In spite of Carlos—Ha! Who's that? My Friend?
[Starts wide from her.

Alas! I see him pale, I hear his Groan;
He foams, he tears his Hair, he raves, he bleeds,
(I know him by myself) he dies distracted.

Leon. How dreadful to be cut from what we love!

Alon. Ah! speak no more.

Leon. And ty'd to what we hate!

Alon. Oh!

Leon. Is it possible?

Alon. Death!

Leon. Can you?

Alon.

Alon. Oh ———

Yes, take a Limb ; but let my Virtue 'scape.

Alas ! my Soul, this Moment I die for thee.

Leon. And are you perjur'd then for Virtue's sake ?
How often have you sworn ! But go for ever---[Swoons.

Alon. Heart of my Heart, and Essence of my Joy !
Where art thou ?---Oh, I'm thine, and thine for ever !
The Groans of Friendship shall be heard no more.
For whatsoever Crime I can commit,
I've felt the Pains already.

Leon. Hold, Alonzo,
And hear a Maid, whom doubly thou hast conquer'd,
I love thy Virtue, as I love thy Person,
And I adore thee for the Pains it gave me ;
But as I felt the Pains, I'll reap the Fruit,
I'll shine out in my Turn, and shew the World
Thy great Example was not lost upon me.
Be it enough that I have once been guilty ;
In Sight of such a Pattern to persist,
Ill suits a Person honour'd with your Love.
My other Titles to that Bliss are weak,
I must deserve it by refusing it.
Thus then I tear me from thy Hopes for ever.
Shall I contribute to Alonzo's Crimes ?
No, tho' the Life Blood gushes from my Heart.
You shall not be asham'd of Leonora,
Or that late Time may put our Names together.
Nay, never shrink ; take back the bright Example
You lately lent ; O take it while you may,
While I can give it you, and be Immortal. [Exit.

Alon. She's gone, and I shall see that Face no more ;
But pine in Absence, and till Death adore,
When with cold Dew my fainting Brow is hung,
And my Eyes darken, from my fault'ring Tongue
Her Name will tremble in a feeble Moan,
And Love with Fate divide my dying Groan.

A C T

ACT II. SCENE I.

Enter Manuel and Zanga.

Z A N G A.

IF this be true, I cannot blame your Pain
For wretched Carlos; 'tis but humane in you
But when arriv'd your dismal News?

Man. This Hour.

Zan. What, not a Vessel sav'd?

Man. All, all the Storm
Devour'd; and now o'er his late envy'd Fortune
The Dolphins bound, and wat'ry Mountains roar, Triumphant in his Ruin.

Zan. Is Alvarez
Determin'd to deny his Daughter to him?
That Treasure was on Shore, must that too join
The common Wreck?

Man. Alvarez pleads indeed
That Leonora's Heart is disinclin'd,
And pleads that only; so it was this Morning,
When he concurr'd: the Tempest broke the Match;
And sunk his Favour, when it sunk the Gold.
The Love of Gold is double in his Heart,
The Vice of Age, and of Alvarez too.

Zan. How does Don Carlos bear it?

Man. Like a Man,
Whose Heart feels most a human Heart can feel,
And reasons best a human Heart can reason.

Zan. But is he then in absolute Despair?

Man.

Man. Never to see his Leonora more.

And, quite to quench all future Hope, Alvarez
Urges Alonzo to espouse his Daughter
This very Day ; for he has learnt their Loves.

Zan. Ha ! was not that receiv'd with Extasy
By Don Alonzo ?

Man. Yes, at first ; but soon
A Damp came o'er him, it would kill his Friend.

Zan. Not if his Friend consented ; and since now
He can't himself espouse her —————

Man. Yet to ask it
Has something shocking to a generous Mind,
At least Alonzo's Spirit startles at it.
Wide is the Distance between our Despair,
And giving up a Mistress to another.
But I must leave you, Carlos wants Support
In his severe Affliction. [Exit Manuel.

Zan. Ha ! it dawns ! —————
It rises to me, like a new-found World
To Mariners long time distress'd at Sea,
Sore from a Storm, and all their Viands spent ; —————
Or like the Sun just rising out of Chaos,
Some Dregs of ancient Night not quite purg'd off ;
But shall I finish it---Hwa ! Isabella !

Enter Isabella.

I thought of dying ; better Things come forward ;
Vengeance is still alive ; from her dark Covert,
With all her Snakes erect upon her Crest,
She stalks in View, and fires me with her Charms.
When, Isabella, arriv'd Don Carlos here ?

Isab. Two Nights ago.

Zan. That was the very Night
Before the Battle---Memory, set down that,
It has the Essence of the Crocodile,
Tho' yet but in the Shell——I'll give it Birth——
What Time did he return ?

Isab.

Isab. At Midnight.

Zan. So——

Say, did he see that Night his Leonora?

Isab. No, my good Lord.

Zan. No Matter——tell me, Woman,
Is not Alonzo rather brave than cautious,
Honest than subtle, above Fraud himself,
Slow therefore to suspect it in another?

Isab. You best can judge; but so the World thinks of him. [Exit Isab.

Zan. Why, that was well——go fetch my Tablets hither.
Two Nights ago, my Father's sacred Shade
Thrice stalk'd around my Bed, and smil'd upon me;
He smil'd, a Joy then little understood——
It must be so—and if so, it is Vengeance
Worth waking of the Dead for.

Re enter Isabella with the Tablets, Zanga writes, then reads as to himself.

Thus it stands——

The Father's fix'd——Don Carlos cannot wed——

Alonzo may——but that will hurt his Friend——

Nor can he ask his Leave——or if he did,

He might not gain it——It is hard to give

Our own Consent to Ills, tho' we must bear them.——

Were it not then a Master-piece worth all

The Wisdom I can boast, first to persuade

Alonzo to request it of his Friend,

His Friend to grant——then from that very Grant,

The strongest Proof of Friendship Man can give,

(And other Motives) to work out a Cause

Of Jealousy, to rack Alonzo's Peace?——

I have turn'd o'er the Catalogue of Woes,

Which sting the Heart of Man, and find none equal.

Is it the Hydra of Calamities,

The Seven-fold Death: The Jealous are the Damn'd.

O Jealousy, each other Passion's calm

To thee, thou Conflagration of the Soul!

Thou

Thou King of Torments! Thou grand Counterpoize
For all the Transports Beauty can inspire!

Isab. Alonzo comes this Way.

Zan. Most opportunely.

Withdraw—Ye subtle Dæmons, which reside [Ex. Isab.
In Courts, and do your Work with Bows and Smiles,
That little Engin'ry, more mischievous
Than Fleets and Armies, and the Cannon's Murder,
Teach me to look a Lye; give me your Maze
Of gloomy Thought and intricate Design,
To catch the Man I hate, and then devour,

Enter Alonzo.

My Lord, I give you Joy.

Alon. Of what, good Zanga?

Zan. Is not the lovely Leonora yours?

Alon. What will become of Carlos?

Zan. He's your Friend;

And since he can't espouse the Fair himself,
Will take some Comfort from Alonzo's Fortune.

Alon. Alas! thou little know'st the Force of Love;
Love reigns a Sultan with unrivall'd Sway,
Puts all Relations, Friendship's self to Death,
If once he's jealous of it. I love Carlos,
Yet well I know what Pangs I felt this Morning,
At his intended Nuptials. For myself
I then felt Pains, which now for him I feel.

Zan. You will not wed her then?

Alon. Not instantly:

Insult his broken Heart the very Moment!

Zan. I understand you: but you'll wed hereafter,
When your Friend's gone, and his first Pain assuag'd?

Alon. Am I to blame for that?

Zan. My Lord, I love

Your very Errors, they are born from Virtue.

Your Friendship (and what nobler Passion claims

The Heart?) does lead you blind-fold to your Ruin.

Consider,

Consider, wherefore did Alvarez break
Don Carlos' Match, and wherefore urge Alonzo's?
 'Twas the same Cause, the Love of Wealth: Tomorrow

May see Alonzo in Don Carlos' Fortune;
 A higher Bidder is a better Friend,
 And there are Princes sigh for Leonora.
 When your Friend's gone, you'll wed; why then the Cause

Which gives you Leonora now will cease,
Carlos has lost her; should you lose her too,
 Why then you heap new Torments on your Friend,
 By that Respect which labour'd to relieve him——
 'Tis well he is disturb'd, it makes him pause. [Aside.

Alon. Think'st thou, my Zanga, should I ask Don Carlos,

His Goodness would consent that I should wed her?

Zan. I know it would.

Alon. But then the Cruelty
 To ask it, and for me to ask it of him!

Zan. Methinks, you are not severe upon your Friend.
 Who was it gave him Liberty and Life?

Alon. That is the very Reason which forbids it.
 Were I a Stranger, I could freely speak:
 In me, it so resembles a Demand,
 Exacting of a Debt, it shocks my Nature.

Zan. My Lord, you know the sad Alternative.
 Is Leonora worth one Pang, or not?
 It hurts not me, my Lord, but as I love you;
 Warmly as you, I wish Don Carlos well;
 But I am likewise Don Alonzo's Friend:
 There all the Difference lies between us two.
 In me, my Lord, you hear another self,
 And give me Leave to add, a better too,
 Clear'd from those Errors, which, tho' caus'd by Virtue,
 Are such as may hereafter give you Pain.——
Don Lopez of Castile would not demur thus.

Alon. Perish the Name! What! sacrifice the Fair
 To Age and Illness, because set in Gold?

I'll to Don Carlos, if my Heart will let me.
I have not seen him since his sore Affliction ;
But shun'd it, as too terrible to bear.
How shall I bear it now ? I'm struck already. [Ex. Alon.

Zan. Half of my Work is done. I must secure
Don Carlos, ere Alonzo speaks with him.

[He gives a Message to a Servant, then returns.]

Proud, hated Spain ! Oft drench'd in Moorish Blood ;
Dost thou not feel a deadly Foe within thee ?
Shake not thy Tow'rs where-e'er I pass along,
Conscious of Ruin, and their great Destroyer ?
Shake to the Center, if Alonzo's dear.
Look down, O holy Prophet ! see me torture
This Christian Dog, this Infidel, which dares
To smite thy Votaries, and spurn thy Law ;
And yet hopes Pleasure from two radiant Eyes,
Which look as if they were lighted up for thee !
Shall he enjoy thy Paradise below ?
Blast the bold Thought, and curse him with her Charms. —————

But see, the melancholy Lover comes.

Enter Don Carlos.

Car. Hope, thou hast told me Lies from Day to Day,
For more than twenty Years ; vile Promiser !
None here are happy, but the very Fool,
Or very wise ; and I want Fool enough,
To smile in Vanities, and hug a Shadow ;
Nor have I Wisdom to elaborate
An artificial Happiness from Pains :
Ev'n Joys are Pains, because they cannot last. [Sighs.
Yet much is talk'd of Bliss, it is the Art
Of such as have the World in their Possession,
To give it a good Name, that Fools may envy ;
For Envy to small Minds is Flattery.
How many lift the Head, look gay, and smile
Against their Consciences ? And this we know,

B

Yet

Yet knowing disbelieve, and try again
 What we have try'd, and struggle with Conviction.
 Each new Experience gives the former Credit,
 And reverend grey Threescore is but a Voucher,
 That Thirty told us true.

Zan. My noble Lord,
 I mourn your Fate: but are no Hopes surviving?

Car. No Hopes. Alvarez has a Heart of Steel:
 'Tis fixt, 'tis past, 'tis absolute Despair.

Zan. You wanted not to have your Heart made tender
 By your own Pains to feel a Friend's Distress.

Car. I understand you well. Alonzo loves;
 I pity him.

Zan. I dare be sworn you do.
 Yet he has other Thoughts.

Car. What can'st thou mean?

Zan. Indeed he has, and fears to ask a Favour
 A Stranger from a Stranger might request,
 What costs you Nothing, yet is All to him,
 Nay, what indeed will to your Glory add,
 For nothing more than wishing your Friend well.

Car. I pray be plain: His Happiness is mine.

Zan. He loves to Death, but so reveres his Friend,
 He can't persuade his Heart to wed the Maid,
 Without your Leave, and that he fears to ask.
 In perfect Tendernefs, I urg'd him to it.
 Knowing the deadly Sicknefs of his Heart,
 Your overflowing Goodnefs to your Friend,
 Your Wisdom, and Despair yourself to wed her;
 I wrung a Promise from him he would try:
 And now I come, a mutual Friend to both,
 Without his Privacy, to let you know it,
 And to prepare you kindly to receive him.

Car. Ha! if he weds, I am undone indeed;
 Not Don Alvarez' self can then relieve me.

Zan. Alas! my Lord, you know his Heart is Steel.
 'Tis fixt, 'tis past, 'tis absolute Despair.

Car. O cruel Heav'n! and is it not enough
 That I must never, never see her more?

Say,

Say, it is not enough that I must die;
But I must be tormented in the Grave?
Ask my Consent? — Must I then give her to him?
Lead to his Nuptial Sheets the blushing Maid?
Oh! — Leonora? never, never, never!

Zan. A Storm of Plagues upon him! he refuses. [Aside.

Car. What! wed her? — and to-day?

Zan. To-day or never.

To-morrow may some wealthier Lover bring,
And then Alonzo is thrown out like you;
Then whom shall he condemn for his Misfortune?
Carlos is an Alvarez to his Love.

Car. O Torment! Whither shall I turn?

Zan. To Peace.

Car. Which is the Way?

Zan. His Happiness is yours,
I dare not disbelieve you.

Car. Kill my Friend!

Or worse — Alas! and can there be a worse? —
A worse there is; nor can my Nature bear it.

Zan. You have convince'd me, 'tis a dreadful Task.
I find, Alonzo's quitting her this Morning
For Carlos' sake, in Tenderness to you,
Betray'd me to believe it less severe
Than I perceive it is. —

Car. Thou dost upbraid me.

Zan. No, my good Lord; but since you can't comply,
'Tis my Misfortune that I mention'd it;
For had I not, Alonzo would indeed
Have dy'd, as now, but not by your Decree.

Car. By my Decree! Do I decree his Death?
I do — Shall I then send her to his Arms?
Oh! which side shall I take? Be stabb'd? Or — stabb'd?
'Tis equal Death, a Choice of Agonies. —

Ah no! all other Agonies are Ease

To one — O Leonora! — Never, never!

Go, Zanga, go, defer the dreadful Trial,
Tho' but a Day, something perchance may happen
To soften all to Friendship, and to Love.

Go, stop my Friend ; let me not see him now,
But save us from an Interview of Death.

Zan. My Lord, I'm bound in Duty to obey you——
If I not bring him, may Alonzo prosper. [Aside. Ex. Zan.

Car. What is this World ?---Thy School, O Misery !
Our only Lesson is to learn to suffer,
And he who knows not that, was born for nothing.
Tho' deep my Pangs, and heavy at my Heart,
My Comfort is, each Moment takes away
A Grain at least from the dead Load that's on me,
And gives a nearer Prospect of the Grave.
But put it most severely——should I live——
Live long——Alas ! there is no Length in Time ;
Nor in thy Time, O Man ! What's fourscore Years ?
Nay, what indeed, the Age of Time itself,
Since cut from out Eternity's wide Round ?
Way then. To a Mind resolv'd and wise,
There is an Impotence in Misery,
Which makes me smile, when all its Shafts are in me.
Yet, Leonora———She can make Time long,
Its Nature alter, as she alter'd mine.
While in the Lustre of her Charms I lay,
Whole Summer Suns roll'd unperceiv'd away ;
I Years for Days, and Days for Moments told,
And was surpriz'd to hear that I grew old ;
Now Fate does rigidly its Dues regain,
And every Moment is an Age of Pain.

As he is going out, Enter Zanga and Alonzo. Zanga stops Carlos.

Zan. Is this Don Carlos ? this the boasted Friend ?
How can you turn your Back upon his Sadness ?
Look on him, and then leave him if you can.
Whose Sorrows thus depress him ? Not his own ;
This Moment he could wed, without your Leave.

Car. I cannot yield ; nor can I bear his Grievs.
Alonzo ! [Going to him, and taking his Hand.
Alon.

Alon. O Carlos !

Car. Pray forbear.

Alon. Art thou undone, and shall Alonzo smile ?

Alonzo ! who perhaps in some Degree
Contributed to cause thy dreadful Fate ?

I was deputed Guardian of thy Love ;
But oh ! I lov'd myself. Pour down Afflictions
On this devoted Head ; make me your Mark ;
And be the World by my Example taught,
How sacred it should hold the Name of Friend.

Car. You charge yourself unjustly ; well I know
The only Cause of my severe Affliction.

Alvarez, curs'd Alvarez—so much Anguish
Felt for so small a Failure, is one Merit
Which faultless Virtue wants. The Crime was mine,
Who plac'd thee there, where only thou could'st fail ;
Tho' well I knew that dreadful Post of Honour
I gave thee to maintain. Ah ! who could bear
Those Eyes, unhurt ? The Wounds myself have felt (Which Wounds alone should cause me to condemn thee)
They plead in thy Excuse ; for I too strove
To shun those Fires, and found 'twas not in Man.

Alon. You cast in Shades the Failures of a Friend,
And soften all ; but think not you deceive me :
I know my Guilt, and I implore your Pardon,
As the sole Glimpse I can obtain of Peace.

Car. Pardon for him, who but this Morning threw Fair Leonora from his Heart, all bath'd
In ceaseless Tears, and blushing with her Love ?
Who, like a Rose-leaf wet with Morning Dew,
Would have stuck close, and clung for ever there ?
But 'twas in thee, thro' Fondness to thy Friend,
To shut thy Bosom against Ecstasies ;
For which, whilst this Pulse beats, it beats to thee,
Whilst this Blood flows, it flows for my Alonzo,
And every Wish is levell'd at thy Joy.

Zan. to Alon.] My Lord, my Lord, this is your Time to speak.

Alon. to Zan.] Because he's kind? It therefore is the worst;

For 'tis his Kindness which I fear to hurt.
Shall the same Moment see him sink in Woes,
And me providing for a Flood of Joys,
Rich in the Plunder of his Happiness?
No, I may die; but I can never speak.

Car. Now, now it comes! they are concerting it,
The first Word strikes me dead — O Leonora!
And shall another taste her fragrant Breath?
Who knows what After-time may bring to pass?
Fathers may change, and I may wed her still. [Aside.]

Alon. to Zan.] Do I not see him quite possess'd with Anguish,
Which, like a Dæmon, writhes him to and fro;
And shall I pour in new? No, fond Desire,
No, Love! One Pang at parting, and farewell.
I have no other Love but Carlos now.

Car. Alas! my Friend, why with such eager Grasp
Dost press my Hand, and weep upon my Cheek?

Alon. If after Death our Forms (as some believe)
Shall be transparent, naked every Thought,
And Friends meet Friends, and read each other's Hearts,
Thoult know one Day, that thou wast held most dear.
Farewell.

Car. Alonzo, stay—He cannot speak— [Holds him.]
Lest it should grieve me— Shall I be out done?
And lose in Glory, as I lose in Love? [Aside.]
I take it much unkindly, my Alonzo,
You think so meanly of me, not to speak,
When well I know your Heart is near to bursting.
Have you forgot how you have bound me to you?
Your smallest Friendship's Liberty and Life.

Alon. There, there it is, my Friend, it cuts me there.
How dreadful is it to a generous Mind
To ask, when sure he cannot be deny'd!

Car. How greatly thought! in all he tow'rs above
me.

Then you confess you would ask something of me.

Alon.

Alon. No, on my Soul.

Zan. to Alon.] Then lose her.

Car. Glorious Spirit!

Why, what a Pang has he run through for this!

By Heav'n, I envy him his Agonies.

Why was not mine the most illustrious Lot,

Of starting at one Action from below,

And flaming up into consummate Greatness?

Ha! Angels, strengthen me!—It shall be so——

I can't want Strength. Great Actions, once conceiv'd,

Strengthen like Wine, and animate the Soul,

And call themselves to Being. [Aside.] My Alonzo!

Since thy great Soul disdains to make Request,

Receive with Favour that I make to thee.

Alon. What means my Carlos?

Car. Pray observe me well,

Fate and Alvarez tore her from my Heart,

And plucking up my Love, they had well nigh

Pluck'd up Life too, for they were twin'd together.

O! that no more——What now does Reason bid?

I cannot wed——Farewell my Happiness;

But, O my Soul, with Care provide for her's.

In Life, how weak, how helpless is a Woman!

Soon hurt, in Happiness itself unsafe,

And often wounded while she plucks the Rose;

So properly the Object of Affliction,

That Heav'n is pleas'd to make Distress become her,

And dresses her most amiably in Tears.

Take then my Heart in Dowry with the Fair,

Be thou her Guardian, and thou must be mine,

Shut out the Thousand pressing Ills of Life

With thy surrounding Arms—Do this, and then

Set down the Liberty and Life thou gav'st me,

As little Things, as Essays of thy Goodness,

And Rudiments of Friendship so Divine.

Alon. There is a Grandeur in thy Goodness to me,

Which with thy Foes would render thee ador'd.

But have a Care, nor think I can be pleas'd

With any thing that lays in Pains for thee.

Thou dost dissemble, and thy Heart's in Tears.

Car. My Heart's in Health, my Spirits dance their Round,

And at my Eye Pleasure looks out in Smiles.

Alon. And can'st thou, can'st thou part with Leonora?

Car. I do not part with her, I give her thee.

Alon. O Carlos!

Car. Don't distrust me, I'm sincere.

Nor is it more than simple Justice in me.

This Morn didst thou resign her for my sake;

I but perform a Virtue learnt from thee;

Discharge a Debt, and pay her to thy Wishes.

Alon. Ah, how?— But think not Words were ever made

For such Occasions. Silence, Tears, Embraces,

Are languid Eloquence; I'll seek Relief

In Absence from the Pain of so much Goodness,

There thank the Blest above, thy sole Superiors,

Adore, and raise my Thoughts of them by thee. [Exit.

Zan. Thus far Success has crown'd my boldest Hope.

My next Care is to hasten these new Nuptials,

And then my Master-works begin to play. [Aside.

Why this was greatly done, without one Sigh [To Car.

To carry such a Glory to its Period.

Car. Too soon thou praisest me. He's gone, and now I must unluce my over-burden'd Heart,

And let it flow. I would not grieve my Friend

With Tears; nor interrupt my great Design,

Great sure as ever human Breast durst think of.

But now my Sorrows, long with Pain suppress'd,

Burst their Confinement with impetuous Sway,

O'er-swell all Bounds, and bear ev'n Life away.

So till the Day was won, the Greek renown'd

With Anguish wore the Arrow in his Wound,

Then drew the Shaft from out his tortur'd Side,

Let gush the Torrent of his Blood, and dy'd.

[Exeunt.

ACT

ACT III. SCENE I.

Enter Zanga and Isabella.

Z A N G A.

O Joy, thou welcome Stranger ! twice three Years
 I have not felt thy vital Beam ; but now
 It warms my Veins, and plays around my Heart :
 A fiery Instinct lifts me from the Ground,
 And could I mount — The Spirits numberless
 Of my dear Countrymen, which Yesterday
 Left their poor bleeding Bodies on the Field,
 Are all assembled here, and o'er-inform me. —
 O Bridegroom ! Great indeed thy present Bliss ;
 Yet ev'n by me unenvy'd ; for be sure
 It is thy last, thy last Smile, that which now
 Sits on thy Cheek ; enjoy it while thou may'st ;
 Anguish, and Groans, and Death bespeak To-morrow.
 My Isabella !

Isab. What commands my Moor ?

Zan. My fair Ally ! my lovely Minister !
 'Twas well Alvarez, by my Arts impell'd,
 (To plunge Don Carlos in the last Despair,
 And so prevent all future Molestation)
 Finish'd the Nuptials soon as he resolv'd them ;
 This Conduct ripen'd all for Me, and Ruin.
 Scarce had the Priest the holy Rite perform'd,
 When I, by sacred Inspiration, forg'd
 That Letter, which I trusted to thy Hand ;

That Letter, which in glowing Terms conveys,
 From happy Carlos to fair Leonora,
 The most profound Acknowledgment of Heart
 For wondrous Transports, which he never knew.

'This is a good subservient Artifice,
 To aid the nobler Workings of my Brain,
Ifab. I quickly dropt it in the Bride's Apartment,
 As you commanded.

Zan. With a lucky Hand;
 For soon Alonzo found it; I observ'd him
 From out my secret Stand. He took it up;
 But scarce was it unfolded to his Sight,
 When he, as if an Arrow pierc'd his Eye,
 Started, and trembling dropt it on the Ground.
 Pale and aghast awhile my Victim stood,
 Disguis'd a Sigh or two, and puff'd them from him;
 Then rubb'd his Brow, and took it up again.
 At first he look'd as if he meant to read it;
 But check'd by rising Fears, he crush'd it Thus,
 And thrust it, like an Adder, in his Bosom.

Ifab. But if he read it not, it cannot sting him,
 At least not Mortally.

Zan. At first I thought so;
 But farther Thought informs me otherwise,
 And turns this Disappointment to Account.
 He more shall credit it because unseen,
 (If 'tis unseen) as thou anon may'st find.

Ifab. That would indeed commend my Zanga's Skill.

Zan. This, Isabella, is Don Carlos's Picture;
 Take it, and so dispose of it, that found,
 It may rise up, a Witness of her Love,
 Under her Pillow, in her Cabinet,
 Or elsewhere, as shall best promote our End.

Ifab. I'll weigh it as its Consequence requires,
 Then do my utmost to deserve your Smile.

[Exit Isabella.]

Zan. Is that Alonzo prostrate on the Ground!—
 Now he starts up like Flame from sleeping Embers,
 And wild Distraction glares from either Eye.

If

If thus a slight Surmise can work his Soul,
How will the Fulness of the Tempest tear him!

Enter Alonzo.

Alon. And yet it cannot be——I am deceiv'd——
I injure her: she wears the Face of Heav'n.

Zan. He doubts. [Aside.

Alon. I dare not look on This again.
If the first Glance, which gave Suspicion only,
Had such Effect, so smote my Heart and Brain,
The Certainty would dash me all in Pieces.
It cannot——Ha! it must, it must be true. [Starts.

Zan. Hold there, and we succeed. He has descry'd
me.

And (for he knows I love him) will unfold
His aching Heart, and rest it on my Counsel.
I'll seem to go, to make my Stay more sure. [Aside.

Alon. Hold, Zanga, turn.

Zan. My Lord.

Alon. Shut close the Doors,
That not a Spirit find an Entrance here.

Zan. My Lord's obey'd.

Alon. I see that thou art frightened.
If thou dost love me, I shall fill thy Heart
With Scorpions Stings.

Zan. If I do love, my Lord?

Alon. Come near me, let me rest upon thy Bosom;
(What Pillow like the Bosom of a Friend?)
For I am sick at Heart.

Zan. Speak, Sir, O speak,
And take me from the Rack.

Alon. And is there need
Of Words? Behold a Wonder! See my Tears!

Zan. I feel them too. Heav'n grant my Senses fail
me!

I rather would lose them, than have this real.

Alon.

Alon. Go, take a Round thro' all things in thy Thought,
And find that One ; for there is only One
Which cou'd extort my Tears ; find that, and tell
Thy self my Misery, and spare me the Pain.

Zan. Sorrow can think but ill—I am bewilder'd ;
I know not where I am.

Alon. Think, think no more.
It ne'er can enter in an honest Heart.
I'll tell thee then—I cannot—Yet I do,
By wanting Force to give it Utterance.

Zan. Speak, ease your Heart ; its Throbs will break your Bosom.

Alon. I am most happy : mine is Victory,
Mine the King's Favour, mine the Nation's Shout,
And great Men make their Fortunes of my Smiles.
O Curse of Curses ! In the Lap of Blessing
To be most Curst !—My Leonora's false !

Zan. Save me, my Lord !

Alon. My Leonora's false. [Gives him the Letter.

Zan. Then Heav'n has lost its Image here on Earth.

[While Zanga reads the Letter, he trembles, and shews the utmost Concern.

Alon. Good-natur'd Man ! he makes my Pains his own.

I durst not read it ; but I read it now
In thy Concern.

Zan. Did you not read it then ?

Alon. Mine Eye just touch'd it, and could bear no more.

Zan. Thus perish all that gives Alonzo Pain.

[Tears the Letter.

Alon. Why didst thou tear it ?

Zan. Think of it no more.

'Twas your Mistake, and groundless are your Fears.

Alon. And didst thou tremble then for my Mistake ?
Or give the whole Contents, or by the Pangs
That feed upon my Heart, thy Life's in Danger.

Zan.

Zan. Is this Alonzo's Language to his Zanga?
 Draw forth your Sword, and find the Secret here.
 For whose sake is it, think you, I conceal it?
 Wherefore this Rage? Because I seek your Peace?
 I have no Interest in suppressing it,
 But what good-natur'd Tenderness for you
 Obliges me to have. Not mine the Heart
 That will be damn'd, tho' all the World should know it.

Alon. Then my worst Fears are true, and Life is past.

Zan. What has the Rashness of my Passion utter'd?
 I know not what; but Rage is our Distraction,
 And all its Words are Wind—— Yet sure, I think,
 I nothing own'd——but grant I did confess,
 What is a Letter? Letters may be forg'd.
 For Heaven's sweet sake, my Lord, lift up your Heart.
 Some Foe to your Repose——

Alon. So, Heav'n look on me,
 As I can't find the Man I have offended.

Zan. Indeed! [Aside.]——Our Innocence is not our Shield.

They take Offence, who have not been offended;
 They seek our Ruin too, who speak us fair,
 And Death is often ambush'd in their Smiles.
 We know not whom we have to fear. 'Tis certain
 A Letter may be forg'd, and in a Point
 Of such a dreadful Consequence as this,
 One would rely on nought that might be false——
 Think, have you any other Cause to doubt her?—
 Away, you can find none. Resume your Spirit,
 All's well again.

Alon. O that it were!

Zan. It is;
 For who could credit that, which credited,
 Makes Hell superfluous by superior Pains,
 Without such Proofs as cannot be withstood?
 Has she not ever been to Virtue train'd?
 Is not her Fame as spotless as the Sun,
 Her Sex's Envy, and the Boast of Spain?

Alon.

Alon. O Zanga! it is that confounds me most,
That full in Opposition to Appearance——

Zan. No more, my Lord, for you condemn yourself.
What is Absurdity, but to believe Against Appearance?——You can't yet, I find,
Subdue your Passion to your better Sense;——
And, Truth to tell, it does not much displease me.
'Tis fit our Indiscretions should be check'd,
With some Degree of Pain,

Alon. What Indiscretion?

Zan. Come, you must bear to hear your Faults from me.

Had you not sent Don Carlos to the Court
The Night before the Battle, that foul Slave,
Who forg'd the senseless Scroll which gives you Pain,
Had wanted footing for his Villainy.

Alon. I sent him not.

Zan. Not send him!---Ha!---That strikes me.
I thought he came on Message to the King.
Is there another Cause could justify
His shunning Danger, and the promis'd Fight?
But I perhaps may think too rigidly;
So long an Absence, and impatient Love——

Alon. In my Confusion, that had quite escap'd me:
By Heav'n, my wounded Soul does bleed afresh;
'Tis clear as Day---for Carlos is so brave,
He lives not but on Fame, he hunts for Danger,
And is enamour'd of the Face of Death.
How then could he decline the next Day's Battle,
But for the Transports?---Oh, it must be so——
Inhuman! by the Loss of his own Honour,
To buy the Ruin of his Friend!

Zan. You wrong him;
He knew not of your Love.

Alon. Ha! ——

Zan. That stings home.

[Aside:

Alon. Indeed, he knew not of my treacherous Love----
Proofs rise on Proofs, and still the last the strongest.
Th' eternal Law of Things declares it true,

Which

Which calls for Judgments on distinguish'd Guilt,
And loves to make our Crime our Punishment.
Love is my Torture, Love was first my Crime ;
For she was his, my Friend's, and he (O Horror !)
Confided all in me. O sacred Faith !
How dearly I abide thy Violation !

Zan. Were then their Loves far gone ?

Alon. The Father's Will

There bore a total Sway ; and he, as soon
As News arriv'd that Carlos' Fleet was seen
From off our Coast, fir'd with the Love of Gold,
Determin'd, that the very Sun which saw
Carlos' Return, should see his Daughter wed.

Zan. Indeed, my Lord, then you must pardon me,
If I presume to mitigate the Crime.
Consider, strong Allurements soften Guilt ;
Long was his Absence, ardent was his Love,
At Midnight his Return, the next Day destin'd
For his Espousals — 'twas a strong Temptation.

Alon. Temptation !

Zan. 'Twas but gaining of one Night.

Alon. One Night !

Zan. That Crime could ne'er return again.

Alon. Again ! By Heav'n, thou dost insult thy Lord.
Temptation ! One Night gain'd ! O Stings and Death !
And am I then undone ? Alas, my Zanga !
And dost Thou own it too ? Deny it still,
And rescue me one Moment from Distraction,

Zan. My Lord, I hope the best.

Alon. False, foolish Hope,
And insolent to me ! Thou know'st it false ;
It is as glaring, as the Noon-tide Sun.
Devil ! This Morning, after three Years Coldness,
To rush at once into a Passion for me !

'Twas time to feign, 'twas time to get another,
When her first Fool was sated with her Beauties.

Zan. What says my Lord ? Did Leonora then Never before disclose her Passion for you ?

Alon. Never.

Zan. Throughout the whole three Years?

Alon. O never! never! —

Why Zanga, should'st thou strive! 'Tis all in vain;
Tho' thy Soul labours, it can find no Reed
For Hope to catch at. Ah! I'm plunging down
Ten thousand thousand Fathoms in Despair.

Zan. Hold, Sir, I'll break your Fall — Wave ev'ry Fear,

And be a Man again — Had he enjoy'd her,
Be most assur'd, he had resign'd her to you
With less Reluctance.

Alon. Ha! Resign her to me! —

Resign her! — Who resign'd her? — Double Death!
How could I doubt so long? My Heart is broke.
First love her to Distraction! then resign her!

Zan. But was it not with utmost Agony?

Alon. Grant that, he still resign'd her, that's enough.
Would he pluck out his Eye to give it me?
Tear out his Heart? — She was his Heart no more —
Nor was it with Reluctance he resign'd her.
By Heav'n he ask'd, he courted me to wed.
I thought it strange; 'tis now no longer so.

Zan. Was't his Request? Are you right sure of that? —
I fear the Letter was not all a Tale.

Alon. A Tale! There's Proof equivalent to Sight.

Zan. I should distrust my Sight on this Occasion.

Alon. And so should I; by Heav'n, I think I should.
What! Leonora the Divine, by whom
We guess'd at Angels? Oh! I'm all Confusion.

Zan. You now are too much ruffled to think clearly.
Since Bliss and Horror, Life and Death hang on it,
Go to your Chamber, there maturely weigh
Each Circumstance; consider, above all,
That 'tis Jealousy's peculiar Nature
To swell small Things to Great; nay, out of Nought
To conjure much, and then to lose its Reason
Amid the hideous Phantoms it has form'd.

Alon. Had I ten thousand Lives, I'd give them all
To be deceiv'd. I fear 'tis Dooms-day with me;

And

And yet she seem'd so pure, that I thought Heav'n
Borrow'd her Form for Virtue's self to wear,
To gain her Lovers with the Sons of Men.

[Exit Alonzo.

Enter Isabella.

Zan. Thus far it works auspiciously. My Patient
Thrives underneath my Hand in Misery.
He's gone to think, that is, to be distracted.

Isab. I overheard your Conference, and saw you,
To my Amazement, tear the Letter.

Zan. There,
There, Isabella, I out-did myself.
For tearing it, I not secure it only
In its first Force; but superadd a new.
For who can now the Character examine
To cause a Doubt, much less detect the Fraud?
And after tearing it, as loth to shew
The foul Contents, if I should swear it now
A Forgery, my Lord would disbelieve me,
Nay more would disbelieve, the more I swore.
But is the Picture happily dispos'd of?

Isab. It is.

Zan. That's well——Ah! what is well? O Pang to think!

O dire Necessity! is this my Province?
Whither, my Soul, ah! whither art thou sunk
Beneath thy Sphere? Ere while, far, far above
Such little Arts, Dissembling, Falshoods, Frauds,
The Trash of Villainy itself, which falls
To Cowards and poor Wretches wanting Bread.
Does this become a Soldier? this become Whom Armies follow'd, and a People lov'd?
My Martial Glory withers at the Thought.
But great my End; and since there are no other,
These Means are just, they shine with borrow'd Light,
Illustrious from the Purpose they pursue.

And

And greater sure my Merit, who to gain
 A Point sublime, can such a Task sustain ;
 To wade thro' Ways obscene, my Honour bend,
 And shock my Nature, to attain my End.
 Late Time shall wonder ; That my Joys will raise ;
 For Wonder is involuntary Praise.

ACT IV. SCENE I.

Enter Alonzo and Zanga.

A L O N Z O.

OH, what a Pain to think ! when every Thought,
 Perplexing Thought, in Intricacies runs,
 And Reason knits th' inextricable Toil,
 In which herself is taken ! I am lost,
 Poor Insect that I am, I am involv'd,
 And bury'd in the Web myself have wrought.
 One Argument is balanc'd by another,
 And Reason Reason meets in doubtful Fight,
 And Proofs are countermin'd by equal Proofs.
 No more I'll bear this Battle of the Mind,
 'This inward Anarchy ; but find my Wife,
 And to her trembling Heart presenting Death,
 Force all the Secret from her.

Zan. O forbear !

You totter on the very Brink of Ruin.

Alon. What dost thou mean ?

Zan. That will discover all,
 And kill my Hopes. What can I think or do ? [Aside,

Alon. What dost thou murmur ?

Zan.

Zan. Force the Secret from her !
What's Perjury to such a Crime as this ?
Will she confess it then ? O groundless Hope !
But rest assur'd, she'll make this Accusation,
Or false or true, your Ruin with the King ;
Such is her Father's Power.

Alon. No more, I care not ;
Rather than groan beneath this Load, I'll die.

Zan. But for what better will you change this Load ?
Grant you should know it, would not that be worse ?

Alon. No, it would cure me of my mortal Pangs :
By hatred and Contempt, I should despise her ;
And all my Love-bred Agonies would vanish.

Zan. Ah ! were I sure of that, my Lord ———

Alon. What then ?

Zan. You should not hazard Life to gain the Secret.

Alon. What dost thou mean ? Thou know'st I'm on the Rack.

I'll not be play'd with ; speak, if thou hast aught,
Or I this Instant fly to Leonora.

Zan. That is, to Death. My Lord, I am not yet
Quite so far gone in Guilt to suffer it,
'Tho' gone too far, Heav'n knows---'Tis I am guilty.---
I have took Pains, as you I know observ'd,
'To hinder you from diving in the Secret,
And turn'd aside your Thoughts from the Detection.

Alon. Thou dost confound me.

Zan. I confound myself,
And frankly own it, though to my Shame I own it,
Nought but your Life in Danger could have torn
The Secret out, and made me own my Crime.

Alon. Speak quickly ; Zanga, speak.

Zan. Not yet, dread Sir :
First I must be assur'd, that if you find
The fair one guilty, Scorn, as you assur'd me,
Shall conquer Love and Rage, and heal your Soul.

Alon. Oh ! 'twill, by Heav'n.

Zan. Alas ! I fear it much,
And scarce can hope so far ; but I of this

Exact your solemn Oath, that you'll abstain
From all Self-violence, and save my Lord.

Alon. I trebly swear.

Zan. You'll bear it like a Man?

Alon. A God.

Zan. Such have you been to me, these Tears confess it,
And pour'd forth Miracles of Kindness on me:

And what Amends is now within my Pow'r,

But to confess, expose myself to Justice,

And as a Blessing claim my Punishment?

Know then, Don Carles, ———

Alon. Oh!

Zan. You cannot bear it.

Alon. Go on, I'll have it, tho' it blast Mankind;
I'll have it all, and instantly. Go on.

Zan. Don Carols did return at dead of Night——

Enter Leonora.

Leon. My Lord Alonzo, you are absent from us,
And quite undo our Joy.

Alon. I'll come, my Love:
Be not our Friends deserted by us both;
I'll follow you this Moment.

Leon. My good Lord.
I do observe Severity of Thought
Upon your Brow. Aught hear you from the Moors?

Alon. No, my Delight.

Leon. What then employ'd your Mind?

Alon. Thou, Love, and only Thou; so Heav'n befriend me,
As other Thought can find no Entrance here.

Leon. How good in you, my Lord, whom Nations
Cares
Sollicit, and a World in Arms obeys,
To drop one Thought on me!

[He shews the utmost Impatience.]

Leon. Dost thou then prize it?

Leon.

Leon. Do you then ask it?

Alon. Know then to thy Comfort,
Thou hast me all, my throbbing Heart is full
With thee alone, I've thought of nothing else;
Nor shall, I from my Soul believe, till Death.
My Life, our Friends expect thee.

Leon. I obey.

[Ex. Leon.

Alon. Is that the Face of curs'd Hypocrisy?
If she is guilty, Stars are made of Darkness,
And Beauty shall no more belong to Heav'n ———

Don Carlos did return at dead of Night:

Proceed, good Zanga, so thy Tale began.

Zan. Don Carlos did return at dead of Night;
That Night, by Chance (ill Chance for me) did I Command the Watch that guards the Palace Gate.
He told me he had Letters for the King,
Dispatch'd from you.

Alon. The Villain ly'd.

Zan. My Lord,
I pray forbear ——— Transported at his Sight,
After so long a Bondage, and your Friend,
(Who could suspect him of an Artifice?)
No farther I enquir'd; but let him pass,
False to my Trust, at least imprudent in it.
Our Watch reliev'd, I went into the Garden,
As is my Custom, when the Night's serene,
And took a Moon-light Walk: When soon I heard
A rustling in an Arbour that was near me.
I saw two Lovers in each other's Arms,
Embracing and Embrac'd. Anon the Man
Arose, and falling back some Paces from her,
Gaz'd ardently awhile, then rush'd at once,
And throwing all himself into her Bosom,
There softly sigh'd; "O Night of Ecstasy!
When shall we meet again?" Don Carlos then Led Leonora forth.

Alon. Oh! Oh my Heart! [He sinks into a Chair.

Zan. Groan on, and with the Sound refresh my Soul.
'Tis thro' his Heart, his Knees smite one another.

'Tis

'Tis thro' his Brain, his Eye balls roll in Anguish. [Aside.
 My Lord, my Lord, why do you rack my Soul?
 Speak to me, let me know that you still live.
 Do not you know me, Sir? Pray look upon me;
 You think too deeply, I'm your own Zanga,
 So lov'd, so cherish'd, and so faithful to you.—
 Where start you in such Fury? Nay, my Lord,
 For Heav'n's sake sheath your Sword! What can this mean?

Fool that I was to trust you with the Secret,
 And you unkind to break your Word with me.
 O Passion for a Woman! on the Ground?
 Where is your boasted Courage? Where your Scorn,
 And prudent Rage that was to cure your Grief,
 And chase your Love-bred Agonies away?
 Rise, Sir, for Honour's sake. Why should the Moors,
 Why should the Vanquish'd Triumph?

Alon. Would to Heaven

That I were lower still! O she was All!
 My Fame, my Friendship, and my Love of Arms,
 All sloop'd to her, my Blood was her Possession.
 Deep in the secret Foldings of my Heart
 She liv'd with Life, and far the dearer She.
 But—and no more—set Nature on a Blaze,
 Give her a Fit of Jealousy—away—
 To think on't, is the Torment of the Damn'd;
 And not to think on't, is impossible.
 How fair the Check, that first alarm'd my Soul!
 How bright the Eye, that set it on a Flame!
 How soft the Breast on which I laid my Peace
 For Years to slumber, unawak'd by Care!
 How fierce the Transport! How sublime the Bliss!
 How deep, how black the Horror, and Despair!

Zan. You said you'd bear it like a Man.

Alon. I do.

Am I not most distracted?

Zan. Pray be calm.

Alon. As Hurricanes: Be thou assur'd of that.

Zan. Is this the wise Alonzo?

Alon.

Alon. Villain, no.

He dy'd in the Arbour, he was murder'd there ;
I am his Dæmon tho' — My Wife ! my Wife ! —

Zan. Alas ! he weeps.

Alon. Go, dig her Grave.

Zan. My Lord !

Alon. But that her Blood's too hot, I would carouse it Around my Bridal Board.

Zan. And I would pledge thee. [Aside.

Alon. But I may talk too fast. Pray let me think,
And reason mildly. — Wedded and undone
Before one Night descends. — O hasty Evil !
What Friend to comfort me in my Extreme !
Where's Carlos ? Why is Carlos absent from me ?
Does he know what has happen'd ?

Zan. My good Lord !

Alon. O Depth of Horrors ! He ! — my Bosom
Friend ?

Zan. Alas ! compose yourself, my Lord,

Alon. To Death.

Gaze on her with both Eyes so ardently !
Give them the Vulturs, tear him all in Pieces !

Zan. Most excellent ! [Aside.

Alon. Hark ! you can keep a Secret.
In yonder Arbour bound with Jessamin,
Who's that ? What Villain's that ? unhand her — Murder ! —

Tear them asunder — Murder — How they grind
My Heart betwixt them ! — O let go my Heart !
Yet let it go — Embracing and Embrac'd !
O Pestilence ! — Who let him in ? A Traytor.

[Goes to stab Zanga, he prevents him.

Alas ! my Head turns round, and my Limbs fail me.

Zan. My Lord !

Alon. O Villain, Villain, most accurst !
If thou didst know it, why didst let me wed ?

Zan. Hear me, my Lord, your Anger will abate.
I knew it not, I saw them in the Garden ;
But saw no more than you might well expect

To

To see in Lovers destin'd for each other.
 By Heav'n I thought their Meeting innocent.
 Who could suspect fair Leonora's Virtue?
 'Till After-proofs conspir'd to blacken it;
 Sad Proofs, which came too late, which broke not out,
 (Eternal Curses on Alvarez's Haste)
 'Till holy Rites had made the Wanton yours;
 And then, I own, I labour'd to conceal it,
 In Duty and Compassion to your Peace.

Alon. Live now, be damn'd hereafter; for I want thee.

O Night of Ecstasy! ——— Ha! was't not so?
 I will enjoy this Murder——Let me think——
 The Jess'min Bow'r, 'tis secret and remote;
 Go wait me there, and take thy Dagger with thee.
[Exit Zan.]

How the sweet Sound still sings within mine Ear?
When shall we meet again? To-night, in Hell.

As he is going, Enter Leonora.

Ha! I'm surpriz'd, I stagger at her Charms.
 O Angel-Devil!——Shall I stab her now?
 No, it shall be as I at first determin'd:
 To kill her now were half my Vengeance lost.
 Then must I now dissemble——if I can.

Leon. My Lord, excuse me; see, a second Time
 I come in Embassy from all your Friends,
 Whose Joys are languid, uninspir'd by you.

Alon. This Moment, Leonora, I was coming
 To thee, and all——but sure, or I mistake,
 Or thou canst well inspire my Friends with Joy.

Leon. Why sighs my Lord?

Alon. I sigh'd not, Leonora.

Leon. I thought you did; your Sighs are mine, my Lord,
 And I shall feel them all.

Alon. Dost flatter me?

Leon.

Leon. If my Regards for you are Flattery,
Full far indeed I stretch'd the Compliment
In this Day's solemn Rite.

Alon. What Right?

Leon. You sport me.

Alon. Indeed I do ; my Heart is full of Mirth.

Leon. And so is mine—— I look on Cheerfulness,
As on the Health of Virtue.

Alon. Virtue!—— Damn——

Leon. What says my Lord?

Alon. Thou art exceeding fair.

Leon. Beauty alone is but of little Worth ;
But when the Soul and Body of a Piece,
Both shine alike, then they obtain a Price,
And are a fit Reward for gallant Actions,
Heav'n's Pay on Earth for such great Souls as yours ;
If Fair and Innocent, I am your Due.

Alon. Innocent !

[Aside.

Leon. How, my Lord, I interrupt you.

Alon. No, my best Life, I must not part with thee,
This Hand is mine. Oh ! What a Hand is here ?
So soft, Souls sink into it, and are lost !

Leon. In Tears, my Lord ?

Alon. What less can speak my Joy ?
I gaze, and I forget my own Existence ;
'Tis all a Vision, my Head swims in Heav'n.
Wherefore ? Oh ! wherefore this Expence of Beauty ?
And wherefore ? Oh ! ——

Why, I could gaze upon thy Looks for ever,
And drink in all my Being from thine Eyes ;
And I could snatch a flaming Thunder-bolt,
And hurl Destruction. ——

Leon. How, my Lord ! What mean you ?
Acquaint me with the Secret of your Heart,
Or cast me out for ever from your Love.

Alon. Art thou concern'd for me ?

Leon. My Lord, you fright me.
Is this the Fondness of your Nuptial Hour ?

I am ill-us'd, my Lord, I must not bear it,
 Why, when I woo your Hand, is it deny'd me?
 Your very Eyes, why are they taught to shun me?
 Nay, my good Lord, I have a Title here,

[Taking his Hand.]

And I will have it. Am not I your Wife?
 Have not I just Authority to know
 That Heart, which I have purchas'd with my own?
 Lay it before me then, it is my Due.
 Unkind! Alonzo, tho' I might demand it,
 Behold, I kneel! See, Leonora kneels,
 And deigns to be a Beggar for her own!
 Tell me the Secret, I conjure you tell me,
 The Bride foregoes the Homage of her Day,
Alvarez' Daughter trembles in the Dust.
 Speak then, I charge you speak, or I expire,
 And load you with my Death. My Lord—my Lord!

Alon. Ha! ha! ha! [He breaks from her, and she sinks upon the Floor.]

Leon. Are these the Joys which fondly I conceiv'd?
 And is it thus a wedded Life begins?
 What did I part with, when I gave my Heart?
 I knew not that all Happiness went with it.
 Why did I leave my tender Father's Wing,
 And venture into Love? The Maid that loves,
 Goes out to Sea upon a shatter'd Plank,
 And puts her Trust in Miracles for Safety.
 Where shall I sigh? where pour out my Complaints?
 He that should hear, should succour, should redress,
 He is the Source of all.

Alon. Go to thy Chamber,
 I soon will follow; that which now disturbs thee
 Shall be clear'd up, and thou shalt not condemn me.

[Ex. Leon.]

Oh, how like Innocence she looks! What, stab her,
 And rush into her Blood!——I never can.
 In Her Guilt shines, and Nature holds my Hand.
 How then? Why thus——No more; it is determin'd.

Enter

Enter Zanga.

Zan. I fear his Heart has fail'd him: She must die.
'Can I not rouse the Snake that's in his Bosom,
To sting out human Nature, and effect it? [Aside.

Alon. This vast and solid Earth, that blazing Sun,
'Those Skies thro' which it rolls, must all have End.
What then is Man? the smallest part of Nothing.
Day buries Day, Month Month, and Year the Year,
Our Life is but a Chain of many Deaths;
'Can then Death's self be fear'd? Our Life much rather.
Life is the Desert, Life the Solitude,
Death joins us to the great Majority:
'Tis to be borne to Plato's, and to Cæsar;
'Tis to be Great for ever;
'Tis Pleasure, 'tis Ambition then to die.

Zan. I think, my Lord, you talk'd of Death.

Alon. I did.

Zan. I give Joy, then Leonora's dead.

Alon. No, Zanga, the greatest Guilt is mine,
'Tis mine, who might have mark'd his Midnight Visit,
Who might have mark'd his Tameness to resign her;
Who might have mark'd her sudden Turn of Love:
These, and a Thousand Tokens more; and yet,
(For which the Saints absolve my Soul) did wed.

Zan. Where does this tend?

Alon. To shed a Woman's Blood
Would stain my Sword, and make my Wars inglorious;
But just Resentment in myself bears in it
A Stamp of Greatness above vulgar Minds.
He who, superior to the Checks of Nature,
Dares make his Life the Victim of his Reason,
Does in some sort that Reason deify,
And take a Flight at Heav'n.

Zan. Alas! my Lord,
'Tis not your Reason, but her Beauty finds

Those Arguments, and throws you on your Sword.
 You cannot close an Eye that is so bright,
 You cannot strike a Breast that is so soft,
 That has ten thousand Ecstasies in store——
 For Carlos?——No, my Lord, I mean for you.

Alon. Oh! thro' my Heart, and Marrow! Pr'ythee spare me;

No more upbraid the Weakness of thy Lord.
 I own, I try'd, I quarrell'd with my Heart,
 And push'd it on, and bid it give her Death;
 But oh! her Eyes struck first, and murder'd me.

Zan. I know not what to answer to my Lord.
 Men are but Men; we did not make ourselves.
 Farewell then, my best Lord, since you must die.
 O that I were to share your Monument,
 And in eternal Darkness close these Eyes
 Against those Scenes which I am doom'd to suffer!

Alon. What dost thou mean?

Zan. And is it then unknown?

O Grief of Heart, to think that you should ask it!
 Sure you distrust that ardent Love I bear you,
 Else could you doubt when you are laid in Dust——
 But it will cut my poor Heart thro' and thro'
 To see those revel on your sacred Tomb,
 Who brought you thither by their lawless Loves.
 For there they'll revel, and exult to find
 Him sleep so fast, who else might marr their Joys.

Alon. Distraction!—— but Don Carlos well thou know'st,

Is sheath'd in Steel, and bent on other Thoughts.

Zan. I'll work him to the Murder of his Friend;
 Yes, till the Fever of his Blood returns,
 While her last Kiss still glows upon his Cheek. [Aside.
 But when he finds Alonzo is no more,
 How will he rush like Lightning to her Arms!
 There sigh, there languish, there pour out his Soul;
 But not in Grief——sad Obsequies to thee——
 But thou wilt be at Peace, nor see, nor hear

The burning Kiss, the Sigh of Ecstasy,
Their throbbing Hearts that juggle one another:
Thank Heav'n, these Torments will be all my own.

Alon. I'll ease thee of that Pain. Let Carlos die,
O'ertake him on the Road, and see it done.

'Tis my Command. [Gives his Signet.

Zan. I dare not disobey.

Alon. My Zanga, now I have thy Leave to die.

Zan. Ah Sir! think, think again. Are all Men buried
In Carlos' Grave? You know not Woman-kind.
When once the throbbing of the Heart has broke
The modest Zone, with which it first was ty'd,
Each Man she meets will be a Carlos to her.

Alon. That Thought has more of Hell than had the former.

Another, and another, and another!
And each shall cast a Smile upon my Tomb,
I am convinc'd; I must not, will not die.

Zan. You cannot die; nor can you murder her.
What then remains? In Nature no third Way,
But to forget, and so to love again,

Alon. Oh!

Zan. If you forgive, the World will call you Good;
If you forget, the World will call you Wise;
If you receive her to your Grace again,
The World will call you, very, very kind.

Alon. Zanga, I understand thee well. She dies,
Tho' my Arm tremble at the Stroke, she dies.

Zan. That's truly great. What think you 'twas set up
The Greek and Roman Name in such a Lustre;
But doing Right in stern Despite to Nature,
Shutting their Ears to all her little Cries,
When Great, August, and God-like Justice call'd?
At Aulis, one pour'd out a Daughter's Life;
And gain'd more Glory than by all his Wars;
Another slew his Sister in just Rage;
A Third, the Theme of all succeeding Times,
Gave to the cruel Ax a darling Son.

Nay more, for Justice some devote themselves,
 As he at Carthage, an immortal Name !
 Yet there is one Step left above 'em all,
 Above their History, above their Fable,
 A Wife, Bride, Mistress unenjoy'd ———do That,
 And tread upon the Greek and Roman Glory.

Alon. 'Tis done ——— again new Transports fire my Brain :

I had forgot it, 'tis my Bridal Night.
 Friend, give me Joy, we must be gay together,
 See that the Festival be duly honour'd.

And when with Garlands the full Bowl is crown'd,
 And Musick gives the elevating Sound,
 And golden Carpets spread the sacred Floor,
 And a new Day the blazing Tapers pour,
 Thou, Zanga, thou my solemn Friends invite,
 From the dark Realms of everlasting Night,
 Call Vengeance, call the Furies, call Despair,
 And Death our chief-invited Guest be there ;
 He with pale Hand shall lead the Bride, and spread
 Eternal Curtains round our Nuptial Bed. [Exeunt.

ACT V. SCENE I.

Enter Alonzo.

A L O N Z O.

Banquo
O Pitiful! O terrible to Sight!
 Poor mangled Shade, all cover'd o'er with Wounds,
 And so disguis'd with Blood! Who murder'd thee?
 Tell thy sad Tale, and thou shalt be reveng'd.
 Ha! Carlos?—Horror! Carlos?—Oh away!
 Go to the Grave, or let me sink to mine.
 I cannot bear the Sight—What Sight?—Where am I?
 There's nothing here—If this was Fancy's Work,
 She draws a Picture strongly. —————

Enter Zanga.

Zan. Ha!—You're pale.

Alon. Is Carlos murder'd?

Zan. I obey'd your Order.

Six Ruffians overtook him on the Road;
 He fought as he was wont, and four he slew,
 Then sunk beneath an hundred Wounds to Death.
 His last Breath blest Alonzo, and desir'd,
 His Bones might rest near yours.

Alon. O Zanga! Zanga!

But I'll not think; for I must act, and thinking
 Would ruin me for Action. O the Medley
 Of Right and Wrong! the Chaos of my Brain!

He should, and should not die — You should obey,
 And not obey — It is a Day of Darkneſs,
 Of Contradiſtions, and of many Deaths.
 Where's Leenora then? Quick, answer me;
 I'm deep in Horrors, I'll be deeper ſtill.
 I find, thy Artifice did take Effect;
 And ſhe forgives my late Deportment to her.

Zan. I told her, from your Childhood you was wont
 On any great Surprize, but chiefly then
 When Cauſe of Sorrow bore it Company,
 To have your Paſſion ſhake the Seat of Reaſon,
 A momentary Ill, which ſoon blew o'er,
 Then did I tell her of Don Carlos' Death,
 (Wiſely ſuppreſſing by what means he fell)
 And laid the Blame on that. At firſt ſhe doubted;
 But ſuch the honeſt Artifice I uſ'd,
 And ſuch her ardent Wiſh it ſhould be true,
 That ſhe, at length, was fully ſatisfy'd.

Alon. 'Twas well ſhe was. In our late Interview,
 My Paſſion ſo far threw me from my Guard
 (Methinks 'tis ſtrange!) that conſcious of her Guilt,
 She ſaw not thro' its thin Diſguiſe my Heart.

Zan. But what deſign you, Sir, and how?

Alon. I'll tell thee.

Thus I've ordain'd it. In the Jeſs'min Bow'r,
 The Place which ſhe diſhonour'd with her Guilt,
 There will I meet her, the Appointment's made;
 And calmly ſpread (for I can do it now)
 The Blackneſs of her Crime before her Sight,
 And then with all the cool Solemnity
 Of publick Juſtice, give her to the Grave. [Exit.

Zan. Why, get thee gone! Horror and Night go with thee!

Siſters of Acheron, go hand in hand,
 Go dance around the Bow'r, and cloſe them in;
 And tell them that I ſent you to ſalute them.
 Profane the Ground, and for th' ambroſial Roſe,
 And Breath of Jeſſamin, let Hemlock blacken,

And

And deadly Nightshade poison all the Air.
For the sweet Nightingale may Ravens croak,
Toads pant, and Adders rustle thro' the Leaves;
May Serpents winding up the Trees, let fall
Their hissing Necks upon them from above,
And mingle Kisses---such as I should give them. [Exit.]

SCENE, the Bower.

Leonora sleeping. Enter Alonzo.

Alon. YE Amaranths! ye Roses, like the Morn!
Sweet Myrtles, and ye Golden Orange Groves!
Why do you smile? Why do you look so fair?
Are ye not blasted as I enter in?
Yes, see how every Flow'r lets fall its Head!
How shudders every Leaf without a Wind!
How every Green is as the Ivy pale!
Did ever Midnight Ghosts assemble here?
Have these sweet Echoes ever learnt to groan?
Joy-giving, Love-inspiring holy Bow'r!
Know, in thy fragrant Bosom thou receiv'st
A—— Murderer. Oh! I shall stain thy Lillies,
And Horror will usurp the Seat of Bliss.
So Lucifer broke into Paradise,
And soon Damnation follow'd. [He advances.] Ha! she sleeps———

The Day's uncommon Heat has overcome her.
Then take, my longing Eyes, your last full Gaze.
Oh, what a Sight is here! How dreadful fair!
Who would not think that Being innocent?
Where shall I strike? Who strikes her, strikes himself.
My own Life-Blood will issue at her Wound.
O my distracted Heart?---O cruel Heav'n!

To give such Charms as these, and then call Man,
Meer Man, to be your Executioner.

Was it because it was too hard for you?

But see she smiles ! I never shall smile more.

It strongly tempts me to a parting Kifs.

[Going, he starts back.]

Ha ! smile again ? She dreams of him she loves.

Curse on her Charms ! I'll stab her thro' them all.

[As he is going to strike, she wakes.]

Leon. My Lord, your Stay was long, and yonder Lull
Of falling Waters tempted me to Rest,
Dispirited with Noon's excessive Heat.

Alon. Ye Pow'rs ! with what an Eye she mends the Day !

While they were clos'd I should have giv'n the Blow. [Aside:]
O for a last Embrace ! and then for Justice.

Thus Heav'n and I shall both be satisfy'd.

Leon. What says my Lord ?

Alon. Why this Alonzo says.

If Love were endless, Men were Gods : 'Tis that Does counter-balance Travel, Danger, Pain——
'Tis Heav'n's Expedient to make Mortals bear
The Light, and cheat them of the peaceful Grave.

Leon. Alas ! my Lord, why talk you of the Grave ?
Your Friend is dead ; in Friendship you sustain
A mighty Loss, repair it with my Love.

Alon. Thy Love ? Thou piece of Witchcraft ! I wou'd say,

Thou brightest Angel ! I could gaze for ever.
Where hadst thou this ? Enchantress, tell me where ?
Which with a Touch works Miracles, boils up
My Blood to Tumults, and turns round my Brain !
Ev'n now thou swim'st before me. I shall lose thee.
No, I will make thee sure, and clasp thee all.
Who turn'd this slender Waste with so much Art,
And shut Perfection in so small a Ring ?
Who spread that pure Expanse of White above,
On which the dazzled Sight can find no Rest ;

But

But drunk with Beauty, wanders up and down
For ever and for ever finds new Charms ?
But, O those Eyes ! those Murderers ! O whence, Whence didst thou steal their burning Orbs ? from Heav'n ?

Thou didst ; and 'tis Religion to adore them.

Leon. My best Alonzo, moderate your Thought :
Extremes still fright me, tho' of Love itself.

Alon. Extremes indeed ! it hurried me away ;
But I come home again——and now for Justice——
And now for Death——It is impossible ——
Sure such were made by Heav'n guiltless to Sin,
Or in their Guilt to laugh at Punishment. [Aside.
I leave her to just Heav'n. [Drops the Dagger, and goes off.

Leon. Ha ! a Dagger !
What dost thou say, thou Minister of Death ?
What dreadful Tale dost tell me ? Let me think.

Enter Zanga.

Zan. Death to my tow'ring Hopes ! O fall from high
My close long-labour'd Scheme at once is blasted.
That Dagger found will cause her to enquire,
Enquiry will discover all, my Hopes
Of Vengeance perish ; I myself am lost——
Curse on the Coward's Heart ! wither his Hand,
Which held the Steel in vain !---What can be done ?---
Where can I fix ?---That's something still---'twill breed
Fell Rage, and Bitterness betwixt their Souls,
Which may perchance grow up to greater Evil ;
If not, 'tis all I can——It shall be so—— [Aside.

Leon. O Zanga ! I am sinking in my Fears.
Alonzo dropt this Dagger as he left me,
And left me in a strange Disorder too.
What can this mean ? Angels preserve his Life !

Zan. Yours, Madam, yours.

Leon. What, Zanga, dost thou say ?

Zan.

Zan. Carry your Goodness then to such Extremes,
So blinded to the Faults of him you love,
That you perceive not he is jealous?

Leon. Heav'ns!

And yet a thousand Things recur that swear it.
What Villain could inspire him with that Thought?
It is not of the Growth of his own Nature.

Zan. Some Villain. Who, Hell knows; but he is jealous;
And 'tis most fit a Heart so pure as yours
Do itself Justice, and assert its Honour,
And make him conscious of his Stab to Virtue.

Leon. Jealous! it sickens at my Heart, Unkind,
Ungenerous, groundless, weak, and insolent!
Why? Wherefore? On what Shadow of Occasion?
'Tis Fascination, 'tis the Wrath of Heav'n
For the collected Crimes of all his Race.
Oh how the Great Man lessens to my Thought!
How could so mean a Vice as Jealousy,
Unnatural Child of Ignorance and Guilt,
Which tears and feeds upon its Parent's Heart,
Live in a Throng of such exalted Virtues?
I scorn and hate, yet love him, and adore.
I cannot, will not, dare not think it true,
Till from himself I know it.

[Exit.

Zan. This succeeds
Just to my Wish. Now she with Violence
Upbraids him. He, well knowing she is guilty,
Rages no less; and if on either Side
The Waves run high, there still lives Hope of Ruin.

Enter Alonzo.

My Lord.

Alon. O Zanga! hold thy Peace, I am no Coward;
But Heav'n itself did hold my Hand; I felt it,
By the Well being of my Soul, I did.
I'll think of Vengeance at another Season.

Zan. My Lord, her Guilt—

Alon.

Alon. Perdition on the Moor,
 For that one Word. Ah! do not rouse that Thought;
 I have o'erwhelm'd it much as possible :
 Away then, let us talk of other Things.
 I tell thee, Moor, I love her to Distraction.
 If 'tis my Shame, why be it so — I love her ;
 Nor can I help it, 'tis impos'd upon me
 By some superior and resistless Pow'r.
 I could not hurt her to be Lord of Earth ;
 It shocks my Nature like a Stroke from Heav'n.
 Angels defend her, as if innocent.
 But see, my Leonora comes: — Be gone. [Ex. Zanga.]

Enter Leonora.

O seen for ever! yet for ever new!
 The Conquer'd thou dost conquer o'er again,
 Inflicting Wound on Wound,

Leon. Alas, my Lord!

What need of this to me?

Alon. Ha! dost thou weep?

Leon. Have I no Cause?

Alon. If Love is thy Concern,

Thou hast no Cause; None ever lov'd like me.

But wherefore this? Is it to break my Heart,

Which loses so much Blood for every Tear?

Leon. Is it so tender?

Alon. Is it not? O Heav'n!

Doubt of my Love? Why, I am nothing else;

It quite absorbs my every other Passion.

O that this one Embrace would last for ever!

Leon. Could this Man ever mean to wrong my Virtue?

Could this Man e'er design upon my Life?

Impossible! I throw away the Thought.

[Aside.]

These Tears declare how much I taste the Joy

Of being folded in your Arms and Heart;

My Universe does lie within that Space.

This

This Dagger bore false Witness.

Alon. Ha! My Dagger?

It rouses horrid Images. Away,

Away with it, and let us talk of Love.

Plunge ourselves deep into the sweet Illusion,
And hide us there from every other Thought.

Leon. It touches you.

Alon. Let's talk of Love.

Leon. Of Death.

Alon. As thou lov'st Happiness —

Leon. Of Murder.

Alon. Rash,

Rash Woman, yet forbear.

Leon. Approve my Wrongs!

Alon. Then must I fly for thy sake and my own.

Leon. Nay, by my Injuries, you first must hear me:
Stab me, then think it much to hear my Groan?

Alon. Heav'ns, strike me deaf!

Leon. It well may sting you home.

Alon. Alas! thou quite mistak'st my Cause of Pain,
Yet, yet dismiss me; I am all in Flames.

Leon. Who has most Cause? You, or myself? What Act
Of my whole Life encourag'd you to this?

Or of your own, what Guilt has drawn it on you?

You find me kind, and think me kind to all:

The weak, ungenerous Error of your Sex.

What could inspire the Thought? We oft'nest judge

From our own Hearts; and is your's then so frail,

It prompts you to conceive thus ill of me?

He that can stoop to harbour such a Thought,

Deserves to find it true.

[Holding him.

Alon. O Sex, Sex, Sex!

[Turning on her.

The Language of you all. Ill-fated Woman!

Why hast thou forc'd me back into the Gulf

Of Agonies, I had block'd up from Thought?

I know the Cause; thou saw'st me impotent

Ere while to hurt thee, therefore thou turn'st on me:

But, by the Pangs I suffer, to thy Woe.

For

For since thou hast replung'd me in my Torture,
I will be satisfy'd.

Leon. Be satisfy'd !

Alon. Yes, thy own Mouth shall witness it against thee!
I will be satisfy'd.

Leon. Of what ?

Alon. Of what !

How dar'st thou ask that Question ? Woman, Woman,
Weak, and assur'd at once ; thus 'tis for ever.

Who told thee that thy Virtue was suspected ?

Who told thee I design'd upon thy Life ?

You found the Dagger ; but that could not speak ;

Nor did I tell thee ; Who did tell thee then ?

Guilt, conscious Guilt.

Leon. This to my Face ? O Heav'n !

Alon. This to thy very Soul.

Leon. Thou'rt not in Earnest ?

Alon. Serious as Death.

Leon. Then Heav'n have Mercy on thee.

'Till now I struggled not to think it true,

I fought Conviction, and would not believe it.

And dost thou force me ? This shall not be borne,

Thou shall repent this Insult.

[Going.

Alon. Madam, stay.

Your Passion's wise, 'tis a Disguise for Guilt :

'Tis my Turn now to fix you here awhile ;

You, and your thousand Arts shall not escape me.

Leon. Arts ?

Alon. Arts. Confess ; for Death is in my Hand.

Leon. 'Tis in your Words.

Alon. Confess, confess, confess ;

Nor tear my Veins with Passion to compel thee.

Leon. I scorn to answer thee, presumptuous Man !

Alon. Deny then, and incur a fouler Shame.

Where did I find this Picture ?

Leon. Ha ! Don Carlos ?

By my best Hopes, more welcome than thy own.

Alon. I know it ; but is Vice so very rank,

That

That thou should'st dare to dash it in my Face?
Nature is sick of thee, abandon'd Woman!

Leon. Repent.

Alon. Is that for me?

Leon. Fall, ask my Pardon.

Alon. Astonishment!

Leon. Dar'st thou persist to think I am dishonest?

Alon. I know thee so.

Leon. This Blow then to thy Heart——

[She stabs herself, he endeavours to prevent her.]

Alon. Hoa! Zanga! Isabella! Hoa! She bleeds.
Descend, ye blessed Angels, to assist her.

Leon. This is the only Way I would wound thee,
Tho' most unjust. Now think me guilty still.

Enter Isabella.

Alon. Bear her to instant Help. The World to save her.

Leon. Unhappy man! well may'st thou gaze and tremble;

But fix thy Terror and Amazement right;

Not on my Blood, but on thy own Distraction.

What hast thou done? Whom censur'd?—— Leonora.

When thou hadst censur'd, thou would'st save her Life;

O Inconsistent! Should I live in Shame,

Or stoop to any other Means but this,

To assert my Virtue? No: she who disputes,

Admits it possible she might be guilty.

While aught but Truth could be my Inducement to it,

While it might look like an Excuse to thee,

I scorn'd to vindicate my Innocence;

But now, I let thy Rashness know, the Wound

Which least I feel, is that my Dagger made.

[Isabella leads out Leonora.]

Alon. Ha! Was this Woman guilty?—and if not—
How my Thought darkens that Way! Grant, kind Heaven,

That

That she prove guilty, or give Being End.
Is that my Hope then?——Sure the sacred Dust
Of her that bore me trembles in its Urn.
Is it in Man the sore Distress to bear,
When Hope itself is blacken'd to Despair,
When all the Bliss I pant for, is to gain
In Hell a Refuge from severer Pain? [Exit Alonzo.

Enter Zanga.

Zan. How stands the great Account 'twixt me and Vengeance?
Tho' much is paid, yet still it owes me much,
And I will not abate a single Groan.——
Ha! That were well——but That were fatal too——
Why be it so——Revenge so truly Great
Would come too cheap, if bought with less than Life.
Come Death, come Hell then, 'tis resolv'd, 'tis done,

Enter Isabella.

Isab. Ah! Zanga, see me tremble! has not yet
Thy cruel Heart its Fill?——Poor Leonora——
Zan. Welters in Blood, and gasps for her last Breath.
What then? We all must die.

Isab. Alonzo raves,
And in the Tempest of his Grief, has thrice
Attempted on his Life. At length disarm'd,
He calls his Friends that save him, his worst Foes;
And importunes the Skies for swift Perdition.
Thus in his Storm of Sorrow. After Pause
He started up, and call'd aloud for Zanga,
For Zanga rav'd; and see, he seeks you here,
To learn the Truth, which most he dreads to know.

Zan. Be gone. Now, now, my Soul, consummate all.
[Exit Isab.

Enter

Enter Alonzo.

Alon. O Zanga !

Zan. Do not tremble so ; but speak.

Alon. I dare not.

[Falls on him.]

Zan. You will drown me with your Tears.

Alon. Have I not Cause ?

Zan. As yet you have no Cause.

Alon. Dost thou too rave ?

Zan. Your Anguish is to come.

You much have been abus'd.

Alon. Abus'd ! by whom ?

Zan. To know, were little Comfort.

Alon. Oh ! 'twere much.

Zan. Indeed !

Alon. By Heav'n. O give him to my Fury !

Zan. Born for your Use, I live but to oblige you.

Know then, 'twas—— I.

Alon. Am I awake ?

Zan. For ever.

Thy Wife is guiltless, that's one Transport to me,
And I, I let thee know it ; that's another.

I urg'd Don Carlos to resign his Mistress,
I forg'd the Letter, I dispos'd the Picture ;
I hated, I despis'd, and I destroy.

Alon. Oh !

[Swoons.]

Zan. Why this is well —— why this is Blow for Blow.

Where are you ? Crown me, shadow me with Laurels,
Ye Spirits, which delight in just Revenge.
Let Europe and her pallid Sons go weep,
Let Africk and her hundred Thrones rejoice.
O my dear Countrymen ! look down, and see,
How I bestride your prostrate Conqueror !
I tread on haughty Spain, and ail her Kings.
But this is Mercy, this is my Indulgence,

'Tis

'Tis Peace, 'tis Refuge from my Indignation.

I must awake him into Horrors. Hoa!

Alonzo, hoa! the Moor is at the Gate;

Awake, Invincible, Omnipotent!

Thou who dost all subdue.

Alon. Inhuman Slave!

Zan. Fall'n Christian, thou mistak'st my Character.

Look on me. Who am I? I know, thou say'st,

The Moor, a Slave, an abject, beaten Slave;

(Eternal Woes to him that made me so)

But look again. Has six years cruel Bondage

Extinguish'd Majesty so far, that nought

Shines here, to give an Awe to one above thee?

When the great Moorish King Abdalla fell,

Fell by thy Hand accurs'd, I fought fast by him,

His Son, tho', thro' his Fondness, in Disguise,

Less to expose me to th' ambitious Foe.

Ha! does it wake thee? O'er my Father's Corse

I stood astride, till I had clove thy Crest,

And then was made the Captive of a Squadron,

And sunk into thy Servant—— But Oh! what,

What were my Wages? Hear nor Heav'n, nor Earth!

My Wages were a Blow, by Heav'n, a Blow,

And from a mortal Hand.

Alon. O Villain! Villain!

Zan. All Strife is vain.

[Shewing a Dagger.]

Alon. Is thus my Love return'd?

Is this my Recompence? Make Friends of Tigers!

Lay not your Young, O Mothers, on the Breast,

For fear they turn to Serpents as they lie,

And pay you for their Nourishment with Death.

Carlos is dead, and Leonora dying;

Both innocent, both murder'd, both by me.

That heav'nly Maid, which should have liv'd for ever,

At least have gently slept her Soul away;

Whose Life should have shut up as Ev'ning Flow'rs

At the departing Sun —— was murder'd! murder'd!

O Shame! O Guilt! O Horror! O Remorse!

O Punish-

O Punishment ! Had Satan never fell,
Hell had been made for me——O Leonora !

Zan. Must I despise thee too, as well as hate thee ?
Complain of Grief, complain thou art a Man.

Priam from Fortune's lofty Summit fell,
Great Alexander 'midst his Conquests mourn'd ;
Heroes and Demi-gods have known their Sorrows,
Cæsars have wept, and I have had my Blow :
But 'tis reveng'd, and now my Work is done.
Yet, ere I fall, be it one part of Vengeance,
To make thee to confess that I am just.

Thou seest a Prince, whose Father thou hast slain,
Whose native Country thou hast laid in Blood,
Whose sacred Person (Oh !) thou hast profan'd,
Whose Reign extinguish'd : What was left to me
So highly born ? No Kingdom, but Revenge ;
No Treasure, but thy Tortures, and thy Groans.
If Men should ask who brought thee to thy End,
Tell them, the Moor, and they will not despise thee:
If cold white Mortals censure this great Deed,
Warn them, they judge not of superior Beings,
Souls made of Fire, and Children of the Sun,
With whom Revenge is Virtue. Fare thee well——
Now fully satisfy'd I should take leave :
But one thing grieves me, since thy Death is near,
I leave thee my Example how to die.

As he is going to stab himself, Alonzo rushes upon him to prevent him. In the mean time, Enter Alvarez attended. They disarm and seize Zanga. Alonzo puts the Dagger in his Bosom.

Alon. No, Monster, thou shalt not escape by Death.
Oh Father !

Alv. O Alonzo———Isabella,
Touch'd with Remorse to see her Mistress' Pangs,
Told all the dreadful Tale.

Alon. What Groan was that ?

Zan.

Zan. As I have been a Vultur to thy Heart,
So will I be a Raven to thine Ear,
And true as ever snuff'd the Scent of Blood,
As ever flap't its heavy Wing against
The Window of the Sick, and croak'd Despair.
Thy Wife is dead.

[Alvarez goes to the Side of the Stage, and returns.]

Alv. The dreadful News is true.

Alon. Prepare the Rack, invent new Torments for him.

Zan. This too is well. The fix'd and noble Mind
Turns all Occurrence to its own Advantage.
And I'll make Vengeance of Calamity.

Were I not thus reduc'd, thou would'st not know,
That, thus reduc'd, I dare defy thee still.

Torture thou may'st; but thou shalt ne'er despise me.

The Blood will follow where the Knife is driven,

The Flesh will quiver where the Pinchers tear,

And Sighs and Cries by Nature grow on Pain.

But these are foreign to the Soul: Not mine

The Groans that issue, or the Tears that fall;

They disobey me; on the Rack I scorn thee,

As when my Faulchion clove thy Helm in Battle.

Alv. Peace, Villain!

Zan. While I live, Old Man, I'll speak,

And well I know thou dar'st not kill me yet;

For that wou'd rob thy Blood-hounds of their Prey.

Alon. Who call'd Alonzo?

Alv. No one call'd, my Son.

Alon. Again!—'tis Carlos' Voice, and I obey.

Oh how I laugh at all that this can do!

[Shewing the Dagger.]

The Wounds that pain'd, the Wounds that murder'd me,

Were giv'n before; I am already dead,

This only marks my Body for the Grave.

[Stabs himself.]

Africk, thou art reveng'd—O Lebnora!— [Dies.]

Zan. Good Ruffians, give me leave, my Blood is yours,

The Wheel's prepar'd, and you shall have it all;

Let

Let me but look one Moment on the Dead,
And pay yourselves with gazing on my Pangs.

[He goes to Alonzo's Body.]

Is this Alonzo? Where's the haughty Mien?
Is that the Hand which smote me? Heav'ns, now pale!
And art thou dead? So is my Enmity.
I war not with the Dust: the Great, the Proud,
The Conqueror of Africk was my Foe.
A Lion preys not upon Carcases.
This was thy only Method to subdue me.
Terror and Doubt fall on me, all thy Good
Now blazes, all thy Guilt is in the Grave.
Never had Man such Funeral Applause;
If I lament thee, sure thy Worth was great.
Oh Vengeance! I have follow'd thee too far,
And to receive me Hell blows all her Fires.

[He is borne off.]

Alv. Dreadful Effect of Jealousy! A Rage
In which the Wise with Caution will engage;
Reluctant long, and tardy to believe,
Where sway'd by Nature we ourselves deceive,
Where our own Folly joins the Villain's Art,
And each Man finds a Zanga in his Heart. [Exeunt.]

By a Friend.

O U R Author sent me, in an humble strain,
To beg you'd bless the Offspring of his Brain :
And I your Proxy promis'd in your Name,
The Child shou'd live, at least six Days of Fame,
I like the Brat, but still his Faults can find,
And, by the Parent's leave, will speak my Mind.
Gallants, pray tell me, do you think 'twas well,
To let a willing Maid lead Apes in Hell ?
You, nicer Ladies, shou'd you think it Right,
To eat no Supper——on your Wedding Night ?
Shou'd English Husbands dare to starve their Wives,
Be sure they'd lead most comfortable Lives !
But he loves Mischief, and with groundless Fears,
Wou'd fain set loving Couples by the Ears ;
Wou'd spoil the tender Husbands of our Nation,
By teaching them his Vile, Outlandish Fashion :
But we've been taught in our good-natur'd Clime,
That Jealousy, tho' Just, is still a Crime,
And will be still (for not to blame the Plot)
That same Alonzo was a stupid Sot,
To kill a Bride, a Mistress unenjoy'd ;
'Twere some Excuse, had the poor Man been cloy'd :
To kill her on Suspicion, ere he knew
Whether the heinous Crime were false, or true.——
The Priest said Grace, she met him in the Bower,
In hopes she might anticipate an Hour.——
Love was her Errand, but the hot-brain'd Spaniard,
Instead of Love——produc'd——a filthy Poinard.——

THE

RIVAL QUEENS;

ALEXANDER THE GREAT:

THE GREAT

BY

JOHN H. HAYWARD, Esq.
Author of "The History of the British Empire," &c.

LONDON:

To the Right Honourable

JOHN, Earl of MULGRAVE.

MY LORD,

 WHEN I hear by many Persons, not indifferent Judges, how Poets are censur'd most even where they most intend to please, and sometimes by those to whom they address, condemn'd for Flatterers, Sy-cophants, little fawning Wretches; I confess, of all Undertakings there is none more dreadful to me than a Dedication. So nicely cruel are our Judges, that after a Play has been generally applauded on the Stage, the industrious Malice of some After-observers, shall damn it for an Epistle or a Preface. For this Reason, my Lord, Alexander was more to seek for a Patron in my troubled Thoughts, than for the Temple of Jupiter Ammon in the spreading Wilds and rolling Sands. 'Tis certain too, he must have been lost, had not Fortune, whom I must once at least acknowledge kind in my Life, presented me to your Lordship: You were pleased, my Lord, to read it over Act by Act; and by particular Praises, proceeding from the Sweetness rather than the Justice of your Temper, lifted me up from my natural Melancholy and Diffidence, to a bold Belief, that what so great an Understanding warranted, could not fail of Success.

AND here I were most ungrateful, if I should not satisfy the judging World of the Surprize I was in (Pardon me, my Lord, for calling it a Surprize) when I was first honour'd by waiting upon your Lordship: So much unexpected, and indeed unusual Affability, from Persons of your Birth and Quality, so true an Easiness, such Frankness without Affectation, I never saw.

WHEN I more narrowly contemplate your Person, methinks I see in your Lordship two of the most famous Characters that ever antient or modern Story could produce, the mighty Scipio, and the retir'd Cowley. You have certainly the Gravity, Temperance and Judgment, as well as the Courage of the first; all which in your early Attempts of War, gave the noblest Dawn of Virtue, and will, when occasion presents, answer our Expectation, and shine forth at full. Then for the latter, you possess all his Sweetness of Humour in Peace, all that Halcyon Tranquility of Mind, where your deep Thoughts glide, like silent Waters, without a Wrinkle; your Hours move with softest Wings, and rarely any Larum strikes to discompose you. You have the Philosophy of the first: And, which I confess of all your Qualities I love most, the Poetry of the latter. I was never more mov'd at Virgil's Dido, than at a short Poem of your Lordship's, where nothing but the shortness can be dislik'd. As our Churchmen wish there were more Noblemen of their Function, so wish I in the Behalf of depress'd Poetry, that there were more Poets of your Lordship's Excellency and Eminence. Praise is the greatest Encouragement we Camelions can pretend to, or rather the Manna that keeps Soul and Body together; we devour it as if it were Angels Food, and vainly think we grow immortal. For my own Part, I acknowledge I never receiv'd a better Satisfaction from the Applause of an Audience, than I have from your single Judgment. You gaze at Beauties, and wink at Blemishes; and do both so gracefully, that the first discovers the Acuteness of your Judgment, the other the Excellency of your Nature. And I can affirm to your Lordship, there is nothing transports a Poet, next to Love, like commending in the right Place: Therefore, my Lord, this Play must be yours; and Alexander, whom I have rais'd from the Dead, comes to you with the Assurance answerable to his Character, and your Virtue. You cannot expect him in his Majesty of two thousand Years ago; I have only put his Ashes in an Urn, which are now offer'd with all Observance to your Lordship, by,

MY LORD,

Your Lordship's

Most Humble,

Obliged, and

Devoted Servant,

NAT. LEE.

Mr. L E E, on his Alexander.

TH E Blast of common Censure cou'd I fear,
 Before your Play my Name shou'd not appear ;
 For 'twill be thought and with some Colour too,
 I pay the Bribe I first receiv'd from you :
 That mutual Vouchers for our Fame we stand,
 To play the Game into each other's Hand ;
 And as cheap Pen'orths to ourselves afford,
 As Bessus, and the Brothers of the Sword.
 Such Libels private Men may well endure,
 When States and Kings themselves are not secure :
 For ill Men, conscious of their inward Guilt,
 Think the best Actions on By-ends are built.
 And yet my Silence had not 'scap'd their Spite,
 Then Envy had not suffer'd me to write ;
 For, since I cou'd not Ignorance pretend,
 Such Merit I must envy or commend.
 So many Candidates there stand for Wit,
 A Place in Court is scarce so hard to get ;
 In vain they croud each other at the Door,
 For ev'n Reversions are all begg'd before :
 Desert, how known foe'er, is long delay'd ;
 And then too Fools and Knaves are better pay'd.
 Yet, as some Actions bear so great a Name,
 'That Courts themselves are just, for Fear of Shame ;
 So has the mighty Merit of your Play
 Extorted Praise, and forc'd itself a Way.
 'Tis here, as 'tis at Sea ; who farthest goes,
 Or dares the most, makes all the rest his Foes ;
 Yet when some Virtue much out-grows the rest,
 It shoots too fast, and high to be exprest ;

As his Heroic Worth struck Envy dumb,
 Who took the Dutchman, and who cut the Boom :
 Such Praise is yours, while you the Passions move,
 That 'tis no longer feign'd ; 'tis real Love,
 Where Nature triumphs over wretched Art ;
 We only warm the Head, but you the Heart.
 Always you warm : And if the rising Year,
 As in hot Regions, bring the Sun too near,
 'Tis but to make your fragrant Spices blow,
 Which in our cooler Climates will not grow :
 They only think you animate your Theme
 With too much Fire, who are themselves all Phlegm :
 Prizes wou'd be for Lags of slowest Pace,
 Were Cripples made the Judges of the Race.
 Despise those Drones, who praise while they accuse
 The too much Vigour of your youthful Muse.
 That humble Stile which they their Virtue make
 Is in your Pow'r ; you need but stoop and take.
 Your beauteous Images must be allow'd
 By all, but some vile Poets of the Crowd.
 But how shou'd any Sign-post Dauber know
 The Worth of Titian, or of Angelo ?
 Hard Features every Bungler can command ;
 To draw true Beauty shews a Master's Hand.

JOHN DRYDEN.

P R O-

P R O L O G U E,

Written by Sir Car Scroop, Bart.

HOW hard the Fate is of the scribbling Drudge,
 Who writes to all when yet so few can judge!
 Wit, like Religion, once Divine was thought;
 And the dull Crowd believ'd as they were taught;
 Now each Fanatick Fool presumes t'explain
 The Text, and does the sacred Writ profane:
 For, while your Wits each other's Fall pursue,
 The Fops usurp the Power belongs to you.
 You think y' are challeng'd in each New Play-Bill,
 And here you come for Trial of your Skill;
 Where, Fencer like, you one another hurt,
 While with your Wounds you make the Rabble Sport.
 Others there are that have the brutal Will
 To murder a poor Play, but want the Skill.
 They love to fight, but seldom have the Wit
 To spy the Place where they may thrust and hit;
 And therefore, like some Bully of the Town,
 Ne'er stand to draw, but knock the Poet down.
 With these, like Hogs in Gardens, it succeeds,
 They root up all, and know not Flow'rs from Weeds.
 As for you, Sparks, that hither come each Day,
 To act your own, and not to mind our Play;
 Rehearse your usual Follies to the Pit,
 And with loud Nonsense, drown the Stage's Wit;
 Talk of your Cloaths, your last Debauches tell,
 And witty Bargains to each other sell;
 Glout on the silly She, who, for your Sake,
 Can Vanity and Noise for Love mistake;

*Till the Coquette sung in the next Lampoon
 Is by her jealous Friends sent out of Town.
 For, in this duelling, intriguing Age,
 The Love you make is like the War you wage,
 Ye're still prevented e'er you come t'ingage.
 But 'tis not to such trifling Foes as you,
 The mighty Alexander deigns to sue;
 Ye Persians of the Pit he does despise,
 But to the Men of Sense for Aid he flies;
 On their experienc'd Arms he now depends,
 Nor fears he Odds, if they but prove his Friends:
 For as he once a little Handful chose,
 The numerous Armies of the World t'oppose,
 So back'd by you, who understand the Rules,
 He hopes to rout the mighty Host of Fools.*

E P I L O G U E.

*W*HATE'ER they mean, yet ought they to be curst,
 Who this censorious Age did polish first:
 Who the best Play, for one poor Error blame,
 As Priests against our Ladies Arts declaim,
 And for one Patch both Soul and Body damn.
 But what does more provoke the Actors Rage,
 (For we must show the Grievance of the Stage)
 Is, that our Women which adorn each Play,
 Bred at our Cost, become at length your Prey:
 While green and sour, like Trees we bear them all,
 But when they're mellow, frait to you they fall:
 You watch 'em bare and squab, and let 'em rest,
 But with the first young Down you snatch the Nest.
 Pray leave those poaching Tricks, if you are wise,
 E'er we take out our Letters of Reprize.
 For we have vow'd to find a Sort of Toys
 Known to black Fryars, a Tribe of chopping Boys;
 If once they come, they'll quickly spoil your Sport;
 There's not one Lady will receive your Court;

But

*But for the Youth in Petticoats run wild,
 With Oh the archest Wag, the sweetest Child,
 The panting Breast, white Hands, and Lilly Feet
 No more shall your pall'd Thoughts with Pleasure meet.
 The Woman in Boys Clothes, all Boy shall be,
 And never raise your Thoughts above the Knee.
 Well, if our Women knew how false you are,
 They wou'd stay here, and this new Trouble spare:
 Poor Souls! they think all Gospel you relate,
 Charm'd with the Noise of settling an Estate:
 But when at last your Appetites are full,
 And the tir'd Cupid grows, with Action, dull;
 You'll find some Tricks to cut off the Entail,
 And send 'em back to us all worn and stale.
 Perhaps they'll find our Stage, while they have rang'd
 To some vile canting Conventicle, chang'd:
 Where, for the Sparks who once resorted there,
 With their curl'd Wigs that scented all the Air,
 They'll see grave Blockheads with short greasy Hair.
 Green-Aprons, Steeple-Hats, and Collar-Bands;
 Dull sniv'ling Rogues, that ring, not clap their Hands;
 Where, for gay Punks that drew the shining Crowd,
 And Misses that in Vizards laugh'd aloud,
 They'll hear young Sisters sigh, see Matrons old,
 To their chop'd Cheeks their pickl'd Kirchers hold,
 Whose Zeal too might persuade, in spite to you,
 Our flying Angels to augment their Crew;
 While Farringdon their Hero struts about 'em,
 And ne'er a damning Critick dares to flout 'em.*

SCENE, Babylon.

THE RIVAL QUEENS;
O R,
ALEXANDER the GREAT.

ACT I.

Enter Hephestion, Lyfimachus, fighting; Clytus parting them.

Cly.  H A T, are you Madmen! ha! —
Put up, I say —
 W Then, Mischief's in the Bosom of you both.
Lyf. I have his Sword.
Cly. But must not have his Life.

Lyf. Must not, old Clytus?

Cly. Mad Lyfimachus, you must not.

Heph. Coward Flesh! O feeble Arm!

He dallied with my Point, and when I thrust,
He frown'd and smil'd, and foil'd me like a Fencer.

O Reverend Clytus; Father of the War;

Most famous Guard of Alexander's Life,

Take Pity on my Youth, and lend a Sword:

Lyfimachus is brave, and will but scorn me;

Kill me, or let me fight with him again.

Lyf. There, take thy Sword, and since thou art resolv'd
For Death, thou hast the noblest from my Hand.

Cly. Stay thee, Lyfimachus; Hephestion, hold;
I bar you both, my Body interpos'd.

Now let me see which of you dares to strike,

By

By Jove, ye've stir'd the old Man; that rash Arm
That first advances, moves against the Gods,
Against the Wrath of Clytus, and the Will
Of our great King, whose Deputy I stand.

Lys. Well, I shall take another Time.

Heph. And I.

Cly. 'Tis false.

Another Time! what Time? What foolish Hour?

No Time shall see a brave Man do amiss.

And what's the noble Cause that makes this Madness?

What big Ambition blows this dangerous Fire?

A Cupid's Puff, is it not, Woman's Breath?

By all your Triumphs in the Heat of Youth,

When Towns were sack'd, and Beauties prostrate lay,

When my Blood boil'd, and Nature work'd me high,

Clytus ne'er bow'd his Body to such Shame;

The Brave will scorn the Cobweb Arts—The Souls

Of all that whining, smiling, coz'ning Sex,

Weigh not one Thought of any Man of War.

Lys. I confess our Vengeance was ill-tim'd.

Cly. Death! I had rather this Right-arm were lost,
To which I owe my Glory, than our King
Should know your Fault—what, on this famous Day?

Heph. I was to blame.

Cly. This memorable Day,

When our hot Master, that would tire the World,

Outride the lab'ring Sun, and tread the Stars,

When he inclin'd to rest, comes peaceful on,

Lift'ning to Songs: While all his Trumpets sleep,

And plays with Monarchs whom he us'd to drive;

Shall we begin Disorders, make new Broils?

We, that have Temper learnt, shall we awake

Hush'd Mars, the Lion, that had left to roar?

Lys. 'Tis true, old Clytus is an Oracle.

Put up, Hephestion—Did not Passion blind

My Reason, I on such Occasion too,

Could thus have urg'd.

Heph. Why is it then we love?

Cly. Because unmann'd.—

Why is not Alexander grown Example?

O that a Face shou'd thus bewitch a Soul,

And ruin all that's right and reasonable!

Talk be my Bane, yet the old Man must talk ;
 Not so he lov'd when he at Iffus fought,
 And join'd in mighty Duel great Darius ;
 Whom from his Chariot, flaming all with Gems,
 He hurl'd to Earth, and crush'd th' Imperial Crown ;
 Nor cou'd the Gods defend their Images,
 'Twas not the Shaft of Love that did the Feat ;
Cupid had nothing there to do, but now
 Two Wives he takes, two Rival Queens disturb
 The Court ; and while each Hand does Beauty hold,
 Where is there Room for Glory ?

Heph. In his Heart.

Cly. Well said,

You are his Favourite, and I had forgot
 Who I was talking to. See Syfigambis comes Reading a Letter to your Princess ; go,
 Now make your Claim, while I attend the King. [Exit.

Enter Syfigambis, Parisatis.

Par. Did not you love my Father ? Yes, I see
 You did, his very Name but mention'd, brings
 The Tears, howe'er unwilling, to your Eyes.
 I lov'd him too, he would not thus have forc'd
 My trembling Heart, which your Commands may break,
 But never bend.

Syf. Forbear thy lost Complaints,
 Urge not a Suit which I can never grant.
 Behold the Royal Signet of the King,
 Therefore resolve to be Hephestion's Wife.

Par. No, since Lyfimachus has won my Heart,
 My Body shall be Ashes, ere another's.

Syf. For sixty rolling Years, who ever stood
 The Shock of State so unconcern'd as I ?
 This whom I thought to govern being young,
 Heav'n as a Plague to Powers has render'd strong ;
 Judge my Distresses, and my Temper prize ;
 Who, tho' unfortunate, wou'd still be wise.

Lyf. To let you know that Misery doth sway [Both
 An humbler Fate than yours, see at your Feet [kneel.
 The lost Lyfimachus : O mighty Queen,
 I have but this to beg, impartial stand ;
 And since Hephestion serves by your Permission,

Disdain

Disdain not me, who ask your Royal Leave
To cast a throbbing Heart before her Feet.

Heph. A Blessing like Possession of the Princess,
No Services, not Crowns, nor all the Blood
That circles in our Bodies can deserve:

Therefore I take all Helps, much more the King's
And what your Majesty vouchsaf'd to give,
Your Word is past, where all my Hopes must hang.

Lys. There perish too—all Words want Sense in Love;
But Love and I bring such a perfect Passion,
So nobly pure, 'tis worthy of her Eyes,
Which without blushing she may justly prize.

Heph. Such Arrogance should Alexander woo,
Wou'd lose him all the Conquests he has won.

Lys. Let not a Conquest once be nam'd by you,
Who this Dispute must to my Mercy owe.

Sys. Rise brave Lyfimachus, Hephestion rise:
'Tis true, Hephestion first declared his Love;
And 'tis as true, I promis'd him my Aid.

Your glorious King turn'd mighty Advocate:
How noble therefore were the Victory,
If we cou'd vanquish this disorder'd Love?

Heph. 'Twill never be.

Lys. No, I will yet love on,
And hear from Alexander's Mouth, in what Hephestion merits more than I.

Sys. I grieve,
And fear the Boldness which your Love inspires;
But lest her Sight should haste your Enterprize,
'Tis just I take the Object from your Eyes.

[Exeunt. Sys. Par.

Lys. She's gone, and see the Day, as if her Look
Had kindled it, is lost, now she is vanish'd.

Heph. A sudden Gloominess and Horror comes About me.

Lys. Let's away to meet the King:
You know my Suit.

Heph. Yonder Cassander comes;
He may inform us.

Lys. No, I wou'd avoid him;
There's something in that busy Face of his,
That shocks my Nature.

Heph.

ALEXANDER the GREAT. 17

Heph. Where, and what you please. [Exeunt.

Enter Cassander.

Cass. The Morning rises black, the low'ring Sun,
As if the dreadful Bus'ness he foreknew,
Drives heavily his sable Chariot on :
The Face of Day now blushes scarlet deep,
As if it fear'd the Stroke which I intend,
Like that of Jupiter——Lightning and Thunder !
The Lords above are angry, and talk big,
Or rather walk the mighty Cirque like Mourners,
Clad in long Clouds, the Robes of thickest Night,
And seem to groan for Alexander's Fall ;
'Tis as Cassander's Soul could wish it were,
Which whensoever it flies at lofty Mischief,
Wou'd startle Fate, and make all Heav'n concern'd.
A mad Chaldean in the Dead of Night
Came to my Bed-side with a flaming Torch ;
And bellowing o'er me like a Spirit damn'd,
He cry'd, Well had it been for Babylon,
If curs'd Cassander never had been born.

Enter Thessalus, Philip, with Letters.

Theff. My Lord Cassander.

Cass. Ha ! who's there ?

Phil. Your Friends.

Cass. Welcome dear Thessalus and Brother Philip.
Papers—with what Contents ?

Phil. From Macedon.

A trusty Slave arriv'd——great Antipater
Writes that your Mother labour'd with you long,
Your Birth was slow, and slow is all your Life.

Cass. He writes, dispatch the King——Craterus comes,
Who in my Room must govern Macedon ;
Let him not live a Day——he dies To-night ;
And thus my Father but forestals my Purpose :
Why am I slow then ? If I rode on Thunder,
I must a Moment have to fall from Heaven,
E'er I could blast the Growth of this Colossus.

Theff. The haughty Polyperchon comes this Way,
A Male-content, on whom I lately wrought,
That for a slight Affront, at Susa giv'n,
Bears Alexander most pernicious Hate.

Cass. So when I mock'd the Persians that ador'd him,
He

He struck me in the Face, and by the Hair
 He swung me to his Guards to be chastis'd ;
 For which, and for my Father's weighty Cause,
 When I abandon'd what I have resolv'd,
 May I again be beaten like a Slave.
 But lo, where Polyperchon comes ; now fire him
 With such Complaints, that he may shoot to Ruin.

Enter Polyperchon.

Pol. Sure I have found those Friends dare second me :
 I hear fresh Murmurs as I pass along :
 Yet rather than put up, I'll do't alone.
 Did not Pausanias, a Youth, a Stripling,
 A beardless Boy, swell'd with inglorious Wrong,
 For a less Cause his Father Philip kill ?
 Peace then, full Heart ! move like a Cloud about,
 And when Time ripens thee to break, O shed
 The Stock of all thy Poison on his Head.

Cass. All Nations bow their Heads with Homage down,
 And kiss the Feet of this exalted Man :
 The Name, the Shout, the Blast from every Mouth,
 Is Alexander ; Alexander bursts
 Your Cheeks, and with a Crack so loud,
 It drowns the Voice of Heaven ; like Dogs ye fawn,
 The Earth's Commanders fawn, and follow him ;
 Mankind starts up to hear his Blasphemy :
 And if this Hunter of this barbarous World
 But wind himself a God, you echo him
 With universal Cry.

Pol. I echo him ?
 I fawn, or fall like a far Eastern Slave,
 And lick his Feet ? Boys hoot me from the Palace,
 To haunt some Cloister with my senseless Walk,
 When thus the noble Soul of Polyperchon
 Lets go the Aim of all his Actions, Honour.

Theff. The King shall slay me, cut me up alive,
 Ply me with Fire and Scourges, rack me worse
 Than once he did Philotas, ere I bow.

Cass. Curse on thy Tongue for mentioning Philotas :
 I had rather thou had'st Aristander been :
 And to my Soul's Confusion rais'd up Hell,
 With all the Furies brooding upon Horrors,
 Than brought Philotas' Murder to Remembrance.

Phil.

Phil. I saw him rack'd ; a Sight so dismal sad
My Eyes did ne'er behold.

Cass. So dismal ! Peace,
It is unutterable ; let me stand,
And think upon the Tragedy you saw ;
By Mars it comes, ay, now the Rack's set forth,
Bloody Craterus, his inveterate Foe,
With pitiless Hephestion standing by :
Philotas, like an Angel seiz'd by Fiends,
Is straight disrob'd, a Napkin ties his Head,
His warlike Arms with shameful Cords are bound,
And every Slave can now the Valiant wound.

Pol. Now, by the Soul of royal Philip fled,
I dare pronounce young Alexander, who
Wou'd be a God, is cruel as a Devil.

Cass. Oh, Polyperchon, Philip, Theffalus,
Did not your Eyes rain Blood, your Spirits burst,
To see your noble Fellow-Soldier burn,
Yet without trembling, or a Tear, endure
The Torments of the Damn'd ? O Barbarians,
Cou'd you stand by, and yet refuse to suffer ?
Ye saw him bruis'd, torn, to the Bones made bare ;
His Veins wide lanc'd, and the poor quivering Flesh
With Pincers from his manly Bosom ript,
Till ye discover'd the great Heart lie panting.

Pol. Why kill'd we not the King, to save Philotas ?

Cass. Asses ! Fools ! but Asses will bray, and Fools be
Why stood ye then like Statues ? there's the Case, [angry.
The Horror of the Sight had turn'd ye Marble.
So the pale Trojans from their weeping Walls
Saw the dear Body of the godlike Hector,
Bloody and soil'd, dragg'd on the famous Ground,
Yet senseless stood, nor with drawn Weapons ran,
To save the great Remains of that prodigious Man.

Phil. Wretched Philotas ! bloody Alexander !

Theff. Soon after him the great Parmenio fell,
Stabb'd in his Orchard by the Tyrant's Doom.
But where's the need to mention publick Loss,
When each receives particular Disgrace ?

Pol. Late I remember to a Banquet call'd,
After Alcides' Goblet swift had gone
The giddy Round, and Wine had made me bold,

Stirring

Stirring the Spirits up to talk with Kings,
 I saw Craterus with Hephestion enter
 In Persian Robes; to Alexander's Health
 They largely drank; then turning Eastward fell
 Flat on the Pavement, and ador'd the Sun.
 Straight to the King they sacred Reverence gave
 With solemn Words, O Son of thund'ring Jove,
 Young Ammon, live for ever; then kiss'd the Ground;
 I laugh'd aloud, and scoffing, ask'd 'em why
 They kiss'd no harder?—but the King leapt up,
 And spurn'd me to the Earth, with this Reply:
 Do thou—whilst with his Foot he prest my Neck,
 Till from my Ears, my Nose, and Mouth, the Blood
 Gush'd forth, and I lay foaming on the Earth,
 For which I wish this Dagger in his Heart.

Cass. There spoke the Spirit of Calisthenes;
 Remember he's a Man, his Flesh as soft
 And penetrable as a Girl's: We have seen him wounded,
 A Stone has struck him, yet no Thunderbolt:
 A Pebble fell'd this Jupiter along:
 A Sword has cut him, a Javelin pierc'd him,
 Water will drown him, Fire burn him,
 A Surfeit, nay, a Fit of common Sicknes,
 Brings this Immortal to the Gate of Death.

Pol. Why shou'd we more delay the glorious Business?
 Are your Hearts firm?

Phil. Hell cannot be more bent
 To any Ruin, than I to the King's.

Theff. And I.

Pol. Behold my Hand; and, if you doubt my Truth,
 Tear up my Breast, and lay my Heart upon it.

Cass. Join then, O worthy, hearty noble Hands,
 Fit Instruments for such majestick Souls;
 Remember Hermolaus, and be hush'd.

Pol. Still as the Bosom of the desert Night;
 As fatal Planets, or deep plotting Friends.

Cass. To-day he comes from Babylon to Susa
 With proud Roxana.

Ah! who's that?—look here.

Enter the Ghost of King Philip, shaking a Truncheon at 'em, walks over the Stage.

Cass. Now by the Gods, or Furies, which I ne'er
 Believ'd,

Believ'd,—there's one of them arriv'd to shake us.
What art thou? glaring Thing, speak: What, the Spirit
Of our King Philip, or of Polyphemus?

Nay, hurl thy Truncheon, second it with Thunder;
We will abide—Theffalus, saw you nothing?

Theff. Yes, and am more amaz'd than you can be.

Phil. 'Tis said that many prodigies were seen
This Morn, but none so horrible as this. [wide,

Pol. What can you fear? tho' the Earth yawn'd so
That all the Labours of the Deep were seen,
And Alexander stood on th' other Side,
I'd leap the burning Ditch to give him Death,
Or sink myself for ever: Pray to the Business.

Cass. As I was saying, this Roxana, whom
To aggravate my Hate to him, I love,
Meeting him as he came triumphant from
The Indies, kept him revelling at Susa;
But, as I found, a deep Repentance since
Turns his Affections to the Queen Statira,
To whom he swore (before he cou'd espouse her)
That he wou'd never bed Roxana more.

Pol. How did the Persian Queen receive the News
Of his Revolt?

Theff. With Grief incredible!
Great Syfigambis wept, but the young Queen
Fell dead among her Maids;
Nor cou'd their Care,
With richest Cordials, for an Hour or more,
Recover Life.

Cass. Knowing how much she lov'd,
I hop'd to turn her all into Medea;
For when the first Gust of her Grief was past,
I enter'd, and with Breath prepar'd, did blow
The dying Sparks into a tow'ring Flame,
Describing the new Love he bears Roxana,
Conceiving, not unlikely, that the Line
Of dead Darius in her Cause might rise.
Is any Panther's, Lions's Rage
So furious, any Torrent's Fall so swift,
As a wrong'd Woman's Hate? Thus far it helps
To give him Troubles; which perhaps may end him,
And set the Court in universal Uproar.

But

But see, it ripens more than I expected,
 The Scene works up, kill him, or kill thyself;
 So there be Mischief any Way, 'tis well;
 Now change the Vizard, every one disperse,
 And with a Face of Friendship meet the King. [Exeunt.

Enter Syfigambis, Statira, Parisatis, Attendants.

Stat. Give me a Knife, a Draught of Poison, Flames;
 Swell Heart, break, break, thou stubborn Thing;
 Now, by the sacred Fire, I'll not be held;
 Why do ye wish me Life, yet stifle me
 For Want of Air? Pray give me Leave to walk.

Syf. Is there no Reverence to my Person due?

Darius wou'd have heard me: Trust not Rumour.

Stat. No, he hates,

He loathes the Beauties which he has enjoy'd.
 O, he is false, that great, that glorious Man,
 Is Tyrant midst of his triumphant Spoils,
 Is bravely false, to all the Gods forsworn:
 Yet who wou'd think it? No, it cannot be,
 It cannot—What, that dear protesting Man!
 He that has warm'd my Feet with thousand Sighs,
 Then cool'd 'em with his Tears, dy'd on my Knees,
 Outwept the Morning with his dewy Eyes,
 And groan'd, and swore the wand'ring Stars away.

Syf. No, 'tis impossible, believe thy Mother,
 That knows him well.

Stat. Away, and let me die:

O, 'tis my Fondness, and my easy Nature
 That would excuse him; but I know he's false.
 'Tis now the common Talk, the News of the World;
 False to Statira, false to her that lov'd him;
 That lov'd him, cruel Victor as he was,
 And took him, bath'd all o'er in Persian Blood;
 Kiss'd the dear cruel Wounds, and wash'd 'em o'er
 And o'er in Tears—then bound 'em with my Hair,
 Laid him all Night upon my panting Bosom,
 Lull'd like a Child, and hush'd him with my Songs.

Par. If this be true, ah, who will ever trust
 A Man again?

Stat. A Man! a Man! my Parisatis;
 Thus with thy Hand held up, thus let me swear thee,
 By the eternal Body of the Sun,

Whose Body, O forgive the Blasphemy,
I lov'd not half so well as the least Part
Of my dear, precious, faithless Alexander :
For I will tell thee, and to warn thee of him,
Not the Spring's Mouth, nor Breath of Jessamin,
Nor Violets Infant Sweets, nor opening Buds,
Are half so sweet as Alexander's Breast ;
From every Pore of him a Perfume falls,
He kisses softer than a Southern Wind,
Curls like a Vine, and touches like a God. [cease ?

Sys. When will thy Spirits rest, these Transports

Stat. Will you not give me Leave to warn my Sister ?
As I was saying—but I told his Sweetness ;

Then he will talk, good Gods, how he will talk !
Even when the Joy he sigh'd for is possess'd,
He speaks the kindest Words, and looks such Things,
Vows with so much Passion, swears with so much Grace,
That 'tis a Kind of Heav'n to be deluded by him.

Par. But what was it that you would have me swear ?

Stat. Alas, I had forgot. Let me walk by,
And weep a while, and I shall soon remember.

Sys. Have Patience, Child, and give her Liberty !
Passions, like Seas, will have their Ebbs and Flows :
Yet while I see her thus, not all the Losses
We have receiv'd since Alexander's Conquest,
Can touch my harden'd Soul, her Sorrow reigns
Too fully there.

Par. But what if she should kill herself ?

Stat. Roxana then enjoys my perjur'd Love :
Roxana clasps my Monarch in her Arms ;
Dotes on my Conqueror, my dear Lord, my King ;
Devours his Lips, eats him with hungry Kisses :
She grasps him all, she, the curs'd happy she.
By Heav'n I cannot bear it, 'tis too much ;
I'll die, or rid me of the burning Torture.
I will have Remedy, I will, I will,
Or go distracted ; Madness may throw off
The mighty Load, and drown the flaming Passion.
Madam, draw near, with all that are in Presence,
And listen to the Vow which here I make.

Sys. Take Heed, my dear Statira, and consider,
What desperate Love enforces you to swear.

Stat.

24 The RIVAL QUEENS; or,

Stat. Pardon me, for I have consider'd well;
And here I bid adieu to all Mankind.
Farewel ye Coz'ners of the easy Sex,
And thou the greatest, falsest Alexander;
Farewel thou most Belov'd, thou faithless Dear;
If I but mention him, the Tears will fall;
Sure there is not a Letter in his Name,
But is a Charm to melt a Woman's Eyes.

Sys. Clear up thy Griefs; thy King, thy Alexander, Comes on to Babylon.

Stat. Why, let him come,
Joy of all Eyes but the forlorn Statira's.

Sys. Wilt thou not see him?

Stat. By Heaven I never will;
This is my Vow, my sacred Resolution; [Kneels.
And when I break it ———

Sys. Ah! do not ruin all.

Stat. May I again be flatter'd and deluded;
May sudden Death and horrid come, instead
Of what I wish'd, and take me unprepar'd.

Sys. Still kneel, and with the same Breath call again
The woful Imprecation thou hast made.

Stat. No, I will publish it thro' all the Court,
Then in the Bowers of great Semiramis
For ever lock my Woes from human View.

Sy. Yet be perswaded.

Stat. Never urge me more;
Lest, driv'n to Rage, I should my Life abhor,
And in your Presence put an End to all
The fast Calamities that round me fall.

Par. O angry Heav'n, what have the Guiltless done?
And where shall wretched Parisatis run?

Sys. Captives in War, our Bodies we resign'd;
But now made free, Love does our Spirits bind.

Stat. When to my purpos'd Loneliness I retire,
Your Sight I thro' the Grates shall oft desire,
And after Alexander's Health enquire.
And if this Passion cannot be remov'd,
Ask how my Resolution he approv'd,
How much he loves, how much he is belov'd?
Then when I hear that all Things please him well,
Thank the good Gods, and hide me in my Cell.

ACT

A C T II. S C E N E I.

Noise of Trumpets sounding far off.

The SCENE draws, and discovers a Battle of Crows and Ravens in the Air; an Eagle and a Dragon meet and fight; the Eagle drops down, with all the rest of the Birds, and the Dragon flies away. Soldiers walk off, shaking their Heads. The Conspirators come forward.

Cass.  E comes, the fatal Glory of the World,
H The headlong Alexander, with a Guard
Of thronging Crowds, comes on to Babylon,

Tho' warn'd, in Spite of all the Powers above,
Who by these Prodigies foretel his Ruin.

Pol. Why all this Noise because a King must die?
Or does Heav'n fear because he sway'd the Earth,
His Ghost will war with the high Thunderer?
Curse on the babbling Fates, that cannot see
A great Man tumble, but they must be talking.

Cass. The Spirit of King Philip, in those Arms
We saw him wear, pass'd groaning thro' the Court,
His dreadful Eye-balls roll'd their Horror upwards;
He wav'd his Arms, and shook his wond'rous Head.
I've heard that at the Crowing of the Cock
Lions will roar, and Goblins steal away;
But this majestic Air stalks stedfast on,
Spite of the Morn that calls him from the East,
Nor minds the op'ning of the Iv'ry Door.

Phil. 'Tis certain, there was never Day like this.

Cass. Late as I musing walk'd behind the Palace,
I met a monstrous Child, that with his Hands
Held to his Face, which seem'd all over Eyes,
A Silver Bowl, and wept it full of Blood:

But having spy'd me, like a Cockatrice,
He glar'd awhile; then with a Shriek so shrill
As all the Winds had whistled from his Mouth,
He dash'd me with the Gore he held, and vanish'd.

Pol. That which befel me, tho' 'twas horrid, yet
When I consider, it appears ridiculous:

For as I pass'd thro' a bye vacant Place,
I met two Women, very old and ugly, [Breasts,
That wrung their Hands, and howl'd, and beat their
And cry'd out, Poison: When I ask'd the Cause,
They took me by the Ears, and with strange Force
Held me to the Earth, then laugh'd and disappear'd.

Cass. O how I love Destruction with a Method
Which none discern, but those that weave the Plot.

Theff. The Face of all the Court is strangely alter'd:
There's not a Persian I can meet, but stares
As if he were distracted. Oxyartes,
Statira's Uncle, openly declaim'd
Against the Perjury of Alexander.

Phil. Others, more fearful, are remov'd to Susa,
Dreading Roxana's Rage, who comes i'th' Rear
To Babylon.

Cass. It glads my rising Soul
That we shall see him rack'd before he dies:
I know he loves Statira more than Life,
But when he hears the Oaths which she has ta'en,
Her last adieu made publick to the World,
Her vow'd Divorce, how will Remorse consume him;
Prey, like the Bird of Hell, upon his Liver?

Pol. To balk his Longing, and delude his Lust,
Is more than Death; 'tis Earnest for Damnation.

Cass. Then comes Roxana, who must help our Party;
I know her jealous, bloody, and ambitious.
Sure 'twas the Likeness of her Heart to mine,
And Sympathy of Natures caus'd me love her:
'Tis fix'd, I must enjoy her, and no Way
So proper as to make her guilty first.

Pol. To see two Rival Queens of different Humours,
With a Variety of Torments vex him!

Enter Lyfimachus, Hephestion.

Cass. Of that anon: But see Lyfimachus,
And the young Favourite. Sort, sort yourselves,

And

And like to other mercenary Souls
Adore this mortal God that soon must bleed.

Lys. Here I will wait the King's Approach, and stand
His utmost Anger, if he do me Wrong.

Heph. That cannot be, from Power so absolute
And high as his.

Lys. Well, you and I have done.

Pol. How the Court thickens! [Trumpets sound.

Cas. Nothing to what it will—Does he not come
To hear a thousand thousand Embassies,
Which from all Parts to Babylon are brought;
As if the Parliament of the World
Had met, and he came on a God to give
The infinite Assembly glorious Audience.

Enter Clytus, Aristander, in his Robes, with a Wand.

Arist. Haste, reverend Clytus, haste, and stop the King.

Cly. He is already enter'd: Then the Preſs
Of Princes that attend so thick about him
Keep all, that would approach, at certain Distance.

Arist. Tho' he were hem'd with Deities, I'd speak to him,

And turn him back from this Highway to Death.

Cly. Here place yourself within this Trumpet's Sound:
But see the Master of the World appears.

Enter Alexander; all kneel but Cly us.

Heph. O Son of Jupiter, live for ever.

Alex. Rise all; and thou, my second self, my Love,
O my Hephestion, raise thee from the Earth
Up to my Breast, and hide thee in my Heart.
Art thou grown cold? Why hang thine Arms at Dis-
Hug me, or by Heav'n thou lov'st me not. [tance?

Heph. Not love, my Lord! break not the Heart you
And moulded up to such an Excellence! [fram'd,
Then stamp't on it your own immortal Image.
Not love the King! Such is not Woman's Love;
So fond a Friendship, such a sacred Flame,
As I must doubt to find in Breasts above. [Wars,

Alex. Thou dost, thou lov'st me. Crown of all my Thou dearer to me than my Groves of Laurel:
I know thou lov'st thy Alexander more
Than Clytus does the King. No Tears, Hephestion;
I read thy Passion in thy manly Eyes,

And glory in those Planets of my Life,
Above the rival Lights that shine in Heaven.

Lyf. I see that Death must wait me, yet I'll on.

Alex. I'll tell thee, Friend, and mark it, all ye Princes,
Tho' never mortal Man arriv'd to such
A Height as I; yet I would forfeit all,
Cast all my Purples, and my conquer'd Crowns,
And die, to save this Darling of my Soul.
Give me thy Hand, share all my Sceptres while
I live, and when my Hour of Fate is come,
I leave thee, what thou merit'st more than I, the World.

Lyf. Dread Sir, I cast me at your Royal Feet.

Alex. What! my Lyfimachus, whose Veins are rich
With our illustrious Blood? My Kinsman, rise:
Is not that Clytus?

Cly. Your old faithful Soldier.

Alex. Come to my Hands, thus double arm the King:
And now methinks I stand like the dread God,
Who while his Priests and I quaff'd sacred Blood,
Acknowledg'd me his Son. My Lightning thou;
And thou, my mighty Thunder—I have seen
Thy glittering Sword out-fly celestial Fire:
And when I cry'd, be gone and execute,
I've seen him run swifter than starting Hinds,
Nor bent the tender Grass beneath his Feet;
Swifter than Shadows fleeting o'er the Fields;
Nay, even the Winds, with all their Stock of Wings,
Have puff'd behind, as wanting Breath to reach him.

Lyf. But if your Majesty——

Cly. Who would not lose
The last dear Drop of Blood for such a King?

Alex. Witness, my elder Brothers of the Sky,
How much I love a Soldier——O my Clytus,
Was it not when we pass'd the Granicus,
Thou did'st preserve me from unequal Force?
It was then when Spithridates and Rhesaces
Fell both upon me with two dreadful Strokes,
And clove my temper'd Helmet quite in sunder,
Then, I remember, then thou didst me Service;
I think my Thunder split them to the Navel.

Cly. To your great self you owe that Victory,
And sure your Arms did never gain a nobler.

Alex.

Alex. By Heav'n, they never did, for well thou know'st,
And I am prouder to have pass'd that Stream,
Than that I drove a Million o'er the Plain:
Can none remember? Yes, I know all must,
When Glory, like the dazzling Eagle, stood
Perch'd on my Bever in the Granick Flood;
When Fortune's self my Standard trembling bore,
And the pale Fates stood frightened on the Shore;
When the Immortals on the Billows rode,
And I myself appear'd the leading God.

Arist. But all the Honours which your Youth has won
Are lost, unless you fly from Babylon:
Haste with your Chiefs, to Susa take your Way,
Fly for your Life, destructive is your Stay.
This Morning having view'd the angry Sky,
And mark'd the Prodigies that threaten'd high,
To our bright God I did for Succour fly.
But oh ———

Alex. What Fears thy reverend Bosom shake?
Or dost thou from some Dream of Horror wake?
If so, come grasp me with thy shaking Hand,
Or fall behind, while I the Danger stand.

Arist. To Orosmades' Cave I did repair,
Where I aton'd the dreadful God with Prayer:
But as I pray'd, I heard long Groans within,
And Shrieks, as of the Damn'd that howl for Sin:
I knew the Omen, and I fear'd to stay,
But prostrate on the trembling Pavement lay.
When he bodes Happiness, he answers mild;
'Twas so of old, and the great Image smil'd;
But now in abrupt Thunder he reply'd,
Loud as rent Rocks, or roaring Seas, he cry'd,
All Empires, Crowns, Glory of Babylon,
Whose Head stands wrapt in Clouds, must tumble down.

Alex. If Babylon must fall, what is't to me?
Or can I help immutable Decree?
Down then, vast Frame, with all thy lofty Towers,
Since 'tis so order'd by Almighty Powers:
Press'd by the Fates, unloose your golden Bars,
'Tis great to fall the Envy of the Stars.

Enter Perdiccas, Meleager.

Mel. O Horror!

Perd. Dire Portents!

Alex. Out with 'em then;

What, are ye Ghosts, ye empty Shapes of Men?
If so, the Mysteries of Hell unfold,
Be all the Scrolls of Destiny unroll'd,
Open the brazen Leaves, and let it come;
Point with a Thunder-bolt your Monarch's Doom.

Perd. As Meleager and myself in Field,
Your Persian Horse about the Army wheel'd;
We heard a Noise as of a rushing Wind,
And a thick Storm the Eye of Day did blind:
A croaking Noise resounded thro' the Air.
We look'd, and saw big Ravens battling there;
Each Bird of Night appear'd himself a Cloud: [Blood.
They met and fought, and their Wounds rain'd black

Mel. All, as for Honour, did their Lives expose;
Their Talons clash'd, and Beaks gave mighty Blows,
Whilst dreadful Sounds did our scar'd Sense assail,
As of small Thunder, or huge Scythian Hail.

Perd. Our Augurs shook, when with a horrid Groan,
We thought that all the Clouds had tumbled down;
Soldiers and Chiefs, who can the Wonder tell,
Struck to the Ground, promiscuously fell;
While the dark Birds, each pond'rous as a Shield,
For fifty Furlongs hid the fatal Field.

Alex. Be witness for me, all ye Powers divine,
If ye be angry, 'tis no Fault of mine;
Therefore let Furies face me with a Band
From Hell, my Virtue shall not make a Stand;
'Tho' all the Curtains of the Sky be drawn,
And the Stars wink, young Ammon shall go on:
While my Statira shines, I cannot stay,
Love lifts his Torch to light me on my Way,
And her bright Eyes create another Day. }

Lyf. E'er you remove, be pleas'd, dread Sir, to hear
A Prince ally'd to you by Blood.

Alex. Speak quickly.

Lyf. For all that I have done for you in War,
I beg the Princess Parisatis.

Alex. Ha —————

Is not my Word already past? Hephestion,
I know he hates thee, but he shall not have her:

We

We heard of this before——Lyfimachus,
I here command you nourish no Design
To prejudice my Person in the Man
I love, and will prefer to all the World.

Lyf. I never fail'd to obey your Majesty,
Whilst you commanded what was in my Power;
Nor cou'd Hephestion fly more swift to serve,
When you commanded us to storm a Town,
Or fetch a Standard from the Enemy:
But when you charge me not to love the Princess,
I must confess, I disobey you, as
I wou'd the Gods themselves, should they command.

Alex. You shou'd, brave Sir, hear me, and then be dumb;
When by my Order curst Calisthenes
Was as a Traitor doom'd to live in Torments,
Your Pity sped him in Despite of me.
Think not I have forgot your Insolence;
No, tho' I pardon'd it, yet if again
Thou dar'st to cross me with another Crime,
The Bolts of Fury should be doubled on thee:
In the mean Time, think not of Parisatis;
For if thou dost, by Jupiter Ammon,
By my own Head, and by King Philip's Soul,
I'll not respect that Blood of mine thou shar'st,
But use thee as the vilest Macedonian.

Lyf. I doubted not at first, but I should meet
Your Indignation; yet my Soul's resolv'd,
And I shall never quit so brave a Prize,
While I can draw a Bow, or lift a Sword.

Alex. Against my Life! Ah! was it so? how now?
'Tis said that I am rash, of hasty Humour;
But I appeal to the immortal Gods,
If ever petty poor provincial Lord
Had Temper like to mine: My Slave, whom I
Could tread to Clay, dares utter bloody Threats.

Cly. Contain yourself, dread Sir; the noble Prince,
I see it in his Countenance, would die
To justify his Truth, but Love makes many Faults.

Lyf. I meant his Minion there should feel my Arm;
Love asks his Blood, nor shall he live to laugh
At my Destruction.

Alex. Now be thy own Judge,

I pardon thee for my old Clytus' Sake;
 But if once more thou mention thy rash Love,
 Or dar'st attempt Hephestion's precious Life,
 I'll pour such Storms of Indignation on thee,
Phylotas' Rack, Calisthenes Disgrace,
 Shall be Delight to what thou shalt endure.

Enter Syfigambis, Parisatis.

Heph. My Lord, the Queen comes to congratulate Your safe Arrival.

Alex. O thou, the best of Women,
 Source of my Joy, blest Parent of my Love.

Syf. Permit me kneel, and give those Adorations
 Which from the Persian Family are due:
 Have you not rais'd us from our Ruins high?
 And when no Hand could help, nor any Eye
 Behold us with a Tear, your's pitied me;
 You, like a God, snatch'd us from Sorrow's Gulph,
 Fix'd us in Thrones above our former State.

Par. Which, when a Soul forgets, advanc'd so nobly,
 May it be drown'd in deeper Misery.

Alex. To meet me thus, was generously done;
 But still there wants to crown my Happiness,
 Life of my Empire, Treasure of my Soul,
 My dear Statira: O that heavenly Beam,
 Warmth of my Brain, and Fire of my Heart;
 Had she but shot to see me, had she met me,
 By this Time I had been amongst the Gods,
 If any Extasy can make a Height,
 Or any Rapture hurl us to the Heavens.

Cly. Now, who shall dare to tell him the Queen's Vow?

Alex. How fares my Love? ha—neither answer me!
 Ye raise my Wonder, Darkness overwhelms me;
 If royal Syfigambis does not weep!
 Trembling and Horror pierce me cold as Ice.
 Is she not well? what none, none answer me?
 Or is it worse? Keep down ye rising Sighs,
 And murmur in the Hollow of my Breast:
 Run to my Heart, and gather more sad Wind;
 That when the Voice of Fate shall call you forth,
 Ye may, at one Rush, from the Seat of Life,
 Blow the Blood out, and burst it like a Bladder.

Heph. I would relate it, but my Courage fails me.

Alex.

Alex. If she be dead—That it's impossible;
And let none here affirm it for his Soul:

For he that dares but think so damn'd a Lye,
I'll have his Body straight empal'd before me,
And glut my Eyes upon his bleeding Entrails.

Cass. How will this Engine of unruly Passion
Roar, when we have ram'd him to the Mouth with Poison?

[Aside.

Alex. Why stand you all, as you were rooted here,
Like senseless Trees, while to the stupid Grove
I, like a wounded Lion, groan my Grievs,
And none will answer—What, not my Hephestion!
If thou hast any Love for Alexander,
If ever I oblig'd thee by my Care,
When my quick Sight has watch'd thee in the Fight;
Or if to see thee bleed I sent forth Cries,
And, like a Mother, wash'd thee with my Tears;
If this be true, if I deserve thy Love,
Ease me, and tell the Cause of my Disaster.

Heph. Your mourning Queen, (which I had told before Had you been calm) has no Disease but Sorrow,
Which was occasion'd first by jealous Pangs:
She heard, (for what can 'scape a watchful Lover!)
That you at Susa, breaking all your Vows,
Relaps'd, and conquer'd by Roxana's Charms,
Gave up yourself devoted to her Arms.

Alex. I know that subtle Creature in my Riot,
My Reason gone, seduc'd me to her Bed;
But when I wak'd I shook the Circe off,
Tho' that Enchantress held me by the Arm,
And wept, and gaz'd with all the Force of Love;
Nor griev'd I less for that which I had done,
Than when at Thais's Suit, enrag'd with Wine,
I set the fam'd Persopolis on Fire.

Heph. Your Queen Statira took it so to Heart,
That, in the Agony of Love, she swore
Never to see your Majesty again;
With dreadful Imprecations she confirm'd
Her Oath, and I much fear that she will keep it.

Alex. Ha! did she swear? did that sweet Creature
I'll not believe it; no, she is all Softness, [swear?
All melting, mild, and calm as a rock'd Infant,

Nor can you wake her into Cries : By Heaven,
She is the Child of Love, and she was born in Smiles.

Par. I and my weeping Mother heard her swear.

Sys. And with such Fierceness she did aggravate
The Foulness of your Fault, that I cou'd wish
Your Majesty would blot her from your Breast.

Alex. Blot her, forget her, hurl her from my Bosom,
For ever lose that Star that gilds my Life,
Guide of my Days, and Goddess of my Nights !
No, she shall stay with me in Spite of Vows,
My Soul and Body, both are twisted with her.
The God of love empties his golden Quiver,
Shoots every Grain of her into my Heart ;
She is all mine, by Heaven, I feel her here,
Panting and warm, the dearest, O Statira !

Sys. Have Patience, Son, and trust to Heaven and If my Authority, or the Remembrance [me.
Of dead Darius, or her Mother's Soul
Can work upon her, she again is yours.

Alex. O Mother, help me, help your wounded Son,
And move the Soul of my offended Dear ;
But fly, haste, e'er the sad Procession's made.
Spend not a Thought in Reply—Be gone,
If you would have me live—and Parisatis,
Hang thou about her Knees, wash 'em with Tears :
Nay haste, the Breath of Gods, and Eloquence
Of Angels go along with you—Oh my Heart !

Exeunt Sys. and Par.

Lys. Now let your Majesty, who feels the Torments
And sharpest Pangs of Love, encourage mine.

Alex. Ha——

Cly. Are you a Madman ? Is this a Time ?

Lys. Yes ; for I see he cannot be unjust to me,
Lest something worse befall him.

Alex. Why dost thou tempt me thus to thy Undoing ?
Death thou shouldst have, were it not courted so :
But know, to thy Confusion, that my Word,
Like Destiny, admits not a Reverse ;
Therefore in Chains thou shalt behold the Nuptials
Of my Hephestion—Guards, take him Prisoner.

Lys. I shall not easily resign my Sword,
Till I have dy'd it in my Rival's Blood.

Alex. I charge you, kill him not, take him alive ;
The Dignity of Kings is now concern'd,
And I will find a Way to tame this Beast.

Cly. Kneel, for I see Lightning in his Eyes.

Lys. I neither hope nor ask a Pardon of him ;
But if he should restore my Sword, I would
With a new Violence run against my Rival.

Alex. Sure we at last shall conquer this fierce Lion :
Hence from my Sight, and bear him to a Dungeon.

Perdiccas, give this Lion to a Lion :
None speak for him, fly, stop his Mouth, away.

Cly. The King's extremely mov'd.

Eum. I dare not speak. [nests ;

Cly. This comes of Love and Women ; 'tis all Mad-
Yet were I heated now with Wine, I shou'd
Be preaching to the King for this rash Fool.

Alex. Come hither, Clytus, and my dear Hephestion ;
Lend me your Arms, help, for I'm sick o'th' sudden.
I fear betwixt Statira's cruel Love,
And fond Roxana's Arts, your King will fall.

Cly. Better the Persian Race were all undone.

Heph. Look up, my Lord, and bend not thus your
As if you'd leave the Empire of this World, [Head,
Which you with Toil have won.

Alex. Wou'd I had not ;
There's no true Joy in such unweildy Fortune.
Eternal Gazers lasting Troubles make,
All find my Spots, but few my Brightness take.
Stand off and give me Air —

Why was I born a Prince, proclaim'd a God ?
Yet have no Liberty to look abroad ?
Thus Palaces in Prospect bar the Eye,
Which pleas'd and free, would o'er the Cottage fly,
O'er flow'ry Lands to the gay distant Sky. }
Farewel then Empire and the Racks of Love ;
By all the Gods, I will to Wilds remove ;
Stretch'd like a Sylvan God on Grass lie down,
And quite forget that e'er I wore a Crown.

A C T III. S C E N E I.

Enter Eumenes, Philip, Theſſalus, Perdiccas, Lyſimachus, Guards.

Eum. Arewel, brave Spirit, when you come above,

F Commend us to Philotas, and the reſt
Of our great Friends.

Lyſ. Farewel to all,

Fight for the King as I have done, and then
You may be worthy of a Death like mine—Lead on.

Enter Parisatis.

Par. Ah, my Lyſimachus, where are you going?
Whither? to be devour'd! O barb'rous Prince!
Cou'd you expoſe your Life to the King's Rage,
And yet remember mine was ty'd to yours?

Lyſ. The Gods preſerve you ever from the Ills
That threaten me: Live, Madam, to enjoy
A nobler Fortune, and forget this Wretch.
I ne'er had Worth, nor is it poſſible
That all the Blood which I ſhall loſe this Day
Shou'd merit this rich Sorrow from your Eyes.

Par. The King I know is bent to thy Deſtruction;
Now by Command they forc'd me from his Knees:
But take this Satisfaction in thy Death,
No Power, Command, my Mother's, Siſter's Tears,
Shall cauſe me to ſurvive thy cruel Loſs.

Lyſ. Live, Princeſs, live, howe'er the King diſdain me:
Perhaps, unarm'd and fighting for your Sake,
I may perform what ſhall amaze the World,
And force him yet to give you to my Arms.
Away Perdiccas—Dear Eumenes, take
The Princeſs to your Charge.

[Exeunt Perd. Lyſ. Guards.

Par. Lead me, Eumenes, lead me from the Light,
Where I may wait till I his Ruin hear,
Then free my Soul to meet him in the Air.

[Exeunt Par. and Eum.
Phil.

Phil. See where the jealous proud Roxana comes.

A haughty Vengeance gathers up her Brow.

Theff. Peace, they have rais'd her to their Ends ; observe.

Enter Roxana, Cassander, Polyperchon.

Rox. O you have ruin'd me, I shall be mad :

Said you so passionately ; is't possible ?

So kind to her, and so unkind to me ?

Cass. More than your utmost Fancy can invent.

Rox. Away, be gone, and give a Whirlwind Room,
Madness but meanly represents my Toil.

Roxana and Statira, they are Names
That must for ever jar : Eternal Discord,
Fury, Revenge, Disdain, and Indignation
Tear my swell'd Breast, make way for Fire and Tempest.
My Brain is burst, Debate and Reason quench'd,
The Storm is up, and my hot bleeding Heart
Splits with the Rack, while Passions like the Winds,
Rise up to Heaven, and put out all the Stars.
What saving Hand, or what a mighty Arm
Can raise me sinking ?

Cass. Let your own Arm save you,
'Tis in your Power, your Beauty is almighty :
Let all the Stars go out, your Eyes can light 'em.
Wake then bright Planet that should rule the World,
Wake, like the Moon, from your too long Eclipse,
And we, with all the Instruments of War,
Trumpets and Drums, will help your glorious Labour.

Pol. Put us to act, and with a Violence
That fits the Spirit of a most wrong'd Woman :
Let not Medea's dreadful Vengeance stand
A Pattern more, but draw your own so fierce,
It may for ever be original.

Rox. Yes, we will have Revenge, my Instruments ;
For there is nothing you have said of me,
But comes far short, wanting of what I am.
When in my Nonage I at Zogdia liv'd,
Amongst my she Companions I would reign ;
Draw 'em from Idleness, and little Arts
Of coining Looks, and laying Snares for Lovers ;
Broke all their Glasses, and their Tires tore ;
Taught them, like Amazons, to ride and chase
Wild Beasts in Desarts, and to master Men.

Cass.

Cass. Her Looks, her Words, her ev'ry Motion fires me.

Rox. But when I heard of Alexander's Conquest,
How with a Handful he had Millions slain,
Spoil'd all the East, their Queens his Captives made,
Yet with that Chastity, and god-like Temper
He saw their Beauties, and with Pity bow'd;
Methought I hung upon my Father's Lips,
And wish'd him tell the wondrous Tale again:
Left all my Sports, the Woman now return'd,
And Sighs uncall'd wou'd from my Bosom fly;
And all the Night, as my Adraste told me,
In Slumbers groan'd, and murmur'd Alexander.

Cass. Curse on the Name, but I will soon remove That Bar of my Ambition and my Love.

Rox. At last to Zogdia this Triumpher came,
And cover'd o'er with Laurels forc'd our City:
At Night I by my Father's Order stood,
With fifty Virgins waiting at a Banquet.
But Oh, how glad was I to hear his Court,
To feel the Pressure of his glowing Hand,
And taste the dear, the false protesting Lips? [em.

Cass. Wormwood and Hemlock henceforth grow about

Rox. Gods! that a Man should be so great and base!
What said he not when in the bridal Bed,
He clasp'd my yielding Body in his Arms:
When with his fiery Lips devouring mine,
And moulding with his Hand my throbbing Breast,
He swore the Globe of Heaven and Earth were vile
To those rich Worlds; and talk'd, and kiss'd, and lov'd,
And made me shame the Morning with my Blushes.

Cass. Yet after this prove false!

Pol. Horrid Perjury!

Cass. Not to be match'd!

Pol. O you must find Revenge!

Rox. And shall the Daughter of Darius hold him?
That puny Girl, that Ape of my Ambition?
That cry'd for Milk when I was nurs'd in Blood!
Shall she, made up of watry Element,
A Cloud, shall she embrace my proper God,
While I am cast like Lightning from his Hand?
No, I must scorn to prey on common Things;
Tho' hurl'd to Earth by this disdainful Jove;

I will

I will rebound to my own Orb of Fire,
And with the Wreck of all the Heav'ns expire.

Cass. Now you appear yourself;
'Tis noble Anger.

Rox. May the illustrious Blood that fills my Womb,
And ripens to be perfect Godhead born,
Come forth a Fury; may Barsiana's Bastard
Tread it to Hell, and rule as Sovereign Lord,
When I permit Statira to enjoy
Roxana's Right, and strive not to destroy.

Enter Syfigambis, Statira, in Mourning.

Cass. Behold her going to fulfil her Vow;
Old Syfigambis, whom the King engag'd,
Resists and awes her with Authority.

Rox. 'Twas rashly vow'd indeed, and I should pity her.

Sys. O my Statira, how has Passion chang'd thee!
Think if thou drive the King to such Extremes,
What in his Fury may he not denounce
Against the poor Remains of lost Darius?

Stat. I know, I know he will be kind to you,
And to my mourning Sister for my Sake;
And tell him, how with my departing Breath,
I rail'd not, but spoke kindly of his Person,
Nay, wept to think of our divided Loves,
And sobbing sent a last Forgiveness to him.

Rox. Grant, Heav'n, some Ease to this distracted Wretch!

Let her not linger out a Life in Torments,
Be these her last Words, and at once dispatch her,

Sys. No, by the everlasting Fire I swear,
By my Darius's Soul, I never more
Will dare to look on Alexander's Face,
If you refuse to see him.

Rox. Curse on that cunning Tongue, I fear her now.

Cass. No, she's resolv'd.

Stat. I cast me at your Feet,
To bathe 'em with my Tears; or, if you please,
I'll let out Life, and wash 'em with my Blood,
But still conjure you, not to rack my Soul,
Nor hurry my wild Thoughts to perfect Madness.
Shou'd now Darius's awful Ghost appear,

And

And my pale Mother stand beseeching by,
I wou'd persist to Death, and keep my Vow.

Rox. She shews a certain Bravery of Soul,
Which I shou'd praise in any but my Rival.

Sys. Die then, rebellious Wretch, thou art not now
That soft belov'd, nor durst thou share my Blood.
Go hide thy Baseness in thy lonely Grot,
Ruin thy Mother, and thy Royal House,
Pernicious Creature! shed the innocent
Blood, and sacrifice to the King's Wrath
The Lives of all thy People; fly, be gone,
And hide thee where bright Virtue never shone:
The Day will shun thee, nay, the Stars, that view
Mischiefs and Murders, Deeds to thee not new,
Will start at this—Go, go, thy Crimes deplore,
And never think of Syfigambis more.

Rox. Madam, I hope you will a Queen forgive:
Roxana weeps to see Statira grieve:
How noble is the brave Resolve you make,
To quit the World for Alexander's Sake?
Vast is your Mind, you dare thus greatly die,
And yield the King to one so mean as I:
'Tis a Revenge will make the Victor smart,
And much I fear your Death will break his Heart.

Stat. You counterfeit, I fear, and know too well
How much your Eyes all Beauties else excel:

Roxana, who tho' not a Princess born,
In Chains could make the mighty Victor mourn.
Forgetting Pow'r when Wine had made him warm,
And senseless, yet even then you knew to charm:
Preserve him by those Arts that cannot fail,
While I the Loss of what I lov'd bewail.

Rox. I hope your Majesty will give me Leave
To wait you to the Grove, where you would grieve,
Where, like the Turtle, you the Loss will moan
Of that dear Mate, and murmur all alone.

Stat. No, proud Triumpher o'er my falling State,
Thou shalt not stay to fill me with my Fate:
Go to the Conquest which your Wiles may boast,
And tell the World you left Statira lost.
Go seize my faithless Alexander's Hand,
Both Hand and Heart were once at my Command:

Grasp his lov'd Neck, die on his fragrant Breast,
 Love him like me, whose Love can't be exprest,
 He must be happy, and you more than blest;
 While I in Darkness hide me from the Day,
 That with my Mind I may his Form survey,
 And think so long, till I think Life away.

Rox. No, sickly Virtue, no,
 Thou shalt not think, nor thy Love's Loss bemoan,
 Nor shall past Pleasures thro' thy Fancy run;
 That were to make thee blest as I can be:
 But thy No-thought I must, I will decree;
 As thus, I'll torture thee till thou art mad.
 And then no Thought to Purpose can be had.

Stat. How frail, how cowardly is Woman's Mind?
 We shriek at Thunder, dread the rustling Wind,
 And glitt'ring Swords the brightest Eyes will blind;
 Yet when strong Jealousy enflames the Soul,
 The Weak will roar, and Calms to Tempests roll.
 Rival, take heed, and tempt me not too far!
 My Blood may boil, and Blushes shew a War.

Rox. When you retire to your romantick Cell,
 I'll make thy solitary Mansion Hell;
 Thou shalt not rest by Day, nor sleep by Night,
 But still Roxana shall thy Spirit fright:
 Wanton in Dreams, if thou dar'st dream of Bliss,
 Thy roving Ghost may think to steal a Kiss;
 But when to his sought Bed, thy wandring Air
 Shall for the Happiness it wish'd repair,
 How will it groan to find thy Rival there?
 How ghastly wilt thou look, when thou shalt see,
 Thro' the drawn Curtains, that great Man and me,
 Wearied with Laughing, Joys shot to the Soul,
 While thou shalt grinning stand, and gnash thy Teeth,
 and howl?

Stat. O barb'rous Rage! My Tears I cannot keep,
 But my full Eyes in spite of me will weep.

Rox. The King and I in various Pictures drawn,
 Clasping each other, shaded o'er with Lawn,
 Shall be the daily Presents I will send,
 To help thy Sorrow to her Journey's End:
 And when we hear, at last, thy Hour draws nigh,
 My Alexander, my dear Love, and I,

Will

Will come, and hasten on thy lingring Fates,
And smile, and kiss thy Soul out, thro' the Grates.

Stat. 'Tis well; I thank thee; thou hast wak'd a Rage,
Whose Boiling now no Temper can assuage:
I meet thy Tides of Jealousy with more;
Dare thee to Duel, and dash thee o'er and o'er.

Rox. What would you dare?

Stat. Whatever you dare do:
My warring Thoughts the bloodiest Tracts pursue:
I am by Love a Fury made, like you:
Kill or be kill'd, thus acted by Despair.

Rox. Sure the disdain'd Statira does not dare!

Stat. Yes, tow'ring proud Roxana, but I dare.

Rox. I tow'r indeed o'er thee:

Like a fair Wood, the Shade of Kings, I stand;
While thou, sick Weed, dost but infest the Land.

Stat. No; like an Ivy, I will curl thee round;
Thy sapless Trunk of all its Pride confound;
Then, dry and wither'd, bend thee to the Ground.

What Syfigambis' Threats, objected Fears,
My Sister's Sighs, and Alexander's Tears,
Could not effect, thy Rival Rage has done:
My Soul, whose Start at Breach of Oaths begun,
Shall to thy Ruin, violated, run.

I'll see the King, in spite of all I swore,
Tho' curst, that thou may'st never see him more.

Enter Perdiccas, Alexander, Syfigambis, Attendants, &c.

Per. Madam, your Royal Mother, and the King.

Alex. O my Statira! O my angry Dear!

Turn thine Eyes on me; I would talk to them:

What shall I say, to work upon thy Soul?

Where shall I throw me? Whither shall I fall?

Stat. For me you shall not fall.

Alex. For thee I will.

Before thy Feet I'll have a Grave dug up;
And perish quick, be bury'd strait alive:
Give but, as the Earth grows heavy on me,
A tender Look, and a relenting Word;
Say but 'twas Pity, that so great a Man,
Who had ten thousand Deaths in Battles scap'd,
For one poor Fault, so early should remove,
And fall a Martyr to the God of Love.

Rox.

Rox. Is then Roxana's Love and Life so poor,
That for another you can chuse to die,
Rather than live for her? What have I done?
How am I alter'd, since at Susa last
You swore, and seal'd it with a thousand Kisses,
Rather than lose Roxana's smallest Charm,
You would forego the Conquest of the World?

Alex. Madam, you best can tell, what Magic drew
Me to your Charms; but let it not be told,
For your own Sake: Take thou that conquer'd World;
Dispose of Crowns and Scepters, as you please;
Let me but have the Freedom of an Hour,
To make Account with this wrong'd Innocence.

Stat. You know, my Lord, you did commit a Fault:
I ask but this, repeat your Crime no more.

Alex. O never, never.

Rox. Am I rejected then!

Alex. Exhaust my Treasures;
Take all the Spoils of the fair conquer'd Indies;
But, for the Ease of my afflicted Soul,
Go where I never may behold thee more.

Rox. Yes, I will go, ungrateful as thou art,
Bane to my Life, thou Torment of my Days,
Thou Murderer of the World: For as thy Sword
Hath cut the Lives of thousand thousand Men,
So will thy Tongue undo all Womankind.
But I'll be gone; this last Disdain hath cur'd me;
And I am now grown so indifferent,
I could behold you kiss without a Pang;
Nay, take a Torch, and light you to your Bed:
But do not trust me; no; for if you do,
By all the Furies, and the Flames of Love,
By Love, which is the hottest burning Hell,
I'll set you both on Fire, to blaze for ever. [Exit.

Stat. O Alexander, is it possible? Good Gods,
That Guilt can shew so lovely!—yet I pardon,
Forgive thee all, by thy dear Life I do.

Alex. Ha, Pardon! saidst thou, Pardon me?

Sys. Now all thy Mother's Blessing fall upon thee,
My best, my most belov'd, my own Statira.

Alex. Is it then true, that thou hast pardon'd me?
And is it giv'n me thus to touch thy Hand,

And

And fold thy Body in my longing Arms ?
 To gaze upon thy Eyes, my happier Stars,
 To taste thy Lip, and thy dear balmy Breath,
 While ev'ry Sigh comes forth so fraught with Sweets,
 'Tis Incense to be offer'd to a God.

Stat. Yes, dear Impostor, 'tis most true, that I
 Have pardon'd thee ; and 'tis as true, that while
 I stand in View of thee, thy Eyes will wound,
 Thy Tongue will make me wanton as thy Wishes ;
 And while I feel thy Hand, my Body glows :
 Therefore be quick, and take your last Adieu,
 These your last Sighs, and these your parting Tears :
 Farewel, farewel, a long and last Farewel.

Alex. O my Hephestion, bear me, or I sink. [throbs !]

Stat. Nay, you may take—Heav'n, how my Heart
 You may, you may, if yet you think me worthy,
 Take from these trembling Lips a parting Kifs.

Alex. No, let me starve first—Why, Statira, Why ?
 What is the Meaning of all this ?—O Gods !
 I know the Cause ; my working Brain divines ;
 You'll say you pardon'd ; but with this Reserve,
 Never to make me blest, as I have been,
 To slumber by the Side of that false Man,
 Nor give a Heav'n of Beauty to a Devil :
 Think you not thus ? Speak, Madam.

Sys. She is not worthy, Son, of so much Sorrow.
 Speak Comfort to him, speak, my dear Statira ;
 I ask thee, by those Tears. Ah ! canst thou e'er
 Pretend to Love, yet with dry Eyes behold him !

Alex. Silence more dreadful than severest Sounds !
 Would she but speak, tho' Death, eternal Exile,
 Hung at her Lips, yet, while her Tongue pronounces,
 There must be Musick ev'n in my Undoing.

Stat. Still my lov'd Lord, I cannot see you thus ;
 Nor can I ever yield to share your Bed :
 O ! I shall find Roxana in your Arms,
 And taste her Kisses left upon your Lips.
 Her curst Embraces have defil'd your Body ;
 Nor shall I find the wonted Sweetness there,
 But artificial Smells, and stinking Odours.

Alex. Yes, Obstinate, I will ; Madam, you shall,
 You shall, in spite of this resistless Passion,

Be serv'd; but you must give me leave to think,
You never lov'd——O could I see you thus!
Hell has not half the Tortures that you raise.

Cly. Never did Passions combat thus before.

Alex. O I shall burst,
Unless you give me Leave to rave awhile,

Sys. Yet, ere Destruction sweep us both away,
Relent, and break thro' all, to pity him.

Alex. Yes, I will shake this Cupid from my Arms,
If all the Rages of the Earth would fright him;
Drown him in the deep Bowl of Hercules;
Make the World drunk; and then, like Æolus,
When he gave Passage to the struggling Winds,
I'll strike my Spear into the reeling Globe,
To let it Blood; set Babylon in a Blaze;
And drive this God of Flames with more consuming Fire.

Stat. My Presence will but force him to Extremes:
Besides 'tis Death to me to see his Pains:
Yet stand resolv'd never to yield again——
Permit me to remove.

Alex. I charge ye, stay her;
For if she pass, by all the Hell I feel,
Your Souls, your naked Ghosts, shall wait upon her.
O turn thee! turn! thou barb'rous Brightness, turn!
Hear my last Words, and see my utmost Pang:
But first kneel with me, all my Soldiers, kneel; [All kneel.
Yet lower—prostrate to the Earth—Ah Mother, what!
Will you kneel too? Then let the Sun stand still,
To see himself out-worshipp'd; not a Face
Be shewn, that is not wash'd all o'er in Tears;
But weep, as if you here beheld me slain.

Sys. Hast thou a Heart? Or art thou Savage turn'd?
But if this Posture cannot move your Mercy,
I never will speak more.

Alex. O my Statira,
I swear, my Queen, I'll not out-live thy Hate.
My Soul is still as Death——But one Thing more,
Pardon my last Extremities——the Transports
Of a deep wounded Breast, and all is well.

Stat. Rise, and may Heaven forgive you all, like me.

Alex. You are too gracious——Clytus, bear me hence;
When I am laid in Earth, yield her the World.

There's

There's something here heaves, as cold as Ice,
That stops my Breath——Farewel, O Gods! for ever.

Stat. Hold off, and let me run into his Arms,
My dearest, my all Love, my Lord, my King;
You shall not die, if that the Soul and Body
Of thy Statira can restore thy Life:
Give me thy wonted Kindness, bend me, break me
With thy Embraces.

Alex. O the killing Joy!
O Extasy! my Heart will burst my Breast,
To leap into thy Bosom; but by Heaven
This Night I will revenge me of thy Beauties,
For the dear Rack I have this Day endur'd;
For all the Sighs and Tears that I have spent,
I'll have so many Thousand burning Loves;
So swell thy Lips, so fill me with thy Sweetness,
Thou shalt not sleep nor close thy wand'ring Eyes;
The smiling Hours shall all be lov'd away,
We'll surfeit all the Night, and languish all the Day.

Stat. Nor shall Roxana——

Alex. Let her not be nam'd——
O Mother! how shall I requite your Goodness?
And you, my Fellow Warriors, that cou'd weep
For your lost King——But I invite you all,
My Equals in the Throne as in the Grave,
Without Distinction to the Riot come,
To the King's Banquet——

Cly. I beg your Majesty
Would leave me out,

Alex. None, none shall be excus'd;
All revel out the Day, 'tis my Command;
Gay as the Persian God ourself will stand,
With a crown'd Goblet in our lifted Hand.
Young Ammon and Statira shall go round,
While antick Measures beat the burden'd Ground,
And to the vaulted Skies our Clangors sound.

Nor sooth his Vanity, 'tis blameable;
And when the Wine works, Clytus' Thoughts will out.

Heph. Then go not to the Banquet.

Cly. I was call'd.

My Minion, was I not, as well as you?

I'll go, my Friends, in this old Habit thus,
And laugh, and drink the King's Health heartily;
And while you blushing bow your Heads to Earth,
And hide 'em in the Dust, I'll stand upright,
Strait as a Spear, the Pillar of my Country,
And be by so much nearer to the Gods ———

But see, the King and all the Court appears.

Enter Alexander, Syfigambis, Statira, Parisatis, &c.

Par. Spare him, O spare Lysimachus his Life:

I know you will, Kings should delight in Mercy.

Alex. Shield me, Statira, shield me from her Sorrow.

Par. O save him, save him, ere it be too late;

Speak the kind Word, before the gaping Lion

Swallow him up; let not your Soldier perish

But for one Rashness which Despair did cause.

I'll follow thus forever on my Knees,

And make your Way so slippery with Tears,

You shall not pass——Sister, do you conjure him.

Alex. O Mother, take her, take her from me; [Kneels.

Her watry Eyes assault my very Soul;

They shake my best Resolve——

Stat. Did I not break

Thro' all for you? Nay, now my Lord you must.

Syf. Nor wou'd I make my Son so bold a Prayer,

Had I not first consulted for his Honour.

Alex. Honour! what Honour! has not Statira said it!

Were I the King of the blue Firmament,

And the bold Titans shou'd again make War,

Tho' my resistless Arrows were made ready,

By all the Gods she shou'd arrest my Hand.

Fly then, ev'n thou his Rival so lov'd,

Fly with old Clytus, snatch him from the Jaws

Of the devouring Beast; bring him adorn'd

To the King's Banquet, fit for Loads of Honour.

[Exeunt Heph. Eum. Par.

Stat. O my lov'd Lord! let me embrace your Knees,
I am not worthy of this mighty Passion:

You

You are too good for Goddesses themselves :
No Woman, nor the Sex, is worth a Grain
Of this illustrious Life of my dear Master.
Why are you so divine to cause such Fondness,
That my Heart leaps, and beats, and fain wou'd out,
To make a Dance of Joy about your Feet ?

Alex. Excellent Woman ! no, 'tis impossible
To say how much I love thee—Ha ! again !
Such Extasies Life cannot tarry long ;
The Day comes on so fast, and beamy Joy
Darts with such Fierceness on me, Night will follow.
A pale crown'd Head flew lately glaring by me,
With two dead Hands, which threw a crystal Globe
From high, that shatter'd in a thousand Pieces.
But I will lose this boding Dream in Wine ;
Then warm and blushing for my Queen's Embraces,
Bear me with all my Heat to thy lov'd Bosom.

Stat. Go, my best Love, and chear your drooping Spirits,
Laugh with your Friends, and talk your Grief away,
While in the Bower of great Semiramis,
I dress your Bed with all the Sweets of Nature,
And crown it as the Altar of my Love ;
Where I will lay me down and softly mourn,
But never close my Eyes till you return. [Ex. Stat. Sys.]

Alex. Is she not more than Mortal e'er can wish !
Diana's Soul cast in the Flesh of Venus !
By Jove 'tis ominous, our parting is ;
Her Face look'd pale too, as she turn'd away :
And when I wrung her by the rosy Fingers,
Methought the Strings of my great Heart did crack.
What shou'd it mean ?——Forward, Leomedon.

Roxana meets him, with Cass. Polyp. Phil. and Thest.
Why, Madam, gaze you thus ?

Rox. For a last Look, [She holds his Hand.]
And that the Memory of Roxana's Wrongs
May be for ever printed in your Mind.

Alex. O Madam, you must let me pass.

Rox. I will.

But I have sworn that you shall hear me speak,
And mark me well, for Fate is in my Breath :
Love on the Mistress you adore, to Death ;
till hope, but I Fruition will destroy ;

Languish for Pleasures you shall ne'er enjoy.
 Still may Statira's Image draw your Sight,
 Like those deluding Fires that walk at Night;
 Lead you thro' fragrant Grotts and flow'ry Groves,
 And charm you thro' deep Grasse with sleeping Loves;
 That when your Fancy to its Heighth does rise,
 That Light you lov'd may vanish from your Eyes, Darkness, Despair, and Death, your wandering Soul }
 surprize.

Alex. Away; lead Meleager, to the Banquet.

[Ex. cum suis.

Rox. So unconcern'd! O I could tear my Flesh,
 Or him, or you, nay all the World to Pieces.

Cass. Still keep this Spirit up, preserve it still,
 Lose not a Grain, for such Majestick Atoms
 First made the World, and must preserve its Greatness.

Rox. I know I am whatever thou canst say;
 My Soul is spent, and has not Elbow-room;
 'Tis swell'd with this last Sight, beyond all Bounds;
 O that it had a Space might answer to
 Its infinite Desire, where I might stand
 And hurl the Spheres about like sportive Balls.

Cass. We are your Slaves, Admirers of your Fury.
 Command Cassander to obey your Pleasure,
 And I will on, swift as your nimble Eye
 Scales Heav'n; when I am angry with the Fates,
 No Age, nor Sex, nor Dignity of Blood,
 No Ties of Law nor Nature, not the Life
 Imperial, tho' guarded with the Gods,
 Shall bar Cassander's Vengeance, he shall die.

Rox. Ha! shall he die? shall I consent to kill him?
 To see him clasp'd in the cold Arms of Death,
 Whom I with such an Eagerness have lov'd?
 Do I not bear his Image in my Womb?
 Which, while I meditate and roll Revenge,
 Starts in my Body like a fatal Pulse,
 And strikes Compassion thro' my bleeding Bowels.

Pol. The Scruples which your Love wou'd raise might
 Were not the Empire of the World consider: [pass,
 How will the glorious Infant in your Womb,
 When Time shall teach his Tongue, be bound to curse
 If now you strike not for a Coronation! [you,
Cass.

Cass. If Alexander lives, you cannot reign,
Nor shall your Child; old Syfigambis' Head
Will not be idle——sure Destruction waits
Both you and yours; let not your Anger cool,
But give the Word; say Alexander bleeds,
Draw the dry Veins of all the Persian Race,
And hurl a Ruin o'er the East, 'tis done.

Pol. Behold the Instruments of this great Work.

Phil. Behold your forward Slave.

Theff. I'll execute.

Rox. And when this Ruin is accomplish'd, where Shall curst Roxana fly with this dear Load?
Where shall she find a Refuge from the Arms
Of all the Successors of this great Man?
No barb'rous Nation will receive a Guilt
So much transcending theirs, but drive me out:
The wildest Beasts will hunt me from their Dens,
And Birds of Prey molest me in the Grave.

Cass. No, you shall live; pardon the Insolence
Which this Almighty Love enforces from me;
You shall live safer, nobler than before,
In your Cassander's Arms.

Rox. Disgrac'd Roxana, whither wilt thou fall?
I ne'er was truly wretched till this Moment:
There's not one Mark of former Majesty
To awe my Slave that offers at my Honour.

Cass. Madam, I hope you'll not impute my Passion
To want of that Respect which I must bear you;
Long have I lov'd ———

Rox. Peace, most audacious Villain,
Or I will stab this Passion in thy Throat.
What, shall I leave the Bosom of a Deity
To clasp a Clod, a moving Piece of Earth,
Which a Mole heaves? So far art thou beneath me.

Cass. Your Majesty shall hear no more my Folly.

Rox. Nor dare to meet my Eyes; for if thou dost
With a Love-glance, thy Plots are all unravell'd,
And your kind Thoughts of Alexander told,
Whose Life, in spite of all his Wrongs to me,
Shall be for ever sacred and untouch'd.

Cass. I know, dread Madam, that Cassander's Life
Is in your Hands, so cast to do you Service.

Rox. You thought, perhaps, because I practis'd Charms
To gain the King, that I had loose Desires:
No, 'tis my Pride that gives me Height of Pleasure,
To see the Man by all the World admir'd,
Bow'd to my Bosom, and my Captive there.

Cass. By your own Life, the greatest Oath I swear, Cassander's Passion from this Time is dumb.

Rox. No, if I were a Wanton, I would make Princes the Victims of my raging Fires:
I, like the changing Moon, would have the Stars
My Followers, and mantled Kings by Night
Should wait my Call; find Slaves to quench my Flame,
Who, lest in Dreams they should reveal the Deed,
Still as they came, successively should bleed.

Cass. To make Atonement for the highest Crime,
I beg your Majesty will take the Life
Of Queen Statira as a Sacrifice.

Rox. Rise, thou hast made me ample Expiation;
Yes, yes, Statira, Rival, thou must die;
I know this Night is destin'd for my Ruin,
And Alexander from the glorious Revels
Flies to thy Arms.

Phil. The Bowers of Semiramis are made
The Scene this Night of their new kindled Loves.

Rox. Methinks I see her yonder, (Oh the Torment!)
Busy for Bliss, and full of Expectation;
She adorns her Head, and her Eyes give new Lustre;
Languishes in her Glass, tries all her Looks;
Steps to the Door, and listens for his coming;
Runs to the Bed, and kneels, and weeps and wishes,
Then lays the Pillow easy for his Head,
Warms it with Sighs, and moulds it with her Kisses.
Oh, I am lost! torn with Imagination!
Kill me, Cassander, kill me instantly,
That I may haunt her with a Thousand Devils.

Cass. Why do you stop to end her while you may?
No Time so proper as the present; now
While Alexander feasts with all his Court;
Give me your Eunuchs, half your Zogdian Slaves,
I'll do the Deed; nor shall a Waiter 'scape,
That serves your Rival, to relate the News.

Phil. She was committed to Eumenes' Charge.

Rox.

Rox. Eumenes dies, and all that are about her,
Nor shall I need your Aid, you'll love again;
I'll head the Slaves myself, with this drawn Dagger,
To carry Death that's worthy of a Queen.
A common Fate ne'er rushes from my Hand,
'Tis more than Life to die by my Command:
And when she sees
That to my Arm her Ruin she must owe,
Her thankful Head will straight be bended low,
Her Heart shall leap half Way to meet the Blow.

[Exit Roxana.

Cass. Go thy Ways, Semele——she scorns to sin
Beneath a God——We must be swift; the Ruin
We intend, who knows she may discover!

Pol. It must be acted suddenly To-night,
Now at the Banquet Philip holds his Cup.

Phil. And dares to execute——propose his Fate.

Cass. Observe in this small Phial certain Death;
It holds a Poison of such deadly Force,
Should Æsculapius drink it, in five Hours
(For then it works) the God himself were mortal.
I drew it from Nonacris' horrid Spring;
A Drop infus'd in Wine will seal his Death,
And send him howling to the lowest Shades.

Phil. Wou'd it were done.

Cass. O we shall have him tear
(Ere yet the Moon has half her Journey rode)
The World to Atoms; for it scatters Pains
All Sorts, and thro' all Nerves, Veins, Arteries,
Ev'n with Extremity of Frost it burns;
Drives the distracted Soul about her House,
Which runs to all the Pores, the Doors of Life,
Till she is forc'd for Air to leave her Dwelling.

Pol. By Pluto's self, the Work is wondrous brave.

Cass. Now separate: Philip and Theſſalus
Haste to the Banquet; at his second Call
Give him the fatal Draught that crowns the Night,
While Polyperchon and myself retire.

[Exeunt omnes præter Cassander.

Yes, Alexander, now thou pay'st me well;
Blood for a Blow is Interest indeed.
Methinks I am grown taller with the Murder,

And standing straight on this majestick Pile,
 I hit the Clouds, and see the World below me:
 Oh, 'tis the worst of Racks to a brave Spirit,
 To be born base, a Vassal, a curs'd Slave;
 Now by the Project lab'ring in my Brain,
 'Tis nobler far to be a King in Hell,
 To head infernal Legions, Chiefs below,
 To let 'em loose for Earth, to call 'em in,
 And take Account of what dark Deeds are done,
 Than be a Subject God in Heav'n unblest,
 And without Mischief have eternal Rest.

[Exit.

The SCENE draws, Alexander is seen standing on a Throne, with all his Commanders about him, holding Goblets in their Hands.

Alex. To our immortal Health, and our fair Queen's;]
 All drink it deep, and while it flies about,
 Mars and Bellona join to make us Music.
 A hundred Bulls be offer'd to the Sun,
 White as his Beams——Speak the big Voice of War,
 Beat all our Drums, and blow our Silver Trumpets,
 Till we provoke the Gods to act our Pleasure
 In Bowls of Nectar and replying Thunder.

[Sounds while they drink.

Enter Hephestion, Clytus, leading Lyfimachus in his Shirt bloody; Perdiccas, Guard.

Cly. Long live the King, and Conquest crown his Arms
 With Laurels ever green: Fortune's his Slave,
 And kisses all that fight upon his Side.

Alex. Did not I give Command you should preserve Lyfimachus?

Heph. You did.

Alex. What then portend those bloody Marks?

Heph. Your Mercy flew too late: Perdiccas had,
 According to the dreadful Charge you gave,
 Already plac'd the Prince in a lone Court,
 Unarm'd, all but his Hands, on which he wore
 A Pair of Gauntlets; such was his Desire,
 To shew in Death the Difference betwixt
 The Blood of the Æacides, and common Men.

Cly. At last the Door of an old Lion's Den
 Being drawn up, the horrid Beast appear'd:
 The Flames which from his Eyes shot glooming red,

Made

Made the Sun start, as the Spectators thought,
And round 'em cast a Day of Blood and Death.

Heph. When we arriv'd, just as the valiant Prince
Cried out, O Parisatis, take my Life;
'Tis for thy Sake I go undaunted thus,
To be devour'd by this most dreadful Creature.

Cly. Then walking forward, the large Beast descry'd
His Prey, and with a Roar that made us pale,
Flew fiercely on him; but the active Prince
Starting aside, avoided his first Shock,
With a slight Hurt, and as the Lion turn'd,
Thrust Gauntlet, Arm and all into his Throat,
And with Herculean Force tore forth by th' Roots
The foaming bloody Tongue; and while the Savage,
Faint with that Loss, sunk to the blushing Earth,
To plough it with his Teeth, your conqu'ring Soldier
Leap'd on his Back, and dash'd his Skull to Pieces.

Alex. By all the Laurels, 'twas a God-like Act,
And 'tis my Glory, as it shall be thine,
That Alexander could not pardon thee.
O my brave Soldier, think not all the Prayers
Of the lamenting Queens cou'd move my Soul
Like what thou hast perform'd: Grow to my Breast.

[Embraces him.]

Lys. However Love did hurry my wild Arm,
When I was cool, my fev'rish Blood did bate,
And as I went to Death, I blest the King.

Alex. Lyfimachus, we both have been transported,
But from this Hour be certain of my Heart;
A Lion be the Empress of thy Shield,
And that golden Armour we from Porus won
The King presents thee; but retire to Bed,
Thy Toils ask Rest.

Lys. I have no Wounds to hinder
Of any Moment; or if I had, tho' mortal,
I'd stand to Alexander's Health, till all
My Veins were dry, and fill them up again
With that rich Blood which makes the Gods immortal.

Alex. Hephestion, thy Hand embrace him close;
Tho' next my Heart you hang the Jewel there,
For scarce I know whether my Queen be nearer.
Thou shalt not rob me of my Glory, Youth,

That must to Ages flourish——Parisatis
 Shall now be his that serves me best in War:
 Neither reply, but mark the Charge I give,
 And live as Friends—Sound, found my Armies Honour;
 Health to their Bodies, and eternal Fame
 Wait on their Memory, when those are Ashes;
 Live all, you must, 'tis a God gives you Life. [Sound.
Lyfimachus offers Clytus a Persian Robe, and he refuses.

Cly. O Vanity!

Alex. Ha! what says Clytus?

Who am I?

Cly. The Son of good King Philip.

Alex. No, 'tis false;

By all my Kindred in the Skies,
Jove made my Mother pregnant.

Cly. I ha' done.

*Here follows an Entertainment of Indian Singers and Dancers;
 The Music flourishes.*

Alex. Hold, hold; Clytus, take the Robe.

Cly. Sir, the Wine,
 The Weather's hot; besides you know my Humour.

Alex. O 'tis not well: I'd burn rather than be
 So singular and froward.

Cly. So would I
 Burn, hang, or drown, but in a better Cause;
 I'll drink or fight for sacred Majesty
 With any here——Fill me another Bowl,
 Will you excuse me?

Alex. You will be excus'd:
 But let him have his Humour, he is old.

Cly. So was your Father, Sir—This to his Memory:
 Sound all the Trumpets there.

Alex. They shall not sound
 Till the King drinks——By Mars, I cannot take
 A Moment's Rest for all my Years of Blood,
 But one or other will oppose my Pleasure.
 Sure I was form'd for War;
 All, all are Alexander's Enemies;
 Which I could tame——Yes, the rebellious World
 Shou'd feel my Wrath——But let the Sports go on.

The Indians dance.

Lys. Nay, Clytus, you that cou'd advise ——

Alex.

Alex. Forbear ;
Let him persist, be positive, and proud,
Sullen and dazzled, 'mongst the nobler Souls,
Like an infernal Spirit, that had stole
From Hell, and mingled with the laughing Gods.

Cly. When Gods grow hot, where's the Difference
'Twixt them and Devils?—Fill me Greek Wine, yet
For I want Spirits. [fuller,

Alex. Ha ! let me hear a Song.

Cly. Music for Boys—Clytus would hear the Groans
Of dying Persons, and the Horses Neighings ;
Or if I must be tortured with shrill Voices,
Give me the Cries of Matrons in sack'd Towns.

Heph. Lysimachus, the King looks sad, let us awake him ;
Health to the Son of Jupiter Ammon ;
Ev'ry Man take his Goblet in his Hand,
Kneel All, and kiss the Earth with Adoration.

Alex. Sound, found, that all the Universe may hear,
That I could speak like Jove, to tell abroad
The kindness of my People——Rise, O rise,
My Hands, my Arms, my Heart is ever yours.

(Comes from his Throne, all kiss his Hand.)

Cly. I did not kiss the Earth, nor must your Hand ;
I am unworthy, Sir.

Alex. I know thou art,
Thou enviest my great Honour—Sit, my Friends ;
Nay, I must have Room——now let us talk
Of War, for what more fits a Soldier's Mouth ?
And speak, speak freely, or ye do not love me,
Who, think you, was the bravest General
That ever led an Army to the Field ?

Heph. I think the Sun himself ne'er saw a Chief
So truly great, so fortunately brave,
As Alexander ; not the fam'd Alcides,
Nor fierce Achilles, who did twice destroy,
With their all-conquering Arms, the famous Troy.

Lys. Such was not Cyrus.

Alex. O you flatter me.

Cly. They do indeed, and yet ye love 'em for it,
But hate old Clytus for his hardy Virtue.
Come, shall I speak a Man more brave than you,
A better General, and more expert Soldier ?

Alex. I should be glad to learn; instruct me, Sir.

Cly. Your Father Philip——I have seen him march,
And fought beneath his dreadful Banner, where
The stoutest at the Table wou'd ha' trembled:
Nay, frown not, Sir; you cannot look me dead.
When Greeks join'd Greeks, then was the Tug of War,
The labour'd Battle sweat, and Conquest bled.
Why should I fear to speak a Truth more noble
Than e'er your Father Jupiter Ammon told you?
Philip fought Men, but Alexander Women.

Alex. Spite! by the Gods, proud Spite! and burning
Is then my Glory come to this at last, [Envy!
To vanquish Women? Nay, he said the stoutest here
Wou'd tremble at the Dangers he has seen.

In all the Sickness and the Wounds I bore,
When from my Reins the Javelin Head was cut,
Lyfimachus, Hephestion, speak, Perdiccas,
Did I e'er tremble: O the cursed Lier!
Did I once shake or groan; or bear myself
Beneath my Majesty, my dauntless Courage?

Heph. Wine has transported him.

Alex. No, 'tis plain mere Malice:
I was a Woman too at Oxydrace,
When planting at the Walls a scaling Ladder,
I mounted, spite of Showers of Stones, Bars, Arrows,
And all the Lumber which they thunder'd down,
When you beneath cried out, and spread your Arms,
That I should leap among you, did I so?

Lyf. Turn the Discourse, my Lord, the old Man rav'd.

Alex. Was I a Woman, when, like Mercury,
I left the Walls to fly amongst my Foes,
And, like a baited Lion, dy'd myself
All over with the Blood of those bold Hunters?
Till spent with Toil, I battel'd on my Knees,
Pluck'd forth the Darts that made my Shield a Forest,
And hurl'd 'em back with most unconquer'd Fury.

Cly. 'Twas all Bravado, for before you leap'd,
You saw that I had burst the Gates asunder.

Alex. Did I then turn me, like a Coward, around,
To seek for Succour? Age cannot be so base;
That thou wert young again, I would put off
My Majesty, to be more terrible,

That,

That, like an Eagle, I might strike this Hare
Trembling to Earth; shake thee to Dust, and tear
Thy Heart for this bold Lye, thou feeble Dotard.

Cly. What, do you pelt me like a Boy with Apples?

[He tosses Fruit at him as they rise.]

Kill me, and bury the Disgrace I feel.
I know the Reason that you use me so;
Because I sav'd your Life at Granicus;
And when your Back was turn'd, oppos'd my Breast
To bold Rhesaces' Sword; you hate me for't,
You do, proud Prince.

Alex. Away, your Breath's too hot.

[Flings him from him.]

Cly. You hate the Benefactor, tho' you took
The Gift, your Life, from this dishonour'd Clytus;
Which is the blackest, worst Ingratitude.

Alex. Go, leave the Banquet: Thus far I forgive thee.

Cly. Forgive yourself for all your Blasphemies,
The Riots of a most debauch'd and blotted Life:

Philotas' Murder ———

Alex. Ha! What said the Traitor?

Lys. Eumenes, let us force him hence.

Cly. Away.

Heph. You shall not tarry: Drag him to the Door.

Cly. No, let him send me, If I must be gone,
To Philip, Attalus, Calisthenes,

To great Parmenio, to his slaughter'd Sons;

Parmenio, who did many brave Exploits

Without the King——the King without him nothing.

Alex. Give me a Javelin. [Takes one from the Guards.]

Heph. Hold, Sir.

Alex. Off, Sarrah, lest

At once I strike it thro' his Heart and thine.

Lys. O sacred Sir, have but a Moment's Patience.

Alex. Preach Patience to another Lion——What!

Hold my Arms! I shall be murder'd here,

Like poor Darius, by my own barb'rous Subjects.

Perdiccas, sound my Trumpets to the Camp,

Call my Soldiers to the Court; nay haste,

For there is Treason plotting 'gainst my Life,

And I shall perish ere they come to rescue.

Lys. and Heph. Let us all die, e'er think so damn'd a Deed. [Kneel.

Alex. Where is the Traitor?

Cly. Sure there's none about you?
But here stands honest Clytus, whom the King
Invited to his Banquet.

Alex. Be gone and sup with Philip, [Strikes him thro'.
Parmenio, Attalus, Calisthenes;

And let bold Subjects learn by thy sad Fate,
To tempt the Patience of a Man much above 'em.

Cly. The Rage of Wine is drown'd in gushing Blood:
O Alexander, I have been to blame;
Hate me not after Death, for I repent,
That so I urg'd your noblest, sweetest Nature.

Alex. What's this I hear? Say on, my dying Soldier.

Cly. I should ha' kill'd myself, had I but liv'd
To be once sober——Now I fall with Honour,
My own Hand wou'd ha'brought foul Death. O Pardon.
[dies.

Alex. Then I am lost; what has my Vengeance done?
Who is it thou hast slain? Clytus; What was he?
The faithfullest Subject, worthiest Counsellor,
Who for saving thy Life, when
Thou foughtst bare-headed at the River Granike,
Has now a noble Recompence, for speaking rashly:
For a Forgetfulness which Wine did work,
The poor, the honest Clytus thou hast slain.
Are these the Laws of Hospitality?
Thy Friends will shun thee now, and stand at Distance,
Nor dare to speak their Minds, nor eat with thee,
Nor drink, lest by thy Madness they die too.

Heph. Guards take the Body hence,

Alex. None dare to touch him,
For we must never part. Cruel Hephestion
And Lyfimachus, that had the Power,
And would not hold me.

Lys. Dear Sir, we did.

Alex. I know it;
Ye held me like a Beast, to let me go
With greater Violence——Oh, you have undone me!
Excuse it not, you that could stop a Lion,
Could not turn me: You should have drawn your Swords,
And

ALEXANDER the GREAT. 61

And barr'd my Rage with their advancing Points ;
 Made Reason glitter in my dazzled Eyes,
 Till I had seen what Ruin did attend me :
 That had been noble, that had shew'd a Friend ;
Clytus would so have done to save your Lives.

Lys. When Men shall hear how highly you were urg'd.

Alex. No, you have let me stain my rising Virtue,
 Which else had ended brighter than the Sun.

Death, Hell and Furies ! you have sunk my Glory :

Oh, I am all a Blot, which Seas of Tears,

And my Heart's Blood, can never wash away :

Yet 'tis but just I try, and on the Point,

Still reeking, hurl my black polluted Breast.

Heph. O sacred Sir, that must not be.

Eum. Forgive my pious Hands.

Lys. And mine, that dare disarm my Master.

Alex. Yes, cruel Men, ye now can shew your Strengths

Here's not a Slave but dares oppose my Justice ;

Yet I will render all Endeavours vain

That tend to save my Life—Here I will lie

Close to his bleeding Side, thus kissing him ;

These pale dead Lips, that have so oft advis'd me :

Thus bathing o'er his reverend Face in Tears ;

Thus clasping his cold Body in my Arms,

Till Death like him, has made me stiff and horrid.

Heph. What shall we do ?

Lys. I know not : my Wounds bleed afresh

With striving with him : Perdiccas, lend's your Arm.

[Ex. Perdiccas, Lyfimachus.

Heph. Call Aristander hither,

Or Meleager, let's force him from the Body.

Cries without, Arm, Arm, Treason, Treason !

Enter Perdiccas bloody.

Per. Haste all, take Arms ; Hephestion, where's the King ?

Heph. There, by old Clytus' Side, whom he has slain.

Per. Then Misery on Misery will fall,

Like rolling Billows, to advance the Storm.

Rise, sacred Sir, and haste to aid the Queen ;

Roxana, fill'd with furious Jealousy,

Came with a Guard of Zogdian Slaves unmask'd,

And broke upon me with such sudden Rage,

That all are perish'd who Resistance made ;

I only

I only with these Wounds thro' clashing Spears
Have forc'd my Way, to give you timely Notice,

Alex. What says Perdiccas? Is the Queen in Danger?

Per. She dies, unless you turn her Fate, and quickly :
Your Distance from the Palace asks more Speed,
And the Ascent to th' flying Grove is high.

Alex. Thus from the Grave I rise to save my Love.
All draw your Swords, with Wings of Lightning move ;
When I rush on, sure none will dare to stay,
'Tis Beauty calls, and Glory shews the Way. [Exeunt.

ACT V. SCENE I.

Statira is discovered sleeping in the Bower of Semiramis.

Soft Musick.

Stat. * * * LESS me, ye Powers above, and guard
my Virtue.

my Virtue.
B I saw, nor was't a Dream, I saw and heard

My royal Parents ; there I saw 'em stand ;

My Eyes beheld their precious Images ;
I heard their heav'nly Voices : Where, O where,
Fled you so fast, dear Shades, from my Embraces ?
You told me this——this Hour should be my last
And I must bleed—Away, 'tis all Delusion.

Do I not wait for Alexander's coming ;
None but my loving Lord can enter here :
And will he kill me ?—hence fantastick Shadows !
And yet methinks he should not stay thus long.

And yet methinks he should not stay thus long.
Why do I tremble thus? If I but stir,
The Motion of my Robes makes my Heart leap.
When will the dear Man come, that all my Doubts
May vanish in his Breast?

But hark, I hear him—— [Noise within.]

Fain I would hide my Blushes,

I hear his Tread, but dare not go to meet him.

Enter Roxana, with Slaves and a Dagger.

Rox. At length we've conquer'd this stupendous Height,
These

These flying Groves, whose wonderful Ascent Leads to the Clouds.

Stat. Then all the Vision's true [Retires.]
And I must die, lose my dear Lord for ever:
That, that's the Murderer.

Rox. Shut the brazen Gate,
And make it fast with all the massy Bars.
I know the King will fly to her Relief,
But we have Time enough——Where is my Rival?
Appear Statira, now no more a Queen;
Roxana calls, where is your Majesty?

Stat. And what is she, who with such tow'ring Pride,
Wou'd awe a Princess that is born above her?

Rox. I like the Port Imperial Beauty bears,
It shews thou hast a Spirit fit to fall
A Sacrifice to fierce Roxana's Wrongs.
Be sudden then, put forth these royal Breasts,
Where our false Master has so often languish'd,
That I may change their milky Innocence
To Blood, and dye me in a deep Revenge.

Stat. No, barb'rous Woman, tho' I dare meet Death
As boldly as our Lord, with a Resolve
At which thy coward Heart would tremble;
Yet I disdain to stand the Fate you offer,
And therefore, fearless of thy dreadful Threats,
Walk thus regardless by thee.

Rox. Ha! so stately! This sure will sink you.

Stat. No, Roxana, No:
The Blow you give will strike me to the Stars,
But sink my Murd'ress in eternal Ruin.

Rox. Who told you this?

Stat. A thousand Spirits tell me:
There's not a God but whispers in my Ear,
This Death will crown me with immortal Glory;
To die so fair, so innocent, so young,
Will make me Company for Queens above.

Rox. Preach on.

Stat. While you, the Burden of the Earth,
Fall to the Deep, so heavy with thy Guilt,
That Hell itself must groan at thy Reception;
While foulest Fiends shun thy Society,
And thou shalt walk alone, forsaken Fury.

Rox.

Rox. Heaven witness for me I would spare thy Life,
If any Thing but Alexander's Love
Were in Debate; come, give me back his Heart,
And thou shalt live Empress of all the World.

Stat. The World is less than Alexander's Love,
Yet cou'd I give it, 'tis not in my Power;
This I dare promise, if you spare my Life,
Which I disdain to beg, he shall speak kindly.

Rox. Speak! is that all?

Stat. Perhaps, at my Request,
And for a Gift so noble as my Life,
Bestow a Kiss.

Rox. A Kiss! no more? Stat. O Gods!
What shall I say to work her to my End?
Fain I would see him——Yes, a little more,
Embrace you, and for ever be your Friend.

Rox. O the provoking Word? Your Friend! thou dy'st
Your Friend! What, must I bring you then together?
Adorn your Bed, and see you softly laid?
By all my Pangs, and Labours of my Love,
This has thrown off all that was sweet and gentle.
Therefore ———

Stat. Yet hold thy Hand advanc'd in Air;
I see my Death is written in thy Eyes,
Therefore wreak all the Lust of Vengeance on me,
Wash in my Blood, and steep thee in my Gore;
Feed like a Vulture, tearing my bleeding Heart.
But O Roxana! that there may appear
A Glimpse of Justice for thy Cruelty,
A Grain of Goodness for a Mass of Evil,
Give me my Death in Alexander's Presence.

Rox. Not for the Rule of Heaven—Are you so cunning?
What, you would have him mourn you as you fall;
Take your Farewel, and taste such healing Kisses,
As might call back your Soul. No, thou shalt fall
Now, and when Death has seiz'd thy beauteous Limbs,
I'll have thy Body thrown into a Well,
Buried beneath a Heap of Stones for ever.

Enter a Slave. [Guards

Slav. Madam, the King with all his Captains and his
Are forcing ope the Doors, he threatens thousand Deaths

To

To all that stop his Entrance, and I believe
Your Eunuchs will obey him.

Rox. Then I must haste.

Stat. What, is the King so near?
And shall I die so tamely, thus defenceless?
O ye Gods, will you not help my Weakness?

Rox. They are afar off. [Stabbing her.

Stat. Alas! they are indeed.

Enter Alexander, Cassander, Poliperchon, Guards and Attendants.

Alex. O harpy! thou shalt reign the Queen of Devils,

Rox. Do, strike, behold my Bosom swells to meet thee;
'Tis full of thine, of Veins that run Ambition,
And I can brave whatever Fate you bring.

Alex. Call our Physicians, haste, I'll give an Empire
To save her—Oh my Soul, alas Statira!
These Wounds,—Oh Gods, are these my promis'd Joys!

Rox. Rend not your Temper.
She dies—

Alex. And dar'st thou, Monster, think t' escape?

Stat. Life's on the Wing, my Love, my Lord,
Come to my Arms, and take the last Adieu.
Here let me lie and languish out my Soul.

Alex. Answer me, Father, wilt thou take her from me?
What, is the black sad Hour at last arriv'd,
That I must never clasp her Body more?
Never more bask in her Eye-shine again?
Nor View the Loves that play'd in those dear Beams,
And shot me with a thousand thousand Smiles?

Stat. Farewel, my Dear, my Life, my most lov'd Lord,
I swear by Orosmales, 'tis more Pleasure,
More Satisfaction, that I thus die yours,
Than to have liv'd another's—Grant me one Thing.

Alex. All, all,—but speak, that I may execute
Before I follow thee.

Stat. Leave not the Earth
Before Heaven calls you. Spare Roxana's Life,
'Twas Love of you that caus'd her give me Death.
And, O sometimes, amidst your Revels, think
Of your poor Queen, and e'er the chearful Bowl
Salute your Lips, crown it with one rich Tear,
And I am happy.

[Dies.
Alex.

Alex. Close not thy Eyes;
 Things of Import I have to speak, before
 Thou tak'st thy Journey——Tell the Gods I'm coming
 To give Account of Life and Death!
 And many other hundred thousand Policies,
 That much concern the Government of Heaven——
 O she is gone! the talking Soul is mute.
 She's hush'd, no Voice or Musick now is heard!
 The Bower of Beauty is more still than Death.
 The Roses fade, and the melodious Bird
 That wak'd their Sweets, has left them now for ever.

Rox. 'Tis certain now you never shall enjoy her;
 Therefore Roxana may have Leave to hope
 You will at last be kind for all my Sufferings,
 My Torments, Racks for this last dreadful Murder,
 Which furious Love of thee did bring upon me.

Alex. O thou vile Creature! bear thee from my Sight,
 And thank Statira that thou art alive:
 Else thou had'st perish'd: Yea, I wou'd ha' rent,
 With my just Hands, that Rock, that Marble Heart;
 I wou'd have div'd thro' Seas of Blood to find it,
 To tear the cruel Quarry from its Center.

Rox. O take me to your Arms, and hide my Blushes,
 I love you, spite of all your Cruelties;
 There is so much Divinity about you,
 I tremble to approach: Yet here's my Hold,
 Nor will I leave the sacred Robe, for such
 Is every Thing that touches that blest'd Body:
 I'll kiss it as the Relique of a God,
 And Love shall grasp it with these dying Hands.

Alex. O that thou wert a Man, that I might drive
 Thee round the World, and scatter thy Contagion,
 As Gods hurl Mortal Plagues when they are angry.

Rox. Do, drive me, hew me into smallest Pieces,
 My Dust shall be inspir'd with a new Fondness;
 Still the Love-Motes shall play before your Eyes,
 Where'er you go, however you despise.

Alex. Away, there's not a Glance that flies from thee,
 But, like a Basilisk, comes wing'd with Death.

Rox. O speak not such harsh Words, my Royal Master,
 Look not so dreadful on your kneeling Servant;
 But take, dear Sir, O take me into Grace,

By the dear Babe, the Burden of my Womb,
That weighs me down when I would follow faster,
My Knees are weary, and my Force is spent.
O do not frown, but clear thy angry Brow!
Your Eyes will blast me, and your Words are Bolts
That strike me dead; the little Wretch I bear,
Leaps, frightned at your Wrath, and dies within me.

Alex. O thou hast touch'd my Soul so tenderly,
That I will raise thee, tho' thy Hands are Ruin.
Rise, cruel Woman, rise, and have a Care;
O do not hurt that unborn Innocence,
For whose dear Sake I now forgive thee all.
But haste, be gone, fly, fly from these sad Eyes;
Fly with my Pardon, lest I call it back;
Tho' I forgive thee, I must hate thee ever.

Rox. I go, I fly for ever from thy Sight!
My mortal Injuries have turn'd my Mind,
And I could curse myself for being kind.
If therefore any Majesty above,
That has Revenge in Store for perjur'd Love,
Send Heaven the swiftest Ruin on his Head,
Strike the Destroyer, lay the Victor dead;
Kill the Triumpher, and avenge my Wrong,
In Height of Pomp, while he is warm and young;
Bolted with Thunder let him rush along.
And when in the last Pangs of Life he lies.
Grant I may stand to dart him with my Eyes:
Nay, after Death

Pursue his spotted Ghost, and shoot him as he flies. [Ex.]

Alex. O my fair Star, I shall be shortly with thee;
For I already feel the sad Effects
Of those most fatal Imprecations.
What means this deadly Dew upon my Forehead?
My Heart too heaves.

Cass. It will anon be still—— [Aside.]
The Poison works.

Pol. I'll see the wish'd Effect [Aside.]
Ere I remove, and gorge me with Revenge.

Enter Perdiccas and Lyfimachus.

Per. I beg your Majesty will pardon me,
A fatal Messenger;
Great Syfigambis, hearing Statira's Death,

Is now no more ;

Her last Words gave the Princess to the brave
Lyfimachus : But that which most will strike you,
Your dear Hephestion, having drank too largely
At your last Feast, is of a Surfeit dead.

Alex. How, dead ! Hephestion dead ! alas the dear
Unhappy Youth——But he sleeps happy,
I must wake for ever——This Object, this,
This Face of fatal Beauty,
Will stretch my Lids with vast, eternal Tears——
Who had the Care of poor Hephestion's Life ?

Lys. Philarda, the Arabian Artist.

Alex. Fly, Meleager, hang him on a Cross :
That, for Hephestion——

But here lies my Fate ; Hephestion, Clytus,
All my Victories for ever folded up ;
In this dear Body my Banner's lost,
My Standard's Triumph's gone !
O when shall I be mad ? Give Order to
The Army that they break their Shields, Swords, Spears,
Pound their bright Armour into Dust ; away ;
Is there not Cause to put the World in Mourning ?
Tear all your Robes :—He dies that is not naked
Down to the Waist, all like the Sons of Sorrow.
Burn all the Spires that seem to kiss the Sky ;
Beat down the Battlements of every City ;
And for the Monument of this lov'd Creature,
Root up those Bowers, and pave them all with Gold.
Draw dry the Ganges, make the Indies poor,
To build her Tomb, no Shrines nor Altars spare,
But strip the shining Gods to make it rare. [Exit.

Cass. Ha ! whither now ? follow him, Polyperchon.

[Exit. Pol.

I find Cassander's Plot grows full of Death ;
O how I hug myself for this Revenge !

Enter Polyperchon.

What, does it work ?

Pol. Speak softly. Cass. Well. Pol. It does ;
I follow'd him, and saw him swiftly walk
Toward the Palace ; oftentimes looking back,
With watry Eyes, and calling out, Statira.
He stumbled at the Gate, and fell along ;

Nor

Nor was he rais'd with Ease by his Attendants,
But seeming a greater Load than ordinary,
As much more as the Dead outweigh the Living.

Cass. Said he nothing?

Pol. When they took him up,
He sigh'd, and entred with a strange wild Look,
Embrac'd the Princes round, and said he must Dispatch the Business of the World in Haste.

Enter Philip and Theſſalus.

Phil. Back, back, all scatter—With a dreadful Shout.
I heard him cry, I am but a dead Man.

Theſſ. The Poison tears him with that Height of
That I could pity him. [Horror,

Pol. Peace——where shall we meet?

Cass. In Saturn's Field,
Methinks I see the frightened Deities,
Ramming more Bolts in their big-belly'd Clouds,
And firing all the Heavens to drown his Noise.
Now we should laugh——But go, disperse yourselves,
While each Soul here, that fills his noble Vessel,
Swells with the Murder, works with Ruin o'er;
And from the dreadful Deed this Glory draws,
We kill'd the greatest Man that ever was.

The SCENE draws, Enter Alexander and all his Attendants.

Alex. Search there, nay probe me, search my wounded
Pull, draw it out. [Reins;

Lys. We have search'd, but find no Hurt.

Alex. O I am shot, a forked burning Arrow
Sticks cross my Shoulders; the sad Venom flies
Like Lightning thro' my Flesh, my Blood, my Marrow.

Lys. This must be Treason.

Perd. Wou'd I cou'd but guess.

Alex. Ha! what a Change of Torments I endure!
A Bolt of Ice runs hissing thro' my Bowels;
'Tis sure the Arm of Death; give me a Chair;
Cover me, for I freeze, and my Teeth chatter,
And my Knees knock together.

Perd. Heaven bleſs the King!

Alex. Ha! who talks of Heaven?
I am Hell; I burn, I burn again,

The War grows wondrous hot; hey for the Tiger,
Bear me Bucephalus, amongst the Billows.

O 'tis a noble Beast; I wou'd not change him
For the best Horse the Sun has in his Stable:
For they are hot, their Mangers full of Coals,
Their Manes are Flakes of Lightning, Curls of Fire,
And their red Tails like Meteors whisk about.

Lys. Help all, Eumenes, help, I cannot hold him.

Alex. Ha, ha, I shall die with Laughter.

Parmenio, Clytus, dost thou see yon Fellow,
That ragged Soldier, that poor tatter'd Greek?
See how he puts to Flight the gaudy Persians,
With nothing but a rusty Helmet on, thro' which
The grizly Bristles of his pushing Beard
Drive 'm like Pikes——Ha, ha, ha.

Perd. How wild he talks!

Lys. Yet warring in his Wildness. [they come;

Alex. Sound, Sound, keep your Ranks close, ay, now
O the brave Din, the noble Clank of Arms.
Charge, charge apace, and let the Phalanx move;
Darius comes,——ha! let me in, none dare
To cross my Fury;——Philotas is unhors'd;——Ay, 'tis
I see, I know him by the sparkling Plumes, [Darius;
And his Gold Chariot drawn by ten white Horses:
But like a Tempest thus I pour upon him——
He bleeds, with that last Blow I brought him down;
He tumbles, take him, snatch th' Imperial Crown——
They fly, they fly,—follow, follow,—Victoria, Victoria,
Victoria——O let me sleep.

Perd. Let's raise him softly, and bear him to his Bed.

Alex. Hold, the least Motion gives me sudden Death.
My vital Spirits are quite parch'd up,
And all my smoaky Entrails turn'd to Ashes.

Lys. When you, the brightest Star that ever shone,
Shall set, it must be Night with us for ever.

Alex. Let me embrace you all before I die:
Weep not my dear Companions, the good Gods
Shall send you in my stead a nobler Prince,
One that shall lead you forth with matchless Conduct.

Lys. Break not our Hearts with such unkind Expressions.

Perd. We will not part with you, nor change for Mars.

Alex.

Alex. Perdiccas, take this Ring,
And see me laid in the Temple of Jupiter Ammon.

Lys. To whom does your dread Majesty bequeath
The Empire of the World?

Alex. To him that is most worthy.

Perd. When will you, sacred Sir, that we should give
To your great Memory those divine Honours,
Which such exalted Virtue does deserve?

Alex. When you are all most happy, and in Peace.
Your Hands—O Father, if I have discharged [Rises.
The Duty of a Man to Empire born;
If by unwearied Toil I have deserv'd
The vast Renown of thy adopted Son,
Accept this Soul, which thou didst first inspire,
And with this Sigh, thus gives thee back again. [Dies.

Lys. Eumenes, cover the fall'n Majesty.
If there be Treason, let us find it out;
Lysimachus stands forth to lead you on,
And swears by the most honour'd dear Remains,
He will not taste those Joys which Beauty brings,
Till we revenge the greatest, best of Kings.

MDCCLXX

To her GRACE the
Duchess of RICHMOND.

M A D A M,

THE Reputation that this PLAY received on the Stage, some few Errors excepted, was more than I could well hope from so censorious an Age, from whom I ask but so much necessary Praise, as will serve once or twice a Year at most, to gain their good Company, and just keep me alive.

*There is not now that Mankind that was then,
When as the Sun, and Moon, did seem to strive.
(Joint-Tenants of the World) who should survive:
When, if a slow-pac'd Star had stol'n away,
From the Observer's marking, he might stay
Two or Three hundred Years to see't again,
And then make up his Observation plain.* Dr. Donn.

For it is impossible in our limited Time (and I bring his Opinion to back my own, who is, without Comparison, the best Writer of the Age) to present our Judges a Poem half so perfect as we could make it. I must acknowledge, Madam, with all Humility, I ought to have taken more Time, and more Pains, in this Tragedy, because it is dedicated to your Grace, who, being the best Judge, (and therefore can, when You please, make us tremble) yet with exceeding Mercy have pardoned the Defects of Theodosius, and given it Your intire Approbation. My Genius, Madam, was Your Favourite, when the Poet was unknown; and openly received Your Smiles, before I had the Honour to pay Your Grace the most submissive Gratitude for so illustrious and advantageous a Protection. To let the World, too, know, that you do not think it beneath You to be officiously Good; even from the extremest Heights, to discern the lowest Creatures, and give them all the noblest Influence You can; You brought Her Royal Highness just at the exigent Time, whose single Presence, on the Poet's Day, is a Subsistence for him all the Year after. Ah, Madam, if all the short-lived Happiness, that miserable Poets can enjoy, consists in Commendation only; nay, if the most Part are content with popular Breath, and even for that are thankful; How shall I express myself to your Grace, who, by a particular Goodness, and innate Sweetness, merely for the Sake of doing well, have thus raised me above myself? To have your Grace's Favour, is, in a Word, to have the Applause of the whole Court, who are its noblest Ornament; magnificent and eternal Praise. Something there is in your Mien, so much above that we vulgarly call charming, that, to me, it seems Adorable; and Your Presence almost Divine, whose dazzling and majestic Form is a proper Mansion for the most elevated Soul. And let me tell the World, nay, sighing, speak it to a barbarous Age (I cannot help calling it so, when I think of Rome or Greece) Your extraordinary Love for Heroic Poetry is not the least Argument to shew the Greatness of your Mind, and Fulness of Perfection. To hear You speak with that infinite Sweetness and Chearfulness of Spirit, that is natural to Your Grace, is, methinks, to hear our tutelar Angels: It is to bemoan the present malicious Times, and remember the Golden Age. But, to behold You too, 'is to make Prophets quite forget their Heaven, and bind the Poets with eternal Rapture.

———*Her pure and eloquent Blood
Spoke in her Cheeks, and so distinctly wrought,
That one might almost say, her Body thought.
You, for whose Body God made better Clay,
Or took Souls Stuff, such as shall late decay,
Or such as need small Change at the last Day.*

Dr. Donn.

Ziphares and Semandra were first Your Grace's Favourites: And, though I ought not, Madam, to praise Your Wit by Your Judgment of my Paintings, yet I must say, Such Characters every Dauber cannot draw. It has been observed against me, That I abound in ungoverned Fancy; but, I hope, the World will pardon the Sallies of Youth: Age, Despondence, and Dulness, come too fast of themselves. I discommend no Man for keeping the beaten Road; but I am sure the noble Hunters that follow the Game, must leap Hedges and Ditches sometimes, and run at all, or never come into the Fall of the Quarry. My Comfort is, I cannot be so ridiculous a Creature to any Man, as I am to myself: For who should know the House so well as the Good Man at Home? who, when his Neighbours come to see him, still sets the best Rooms to view; and, if he be not a wild Ass, keeps the Rubbish and Lumber in some dark Hole, whither nobody comes but himself, to mortify at melancholy Hours. But how then, Madam, in this unfuitable Condition, how shall I answer the infinite Honours and Obligations Your Grace has laid upon me? Your Grace, who is the most beautiful Idea of Love and Glory; who, to that Divine Composition, have the noblest and best natured Wit in the World. All I can promise, Madam, and am able to perform, is, that Your Grace shall never see a Play of mine, that shall give Offence to Modesty and Virtue; and what I humbly offer to the World, shall be of Use at least, and, I hope, deserve Imitation; which is, or ought to be, I am sure, the Design of all Tragedies and Comedies, both antient and modern. I should presume to promise myself too some Success in Things of this Nature, if your Grace (in whom the Charms of Beauty, Wit, and Goodness, seem reconciled) at a leisure Hour would condescend to correct, with your excellent Judgment, the Errors of,

M A D A M,

Your GRACE'S most Humble,

Most Obedient,

And Devoted Servant,

Nat. Lee.

P R O L O G U E.

*W*IT long oppress'd, and fill'd at last with Rage,
Thus, in a sullen Mood, rebukes the Age:

What Loads of Fame do modern Heroes bear,
For an inglorious, long, and lazy War!

Who for some Skirmish, or a safe Retreat,
(Not to be dragg'd to Battle) are call'd Great.

But, oh! what do ambitious Statesmen gain,

Who into private Chests all Nations drain?

What Sums of Gold they hoard, is daily known,

To all Men's Cost, and sometimes to their own.

Your Lawyer too, that like an Oies bawls,

That drowns the Market Higlers in the Stalls,

That seem begot, conceiv'd, and born in Brawls,

Yet thrives: He and his Croud get what they please,

Swarming all Term-time thro' the Strand like Bees,

They buz at Westminster, and lye for Fees.

The Godly too, their Ways of Getting have;

But none so much as your fanatic Knave:

Wisely the wealthiest Livings they refuse,

Who by the fattest Bishopricks would lose;

Who with short Hair, large Ears, and small blue Band,

True Rogues! their own, not God's Elect, command.

Let Pigs, then, be prophane; but Broths allow'd;

Possets, and Christian Caudles, may be good

Meet-helps, to reinforce a Brother's Blood:

Therefore each Female Saint be doth advise,

With Groans, and Hums, and Ha's, and goggling Eyes,

To rub him down, and make the Spirit rise;

While, with his Zeal, transported from the Ground,

He mounts, and sanctifies the Sisters round.

On Poets only no kind Star e'er smil'd:

Curst Fate has damn'd 'em, ev'ry Mother's Child;

Therefore he warns his Brothers of the Stage,
 To write no more for an ungrateful Age.
 Think what penurious Masters you have serv'd;
 Tasso ran mad, and noble Spencer starv'd.
 Turn then, whoever thou art, thou canst write well,
 Thy Ink to Gall, and in Lampoons excel:
 Forswear all Honesty, traduce the Great,
 Grow impudent, and rail against the State;
 Bursting with Spleens abroad thy Pasquils send,
 And chuse some Libel-spreader for thy Friend.
 The Wit and Want of Timon point thy Mind,
 And for thy Satire-subject chuse Mankind.

E P I L O G U E.

THRICE happy they, that never writ before;
 How pleas'd and bold they quit the safer Shore!
 Like some new Captain of the City Bands,
 That, with big Looks, in Finsbury commands:
 Swell'd with huge Ale, he cries, Beat, beat the Drum;
 Pox o'the French King! Uds-bud, let him come:
 Give me Ten thousand Red coats, and alloo!
 We'll firke his Crequi and his Condé too.
 Thus the young Scriblers Mankind's Sense disdain;
 For Ignorance is sure to make 'em vain;
 But, far from Vanity, or dang'rous Pride,
 Our cautious Poet courts you to his Side;
 For why should you be scorn'd, to whom are due
 All the good Days that ever Authors knew?
 If ever gay, 'tis you that make 'em fine;
 The Pit and Boxes make the Poet dine,
 And he scarce drinks but of the Critics Wine.
 Old Writers should not for Vain-glory strive,
 But, like old Mistresses, think how to thrive;

Be

*Be fond of ev'ry Thing their Keepers say,
 At least till they can live without a Play;
 Like one who knows the Trade, and has been bit;
 She dotes and fawns upon her wealthy Cit,
 And swears she loves him, merely for his Wit.
 Another, more untaught than a Walloon,
 Antick and ugly, like an old Baboon,
 She swears, is an accomplish'd Beau garcon;
 Turns with all Winds, and sails with all Desires;
 All Hearts in City, Town, and Court, she fires;
 Young callow Lords, lean Knights, and driv'ling Squires.
 She in resistless Flatt'ry finds her Ends,
 Gives Thanks for Fools, and makes ye all her Friends.
 So should wise Poets sooth an aukward Age;
 For they are Prostitutes upon the Stage.
 To stand on Points were foolish and ill-bred,
 As for a Lady to be nice in Bed:
 Your Wills alone must their Performance measure,
 And you may turn 'em ev'ry Way for Pleasure.*

The SCENE Constantinople.

THE ODOSIUS:

O R,

The Force of LOVE.

ACT I. SCENE I.

A stately Temple, which represents the Christian Religion, as in its first Magnificence; being but lately established at Rome and Constantinople. The Side-Scenes shew the horrid Tortures, with which the Roman Tyrants persecuted the Church: And the flat Scene, which is the Limit of the Prospect, discovers an Altar richly adorned; before it Constantine, supposed, kneels, with Commanders about him, gazing at a bloody Cross in the Air; which being encompassed with many Angels, offers itself to View, with these Words distinctly written; In hoc Signo vinces. Instruments are heard, and many Attendants: The Ministers at Divine Service walk busily up and down, till Atticus, the chief of all the Priests, and Successor of St. Chrysostom, in rich Robes, comes forward with the Philosopher Leontine; the Waiters in Ranks bowing all the Way before him.

A Chorus heard at a Distance.

PREPARE, prepare! the Rites begin;

Let none unhallo'd enter in!

The Temple with new Glory shines;

Adorn the Altars, wash the Shrines,

And purge the Place from Sin.

ATTICUS.

ATTICUS.

O H, Leontine! was ever Morn like this,
 Since the celestial Incarnation dawn'd?
 I think no Day, since that, such Glory gave
 To Christian Altars, as this Morning brings.

Leont. Great Successor of holy Chrysostom,
 What shall I answer? How shall I approach you,
 Since my Conversion, which your Breath inspir'd?

Attic. To see this Day, the Emperor of the East
 Leave all the Pleasures that the Earth can yield,
 To undergo the Penance of a Cloister,
 Methinks, O Leontine! 'tis something more
 Than yet Philosophy could ever reach.

Leont. True, Atticus; you have amaz'd my Reason.

Attic. Yet more. To our Religion's lasting Honour,
Mariana and Flavilla, Two young Virgins,
 Imperial born, cast in the fairest Mould
 That e'er the Hands of Beauty formed for Woman;
 To day, with Theodosius, leave the World.

Leont. Methinks, at such a glorious Resignation,
 Th' angelic Orders should at once descend,
 To give full Grace to such triumphant Zeal.

Attic. No, Leontine: I fear there is a Fault;
 For, when I last confess'd the Emperor,
 He only answered me with Sighs and Blushes.
 'Tis sure, his Soul is of the tend'rest Make;
 Therefore I'll tax him strictly: But, my Friend,
 Why should I give his character to you,
 Who, when his Father sent him into Persia,
 Whereby that mighty Monarch then appointed
 To breed him with his Son, the Prince Varanes?

Leont. And what will raise your Admiration, is,
 That Two such diff'rent Tempers should agree,
 You know that Theodosius is compos'd
 Of all the Softness that should make a Woman:
 Judgment, almost like Fear, foreruns his Actions;

And he will poise an Injury so long,
As if he had rather pardon than revenge it.
But the young Persian Prince, quite opposite,
So fiery fierce, that those who view him nearly,
May see his haughty Soul still mounting in his Face :
Yet did I study these so diff'rent Tempers,
'Till I at last had form'd a perfect Union,
As if Two Souls did but inform One Body.
A Friendship that may challenge all the World,
And, at the Proof, be matchless!

Attic. I long to read
This gallant Prince, who, as you have inform'd me,
Comes from his Father's Court to see our Emperor.

Leont. So he intended, 'till he came to Athens,
And at my homely Board beheld my Daughter;
Where, as Fate ordered, she, who never saw
The Glories of a Court,
Unskilled in Charms, but those which Nature gave her,
Wounded this scornful Prince: In short, he forc'd me
To wait him thither, with deep Protestations,
That Moment that bereft him of the Sight
Of Athenais, gave him certain Death.
But see, my Daughter, honour'd with his Presence.

Enter Varanes and Athenais.

Vara. 'Tis strange! O Athenais! wond'rous all!
Wond'rous the Shrines, and wonderful the Altars!
The Martyrs, tho' but drawn in painted Flames,
Amaze me with the Image of their Suff'rings:
Saints canoniz'd, that dared with Roman Tyrants:
Hermits that lived in Caves, and fed with Angels:
By Orosmades! it is wond'rous all!
That bloody Cross, in yonder azure Sky,
Above the Head of kneeling Constantine;
Inscrib'd about with golden Characters,
Thou shalt o'ercome in this: If it be true,
I say again, by Heav'n, 'tis wond'rous strange.

Athenais

16 T H E O D O S I U S: Or,

Athen. O Prince, if thus Imagination stirs you,
A Fancy rais'd from Figures in dead Walls,
How would the sacred Breath of Atticus
Inspire your Breast, purge all your Dross away,
And drive this Athenais from your Soul,

Vara. What says my Fair? Drive Athenais from me!
And what is she, alas! that should supplant thee?
Were she the Mistress of the World, as fair
As Winter Stars, or Summer setting Suns,
And thou set by in Nature's plainest Drefs,
With that chaste modest Look, when first I saw thee
The Heirefs of a poor Philosopher; [Recorders ready
I swear, by all I wish, by all I love. to flourish.
Glory and thee, I would not lose a Thought,
Nor cast an Eye that Way, but rush to thee,
To these lov'd Arms, and lose myself for ever.

Athen. Forbear, my Lord.

Vara. O cruel, Athenais!
Why dost thou put me off, who pine to Death?
And thrust me from thee, when I would approach thee?
Can there be ought in this? Curse then thy Birth-right,
Thy glorious Titles, and ill suited Greatness,
Since Athenais scorns thee: Take again
Your ill-tim'd Honours: Take 'em, take 'em, Gods!
And change me to some humble Villager,
If so at last, for Toils at scorching Noon,
In mowing Meadows, or in reaping Fields,
At Night she will but crown me with a Smile,
Or reach the Bounty of her Hand to bless me.

Athen. When Princes speak, their Subjects should be silent:

Yet, with Humility, I would demand,
Wherein appears my Scorn, or my Aversion?
Have I not for your Sake abandoned Home,
Where I had vow'd to spend my calmer Days!
But you, perhaps, imagine it but little
For a poor Maid to follow you abroad,
Especially the Daughter of old Leontine!
Yet I must tell you, Prince——

Vara.

Vara. I cannot bear
Those Frowns : I have offended, but forgive me.
For who, O Athenais, that istofs'd
With such tempestuous Tides of Love as I,
Can steer a steady Course ? Retire, my Fair :

Recorders flourish.

Hark ! the Solemnities are now beginning,
And Theodosius comes ; hide, hide thy Charms.
If to his clouded Eyes such Day should break,
The Royal Youth, who dotes to Death for Love,
I fear, would forfeit all his Vows to Heav'n,
And fix upon the World, thy World of Beauty. [Exeunt.

Enter Theodosius leading Marina and Flavilla (all Three dressed in white) followed by Pulcheria.

Theo. Farewell, Pulcheria ! and, I pray, no more :
For all thy kind Complaints are lost upon me.
Have I not sworn, the World and I must part ?
Fate has proclaim'd it : Therefore weep no more ;
Wound me not with thy Tears, and I will tell thee,
Yet, ere I take my last Farewel for ever,
The Cause of all my Suff'rings : Oh, my Sister !
A bleeding Heart, the Stings of pointed Love,
What Constitution, soft as mine, can bear ?

Pulch. My Lord, my Emperor, my dearest Brother,
Why all this while did you conceal it from me ?

Theo. Because I was asham'd to own my Weakness :
I knew thy sharper Wit, and stricter Wisdom
Would dart Reproofs ; which I could not endure.
Draw near, O Atticus ! and mark me well :
For never yet did my complaining Spirit
Unlade this weighty Secret upon him,
Nor groan a Syllable of her Oppression.

Attic. Concealment was a Fault ; but speak at large.
Make bare the Wound, and I will pour in Balm.

Theo. 'Tis Folly all, and Fondness———Oh, Remembrance !

Why dost thou open thus my Wound again,

And

18 T H E O D O S I U S : Or,

And from my Heart call down those warmer Drops
That make me die with Shame? Hear then, Pulcheria!
Some few preceding Days I left
The Persian Court, hunting one Morning early,
I lost myself and all the Company,
Still wand'ring on, as Fortune would direct me;
I past a Rivulet, and lighted in
The sweetest Solitude I ever saw!
When strait, as if Inchantment had been there,
Two charming Voices drew me, 'till I came
Where divers Arbours overlook'd the River.
Upon the Osier Bank Two Women sat,
Who, when their Song was ended, talked to One,
Who bathing stood far in the crystal Stream:
But, oh! what Thought can paint that fair Perfection,
Or give a Glimpse of such a naked Glory!
Not Sea-born Venus, in the Courts beneath,
When the green Nymphs first kiss'd her coral Lips,
All polish'd, fair, and wash'd with orient Beauty,
Could in my dazzling Fancy match her Brightness.

Attic. Think where you are.

Theo. Oh! Sir, you must forgive me.
The chaste enthusiastic form appears,
As when I saw her; yet I swear, Pulcheria,
Had cold Diana been a Looker on,
She must have prais'd the Virtues of the Virgin:
From her naked Bosom,
Down to her Knees, the Nymph was wrapt in Lawn:
But, oh! for me, for me, that was too much!
Her Legs, her Arms, her Hands, her Neck, her Breasts,
So nicely shap'd, so matchless in their Lustre;
Such All-Perfection, that I took whole Draughts
Of killing Love, and ever since have languish'd
With ling'ring Surfeits of her fatal Beauty!

Oh, Atticus!

Forgive me; for my Story now is done:
The Nymph was drest, and with her Two Companions,
Having descry'd me, shriek'd, and fled away,
Leaving me, motionless, till Leontine,

Th'

Th' Instructor of my Youth, by chance came in,
And wak'd me from the Wonder that entranc'd me.

Attic. Behold, my Lord, the Man whom you have nam'd,

The Harbinger of Prince Varanes here,

Theo. Oh, Leontine! Ten thousand Welcomes meet thee:

Thou Foster Father of my tender Youth,

Now, by the Majesty divine, that awes

This sacred Place, I swear you must not kneel:

And tell me, for I have a Thousand Things

To ask thee, where, where is my godlike Friend?

Is he arrived, and shall I see his Face,

Before I'm cloister'd from the World for ever?

Leont. He comes, my Lord, with all th' expecting Joys

Of a young promis'd Lover. From his Eyes

Big Hopes look forth, and boiling Fancy forms

Nothing but Theodosius still before him;

His Thought, his ev'ry Word, is Theodosius.

Theo. Yet, Leontine, yet answer me once more:

With Tremblings I demand thee.

Say—Hast thou seen? Oh! has that heav'nly Form

Appear'd to thee again? Behold he's dumb:

Proceed then to the solemn last Farewell;

Never was Man so willing and prepar'd.

Enter Varanes, Arantes, Attendants.

Vara. Where is my Friend? Oh, where is my Belov'd,

My Theodosius? Point him out, ye Gods,

That I may press him dead betwixt my Arms,

Devour him thus with over hasty Joys,

That languish at his Breast, quite out of Breath,

And cannot utter more.

Theo. Thou mightiest Pleasure!

And greatest Blessing, that kind Heav'n could send,

To glad my parting Soul! a Thousand Welcomes!

Oh! when I look on thee, new Starts of Glory

Spring in my Breast, and with a backward Bound

I run the Race of lusty Youth again.

Vara.

20 T H E O D O S I U S : Or,

Vara. By Heav'n it joys me too, when I remember
Our Thousand Pastimes when we borrow'd Names;
Alcides I, and thou my dearest Theseus;
When thro' the Woods we chas'd the foaming Boar,
With Hounds that open'd like Theffalian Bulls,
Like Tigers flu'd, and fanded as the Shore,
With Ears, and Chests, that dash'd the Morning Dew;
Driv'n with Spurt, as Ships are tost in Storms,
We ran like Winds, and matchless was our Course:
Now sweeping o'er the Limit of a Hill;
Now with a full Career come thund'ring down
The Precipice, and sweat along the Vale.

Theo. Oh glorious Time! and when the gath'ring
Clouds

Have call'd us Home, say, Did we rest, my Brother?
When on the Stage, to the admiring Court,
We strove to represent Alcides' Fury,
In all that raging Heat and Pomp of Madness,
With which the stately Seneca adorn'd him:
So lively drawn, and painted with such Horror,
That we were forc'd to give it o'er; so loud
The Virgins shriek'd, so fast they dy'd away.

Vara. My Theodosius still: 'tis my lov'd Brother;
And, by the Gods, we'll see those Times again!
Why then has Rumour wrong'd thee, that reported
Christian Enthusiasm had charm'd thee from us;
That, drawn by Priests, and work'd by Melancholy,
Thou hadst laid the golden Reins of Empire down,
And sworn thyself a Votary for ever.

Theo. 'Tis almost true, and had not you arriv'd,
The solemn Business had by this been ended.
This I have made the Empress of the East,
My elder Sister: These with me retire,
Devoted to the Pow'r whom we adore.

Vara. What Pow'r is that, that merits such Oblations?
I thought the Sun more great and glorious
Than any that e'er mingled with the Gods;
Yet, ev'n to him, my Father never offer'd
More than a Hecatomb of Bulls and Horses.

Now

Now, by those golden Beams that glad the World,
I swear it is too much; for One of these,
But half so bright, our God would drive no more;
He'd leave the darken'd Globe, and in some Cave
Enjoy such Charms for ever.

Attic. My Lord, forbear!
Such Language does not suit with our Devotion:
Nothing prophane must dare to murmur here,
Nor stain the hallow'd Beauties of the Place.
Yet thus far we must yield; the Emperor
Is not enough prepar'd to leave the World.

Vara. Thus low, most rev'rend of this sacred Place,
I kneel for Pardon, and am half converted,
By your Permission, that my Theodosius
Return to my Embraces! O, my Brother!
Why dost thou droop? There will be Time enough
For Pray'r and Fasting, and religious Vows;
Let us enjoy, while yet thou art my own,
All the Magnificence of Eastern Courts.
I hate to walk a lazy Life away:
Let's run the Race which Fate has set before us,
And post to the dark Goal.

Attic. Silence and Rev'rence are the Temple's Dues:
Therefore, while we pursue the sacred Rites,
Be these observ'd, or quit the awful Place.

Atticus sings.

Attic. Canst thou, Marina, leave the World,
The World that is Devotion's Bane:
Where Crowns are tost, and Sceptres hurl'd,
Where Lust and proud Ambition reign?

Say, Votaries, can this be done?
While we the Grace divine implore,
The World has lost, the Battle's won;
And Sin shall never charm ye more.

Marina The Gate to Bliss does open stand, sings. And all my Penance is in View:]

The

*The World, upon the other Hand,
Cries out, Oh, do not bid adieu!*

*If aught that's vain my Thoughts possess,
Or any Passions govern here,
But what Divinity may bless;
Oh, may I never enter there!*

*Favilla Haste then, Oh haste! and take us in, sings. For ever lock Religion's Door;
Secure us from the Charms of Sin,
And let us see the World no more.*

*Attic. Hark! hark! behold the heav'nly Choir;
sings. They cleave the Air in bright Attire:
And see, his Lute each Angel brings!
And hark, divinely thus he sings!
To the Powers divine all Glory be given,
By Men upon Earth, and Angels in Heaven.*

Scene shuts; and all the Priests, with Marina and Flavilla disappear.

*Pulch. For ever gone! for ever parted from me!
Oh! Theodosius, till this cruel Moment,
I never knew how tenderly I lov'd 'em;
But on this everlasting Separation,
Methinks my Soul has left me, and my Time
Of Dissolution points me to the Grave.*

*Theo. Oh! my Varanes, does not now thy Temper
Bate something of its Fire? Dost thou not melt
In mere Compassion of thy Sister's Fate,
And cool thyself with one relenting Thought?*

*Vara. Yes, my dar'd Soul rolls inward; Melancholy,
Which I ne'er felt before, now comes upon me;
And I begin to loath all human Greatness.
Oh! sigh not then, nor thy hard Fate deplore;
For, 'tis resolv'd, we will be Kings no more:
We'll fly all Courts, and Love shall be our Guide;
Love*

Love that's more worth than all the World beside.
Princes are barr'd the Liberty to roam;
The fetter'd Mind still languishes at Home:
In golden Bands she treads the thoughtful Round:
Bus'ness and Cares eternally abound.

“ And when for Air the Goddess would unbind,
“ She's clogg'd with Sceptres, and to Crowns con-
“ fin'd.” [Exeunt.

ACT II. SCENE I.

Enter Pulcheria, Julia, Attendants.

PULCHERIA.

THESE Packets for the Emperor Honorius;
Be swift, let th' Agent haste to Rome—
I hear, my Julia, that our General
Is from the Goths return'd with Conquest home.

Jul. He is. To-day I saw him in the Presence,
Sharp to the Courtiers, as he ever was,
Because they went not with him to the Wars:
To you he bows, and sues to kiss your Hand.

Pulch. He shall, my dearest Julia: Oft I've told thee
The Secret of my Soul: If e'er I marry,
Marcian's my Husband; he's a Man, my Julia,
Whom I've studied long, and found him perfect:
Old Rome at ev'ry Glance looks through his Eyes,
And kindles the Beholders! Some sharp Atoms
Run through his Frame, which I could wish were out:
He sickens at the Softness of the Emp'ror,
And speaks too freely of our Female Court;
Then sighs, comparing it with what Rome was.

Enter Marcian and Lucius.

Pulch. Ha! who are these that dare profane this Place
With more than barb'rous Insolence!

Marc.

Marc. At your Feet,
Behold, I cast the Scourge of these Offenders,
And kneel to kiss your Hand.

Pulch. Put up your Sword,
And, e'er I bid you welcome from the Wars,
Be sure you clear your Honour of this Rudeness;
Or, Marcian, leave the Court.

Marc. Thus then, Madam:
The Emperor receiv'd me with Affection,
Embrac'd me for my Conquests. and retir'd;
When on a sudden all the gilded Flies
That buz about the Court, came flatt'ring round me:
This, with affected Cringes, and minc'd Words,
Begg me to tell my Tale of Victories,
Which done, he thanks me, slips behind his Fellow,
Whispers him in the Ear, then smiles and listens,
While I relate my Story once again:
A Third comes in, and asks me the same Favour;
Whereon they laugh, while I, still ignorant,
Go on; but one behind, more impudent,
Strikes on my Shoulder; then they laugh'd outright;
But then I, guessing the Abuse too late,
Return'd my Knight behind a Box o' th' Ear;
Then drew, and briefly told them they were Rascals:
They, laughing still, cry'd out, The General's musty;
Whereon I drove 'em, Madam, as you saw.
This is in short the Truth: I leave the Judgment
To your own Justice: If I have done ill,
Sentence me, and I'll leave the Court for ever.

Pulch. First, you are welcome, Marcian, from the Wars;
And still, whene'er Occasion calls for Arms,
Heav'n send the Emperor a General,
Renown'd as Marcian! As to what is past,
I think the World will rather praise than censure
Pulcheria, when she pardons you the Action.

Marc. Gods! Gods! and thou great Founder of old Rome!
What is become of all that mighty Spirit,
That rais'd our Empire to a Pitch so high?

Pulch.

Pulch. Speak calmly, Marcian——

Marc. Who can be temp'rate,
That thinks as I do, Madam? Why, here's a Fellow:
I have seen him fight against a Troop of Vandals
In your Defence, as if he lov'd to bleed:
Yet ev'n this Man,
That fought so bravely in his Country's Cause,
This excellent Man, this Morning, in the Presence,
Did I see wrong'd, before the Emperor;
Scorn'd and despis'd, because he could not cringe,
Nor plant his Feet as some of them could do.
If Things are suffer'd to be thus, down all
Authority, Pre-eminence, Degree, and Virtue;
Let Rome be never mention'd; no, i' th' Name
Of all the Gods, be she forgotten ever!
Effeminate Persians, and the Lydian Softness,
Make all your Fights: Marcian shall out no more:
For, by my Arms, it makes a Woman of me,
And my swol'n Eyes run o'er, to think this Worth,
This fuller Honour than the whole Court holds,
Should be ridiculous to Knaves and Fools.

Pulch. Why did you not inform the Emperor?

Marc. Because he will not hear me! Alas, good Man,
He flies from this bad World; and still when Wars
And Dangers come, he runs to his Devotions,
To your new Thing, I know not what you call it,
Which Constantine began.

Pulch. How, Marcian! Are not you
Of that Religion which the Emp'ror owns?

Marc. No, Madam; if you'll see my naked Thought,
I am not of their Principle, that take
A Wrong; so far from bearing with a Foe,
I would strike first, like old Rome. Yes, I own
That I despise your holy Innovations.
I'm for the Roman Gods, for Fun'ral Piles,
For mounting Eagles, and the fanfy'd Greatness
Of our Forefathers. Methinks my heated Spirit
Could utter Things worth losing of my Head.

Pulch. Speak freely, Marcian; for I know thee honest.

B

Marc.

26 THEODOSIUS: Or

Marc. Oh, Madam! long, long may the Emp'ror live!
But, I must say, his gentle Disposition
Suits not, alas! the Oriental Sway:

Pulch. I oft have blam'd my Brother most for this.
That to my Hand he leaves the State-Affairs:
And how that sounds, you know——

Marc. Forgive me, Madam;
I think that all the Greatness of your Sex,
Rome's Clelia, and the fam'd Semiramis,
With all the Amazonian Valour too,
Meet in Pulcheria: Yet, I say, forgive me,
If with Reluctance I behold a Woman
Sit at the Empire's Helm, and steer the World.

Pulch. I stand rebuk'd——

Marc. But, Oh! I speak
The least of all those infinite Grievances,
Which make the Subjects murmur: In the Army,
Tho' I proceeded still like Hannibal,
And punish'd every Mutineer with Death;
Yet, Oh! it stabb'd me through and through the Soul
To pass the Wretches Doom, because I knew
With Justice they complain'd; for hard they fought,
And with their Blood earn'd that forbidden Bread,
Which some at Court, and great ones, though un-nam'd,
Cast to their Hounds, while the poor Soldiers starv'd——

Pulch. Your Pity too, in mournful Fellowship,
No doubt might sooth their Murmurs.

Marc. Yes, it did.
That I might put 'em once again in Heart,
I said 'twas true, the Emp'ror was to blame,
Who dealt too coldly with his faithful Servants,
And paid their great Arrears by Second hand:
I promis'd too, when we return'd to Court,
Things should be mended——

But how! Oh Gods! forgive my Blood this Transport!
To the eternal Shame of Female Counsels!
And to the Blast of Theodosius' Name,
Whom never warlike Chronicle shall mention!
Oh, let me speak it with a Roman Spirit,
We were received like undone Prodigals,

By

By curst ungrateful Stewards, with cold Looks,
Who yet got all by those poor Wretches Ruin;
Madam, I've said perhaps too much: If so,
It matters not; for he who lies, like me,
On the hard Ground, is sure to fall no further.

Pulch. I've given you patient Hearing honest Marcian,
And, as far as I can see into your Temper,
I speak my serious Judgment in cold Blood,
With strictest Consultation on the Matter;
I think, this seeming plain and honest Marcian
An exquisite and most notorious Traitor.

Marc. Ha! Traitor!

Pulch. Yes, a most notorious Traitor.
—But to the Bus'ness;
Was't not enough, Oh Heav'n! thou know'st too much!
At first to own yourself an Infidel,
A bold Contemner, ev'n to Blasphemy,
Of that Religion which we all profess;
For which your Heart's best Blood can ne'er suffice;
But you must dare, with a seditious Army,
Thus to conspire against the Emperor!
I mention not your Impudence to me,
Taxing the Folly of my Government
Ev'n to my Face; such an Irreverence,
As sure no barb'rous Vandal would have urg'd;
Besides your libelling all the Court, as if You had engross'd the whole World's Honesty;
And Flatt'ers, Fools, and Sycophants, and Knaves,
Such was your Language, did inhabit here.

Marc. You wrest my honest Meaning, by the Gods!
You do.

Pulch. I thought the Meaning of all rational Men
Should still be gather'd out of their Discourse:
Nor are you so imprudent, without thinking,
To vent such Words, tho' now you fain would hide it.
You find the Guilt, and balk the Accusation:
But think not you shall 'scape so easily.
Once more I do confront you, as a Traitor;
And, as I am entrusted with full Pow'r,

28 THEODOSIUS: Or

Diveſt you, in the Name of Theodoſius,
Of all your Offices, Commiſſions, Honours;
Command you leave the Court within three Days,
Loyal, plain-dealing, honeſt Marcian.

Marc. Gods! Gods!

Pulch. If after three Days Space thou'rt found in Court,
Thou dy'ſt; thy Head, thy Head ſhall pay the Forfeit.
Now rage, now rail, and curſe the Court;
Saucily dare t'abufe the beſt of Princes,
And let thy lawleſs Tongue laſh all it can;
Do like a Madman rave; deplore thy Fortune,
While Pages laugh at thee. Then haſte to th' Army,
Grow popular, and lead the Multitude;
Preach up thy Wrongs, and drive the giddy Beaſt
To kick at Cæſar. Nay, If thou weep'ſt, I'm gone.
On Julia! if I ſtay, I ſhall weep too.

Yet 'tis but juſt, that I the Heart ſhould ſee
Of him who once muſt lord it over me.

[Exit Pulch. &c.]

Luc. Why do you droop, Sir—Come no more o'this;
You are, and ſhall be, ſtill our General;
Say but the Word, I'll fill the Hippodrome
With Squadrons that ſhall make the Emp'ror tremble;
We'll fire the Court about his Ears.
Methinks, like Junius Brutus, I have watch'd
An Opportunity, and now it comes;
Few Words and I are Friends; but, noble Marcian,
If yet thou art not more than General,
Ere Dead of Night, ſay Lucius is a Coward.

Marc. I charge thee in the Name of all the Gods,
Come back: I charge thee by the Name of Friend.
All's well, and I rejoice I am no Gen'ral.
But hush! within three Days we muſt be gone;
And then, my Friend, farewel to Ceremony.
We'll fly to ſome far diſtant lonely Village,
Forget our former State, and breed with Slaves:
Sweat in the Eye of Day, and when Night comes,
With Bodies coarſely fill'd, and vacant Souls,
Sleep like the labour'd Hinds, and never think!
For if I think again, I ſhall go mad.

Enter

Enter Leontine and Athenais, &c.

Therefore no Thought. But see, we're interrupted.
Oh Court! Oh Emperor! yet let Death threaten,
I'll find a Time. Till then be still my Soul. [Exeunt.

Leont. So, Athenais, now our Compliment
To the young Persian Prince is at an End:
What then remains, but that we take our Leave,
And bid him everlastingly farewell?

Athen. My Lord!

Leon. I say that Decency requires
We should be gone; nor, can you stay with Honour.

Athen. Most true, My Lord.

Leont. The Court is now at Peace,
The Emp'r's Sisters are retir'd for ever.
And he himself compos'd: What hinders then,
But that we bid adieu to Prince Varanes?

Athen. Ah, Sir, why will you break my Heart?

Leont. I would not.

Thou art the only Comfort of my Age:
Like an old Tree I stand amongst the Storms;
Thou art the only Limb that I have left me; [She kneels.
My dear green Branch! And how I prize thee, Child,
Heav'n only knows! Why dost thou kneel and weep?

Athen. Because you are so good, and will, I hope,
Forgive my Fault, who first occasion'd it.

Leont. I charg'd thee to receive and hear the Prince.

Athen. You did, and, O my Lord! I heard too much;
Too much I fear for my eternal Quiet.

Leont. Rise, Athenais! credit him who bears
More Years than thou: Varanes has deceiv'd thee.

Athen. How do we differ then? You judge the Prince
Impious and base; while I take Heav'n to witness,
I think him the most virtuous of Men:

Therefore take Heed, my Lord, how you accuse him
Before you make the Trial. Alas! Varanes,
If thou art false, there's no such Thing on Earth
As solid Goodness, or substantial Honour.

30 T H E O D O S I U S : Or

A thousand Times, my Lord, he has sworn to give me
(And I believe his Oaths) his Crown and Empire,
That Day I make him Master of my Heart.

Leont. That Day he'll make thee Mistress of his Power,
Which carries a foul Name among the Vulgar.

No, Athenais, let me see thee dead,
Borne a pale Corpse, and gently laid in Earth;
So I may say, she's chaste and dy'd a Virgin,
Rather than view thee with these wounded Eyes
Seated upon the Throne of Isdigerdes,

The Blast of common Tongues, the Nobles Scorn,
The Father's Curse; that is, the Prince's Whore.

Athen. Oh horrid Supposition! how I detest it!
Be witness Heav'n, that sees my secret Thoughts!
No, Athenais! when the Day beholds thee
So scandalously rais'd, Pride cast thee down,
The Scorn of Honour and the People's Prey!
No, cruel Leontine, not to redeem

That aged Head from the descending Ax,
Not tho' I saw thy trembling Body rack'd,
Thy Wrinkles all about thee fill'd with Blood,
Would I for Empire, to the Man I love,
Be made the Object of unlawful Pleasure.

Leont. Oh, greatly said! And by the Blood which warms me,
Which runs as rich as any Athens holds,
It would improve the Virtue of the World,
If ev'ry Day a thousand Votaries,
And thousand Virgins, came from far to hear thee!

Athen. Look down, ye Pow'rs; take Notice, we obey
'The rigid Principles ye have infus'd;
Yet, Oh, my noble Father, to convince you,
Since you will have it so, propose a Marriage:
'Tho' with the Thought I'm cover'd o'er with Blushes:
Not that I doubt the Prince; that were to doubt
The Heav'ns themselves. I know he is all Truth:

But Modesty —————
The Virgin's troublesome and constant Guest,
That, that alone forbids —————

Leont.

Leont. I wish to Heav'n
There prove no greater Bar to my Relief.
Behold the Prince. I will retire awhile,
And, when Occasion calls, come to thy Aid. [Ex. Leon.]

Enter Varanes and Arantes.

Vara. To fix her on the Throne, to me seems little.
Were I a God, yet would I raise her higher;
This is the Nature of thy Prince. But Oh!
As to the World, thy Judgment soars above me,
And I am dar'd, with this Gigantic Honour;
Glory forbids her Prospect to a Crown;
Nor must she gaze that Way: My haughty Soul,
That Day when she ascends the Throne of Cyrus,
Will leave my Body pale, and to the Stars
Retire in Blushes, and quite lost for ever.

Aran. What do you purpose then?

Vara. I know not what;
But, see, she comes, the Glory of my Arms,
The only Bus'ness of my instant Thought,
My Soul's best Joy, and all my true Repose.
I swear I cannot bear these strange Desires,
These strong Impulses, which will shortly leave me
Dead at thy Feet —————

Athen. What have you found, my Lord,
In me so harsh or cruel, that you fear
To speak your Griefs?

Vara. First let me kneel and swear,
And on thy Hand seal my religious Vow;
Strait let the Breath of Gods blow me from Earth,
Swept from the Book of Fame, forgotten ever,
If I prefer thee not, O Athenais,
To all the Persian Greatness!

Athen. I believe you:
For I have heard you swear as much before.

Vara. Hast thou? Oh, why did I swear again?
But that my Love knew nothing worthier of thee,
And could no better Way express my Passion.

Athen. O rise, my Lord ———

Vara. I will do every Thing
Which Athenais bids : If there be more
In Nature to convince thee of my Love,
Whisper it, Oh some God, into my Ear ;
And on her Breasts thus to her list'ning Soul
I'll breathe the Inspiration. Wilt thou not speak ?
What ! but one Sigh, no more ! can that suffice
For all my vast Expence of prodigal Love ?

Athen. My Lord, I dare not hear you.

Vara. Why dost thou frown at what thou dost not know ?

'Tis an Imagination which ne'er pierc'd thee ;
Yet as 'tis ravishing, 'tis full of Honour.

Athen. I must not doubt you, Sir : But, Oh, I tremble,
To think, if Isdigerdes should behold you,
Should hear you thus protesting to a Maid
Of no Degree, but Virtue, in the World ———

Vara. No more of this, no more ; for I disdain
All Pomp, when thou art by ; Far be the Noise
Of Kings and Courts from us, whose gentle Souls
Our kinder Stars have steer'd another Way !
Free as the Forest-Birds, we'll pair together,
Without rememb'ring who our Fathers were ;
Fly to the Arbours, Grots, and flow'ry Meads,
And in soft Murmurs interchange our Souls ;
Together drink the Crystal of the Stream,
Or taste the yellow Fruit which Autumn yields ;
And, when the golden Ev'ning calls us Home,
Wing to our downy Nest, and sleep till Morn.

Athen. Ah Prince ! no more, Forbear, forbear, to charm me,

Since I am doom'd to leave you, Sir, for ever.

Vora. Hold, Athenais ———

Athen. I know your royal Temper,
And that high Honour reigns within your Breast,
Which would disdain to waste so many Hours
With one of humble Blood compar'd to you ;
Unless strong Passion sway'd your Thoughts to love her.
Therefore

Therefore receive, O Prince ! and take it kindly,
For none on Earth but you could win it from me,
Receive the Gift of my eternal Love ;
'Tis all I can bestow, nor is it little,
For sure a Heart so coldly chaste as mine,
No Charms but yours, my Lord, could e'er have warm'd !

Vara. Well have you made Amends by this last Comfort,

For the cold Dart you shot at me before.
For this last Gooduefs, Oh, my Athenais !
(For now methinks, I ought to call you Mine !)
I empty all my Soul in Thanks before you :
Yet oh ! one Fear remains ; like Death it chills me ;
Why my relenting Love did talk of parting !

Athen. Look there, and cease your Wonder : I have sworn T'obey my Father ; and he calls me hence——

Enter Leontine.

Vara. Ha, Leontine ! by which of all my Actions
Have I so deeply injur'd thee, to merit
The smartest Wound Revenge could form to end me ?

Leont. Answer me now, O Prince ! for Virtue prompts me,
And Honesty will dally now no longer,
What can the End of all this Passion be ?
Glory requires this strict Account, and asks
What you intend at last to Athenais ?

Vara. How, Leontine !

Leont. You saw her, Sir, at Athens ; said you lov'd her.
I charg'd her humbly to receive the Honour,
And hear your Passion. Has she not, Sir, obey'd me ?

Vara. She has, I thank the Gods ; but whither would'st thou ?

Leont. Having resolv'd to visit Theodosius,
You swore you would not go without my Daughter ;
Whereon I gave Command that she should follow.

34 THE ODOSIUS: Or,

Vara. Yes, Leontine, my old Remembrancer,
Most learn'd of all Philosophers, you did.

Leont. Thus long she has attended; you have seen her,
Sounded her Virtues, and her Imperfections;
Therefore, dread Sir, forgive this bolder Charge
Which Honour sounds; and now let me demand you—

Vara. Now help, Aranthes, or I'm dash'd for ever.

Aran. Whatever happens, Sir, disdain the Marriage.

Leont. Can your high Thoughts so far forget themselves,
T'admit this humble Virgin for your Bride?

Vara. Ha!

Athen. He blushes, Gods! and stammers at the Question.

Leont. Why do you walk, and chafe yourself, my Lord?
The Business is not much.

Vara. How, Leontine!

Not much! I know that she deserves a Crown;
Yet 'tis to Reason much, tho' not to Love.
And sure the World would blush to see the Daughter
Of a Philosopher on the Throne of Cyrus.

Athen. Undone for ever!

Leon. Is this your Answer, Sir?

Vara. Why dost thou urge me thus, and push me to The very Brink of Glory? Where alas!
I look, and tremble at the vast Descent:
Yet even there, to the vast Bottom, down
My rash Adventurer Love would have me leap,
And grasp my Athenais with my Ruin.

Leont. 'Tis well, my Lord ———

Vara. Why dost thou then provoke me?
I thought that Persia's Court had Store of Honour
To satisfy the Height of thy Ambition.
Besides, old Man, my Love is too well grown,
To want a Tutor for his good Behaviour:
What he will do him, he will do of himself,
And not be taught by you ———

Leont. I know he will not!
Fond Tears, away! I know, I know he will not;
But he would buy, with his old Man's Preferment,
My Daughter for your Whore.

Vara.

Vara. Away, I say ! my Soul disdains the Motion !

Leont. The Motion of a Marriage ; yes, I see it :
Your angry Looks, and haughty Words, betray it :
I found it at the first. I thank you, Sir,
You have at last rewarded your old Tutor
For all his Cares, his Watchings, Services.
Yet, let me tell you, Sir, this humble Maid,
This Daughter of a poor Philosopher,
Shall, if she please, be seated on a Throne
As high as that of the immortal Cyrus.

Vara. I think that Age, and deep Philosophy,
Have crack'd thy Brain : Farewell, old Leontine ;
Retire to rest ; and when this brawling Humour
Is rock'd asleep, I'll meet my Athenais,
And clear the Accounts of Love, which thou hast blot-
ted. [Exit.

Leont. Old Leontine ! perhaps I'm mad indeed.
But hold, my Heart, and let that solid Virtue,
Which I so long ador'd, still keep the Reins.
O Athenais ! But I will not chide thee :
Fate is in all our Actions ; and methinks,
At least a Father judges so, it has
Rebuk'd thee smartly for thy Easiness :
There is a Kind of mournful Eloquence
In thy dumb Grief, which shames all clam'rous Sorrow.

Athen. Is there, O speak, a Possibility
To be forgiv'n ?

Leont. Thy Father does forgive thee,
And Honour will ; but on this hard Condition,
Never to see him more ———

Athen. See him ! Oh Heavens !

Leont. Unless it be, my Daughter, to upbraid him :
Not tho' he should repent, and strait return,
Nay, proffer thee his Crown ——— No more of that.
Honour too cries, revenge, revenge thy Wrongs,
Revenge thyself, revenge thy injured Father.
For 'tis Revenge so wise, so glorious too,
As all the World shall praise ———

Athen. Oh, give me Leave ;

For yet I am all Tendernefs : The Woman,
 The weak, the mild, the fond, the coward Woman,
 Dares not look forth ; but runs about my Breast,
 And vifits all the warmer Manfions there,
 Where ſhe ſo oft has harbour'd false Varanes,
 Cruel Varanes ! false forſworn Varanes !

Leont. Is this forgetting him ? is this the Courſe
 Which Honour bids thee take ?

Athen. Ah, Sir, allow
 A little Time for Love to make his Way :
 Hardly he won the Place, and many Sighs,
 And many Tears, and thouſand Oaths it coſt him.
 And Oh ! I find he will not be diſlodg'd
 Without a Groan at parting hence for ever.
 No, no ! he vows he will not yet be rais'd
 Without whole Floods of Grief at his Farewell,
 Which thus I ſacrifice : And Oh ! I ſwear,
 Had he prov'd true, I would as eaſily
 Have empty'd all my Blood, and dy'd to ſerve him,
 As now I ſhed theſe Drops, or vent theſe Sighs,
 To ſhew how well, how perfectly I lov'd him.

Leont. No Woman ſure, but thou, ſo low in Fortune,
 Therefore the Nobler is thy fair Example,
 Would thouſ have griev'd, becauſe a Prince ador'd her ;
 Nor will it be believ'd in After-times,
 That there was ever ſuch a Maid in being :
 Yet do I ſtill adviſe, preſerve thy Virtue ;
 And ſince he does diſdain thee for his Bride,
 Scorn thou to be ———

Athen. Hold, Sir, oh ! hold, forbear :
 For my nice Soul abhors the very Sound ;
 Yet with the Shame of that, and the Deſire
 Of an immortal Name, I am inspir'd !
 All kinder Thoughts are fled for ever from me ;
 All Tendernefs, as if I ne'er had lov'd,
 Has left my Boſom colder than the Grave.

Leont. Oh, Athenais ! on ; 'tis bright before thee,
 Purſue the Track, and thou ſhalt be a Star.

Athen. Oh, Leontine, I ſwear, my noble Father,
 That

That I will starve e'er once forego my Virtue :
And thus let's join to contradict the World :
That Empire could not tempt a poor old Man
To sell his Prince the Honour of his Daughter :
And she too match'd the spirit of her Father ;
Tho' humbly born, and yet more humbly bred,
She for her Fame refus'd a Royal Bed ;
Who, tho' she lov'd, yet did put off the Hour,
Nor could her Virtue be betray'd by Pow'r.
“ Patterns like these will guilty Courts improve,
“ And teach the Fair to blush at conscious Love :

A C T III. S C E N E I.

Enter Varanes and Arantes.

V A R A N E S.

C O M E to my Arms, my faithful, dear Arantes,
Soft Counsellor, Companion of my Youth ;
If I had longer been alone, most sure,
With the Distraction that surrounds my Heart,
My Hand would have rebell'd against his Master,
And done a Murder here.

Arantb. The Cause, my Lord ?

Vara. Early thou know'st last Night I went to Rest :
But long, my Friend, e'er Slumber clos'd my Eyes,
Long was the Combat fought, 'twixt Love and Glory ;
The Fever of my Passion burnt me up ;
My Pangs grew stronger, and my Rack was doubled ;
Therefore, I charge thee, haste to her Apartment ;
I do conjure thee, tell her, tell her all
My Fears can urge, or Fondness can invent.
Tell her how I repent, say any Thing ;
For any Thing I'll do to quench my Fires ;
Say, I will marry her now on the Instant :

Say

38 T H E O D O S I U S : Or,

Say all that I would say ; yet in the End
My Love shall make it more than Gods can utter.

Aranth. My Lord, both Leontine and she are gone
From their Apartment—————

Vara. Ha ! gone, say'st thou ! whither ?

Aranth. That was my whole Employment all this Day.

But, Sir, I grieve to speak it, they have left
No Track behind for Care to find 'em out :
Nor, is it possible—————

Vara. It is, it shall ;
I'll struggle with Impossibilities,
To find my Athenais : Not the Walls
Of Athens, nor of Thebes, shall hide her from me.
I'll bring the Force of all my Father's Arms,
And lay 'em waste, but I'll redeem my Love.
Oh, Leontine ! morose old Leontine !
Thou mere Philosopher ! Oh, cruel Sage,
Who, for One hasty Word, One chol'ric Doubt,
Hast turn'd the Scale : Tho' in the sacred Balance
My Life, my Glory, and my Empire hung !

Aranth. Most sure, my Lord, they are retir'd to Athens.
I will send Post To-night—————

Vara. No, no, Arantes :
Prepare my Chariots ; for I'll go in Person.
I swear, till now, till I began to fear
Some other might enjoy my Athenais,
I swear I did not know how much I lov'd her.
But let's away : I'll to the Emperor ;
Thou to the hasty Management of my Bus'ness :
Prepare ; To-day I'll go, To-day I'll find her :
No more ; I'll take my Leave of Theodosius,
And meet thee on the Hippodrome. Away :
Let the wild Hurry of thy Master's Love
Make quick thy Apprehension : Haste, and leave me.

[Exeunt.]

S C E N E II.

Pulcheria, Atticus, Leontine; Votaries leading Athenais in Procession, after her Baptism, to be confirm'd.

Athen. Oh, Princess! Oh most worthy of the World,
That is submitted by its Emperor [Kneels.
To your most wise and providential Sway!
What Greek or Roman Eloquence can paint
The Rapture and Devotion of my Soul!
I am adopted yours; you are my Goddess,
That have new-form'd, new-moulded my Conceptions,
And by the Platform of a Work Divine,
New-fram'd, new-built me to your own Desires;
Thrown all the Lumber of my Passions out,
And made my Heart a Mansion of Perfection!

Pulch. Rise, Eudofia,
And let me fold my Christian in my Arms:
With this dear Pledge of an eternal Love,
I seal thee, O Eudofia! mine for ever,
Accept, blest Charge, the Vows of my Affection:
For, by the sacred Friendship that I give thee,
I think that Heav'n by Miracle did send thee,
To ease my Cares, to help me in my Counsels,
To be my Sister, Partner in my Bed:
And equally, thro' the whole Course of my Life,
To be the better Part of thy Pulcheria,
And share my Griefs and Joys.

Athen. No, Madam, no;
Excuse the Cares that this sad Wretch must bring you;
Or, if I must partake your royal Secrets,
Let it be far from Cities, far from Courts,
Where I may fly all human Conversation;
Where I may never see, nor hear,
Nor think, O Heav'n! if possible,
Of Mankind more.

Pulch. What now! in Tears, Eudofia?

Athen. Far from the Guile of Palaces, O send me!

Drive

40 THEODOSIUS: Or,

Drive me, O drive me from the Traitor Man!
So I might 'scape that Monster, let me dwell
In Lions Haunts, or in some Tiger's Den;
Place me on some steep, craggy, ruin'd Rock,
That bellies out, just dropping in the Ocean;
Bury me in the Hollow of its Womb,
Where, starving on my cold and flinty Bed,
I may from far, with giddy Apprehension,
See infinite Fathoms down the rumbling Deep,
Yet not ev'n there, in that vast Whirl of Death,
Can there be found so terrible a Ruin
As Man, false Man, smiling destructive Man.

Pulch. Then thou hast lov'd, Eudofia. O, my Sister!
Still nearer to my Heart, so much the dearer:
Because our Fates are like, and Hand in Hand
Our Fortunes lead us thro' the Maze of Life:
I'm glad that thou hast lov'd; nay, lov'd with Danger;
Since thou hast escap'd the Ruin——

Athen. Yes, Madam, I confess that Love has charm'd
me,
But never shall again. No, I renounce him;
Inspire me all the Wrongs of abus'd Women,
All you that have been cozen'd by false Men;
See what a strict Example I will make:
But for the Perjuries of one I will revenge ye
For all that's past, that's present, and to come.

Pulch. Oh, thou far more than the most masculine Virtue!

Let me again
Protest my Admiration, and my Love;
Let me declare aloud, while thou art here,
While such clear Virtue shines within our Circle,
Vice shall no more appear within the Palace,
But hide her dazzled Eyes, and this be call'd
The holy Court: But, lo! the Emp'ror comes.

Enter Theodosius and Attendants.

Theod. If yet, alas! I might but hope to see her;
But,

But, O, forgive me, Heav'n, this wilder Start,
That thus would reach Impossibility :
No, no, I never must behold her more ;
As well my Atticus might raise the Dead,
As Leontine should charm that Form in View.

Pulch. My Lord, I come to give your Grief a Cure,
With purer Flames to draw that cruel Fire
That tortur'd you so long — Behold this Virgin —
The Daughter of your Tutor Leontine.
She is your Sister's Charge, and made a Christian ;
And Athenais is Eudofia now.
Be sure a fairer never grac'd Religion,
And for her Virtue she transcends Example.

Theod. O all ye blest above, how can this be ?
Am I awake ? Or is this possible ? [Athen. kneels.

Pulch. She kneels, my Lord : Will not you go and raise her ?

Theod. Nay, do thou raise her ; for I'm rooted here :
Yet if laborious Love and Melancholy
Have not o'ercome me, and quite turn'd me mad,
It must be she, that naked dazzling Sweetness !
The very Figure of the Morning Star,
That dropping Pearls, and shedding dewy Beams,
Fled from the greedy Waves when I approach'd ;
Answer me, Leontine ; am I distracted ?
Or is this true ? —

Leont. 'Tis true, my Lord ; this is my Daughter,
Whom I conceal'd in Persia from all Eyes
But yours, when Chance directed you that Way.

Theod. He says 'tis true : Why then this heartless Carriage ?

Oh, were I Proof against the Darts of Love,
And cold to Beauty, as the Marble Lover
That lies, without a Thought, upon his Tomb ;
Would not this glorious Dawn of Life run thro' me,
And waken Death itself ? Why am I slow then ?
What hinders now, but that in Spite of Rules
I burst thro' all the Bands of Death that hold me, [He kneels.
And

42 T H E O D O S I U S : Or,

And fly with such a Haste to that Appearance,
As bury'd Saints shall make at the last Summons?

Athen. The Emp'ror at my Feet! O, Sir! forgive me;
Drown me not thus with everlasting Shame.
Both Heav'n and Earth must blush at such a View.
Nor can I bear it longer——

Leon. My Lord, she is unworthy——

Theod. Ha! what say'st thou, Leontine!
Unworthy say'st thou! Wert thou not her Father,
I swear I would revenge—But haste, and tell me;
For Love like mine will bear no Second Thought;
Can all the Honours of the Orient,
Thus sacrific'd with the most pure Affection,
With spotless Thoughts, and languishing Desires,
Obtain, O Leontine! (the Crown at last)
To thee I speak, thy Daughter to my Bride?

Leon. My Lord, the Honour bears such Estimation,
It calls the Blood into my aged Cheeks,
And quite o'erwhelms my Daughter with Confusion;
Who, with her Body prostrate on the Earth,
Ought to adore you for the proffer'd Glory.

Theod. Let me embrace and thank thee, O kind
Heaven!

O, Atticus! Pulcheria! O, my Father!
Was ever Change like mine? Run thro' the Streets;
Run, and, loud as Fame can speak,
With Trumpet Sounds proclaim your Emp'ror's Joy.

Athen. Alas, my Lord, consider my Extraction,
With all my other Wants——

Theo. Peace, Empress, Peace!
No more the Daughter of old Leontine;
A Christian now, and Partner of the East.

Athen. My Father has dispos'd me, you command me;
What can I answer then, but my Obedience?

Theo. Attend her, dear Pulcheria; and, O tell her,
To morrow, if she please, I will be happy. [Ex. Pulch.
O why so long should I my Joys delay?
Time imp thy Wings, let not thy Minutes stay,
But to a Moment change the tedious Day.

Enter

Enter Varanes and Arantes.

Vara. O, Theodosius!

Theo. Ha! my Brother here!

Why dost thou come to make my Bliss run o'er?

—————O, my Varanes!

Thou that of late didst seem to walk on Clouds,

Now give a loose, let go the slacken'd Reigns,

Let us drive down the Precipice of Joy,

As if that all the Winds of Heav'n were for us.

Vara. My Lord, I'm glad to find the Gale is turn'd;
And give you Joy of this auspicious Fortune.

Plough on your Way, with all your Streamers out;

With all your glorious Flags and Streamers ride

Triumphant on—And leave me to the Waves,

The Sands, the Winds, the Rocks, the sure Destruction

And ready Gulphs that gape to swallow me.

Theo. It was thy Hand that drew me from the Grave,
Who had been dead by this Time to Ambition,
To Crowns, to Titles, and my slighted Greatness.

But still, as if each Work of thine deserv'd

The Smile of Heav'n——Thy Theodosius met

With something dearer than his Diadem,

With all that's worth a Wish, that's worth a Life;

I met with that which made me leave the World.

Vara. And I, O Turn of Chance! O cursed Fortune!
Have lost at once all that could make me happy.

O ye too partial Pow'rs! But now no more:

The Gods, my dear, my most lov'd Theodosius,

Double all those Joys, that thou hast met, upon thee!

For sure thou art most worthy,

And O, methinks my Soul is strangely mov'd,

Takes it the more unkindly of her Stars,

That thou and I cannot be blest together:

For I must leave thee, Friend! this Night must leave
thee,

To go in doubtful Search of what, perhaps,

I ne'er shall find; if so my cruel Fate

Has

44 T H E O D O S I U S : Or,

Has order'd it: Why then farewell for ever;
For I shall never, never see thee more.

Theo. How sensible my tender Soul is grown
Of what you utter! O, my gallant Friend!
O Brother, O Varanes! do not judge
By what I speak, for Sighs will interrupt me:
Judge by my Tears, judge by these strict Embraces,
And by my last Resolve: Tho' I have met
With what in Silence I so long ador'd;
Tho', in the Rapture of protesting Joys,
I had set down To-morrow for my Nuptials;
Yet, my Varanes, I will rob my Soul
Of all her Health, of my Imperial Bride,
And wander with thee in the Search of that
On which thy Life depends——

Vara. If this I suffer,
Conclude me then begotten of a Hind,
And bred in Wilds: No, Theodosius, no;
I charge thee by our Friendship, and conjure thee
By all the Gods, to mention this no more:
Perhaps, dear Friend, I shall be sooner here
Than you expect, or I myself imagine:
What most I grieve, is, that I cannot wait
To see your Nuptials: Yet my Soul is with you,
And all my Adorations to your Bride.

Theo. What, my Varanes! will you be so cruel
As not to see my Bride before you go?
Or are you angry at your Rival's Charms,
Who has already ravish'd half my Heart,
That once was all your own?

Vara. You know I am disorder'd!
My Melancholy will not suit her blest Condition.

[Exit Theo.]

And the Gods know, since thou, my Athenais,
Art fled from these sick Eyes, all other Women
To my pall'd Soul seem'd like the Ghost of Beauty,
And haunt my Mem'ry with the Loss of thee.

Enter

Enter Athenais, Theodosius leading her.

Theo. Behold, my Lord, th' Occasion of my Joy.

Vara. O ye immortal Gods! Aranthes! O!
Look there, and wonder: Ha! is 't possible?

Athen. My Lord, the Emp'rour says you are his Friend,
He charges me to use my Interest,
And beg of you to stay, at least so long
As our Espousals will be solemnizing,
I told him I was honour'd once to know you;
But that so slightly, as I could not warrant
The Grant of any Thing that I should ask you——

Vara. O Heaven and Earth! O, Athenais! why,
Why dost thou use me thus? Had I the World,
Thou know'st it should be thine——

Athen. I know not that——
But yet to make sure Work, One half of it
Is mine, already, Sir, without your giving.
My Lord, the Prince is obstinate, his Glory
Scorns to be mov'd by the weak Breath of Woman:
He is all Hero, bent for higher Game.
Therefore, 'tis noble, Sir, to let him go:
If not for him, my Lord, yet for myself,
I must intreat the Favour to retire. [Ex. Athen. &c.]

Vara. Death and Despair! Confusion! Hell and Furies!

Theo. What should this mean? I fear the Consequence;
For 'tis too plain they know each other well.

Vara. Undone, Aranthes! lost, undone for ever!
I see my Doom, I read it with broad Eyes,
As plain as if I saw the Book of Fate:
Yet I will muster all my Spirits up,
Digest my Grievs, swallow the rising Passions.
Yes, I will stand the Shock of all the Gods
Well as I can, and struggle for my Life. [Leave]

Theo. You muse, my Lord; and if you'll give me
To judge your Thoughts, they seem employ'd at present
About my Bride.

Vara. His Bride! O Gods, give me a Moment's Pa-
I must confess the Sight of Athenais, [tience.
Where

46 THEODOSIUS: Or,

Where I so little did expect to see her,
So grac'd, and so adorn'd, did raise my Wonder:
But what exceeds all Admiration, is,
That you should talk of making her your Bride;
'Tis such a blind Effect of monstrous Fortune,
That tho' I well remember you affirm'd it,
I cannot yet believe——

Theo. Then now believe me:
By all the Pow'rs Divine, I will espouse her.

Vara. Ha! I shall leap the Bounds. Come, come, my Lord;

By all these Pow'rs you nam'd, I say you must not.

Theo. I say, I will; and who shall bar my Pleasure?
Yet more, I speak the Judgment of my Soul.
Weigh but with Fortune Merit in the Balance,
And Athenais loses by the Marriage.

Vara. Relentless Fates: malicious cruel Pow'rs!
O for what Crime do you thus rack your Creature?
Sir, I must tell you, this unkindly Meanness
Suits the Profession of an Anchorite well;
But in an Oriental Emperor
It gives Offence; nor can you, without Scandal
Without the Notion of a grov'ling Spirit,
Espouse the Daughter of old Leontine,
Whose utmost Glory is t'have been my Tutor.

Theo. He has so well acquitted that Employment,
Breeding you up to such a gallant Height
Of full Perfection, and imperial Greatness,
That ev'n for this Respect, if for no other,
I will esteem him worthy while I live.

Vara. My Lord, you'll pardon me a little Freedom;
For I must boldly urge in such a Cause,
Who overflatters you, tho' ne'er so near
Related to your Blood, should be suspected.

Theo. If Friendship would admit a cold Suspicion
After what I have heard and seen To-day,
Of all Mankind I should suspect Varanes.

Vara. He has stung me to the Heart; my Groans will Unless my struggling Passion gets a Vent. [choak me
Out

Out with it then ——— I can no more dissemble ———

Yes, yes, my Lord : Since you reduce me to
The last Necessity, I must confess it ;
I must avow my Flame for Athenais ;
I am all Fire, my Passion eats me up,
It grows incorp'rate with my Flesh and Blood :
My Pangs redouble ; now they cleave my Heart !
O Athenais ! O Eudesia ! ——— oh ———
Tho' plain as Day I see my own Destruction,
Yet to my Death, and oh, let all the Gods
Bear witness ! still I swear I will adore thee.

Theo. Alas ! Varanes ! Which of us two the Heav'ns
Have mark'd for Death, is yet above the Stars ;
But, while we live, let us preserve our Friendship
Sacred and just, as we have ever done.
This only Mean in two such hard Extreams
Remains for both : To-morrow you shall see her,
With all Advantage, in her own Apartment ;
Take your own Time, say all you can to gain her ;
If you can win her, lead her into Persia ;
If not, consent that I espouse her here.

Vara. Still worse and worse ! O Theodosius ! oh !
I cannot speak for Sighs : My Death is seal'd
By this last Sweetness : Had you been less good,
I might have hop'd. But now my Doom's at Hand.
Go then, and take her, take her to the Temple :
The Gods too give you Joy ! O Athenais !
Why does thy Image mock my foolish Sorrow ?
O Theodosius, do not see my Tears .
Away, and leave me ; leave me to the Grave.

Theo. Farewell ; let's leave the Issue to the Heav'ns,
I will prepare your Way with all that Honour
Can urge in your Behalf, tho' to my Ruin. [Ex. Theo.]

Vara. O ! I could tear my Limbs, and eat my Flesh !
Fool that I was, fond, proud, vain glorious Fool !
Damn'd be all Courts, and treble damn'd Ambition !
Blasted be thy Remembrance ! Curses on thee !
And Plagues on Plagues fall on those Fools that seek thee !

Arantb. Have Comfort, Sir ———

Vara.

48 THEODOSIUS: Or,

Vara. Away, and leave me, Villain!
 Traitor, who wrought me first to my Destruction!—
 Yet stay, and help, help me to curse my Pride,
 Help me to wish that I had ne'er been Royal.
 That I had never heard the Name of Cyrus,
 O that I had been born some happy Swain,
 And never known a Life so great, so vain!
 Where I Extremes might not be forc'd to choose,
 And, blest with some mean Wife, no Crown could lose;
 Where the dear Partner of my little State,
 With all her smiling Offspring at the Gate,
 Blessing my Labours, might my Coming wait:
 Where in our humble Beds all safe might lie,
 And not in curst Courts for Glory die— Exeunt.

ACT IV. SCENE I.

Enter Marcian, and Lucius at a Distance.

MARCIAN.

THE Gen'ral of the Oriental Armies,
 Was a Commission large as Fate could give.
 'Tis gone.
 Why what a Thing is a discarded Favourite?
 When once the Favour of his Prince is turn'd,
 Shunn'd as a Ghost, the clouded Man appears,
 And all the gaudy Worshipers forsake him.
 O Lucius! Lucius! if thou leav'st me too,
 I think, I think, I could not bear it;
 But, like a Slave, my Spirit, broke with Suffring,
 Should on these coward Knees fall down, and beg
 Once to be great again—

Luc. Forbid it, Heaven!
 That e'er the noble Marcian condescend
 To ask of any, but th' immortal Gods!
 Nay, I vow, if yet your Spirit dare,

Spite

Spite of the Court, you shall be great as Cæsar.
Poor Heart! he pin'd awhile ago for Love.

Marc. And for his Mistress vow'd to leave the World;
But some new Chance, it seems, has chang'd his Mind.
A Marriage! but to whom, or whence she came,
None knows; but yet a Marriage is proclaim'd;
Pageants prepar'd;

The Theatre is open'd too, where he
And the hot Persian mean to act their Follies.
Gods! Gods! Is this the Image of our Cæsars?
Is this the Image of our Romulus?
O why so poorly have you stamp'd Rome's Glory?

Luc. Thus much I know, to the eternal Shame
Of the Imperial Blood; this upstart Empress,
This fine new Queen, is sprung from abject Parents;
Nay, basely born! But that's all one to him:
He likes and loves, and therefore marries her.

Marc. Shall I not speak? Shall I not tell him of it?
I feel this big-swoln throbbing Roman Spirit
Will burst, unless I utter what I ought.

Enter Pulcheria with a Paper in her Hand, and Julia.

Marc. Pulcheria here! why she's the Scourge of Marcian;
I tremble too whenever she approaches:
What Lucius can this mean?

Pulch. Come hither Marcian! read this Paper o'er,
And mark the strange Neglect of Theodosius:
He signs whate'er I bring; perhaps you've heard
To-morrow he intends to wed a Maid of Athens,
New-made a Christian, and new-nam'd Eudisia;
Whom he more dearly prizes than his Empire:
Yet in this Paper he hath set his Hand,
And seal'd it too with the Imperial Signet,
That she shall lose her Head To-morrow Morning.

Marc. 'Tis not for me to judge; yet this seems strange.

Pulch. I know he rather would commit a Murder
On his own Person, than permit a Vein
Of her to bleed; yet, Marcian, what might follow,
If I were envious of this Virgin's Honour,

50 THEODOSIUS: Or,

By his rash passing whatsoe'er I offer —

Without a View? Ha! but I had forgot:

Julia, let's haste from this infectious Person —

I had forgot that Marcian was a Traitor:

Yet, by the Pow'rs Divine, I swear 'tis pity,

That one so form'd by Nature for all Honour,

All Titles, Greatness, Dignities Imperial,

The noblest Person, and the bravest Courage,

Should not be honest: Julia, is't not pity!

O Marcian, Marcian! I could weep to think

Virtue should lose itself as thine has done.

Repent, rash Man, if yet 'tis not too late,

And mend thy Errors; so farewell for ever.

[Ex. Pulch. Jul.

Marc. Farewel for ever! No, Madam, ere I go,
I am resolv'd to speak, and you shall hear me;

Then, if you please, take off this Traitor's Head;

End my Commission and my Life together.

Luc. Perhaps you'll laugh at what I'm going to say;

But by your Life, my Lord, I think 'tis true:

Pulcheria loves this Traitor! Did you mark her?

At first she had forgot your Banishment;

Makes you her Counsellor, and tells her Secrets,

As to a Friend; nay, leaves them in your Hand,

And says, 'tis pity that you are not honest!

With such Description of your Gallantry

As none but Love could make; then taking Leave,

Thro' the dark Lashes of her darting Eyes,

Methought she shot her Soul at ev'ry Glance;

Still looking back, as if she had a Mind

That you should know she left her Heart behind her.

Marc. Alas! thou dost not know her, nor do I:

Nor can the Wit of all Mankind conceive her.

But let's away. This Paper is of Use.

Luc. I guess your Purpose:

He is a Boy, and as a Boy you'll use him:

There is no other Way.

Marc. Yes, if he be not Quite dead with Sleep, for ever lost to Honour,

Marcian

Marcian with this shall rouse him. O, my Lucius !
Methinks the Ghosts of the great Theodosius,
And thund'ring Constantine, appear before me :
They charge me as a Soldier to chastize him,
To lash him with keen Words from lazy Love,
And shew him how they trod the Paths of Honour.

[Ex.

Enter Athenais, meeting Theodosius.

Theo. Alas ! Eudofia, tell me what to say ;
For my full Heart can scarce bring forth a Word
Of that which I have sworn to see perform'd.

Athen. I'm perfectly obedient to your Pleasure.

Theo. Well then, I come to tell thee, that Varanes
Of all Mankind is nearest to my Heart.
I love him, dear Eudofia ; and to prove
That Love on Trial, all my Blood's too little ;
Ev'n thee, if I were sure to die this Moment,
(As Heav'n alone can tell how far my Fate
Is off) O thou, my Soul's most tender Joy,
With my last Breath I would bequeath him thee.

Athen. Then you are pleased, my Lord, to yield me to him.

Theo. No, my Eudofia ; no, I will not yield thee,
While I have Life ; for Worlds I will not yield thee :
Yet, thus far I'm engag'd to let thee know,
He loves thee, Athenais, more than ever ;
He languishes, despairs, and dies like me ;
And I have pass'd my Word that he shall see thee.

Athen. Ah, Sir, what have you done against yourself
And me ?———

Why will you trust me, who am now afraid
To trust myself ?———

For, oh ! with trembling Agonies I speak it,
I cannot see a Prince, whom once I lov'd,
Bath'd in his Grief, and gasping at my Feet,
Without a Sorrow that perhaps may end me.

Theo. O ye severer Powers ! too cruel Fate !
Did ever Love tread such a Maze before ?
Yet, Athenais, still I trust thy Virtue ;

52 THEODOSIUS: Or,

But if thy bleeding Heart cannot refrain,
Give, give thyself away; yet still remember
That Moment Theodosius is no more——

[Exit Theo. with Attic. Pulch. Leon.

Athen. Now, Glory! now, if ever thou didst work
In Woman's Mind, assist me?

Enter Varanes, leaning on Arantes.

Ha! is this he? or i't Varanes' Ghost?
He looks as if he had bespoke his Grave.
Trembling and pale; I must not dare to view him.
For, O, I feel his Melancholy here,
And fear I shall too soon partake his Sickness.

Vara. Thus to the angry Gods offending Mortals,
Made sensible by some severe Affliction,
How all their Crimes are register'd in Heav'n;
Thus the poor Penitents with Fear approach
The rev'rend Shrines, and thus for Mercy bow: [Kneels.
Thus melting too, they wash the hallow'd Earth,
And groan to be forgiven——

O, Empress! O, Eudofia! such you're now.
These are your Titles, and I must not dare
Ever to call you Athenais more.

Athen. Rise, rise, my Lord! let me intreat you, rise:
I will not hear you in that humble Posture:
Rise, or I must withdraw——The World will blush
For you and me, should it behold a Prince
Sprung from immortal Cyrus, on his Knees
Before the Daughter of a poor Philosopher.

Vara. 'Tis just, ye righteous Gods! my Doom is just;
Nor will I strive to deprecate her Anger.
If possible, I'll aggravate my Crimes,
That she may rage till she has broke my Heart:
For all I now desire——
Is to fall dead without a Wound before her.

Athen. O ye known Sounds! But I must steel my Soul:
Methinks these Robes, my Delia, are too heavy.

Vara. Not worth a Word, a Look, nor one Regard!
Oh, for the Sake of him, whom you ere long
Shall hold as fast as now your Wishes from him,

Give

Give me a patient Hearing ; for however
I talk of Death, and seem to loath my Life,
I would delib'rate with my Fate awhile,
With snatching Glances eye thee to the last ;
Pause o'er a Loss like that of Athenais,
And parley with my Ruin.

Athen. Speak, my Lord :
To hear you is the Emperor's Command :
And for that Cause I readily obey.

Vara. The Emperor, the Emperor's Command !
And for that Cause she readily obeys !
I thank you, Madam, that on any Terms
You condescend to hear me———
Know then, Eudofia : Ah, rather let me call thee
By the lov'd Name of Athenais still ;
I swear I love thee more, far more than ever.
With conscious Blushes too, here, help me, Gods ;
Help me to tell her, tho' to my Confusion,
And everlasting Shame ; yet I must tell her,
I lay the Persian Crown before her Feet.

Athen. My Lord, I thank you ; and t'express those
As nobly as you offer 'em, I return [Thanks
The Gift you make ; nor will I now upbraid you
With the Example of the Emperor :
Not but I know 'tis that that draws you on,
Thus to descend beneath your Majesty,
And swell the Daughter of a poor Philosopher
With Hopes of being great.

Vara. Ah, Madam ! ah ! you wrong me ! by the Gods,
I had repented, ere I knew the Emp'ror———

Athen. You find, perhaps too late, that Athenais,
However slighted for her Birth and Fortune,
Has something in her Person, and her Virtue,
Worth the Regard of Emperors themselves ;
And, to return the Compliment you gave
My Father, Leontine, that poor Philosopher,
Whose utmost Glory is t'have been your Tutor,
I here protest, by Virtue, and by Glory,
I swear by Heav'n, and all the Pow'rs Divine,

54 THEODOSIUS: Or

Th' abandon'd Daughter of that poor old Man
Shall ne'er be seated on the Throne of Cyrus.

Vara. O Death to all my Hopes! What hast thou sworn?
To turn me wild? Ah, cursed Throne of Cyrus!
Would thou had'st been o'erturn'd, and laid in Dust,
His Crown too thunder struck; my Father; all
The Persian Race, like poor Darius, ruin'd,
Blotted, and swept for ever from the World,
When first Ambition blasted thy Remembrance —

Athen. O Heav'n! I had forgot the base Affront
Offer'd by this proud Man; a Wrong so great,
It is remov'd beyond all Hope of Mercy;
He had design'd to bribe my Father's Virtue,
And by unlawful Means —

Fly from my Sight, lest I become a Fury,
And break those Rules of Temp'rance I propos'd:
Fly, fly, Varanes! fly this sacred Place,
Where Virtue and Religion are profess'd;
Fly to Imperial Libertines abroad:
In foreign Courts thou'lt find a thousand Beauties
That will comply for Gold: for Gold they'll weep,
For Gold be fond, as Athenais was,
And charm thee still, as if they lov'd indeed.
Away, Varanes!

Vara. Yes, Madam, I am going —
Nay, by the Gods, I do not ask thee Pardon,
Nor, while I live, will I implore thy Mercy;
But, when I'm dead, if, as thou dost return
With happy Theodosius from the Temple,
If, as thou go'st in Triumph thro' the Streets,
Thou chance to meet the cold Varanes there,
Borne by his Friends to his eternal Home;
Stop then, O Athenais! and behold me:
Say, as thou hang'st about the Emp'ror's Neck,
Alas! my Lord, this Sight is worth our Pity.
If to those pitying Words thou add a Tear,
Or give one parting Groan — If possible,
If the good Gods will grant my Soul the Freedom,
I'll leave my Shroud, and wake from Death to thank thee.

Athen.

Athen. He shakes my Resolution from the Bottom :
My bleeding Heart too speaks in his Behalf,
And says my Virtue has been too severe.

Vara. Farewel ! O Empress : No Athenais now :
I will not call thee by that tender Name,
Since cold Despair begins to freeze my Bosom,
And all my Pow'rs are now resolv'd on Death.
Since 'tis so doom'd by Fate, you must be wedded ;
For your own Peace, when I am laid in Earth,
Forget that e'er Varanes had a Being :
Turn all your Soul to Theodosius' Bosom.
Continue, Gods, their Days, and make 'em long !
Lucina wait upon their fruitful Hymen !
And many Children, beauteous as the Mother,
And pious as the Father, make 'em smile !

Athen. O Heav'ns !

Vara. Farewel — I'll trouble you no more :
The Malady, that lodg'd within, grows stronger :
I feel the Shock of my approaching Fate ;
My Heart too trembles at his distant March ;
Nor can I utter more, if you should ask me.
Thy Arm, Aranthes ! O farewel for ever —

Athen. Varanes, stay ; and, ere you go for ever,
Let me unfold my Heart.

Vara. O Athenais !

What further Cruelty hast thou in store
To add to what I suffer ?

Athen. Since 'tis doom'd
'That we must part, let's part as Lovers should.
As those that have lov'd long, and loved well.

Vara. Art thou so good ? O Athenais, oh !

Athen. First, from my Soul, I pity and forgive you ;
I pardon you that hasty little Error,
Which yet has been the Cause of both our Ruins.
And let this Sorrow witness for my Heart,
How eagerly I wish it had not been ;
And, since I cannot keep it, take it all :
Take all the Love, O Prince, I ever bore you :
Farewel most lovely, and most lov'd of Men !

56 THEODOSIUS: Or,

Why comes this dying Paleness o'er thy Face?
Why wander thus thy Eyes? Why dost thou bend,
As if the fatal Weight of Death were on thee.

Vara. Speak yet a little more: For by the Gods!
And as I prize those blest happy Moments,
I swear, O Athenais! all is well;
O never better.

Athen. I doubt thee, dear Varanes;
Yet, if thou dy'st, I shall not long be from thee.
Once more farewell, and take these last Embraces.
Oh! I could crush him to my Heart! Farewel:
And as a dying Pledge of my last Love,
Take this, which, all thy Pray'rs could never charm.
What have I done? oh lead me, lead me, Delia.
Ah, Prince, farewell! Angels protect and guard thee!

Vara. Turn back, O Athenais! and behold me;
Hear my last Words, and then farewell for ever.
Thou hast undone me more by this Confession:
You say, you swear, you love me more than ever,
Yet I must see you marry'd to another;
Can there be any Plague or Hell like this?
O Athenais! whither shall I turn me?
You've brought me back to Life; but oh, what Life?
'T'a Life more terrible than thousand Deaths.
Like one that had been buried in a Trance,
With racking Starts, he wakes, and gazes round,
Forc'd by Despair his whirling Limbs to wound,
And bellow like a Spirit under-ground;

Still urg'd by Fate, to turn, to toss, and rave,
Tormented, dash'd, and broken in the Grave.

[Exeunt.]

ACT

ACT V. SCENE I.

Athenais drest in Imperial Robes, and crown'd: A Table with a Bowl of Poison.

ATHENAIUS.

A Midnight Marriage! Must I to the Temple!
Thus, at the Murd'rer's Hour? 'Tis wond'rous strange!

But so thou say'st my Father has commanded;
And that's a mighty Reason.

Delia. The Emp'ror in Compassion to the Prince,
Who would, perhaps, fly to Extravagance,
If he in publick should resolve t'espouse you,
Contriv'd by this close Marriage to deceive him.

Athen. 'Tis well; retire.

Lo, now I am alone, yet my Soul shakes:
For where this dreadful Draught may carry me
The Heav'ns can only tell; yet I'm resolv'd
To drink it off in spite of Consequence.

Whisper him, O some Angel! what I'm doing;
By Sympathy of Soul let him too tremble,
To hear my wond'rous Faith, my wond'rous Love.

O my Varanes! tho' my Birth's unequal, [Drinks.
My Virtue sure has richly recompens'd,
And quite out gone Example!

Pulch. How fares my dear Eudofia? Ha! thou look'st,
Or else the Tapers cheat my Sight, like one
That's fitter for thy Tomb, than Cæsar's Bed:
A fatal Sorrow dims thy shaded Eyes,
And, in despite of all thy Ornaments,
Thou seem'st to me the Ghost of Athenais.

Athen. And, what's the Punishment, my dear Pulcheria,
What Torments are allotted those sad Spirits,
Who, groaning with the Burden of Despair,
No longer will endure the Cares of Life,
But boldly set themselves at Liberty,

58 THEODOSIUS: Or,

Pulch. No more o'that: Atticus shall resolve thee.
But see, he waits thee from the Emperor:
Thy Father too attends.

Enter Leontine, Atticus, &c.

Leont. Come, Athenais! Ha! what now in Tears!
O Fall of Honour! But no more; I charge thee,
I charge thee, as thou ever hop'st my Blessing,
Or fear'st my Curse, to banish from thy Soul
All Thoughts, if possible the Memory,
Of that ungrateful Prince that has undone thee.
Attend me to the Temple on this Instant,
To make the Emp'ror thine, this Night to wed him.

Athen. Yes, Sir, I'll go——
Let me but dry my Eyes, and I will go:
Eudofia, this unhappy Bride, shall go:
Thus like a Victim, crown'd, and doom'd to bleed,
I'll wait you to the Altar, wed the Emp'ror,

Leont. Thou art my Child again.

Athen. But do not, Sir, imagine, any Charms
Or Threat'nings shall compel me
Never to think of poor Varanes more:
No, my Varanes! No——

While I have Breath I will remember thee:
To thee alone I will my Thoughts confine,
And all my Meditations shall be thine:
The Image of thy Woes my Soul shall fill;
Fate, and my End, and thy Remembrance still.
Yes, my Varanes, till my Death comes on,
Shall sad Eudofia thy dear Loss bemoan.

[Exeunt Athenais, Atticus, &c.

S C E N E II.

Enter Varanes.

Vara. 'Tis Night, dead Night; and weary Nature lies
So fast, as if she never were to rise;
No Breath of Wind now whispers thro' the Trees;
No Noise at Land, nor Murmur in the Seas:

Lean Wolves forget to howl at Night's pale Noon ;
 No wakeful Dogs bark at the silent Moon,
 Nor bay the Ghosts that glide with Horror by,
 To view the Caverns where their Bodies lie :
 The Ravens perch, and no Prefages give,
 Nor to the Windows of the Dying cleave :
 The Owls forget to scream ; no Midnight Sound
 Calls drowsy Echo from the hollow Ground :
 In Vaults the walking Fires extinguish'd lie ;
 The Stars, Heav'n's Centry, wink, and seem to die.
 Such universal Silence spreads below,
 Thro' the vast Shades where I am doom'd to go ;
 Nor shall I need a Violence to wound :
 The Storm is here, that drives me on the Ground ;
 Sure Means to make the Soul and Body part !
 A burning Fever, and a broken Heart.
 What, ho, Aranthes !

Enter Arantes.

I sent thee to th' Apartment of Athenais :
 I sent thee, did I not ? to be admitted.

Aran. You did, my Lord ; but Oh
 I fear to give you an Account.

Vara. Alas !

Aranthes, I am got on th' other Side
 Of this bad World ; and now am past all Fear.
 O ye avenging Gods ! is there a Plague
 Among your hoarded Bolts, and Heaps of Vengeance,
 Beyond the mighty Loss of Athenais ?
 'Tis Contradiction : speak then, speak Aranthes :
 For all Misfortunes, if compar'd with that,
 Will make Varanes smile——

Aran. My Lord, the Empress,
 Crown'd, and adorn'd with the Imperial Robes,
 At this dead Time of Night, with silent Pomp,
 As they design'd from all to keep it secret,
 But chiefly sure from you ; I say, the Empress
 Is now conducted by the General,

THEODOSIUS: Or,

Atticus, and her Father, to the Temple,
There to espouse the Emp'rour Theodosius.

Vara. Say'st thou? I'st certain? Ha!

Aran. Most certain, Sir, I saw them in Procession:

Vara. Give me thy Sword. Malicious Fate! O Fortune!
O giddy Chance! O Turn of Love and Greatness!
Marry'd! She has kept her Promise now indeed;
And oh! her pointed Fame, and nice Revenge,
Have reach'd their End. No, my Aranthes, no!
I will not stay the lazy Execution
Of a slow Fever: Give me thy Hand, and swear
By all the Love and Duty that thou ow'st me,
T'observe the last Commands that I shall give thee:
Stir not against my Purpose, as thou fear'st
My Anger and Disdain; nor dare t'oppose me
With troublesome, unnecessary, formal Reasons;
For what my Thought has doom'd, my Hand shall seal.
I charge thee hold it stedfast to my Heart,
Fix'd as the Fate that throws me on the Point.
Tho' I have liv'd a Persian, I will fall
As fair, as fearless, and as full resolv'd,
As any Greek or Roman of 'em all.

Aran. What you command is terrible, but sacred;
And to atone for this too cruel Duty,
My Lord, I'll follow you—

Vara. I charge thee not:
But, when I'm dead, take the attending Slaves,
And bear me, with my Blood distilling down,
Strait to the Temple: Lay me, O Aranthes!
Lay my cold Corse at Athenais' Feet,
And say, O why, why do my Eyes run o'er?
Say, with my latest Gasp I groan'd for Pardon.
Just here, my Friend, hold fast, and fix the Sword:
I feel the Art'ry, where the Life Blood lies;
It heaves against the Point—Now, O ye Gods,
If for the greatly wretched you have Room,
Prepare my Place; for dauntless, lo! I come.

The Force of Love thus makes the mortal Wound,
And Athenais sends me to the Ground. [Kills himself.]

Theodosius, Athenais, Atticus joining their Hands—
Marcian, Pulcheria, Lucius, Julia, Delia, &c. Le-ontine.

Attic. *The more than Gordian Knot is ty'd,
Which Death's strong Arm shall ne'er divide;
For, when to Bliss ye wasted are,
Your Spirits shall be wedded there.
Waters are lost, and Fires will die;
But Love alone can Fate defy.*

Enter Aranthes, with the Body of Varanes.

[dofia?]
Aran. Where is the Empress? Where shall I find Eu-
By Fate I'm sent to tell that cruel Beauty,
She has robb'd the World of Fame; her Eyes have giv'n
A Blast to the big Blossom of the War:
Behold him there, nipt in his flow'ry Morn,
Compell'd to break his Promise of a Day,
A Day that Conquest would have made her Boast:
Behold her Laurel wither'd to the Root,
Canker'd and kill'd by Athenais Scorn.

Athen. Dead, dead, Varanes!

Theo. Alas! alas, Varanes! but speak, Aranthes,
The Manner of his Fate?

Aran. His Fever would, no Doubt, by this have done
What, some few Minutes past, his Sword perform'd:
He heard from me your Progress to the Temple,
How you design'd at Midnight to deceive him
By a clandestine Marriage: But, my Lord,
Had you beheld his Racks at my Relation;
Or, had your Empress seen him in those Torments,
When from his dying Eyes, swol'n to the Brim,
The big round Drops roll'd down his manly Face;
When from his hollow'd Breast a murm'ring Croud
Of Groans rush'd forth, and echo'd, All is well;

Then

62 T H E O D O S I U S : Or,

Then had you seen him, O, ye cruel Gods!
Rush on the Sword I held against his Breast,
And dye it to the Hilt, with these last Words——
Bear me to Athenais——

Athen. Give me Way, my Lord.
I have most strictly kept my Promise with you:
I am your Bride, and you can ask no more;
Or, if you did, I'm past the Pow'r to give:
But here! O here! on his cold bloody Breast,
Thus let me breathe my last. [mean?

Theo. O Empress! what, what can this Transport
Are these our Nuptials? these my promis'd Joys?

Athen. Forgive me, Sir, this last Respect I pay
These sad Remains—And, O, thou mighty Spirit!
If yet thou art not mingled with the Stars,
Look down and hear the wretched Athenais,
When thou shalt know, before I gave Consent
To this indecent Marriage, I had taken
Into my Veins a cold and deadly Draught.
Wilt thou not forgive me?

Theo. Poison'd, to free thee from the Emperor!
O, Athenais! thou hast done a Deed
That tears my Heart.

Athen. O, pardon me!
I lay my dying Body at your Feet,
And beg, my Lord, with my last Sighs intreat you,
T'impute the Fault, if 'tis a Fault, to Love;
And the Ingratitude of Athenais
To her too cruel Stars: Remember too,
I begg'd you would not let me see the Prince,
Presaging what has happen'd; yet my Word,
As to our Nuptials, was inviolable.

Theo. Ha! she is going! see her languishing Eyes
Draw in their Beams; the Sleep of Death is on her.

Athen. Alas! alas, Varanes!
T'embrace thee now, is not Immodesty;
Or, if it were, I think my bleeding Heart
Would make me criminal in Death to clasp thee!
O Prince belov'd! Oh Spirit most divine!

Thus

Thus by my Death, I give thee all my Love,
And seal my Soul and Body ever thine—— [Dies.

Theo. O, Marcian! O, Pulcheria! did not the Pow'r,
Whom we adore, plant all his Thunder bolts
Against Self-murd'ers, I would perish too:
But, as I am, I swear to leave the Empire:
To thee, my Sister, I bequeath the World;
And, yet a Gift more great, the gallant Marcian.
On then, my Friend! now shew thy Roman Spirit:
As to her Sex, fair Athenais was,
Be thou to thine a Pattern of true Honour.
Thus we'll atone for all the present Crimes,
That yet it may be said in After-times,
No Age with such Examples cou'd compare,
So great, so good, so virtuous, and so fair!

[Exeunt omnes.]

A PLOT TO DISCOVER

TO HER GRACE

THE GRACE OF PORTSMOUTH

AND THE TOWN OF DUNBAR

WHERFORE possible for me to let the World know how much I love
Grace's Goodness has devoted poor Man to your service. With this Words enough, in speech to express the mighty sense I have of your great bounty towards me; which I should write and tell of it for ever. But your Grace has given me to large a Theme, and laid to very tall
a Foundation, that imagination wants stock to build upon it. I am as one dumb when I would speak of it; and when I strive to write, I want a Scale of Thought sufficient to comprehend the height of it. Forgive me that Madam, if I say a word that is

MDCCXXVI

TO HER GRACE the DUCHESS of Portsmouth.

MADAM,

WERE it possible for me to let the World know, how intirely Your Grace's Goodness has devoted a poor Man to your Service: Were there Words enough in Speech to express the mighty Sense I have of your great Bounty towards me; surely I should write and talk of it for ever: But your Grace has given me so large a Theme, and laid so very vast a Foundation, that Imagination wants Stock to build upon it. I am as one dumb when I would speak of it; and when I strive to write, I want a Scale of Thought sufficient to comprehend the Height of it. Forgive me then, Madam, if (as a poor Peasant once made a Present of an Apple to an Emperor) I bring this small Tribute, the humble Growth of my little Garden, and lay it at your Feet. Believe it is paid you with the utmost Gratitude: Believe, that, so long as I have Thought to remember how very much I owe your generous Nature, I will ever have a Heart that shall be grateful for it too. Your Grace, next Heaven, deserves it amply from me: That gave me Life, but on a hard Condition; till your extended Favour taught me to prize the Gift, and took the heavy Burden it was clogged with from me, I mean, hard Fortune. When I had Enemies, that with malicious Power kept back and shaded me from those royal Beams, whose Warmth is all I have, or hope to live by; Your noble Pity and Compassion found me, where I was cast backward from my Blessing, down in the Rear of Fortune, called me up, placed me in the Shine, and I have felt its Comfort. You have in that restored me to my native Right, for a steady Faith and Loyalty to my Prince was all the Inheritance my Father left me; and however hardly my ill Fortune deal with me, 'tis what I prize so well, that I never pawn'd it yet, and hope I shall never part with it. Nature and Fortune were certainly in League, when You were born; and as the first took Care to give you Beauty enough enough to enslave the Hearts of all the World ; so the other resolv'd to do its Merit Justice, that none but a Monarch fit to rule the World should e'er possess it ; and in it he had an Empire. The young Prince You have given him, by his blooming Virtues early declares the mighty Stock he came from : And as you have taken all the pious Care of a dear Mother, and a prudent Guardian, to give him a noble and generous Education ; may it succeed according to his Merits and Your Wishes : May he grow up to be a Bulwark to his illustrious Father, and a Patron to his loyal Subjects ; with Wisdom and Learning to assist him, whenever call'd to his Councils ; to defend his Right against the Incroachments of Republicans in his Senates ; to cherish such Men as shall be able to vindicate the Royal Cause ; that good and fit Servants to the Crown may never be lost for want of a Protector. May he have Courage and Conduct fit to fight his Battles Abroad, and terrify his Rebels at Home : And, that all these may be yet more sure, may he never, during the Spring-time of his Years, when those growing Virtues ought with Care to be cherish'd in order to their Ripening ; may he never meet with vicious Natures, or the Tongues of faithless, fordid, insipid Flatterers, to blast 'em. To conclude, may he be as great as the Hand of Fortune (with his Honour) shall be able to make him: And may your Grace, who are so good a Mistress, and so noble a Patroness, never meet with a less grateful Servant, than,

MADAM,

Your Grace's

intirely devoted Creature,

PRO-

PROLOGUE.

IN these distracted Times, when each Man dreads
 The bloody Stratagems of busy Heads :
 When we have fear'd three Years we know not what,
 'Till Witnesses began to die o' th' Rot ;
 What made our Poet meddle with a Plot ?
 Was't that he fancy'd, for the very Sake
 And Name of Plot, his trifling Play might take ?
 For there's not in't one Inch-board Evidence ;
 But 'tis, he says, to Reason plain and Sense ;
 And that he thinks a plausible Defence.
 Were Truth by Sense and Reason to be try'd,
 Sure all our Swearers might be laid aside ;
 No ; of such Tools our Author has no Need,
 To make his Plot, or make his Play succeed ;
 He of black Bills has no prodigious Tales,
 Or Spanish Pilgrims cast ashore in Wales :
 Here's not one murder'd Magistrate, at least,
 Kept rank, like Ven'son for a City Feast,
 Grown four Days stiff, the better to prepare
 And fit his pliant Limbs to ride in Chair.
 Yet here's an Army rais'd, tho' under Ground,
 But no Man seen, nor one Commission found :
 Here is a Traytor too, that's very old,
 Turbulent, subtle, mischievous, and bold,
 Bloody, revengeful ; and—to crown his Part,
 Loves Fumbling with a Wench with all his Heart :
 'Till, after having many Changes past,
 In spite of Age (Thanks t' Heaven) is bang'd at last :
 Next is a Senator that keeps a Whore,
 In Venice none a higher Office bore,
 To Lewdness ev'ry Night the Leacher ran ;
 Shew me, all London, such another Man ;
 Match him at Mother Creswell's, if you can.
 O Poland ! Poland ! had it been thy Lot
 T' have heard in Time of this Venetian Plot,
 Thou surely chosen badst one King from thence,
 And honour'd them, as thou hast England since.

OR,

A PLOT Discover'd.

ACT I. SCENE I.

Enter PRIULI and JAFFIER.

PRIULI.

NO more! I'll hear no more; be gone and leave me.

Jaff. Not hear me! by my Suffering, but you shall!

My Lord, my Lord! I'm not that abject Wretch
You think me: Patience! where's the Distance throws
Me back so far, but I may boldly speak
In Right, tho' proud Oppression will not hear me?

Pri. Have you not wrong'd me?

Jaff. Could my Nature e'er
Have brook'd Injustice, or the doing Wrongs,
I need not now thus low have bent myself
To gain a Hearing from a cruel Father.
Wrong'd you!

Pri. Yes, wrong'd me in the nicest Point,
The Honour of my House; you've done me Wrong.

You

You may remember (for I now will speak,
 And urge its Baseness) when you first came Home
 From Travel, with such Hopes as made you look'd on
 By all Men's Eyes, a Youth of Expectation;
 Pleas'd with your growing Virtue, I receiv'd you;
 Courted, and sought to raise you to your Merits:
 My House, my Table, nay, my Fortune too,
 My very Self was yours, you might have us'd me
 To your best Service, like an open Friend
 I treated, trusted you, and thought you mine:
 When, in Requit of my best Endeavours,
 You treacherously practis'd to undo me,
 Seduc'd the Weakness of my Age's Darling,
 My only Child, and stole her from my Bosom:
 Oh! Belvidera!

Jaff. 'Tis to me you owe her.
 Childless you had been else, and in the Grave
 Your Name extinct; no more Priuli heard of.
 You may remember, scarce five Years are past,
 Since in your Brigantine you sail'd to see
 The Adriatick wedded by our Duke;
 And I was with you: Your unskilful Pilot
 Dash'd us upon a Rock; when to your Boat
 You made for Safety: Enter'd first yourself;
 Th'affrighted Belvidera, following next,
 As she stood trembling on the Vessel's Side,
 Was by a Wave wash'd off into the Deep:
 When instantly I plung'd into the Sea,
 And, buffeting the Billows to her Rescue,
 Redeem'd her Life with half the Loss of mine.
 Like a rich Conquest, in one Hand I bore her,
 And with the other dash'd the saucy Waves,
 That throng'd and press'd to rob me of my Prize:
 I brought her, gave her to your despairing Arms:
 Indeed you thank'd me; but a nobler Gratitude
 'Rose in her Soul: For from that Hour she lov'd me,
 'Till for her Life she paid me with herself.

Pri. You stole her from me; like a Thief you stole
 her,
 At dead of Night; that cursed Hour you chose

To rifle me of all my Heart held dear.
 May all your Joys in her prove false like mine;
 A sterile Fortune, and a barren Bed,
 Attend you both; continual Discord make
 Your Days and Nights bitter and grievous still:
 May the hard Hand of a vexatious Need
 Oppress and grind you; till at last you find
 The Curse of Disobedience all your Portion.

Jaff. Half of your Curse you have bestow'd in vain;
 Heav'n has already crown'd our faithful Loves
 With a young Boy, sweet as his Mother's Beauty:
 May he live to prove more gentle than his Grandfire,
 And happier than his Father.

Pri. Rather live
 To bate thee for his Bread, and din your Ears
 With hungry Cries; whilst his unhappy Mother
 Sits down and weeps in Bitterness of Want.

Jaff. You talk, as if 'twould please you.

Pri. 'Twould, by Heav'n!

Once she was dear indeed; the Drops that fell
 From my sad Heart, when she forgot her Duty,
 The Fountain of my Life was not so precious:
 But she is gone; and, if I am a Man,
 I will forget her.

Jaff. Would I were in my Grave.

Pri. And she too with thee:

For, living here, you're but my curs'd Remembrancers,
 I once was happy.

Jaff. You use me thus, because you know my Soul
 Is fond of Belvidera: You perceive
 My Life feeds on her, therefore thus you treat me.
 Oh! could my Soul ever have found Satiety;
 Were I that Thief, the Doer of such Wrongs
 As you upbraid me with, what hinders me,
 But I might send her back to you with Contumely,
 And court my Fortune where she would be kinder?

Pri. You dare not do't.

Jaff. Indeed, my Lord, I dare not.

My Heart, that awes me, is too much my Master:
 Three Years are past, since first our Vows were plighted.

During which Time, the World must bear me witness,
 I've treated Belvidera like your Daughter,
 The Daughter of a Senator of Venice:
 Distinction, Place, Attendance, and Observance,
 Due to her Birth, she always has commanded:
 Out of my little Fortune I've done this;
 Because (tho' hopeless e're to win your Nature)
 The World might see I lov'd her for herself,
 Not as the Heirefs of the great Priuli.

Pri. No more.

Jaff. Yes, all, and then adieu for ever.
 There's not a Wretch, that lives on common Charity,
 But's happier than me: For I've known
 The luscious Sweets of Plenty; every Night
 Have slept with soft Content about my Head,
 And never wak'd but to a joyful Morning:
 Yet now must fall like a full Ear of Corn,
 Whose Blossom 'scap'd, yet's wither'd in the Ripening.

Pri. Home, and be humble, study to retrench;
 Discharge the lazy Vermin of thy Hall,
 Those Pageants of thy Folly:
 Reduce the glitt'ring Trappings of thy Wife
 To humble Weeds, fit for thy little State:
 Then to some suburb Cottage both retire;
 Drudge to feed loathsome Life; get Brats and starve—
 Home, Home, I say. ————— [Exit.

Jaff. Yes, if my Heart would let me ———
 This proud, this swelling Heart: Home I would go,
 But that my Doors are hateful to my Eyes,
 Fill'd and damm'd up with gaping Creditors,
 Watchful as Fowlers when their Game will spring:
 I've now not fifty Ducats in the World,
 Yet still I'm in Love, and pleas'd with Ruin.
 Oh! Belvidera! Oh! she is my Wife ———
 And we will bear our wayward Fate together,
 But ne'er know Comfort more.

Enter Pierre.

Pier. My Friend, Good-morrow,
 How fares the honest Part'ner of my Heart?
 What, melancholy? not a Word to spare me!

Jaff.

Jaff. I'm thinking, Pierre, how that damn'd starving
Call'd Honesty, got Footing in the World. [Quality,

Pier. Why, powerful Villainy first set it up,
For its own Ease and Safety : Honest Men
Are the soft easy Cushions, on which Knaves
Repose and fatten : Were all Mankind Villains,
They'd starve each other ; Lawyers would want Practice,
Cut-throats Rewards : Each Man would kill his Brother
Himself ; none would be paid or hang'd for Murder :
Honesty ! 'twas a Cheat invented first
To bind the Hands of bold deserving Rogues,
That Fools and Cowards might sit safe in Power,
And lord it uncontroul'd above their Betters.

Jaff. Then Honesty is but a Notion ?

Pier. Nothing else,
Like Wit, much talk'd of, not to be defin'd :
He that pretends to most too has least Share in't :
'Tis a ragged Virtue. Honesty ! no more on't.

Jaff. Sure thou art honest ?

Pier. So indeed Men think me ;
But they are mistaken, Jaffier : I am a Rogue
As well as they ;
A fine gay bold-fac'd Villain, as thou seest me.
'Tis true, I pay my Debts, when they're contracted ;
I steal from no Man ; would not cut a Throat
To gain Admission to a great Man's Purse,
Or a Whore's Bed ; I'd not betray my Friend
'To get his Place or Fortune ; I scorn to flatter
A blown-up Fool above me to crush the Wretch beneath
Yet, Jaffier, for all this I am a Villain. [me :

Jaff. A Villain !

Pier. Yes, and a most notorious Villain ;
To see the Sufferings of my Fellow-creatures,
And own myself a Man : To see our Senators
Cheat the deluded People with a Shew
Of Liberty, which yet they ne'er must taste of.
'They say, by them our Hands are free from Fetters,
Yet whom they please they lay in basest Bonds ;
Bring whom they please to Infamy and Sorrow ;
Drive us like Wrecks down the rough Tide of Power,
Whilst no Hold is to save us from Destruction.

All that bear this are Villains, and I one,
Not to rouse up at the greatest Call of Nature,
And check the Growth of these domestic Spoilers,
That make us Slaves, and tell us 'tis our Charter.

Jaff. Oh! Aquilina! Friend, to lose such Beauty,
The dearest Purchase of thy noble Labours!
She was thy Right by Conquest, as by Love.

Pier. Oh! Jaffier! I had so fix'd my Heart upon her,
That, wherefoe'er I fram'd a Scheme of Life
For Time to come, she was my only Joy,
With which I wish'd to sweeten future Cares;
I fancy'd Pleasures, none, but one that loves
And doats as I did, can imagine like 'em:
When in the Extremity of all these Hopes,
In the most charming Hour of Expectation,
Then, when our eager Wishes soar the highest,
Ready to stoop and grasp the lovely Game,
A haggard Owl, a worthless Kite of Prey,
With his foul Wings sail'd in, and spoil'd my Quarry.

Jaff. I know the Wretch, and scorn him as thou hat'st him.

Pier. Curse on the common Good that's so protected,
Where every Slave, that heaps up Wealth enough
To do much Wrong, becomes the Lord of Right:
I, who believ'd no Ill could e'er come near me,
Found in the Embraces of my Aquilina
A wretched old, but itching Senator,
A wealthy Fool, that had bought out my Title:
A Rogue that uses Beauty like a Lamb-skin,
Barely to keep him warm; that filthy Cuckow too
Was, in my Absence, crept into my Nest,
And spoiling all my Brood of noble Pleasure.

Jaff. Didst thou not chace him thence?

Pier. I did, and drove

The rank old-bearded Hirco stinking Home:
The Matter was complain'd of in the Senate,
I summon'd to appear, and censur'd basely,
For violating something they call Privilege—
This was the Recompence of my Service:
Would I'd been rather beaten by a Coward,
A Soldier's Mistress, Jaffier, is his Religion;

When

When that's profan'd, all other Ties are broken :
That even dissolves all former Bonds of Service ;
And from that Hour I think myself as free
To be the Foe, as e'er the Friend of Venice—
Nay, dear Revenge, whene'er thou call'st, I'm ready.

Jaff. I think no Safety can be here for Virtue,
And grieve, my Friend, as much as thou, to live
In such a wretched State as this of Venice,
Where all agree to spoil the publick Good ;
And Villains fatten with the brave Man's Labours.

Pier. We've neither Safety, Unity, nor Peace, my Friend,
For the Foundation's lost of common Good ;
Justice is lame as well as blind amongst us ;
The Laws (corrupted to their Ends that make 'em)
Serve but for Instruments of some new Tyranny,
That every Day starts up to enslave us deeper.
Now could this glorious Cause but find out Friends
To do it right, oh Jaffier ! then might'st thou
Not wear these Seals of Woe upon thy Face ;
The proud Priuli should be taught Humanity,
And learn to value such a Son as thou art.
I dare not speak, but my Heart bleeds this Moment.

Jaff. Curs'd be the Cause, tho' I thy Friend be Part
Let me partake the Troubles of thy Bosom, [on't :
For I am us'd to Mis'ry, and perhaps
May find a Way to sweeten't to thy Spirit.

Pier. Too soon 'twill reach thy Knowledge—

Jaff. Then from thee
Let it proceed. There's Virtue in thy Friendship,
Would make the saddest Tale of Sorrow pleasing,
Strengthen my Constancy, and welcome Ruin.

Pier. Then thou art ruin'd !

Jaff. That I long since knew ;
I and ill Fortune have been long acquainted.

Pier. I pass'd this very Moment by thy Door,
And found them guarded by a Troop of Villains ;
The Sons of publick Rapine were destroying.
They told me, by the Sentence of the Law
They had Commission to seize all thy Fortune :
Nay more, Priuli's cruel Hand had sign'd it.
Here stood a Russian with a horrid Face,

Lording it o'er a Pile of massy Plate,
 Tumbled into a Heap for publick Sale;
 There was another making villainous Jest
 At thy Undoing, he had ta'en Possession
 Of all thy ancient most domestick Ornaments,
 Rich Hangings intermix'd and wrought with Gold:
 The very Bed, which on thy Wedding-Night
 Receiv'd thee to the Arms of Belvidera;
 The Scene of all thy Joys was violated
 By the coarse Hands of filthy Dungeon Villains,
 And thrown amongst the common Lumber.

Jaff. Now thank Heav'n ———

Pier. Thank Heav'n! for what?

Jaff. That I'm not worth a Ducat. [Venice,

Pier. Curse thy dull Stars, and the worst Fate of Where Brothers, Friends, and Fathers are all false;
 Where there's no Truth, no Truth; where Innocence
 Stoops under vile Oppressions, and Vice lords it.
 Hadst thou but seen, as I did, how at last
 Thy beauteous Belvidera, like a Wretch
 That's doom'd to Banishment, came weeping forth,
 Shining thro' Tears, like April-Suns in Showers,
 That labour to o'ercome the Cloud that loads 'em;
 Whilst two young Virgins, on whose Arms she lean'd,
 Kindly look'd up, and at her Grief grew sad,
 As if they catch'd the Sorrows that fell from her;
 E'en the lewd Rabble, that were gather'd round
 'To see the Sight, stood mute when they beheld her;
 Govern'd their roaring Throats, and grumbled Pity;
 I cou'd have hugg'd the greasy Rogues: They pleas'd me.

Jaff. I thank thee for this Story from my Soul,
 Since now I know the worst that can befall me:
 Ah, Pierre! I have a Heart that could have borne
 The roughest Wrong my Fortune could have done me;
 But when I think what Belvidera feels,
 The Bitterness her tender Spirits taste of,
 I own myself a Coward: Bear my Weakness;
 If, throwing thus my Arms about thy Neck,
 I play the Boy, and blubber in thy Bosom:
 Oh! I shall drown thee with my Sorrows.

Pier. Burn,

First burn, and level Venice to thy Ruin.
 What! Starve like Beggars Brats in frosty Weather
 Under a Hedge, and whine ourselves to Death!
 Thou, or thy Cause, shall never want Assistance,
 Whilst I have Blood or Fortune fit to serve thee:
 Command my Heart; thou'rt every Way its Master.

Jaff. No, there's a secret Pride in bravely doing.

Pier. Rats die in Holes and Corners, Dogs run mad;
 Man knows a braver Remedy for Sorrow;
 Revenge, the Attribute of Gods; they stamp'd it
 With their great Image on our Natures. Die!
 Consider well the Cause, that calls upon thee;
 And, if thou'rt base enough, die then: Remember
 Thy Belvidera suffers, Belvidera!
 Die——damn first——what! Be decently interr'd
 In a Church-Yard, and mingle thy brave Dust
 With stinking Rogues, that rot in dirty Winding-sheets,
 Surfeit-slain Fools, the common Dung o'th' Soil!

Jaff. Oh!

Pier. Well said, out with't, swear a little——

Jaff. Swear! By Sea and Air; by Earth, by Heav'n and Hell,

I will revenge my Belvidera's Tears.

Hark thee, my Friend——Priuli——is——a Senator.

Pier. A Dog.

Jaff. Agreed.

Pier. Shoot him.

Jaff. With all my Heart.

No more; Where shall we meet at Night?

Pier. I'll tell thee;

On the Rialto, every Night at Twelve
 I take my Evening's Walk of Meditation;
 There we two'll meet, and talk of precious
 Mischiefs——

Jaff. Farewel.

Pier. At Twelve.

Jaff. At any Hour; my Plagues
 Will keep me waking.

[Ex. Pierre.]

Tell me why, good Heaven,
 Thou mad'st me what I am, with all the Spirit,
 Aspiring Thoughts and elegant Desires.

That fill the happiest Man? Ah rather why
 Didst thou not form me fordid as my Fate,
 Base-minded, dull, and fit to carry Burdens?
 Why have I Sense to know the Curse that's on me?
 Is this just Dealing, Nature? Belvidera!

Enter Belvidera.

Poor Belvidera!

Bel. Lead me, lead me, my Virgins,
 To that kind Voice. My Lord, my Love, my Refuge!
 Happy my Eyes, when they behold thy Face!
 My heavy Heart will leave its doleful Beating
 At Sight of thee, and bound with sprightly Joys.
 Oh smile! as when our Loves were in their Spring,
 And cheer my fainting Soul.

Jaff. As when our Loves
 Were in their Spring! has then our Fortune chang'd?
 Art thou not Belvidera, still the same,
 Kind, good, and tender, as my Arms first found thee?
 If thou art alter'd, where shall I have Harbour?
 Where ease my loaded Heart? Oh! where complain?

Bel. Does this appear like Change, or Love decaying,
 When thus I throw myself into thy Bosom,
 With all the Resolution of strong Truth?
 Beats not my Heart, as 'twould alarm thine
 'To a new Charge of Bliss? I joy more in thee,
 Than did thy Mother when she hugg'd thee first,
 And bless'd the Gods for all her Travel past.

Jaff. Can there in Women be such glorious Faith?
 Sure all ill Stories of thy Sex are false!
 Oh Woman! lovely Woman! Nature made thee
 To temper Man: We had been Brutes without you;
 Angels are painted fair to look like you:
 There's in you all that we believe of Heaven,
 Amazing Brightness, Purity and Truth,
 Eternal Joy, and everlasting Love.

Bel. If Love be Treasure, we'll be wond'rous rich;
 I have so much, my Heart will surely break with't:
 Vows can't express it. When I would declare
 How great's the Joy, I'm dumb with the big Thought;
 I swell, I sigh, and labour with my Longing.
 O! lead me to some Desert wide and wild,

Barren

Barren as our Misfortunes, where my Soul
May have its Vent, where I may tell aloud
To the high Heavens and ev'ry list'ning Planet,
With what a boundless Shock my Bosom's fraught;
Where I may throw my eager Arms about thee,
Give Loose to Love, with Kisses kindling Joy,
And let off all the Fire that's in my Heart.

Jaff. Oh Belvidera! doubly I'm a Beggar,
Undone by Fortune, and in Debt to thee.
Want, worldly Want, that hungry meagre Fiend,
Is at my Heels, and chaces me in View.
Can'st thou bear Cold and Hunger? Can these Limbs,
Fram'd for the tender Offices of Love,
Endure the bitter Gripes of smarting Poverty?
When banish'd by our Miseries abroad
(As suddenly we shall be) to seek out
In some fair Climate, where our Names are Strangers,
For charitable Succour; wilt thou then,
When in a Bed of Straw we shrink together,
And the bleak Winds shall whistle round our Heads;
Wilt thou then talk thus to me? Wilt thou then
Hush my Cares thus, and shelter me with Love?

Bel. Oh! I will love thee, even in Madness love thee;
Tho' my distracted Senses should forsake me,
I'd find some Intervals, when my poor Heart
Should 'swage itself, and be let loose to thine.
Tho' the bare Earth be all our Resting-place,
Its Roots our Food, some Clift our Habitation,
I'll make this Arm a Pillow for thine Head;
As thou sighing ly'st, and swell'd with Sorrow,
Creep to thy Bosom, pour the Balm of Love
Into thy Soul, and kiss thee to thy Rest;
Then praise our God, and watch thee till the Morning,

Jaff. Hear this, you Heav'ns! and wonder how you made her:

Reign, reign, ye Monarchs that divide the World,
Busy Religion ne'er will let you know
Tranquillity and Happiness like mine;
Like gaudy Ships, the obsequious Billows fall,
And rise again, to lift you in your Pride;
They wait but for a Storm, and then devour you:

I in my private Bark already wreck'd,
 Like a poor Merchant driven to unknown Land,
 That had by Chance pack'd up his choicest Treasure
 In one dear Casket, and sav'd only that;
 Since I must wander farther on the Shore,
 Thus hug my little, but my precious Store,
 Resolv'd to scorn, and trust my Fate no more. Ex. }

ACT II. SCENE I.

Enter Pierre and Aquilina.

Aqui. BY all thy Wrongs, thou'rt dearer to my Arms
 Than all the Wealth of Venice: Prithee stay,
 And let us love to Night.

Pier. No: There's Fool,
 There's Fool about thee: When a Woman sells
 Her Flesh to Fools, her Beauty's lost to me;
 They leave a tainted Sully, where they've pass'd;
 There's such a baneful Quality about 'em,
 E'en spoils Complexions with their Nauseousness;
 They infect all they touch: I cannot think
 Of tasting any Thing that a Fool has pall'd.

Aqui. I loath and scorn that Fool thou mean'st as much
 Or more than thou can'st; but the Beast has Gold,
 That makes him necessary; Power too,
 To qualify my Character, and poise me
 Equal with peevish Virtue that beholds
 My Liberty with Envy: In their Hearts
 They're loose as I am; but an ugly Power
 Sits in their Faces, and frights Pleasures from them.

Pier. Much good may't do you, Madam, with your Senator.

Aqui. My Senator! why, canst thou think that Wretch
 E'er fill'd thy Aquilina's Arms with Pleasure?
 Think'st thou, because I sometimes give him Leave
 To foil himself at what he is unfit for;
 Because I force myself t'endure and suffer him,
 Think'st thou I love him? No, by all the Joys
 Thou ever gav'st me, his Presence is my Penance;

The

The worst Thing an old Man can be's a Lover,
A mere Memento mori to poor Woman :
I never lay by his decrepid Side,
But all that Night I ponder'd on my Grave.

Pier. Would he were well sent thither.

Aqui. That's my Wish too :

For then, my Pierre, I might have Cause, with Pleasure,
To play the Hypocrite : Oh ! how I could weep
Over the dying Dotard, and kiss him too,
In hopes to smother him quite ; then, when the Time
Was come to pay my Sorrows at his Funeral,
(For he has already made me Heir to Treasures
Would make me out act a real Widow's Whining)
How could I frame my Face to fit my Mourning !
With wringing Hands attend him to his Grave,
Fall swooning on his Hearse ; take mad Possession
E'en of the dismal Vault, where he lay buried ;
There, like th' Ephefian Matron, dwell, till thou,
My lovely Soldier, com'st to my Deliverance ;
Then, throwing up my Veil, with open Arms
And laughing Eyes, run to new dawning Joy.

Pier. No more ; I've Friends to meet me here to Night,
And must be private. As you prize my Friendship,
Keep up your Coxcomb ; let him not pry nor listen,
Nor frisk about the House, as I have seen him,
Like a tame mumping Squirrel with a Bell on ;
Curs will be abroad to bite him, if you do.

Aqui. What Friends to meet ! mayn't I be of your Council ?

Pier. How ! a Woman ask Questions out of Bed !
Go to your Senator ; ask him what passes
Amongst his Brethren : He'll hide nothing from you :
But pump not me for Politicks, no more.
Give Order, that whoever in my Name
Comes here, receive Admittance. So good Night.

Aqui. Must we ne'er meet again ! embrace no more ?
Is Love so soon and utterly forgotten ? [on't.

Pier. As you henceforward treat your Fool, I'll think

Aqui. Curs'd be all Fools, and doubly curs'd myself,
The worst of Fools — I die if he forsakes me ;
And how to keep him Heaven or Hell instruct me. [Ex.

SCENE, the Rialto.Enter Jaffier.

Jaff. I'm here, and thus the Shades of Night around
 I look as if all Hell were in my Heart, [me,
 And I in Hell. Nay, surely 'tis so with me!——
 For, every Step I tread, methinks some Fiend
 Knocks at my Breast, and bids it not be quiet.
 I've heard how desperate Wretches, like myself,
 Have wander'd out at this dead Time of Night,
 To meet the Foe of Mankind in his Walk:
 Sure I'm so curs'd, that, tho' of Heav'n forsaken,
 No Minister of Darkness cares to tempt me.
 Hell, Hell, why sleep'st thou?

Enter Pierre.

Pier. Sure I've staid too long:
 The Clock has struck, and I may lose my Profelyte.
 Speak, who goes there?

Jaff. A Dog, that comes to howl
 At yonder Moon. What's he, that asks the Question?

Pier. A Friend to Dogs, for they are honest Creatures,
 And ne'er betray their Masters, never fawn
 On any that they love not. Well met, Friend

Jaffier!

Jaff. The same. O Pierre, thou'rt come in Season,
 I was just going to pray.

Pier. Ah; that's mechanick;
 Priests make a Trade on't, and yet starve by't too;
 No Praying; it spoils Business, and Time's precious.
 Where's Belvidera?——

Jaff. For a Day or two
 I've lodg'd her privately, till I see farther
 What Fortune will do with me. Prithee, Friend,
 If thou would'st have me fit to hear good Counsel,
 Speak not of Belvidera——

Pier. Speak not of her!

Jaff. Oh no!

Pier. Nor name her? May be I wish her well.

Jaff. Whom well?

Pier. Thy Wife, thy lovely Belvidera.

I hope

I hope a Man may wish his Friend's Wife well,
And no Harm done.

Jaff. Y' are merry, Pierre.

Pier. I am so :

Thou shalt smile too, and Belvidera smile :

We'll all rejoice : here's something to buy Pins ;

[Gives him a Purse.

Marriage is chargeable.

Jaff. I but half wish'd
To see the Devil, and he's here already. Well !
What must this buy, Rebellion, Murder, Treason ?
Tell me, which Way I must be damn'd for this.

Pier. When last we parted, we'd no Qualms like these,

But entertain'd each other's Thoughts like Men,
Whose Souls were well acquainted. Is the World
Reform'd since our last Meeting ; what new Miracles
Have happen'd ? Has Priuli's Heart relented ?
Can he be honest ?

Jaff. Kind Heav'n, let heavy Curses
Gall his old Age ; Cramps, Aches rack his Bones,
And bitterest Disquiet ring his Heart.
Oh ! let him live, till Life become his Burden ;
Let him groan under't long, linger an Age
In the worst Agonies and Pangs of Death,
And find its Ease, but late.

Pier. Nay, could'st thou not
As well, my Friend, have stretch'd the Curse to all
The Senate round, as to one single Villain ?

Jaff. But Curses stick not : Could I kill with Cursing.
By Heav'n I know not thirty Heads in Venice
Should not be blasted : Senators should rot
Like Dogs on Dunghills : But their Wives and Daughters
Die of their own Diseases. Oh ! for a Curse
To kill him !

Pier. Daggers, Daggers are much better.

Jaff. Ha !

Pier. Daggers.

Jaff. But where are they ?

Pier. Oh ! a Thousand
May be dispos'd of in honest Hands in Venice.

Jaff. Thou talk'st in Clouds.

Pier. But yet a Heart half wrong'd,
As thine has been, would find the Meaning, Jaffier.

Jaff. A thousand Daggers all in honest Hands!
And have I not a Friend will stick one here?

Pier. Yes, if I thought thou wert not to be cherish'd
T' a nobler Purpose, I would be that Friend,
But thou hast better Friends; Friends whom thy Wrongs
Have made thy Friends; Friends worthy to be call'd so.
I'll trust thee with a Secret: There are Spirits
This Hour at Work. But as thou'rt a Man,
Whom I have pick'd and chosen from the World,
Swear that thou wilt be true to what I utter;
And when I've told thee that which only Gods,
And Men like Gods, are privy to, then swear
No Chance or Change shall wrest it from thy Bosom.

Jaff. When thou would'st bind me, is there Need of Oaths? [ters)

(Green-sickness Girls lose Maidenheads with such Cour-
For thou'rt so near my Heart, that thou may'st see
Its Bottom, sound its Strength and Firmness to thee:
Is Coward, Fool, or Villain in my Face?
If I seem none of these, I dare believe
Thou would'st not use me in a little Cause,
For I am fit for Honour's roughest Task;
Nor never yet found Fooling was my Province:
And for a villainous inglorious Enterprize
I know thy Heart so well, I dare lay mine
Before thee, set it to what Point thou wilt.

Pier. Nay, 'tis a Cause thou wilt be fond of, Jaffier;
For it is founded on the noblest Basis,
Our Liberties, our natural Inheritance;
There's no Religion, no Hypocrisy in't;
We'll do the Business, and ne'er fast and pray for't:
Openly act a Deed the World may gaze
With Wonder at, and envy when 'tis done.

Jaff. For Liberty!

Pier. For Liberty, my Friend;
Thou shalt be freed from base Priuli's Tyranny,
And thy sequester'd Fortunes heal'd again:
I shall be free from those opprobrious Wrongs,

That

That prefs me now, and bend my Spirit downward ;
All Venice free, and every growing Merit
Succeed to its just Right : Fools shall be pull'd
From Wisdom's Seat ; those baleful unclean Birds
Those lazy Owls, who (perch'd near Fortune's Top)
Sit only watchful with their heavy Wings
To cuff down new fledg'd Virtues, that would rise
To nobler Heights, and make the Grove harmonious.

Jaff. What can I do ?

Pier. Can'st thou not kill a Senator ?

Jaff. Were there one wise or honest, I could kill him
For herding with that Nest of Fools or Knaves.
By all my Wrongs, thou talk'st as if Revenge
Were to be had ; and the brave Story warms me.

Pier. Swear then !

Jaff. I do, by all those glittering Stars,
And youⁿ great ruling Planet of the Night,
By all good Powers above and ill below,
By Love and Friendship dearer than my Life,
No Pow'r or Death shall make me false to thee.

Pier. Here we embrace, and I'll unlock my Heart.
A Council's held hard by, where the Destruction
Of this great Empire's hatching : There I'll lead thee,
But be a Man, for thou art to mix with Men
Fit to disturb the Peace of all the World,
And rule it when 'tis wildest——

Jaff. I give thee Thanks
For this kind Warning : Yes I'll be a Man ;
And charge thee, Pierre, whene'er thou seest my Fears
Betray me less, to rip this Heart of mine
Out of my Breast, and shew it for a Coward's.
Come, let's be gone, for from this Hour I chace
All little Thoughts, all tender human Follies
Out of my Bosom : Vengeance shall have Room :
Revenge !

Pierre. And Liberty !

Jaff. Revenge ! Revenge ——

The SCENE changes to Aquilina's House, the Greek Courtezan.

Enter Renault.

Ren. Why was my Choice Ambition, the worst Ground
A Wretch

A Wretch can build on? 'tis, indeed, at a Distance,
 A good Prospect, tempting to the View;
 The Height delights us, and the Mountain-top
 Looks beautiful, because 'tis nigh to Heav'n;
 But we ne'er think how sandy's the Foundation,
 What Storm will batter, and what Tempest shake us.
 Who's there?

Enter Spinosa.

Spin. Renault, Good-morrow, for by this Time
 I think the Scale of Night has turn'd the Balance,
 And weighs up Morning? Has the Clock struck Twelve?

Ren. Yes; Clocks will go as they are set: But Man,
 Irregular Man's ne'er constant, never certain:
 I've spent at least three precious Hours of Darkness
 In waiting dull Attendance; 'tis the Curse
 Of diligent Virtue to be mix'd, like mine,
 With giddy Tempers, Souls but half resolv'd.

Spin. Hell seize that Soul amongst us it can frighten.

Ren. What's then the Cause that I am here alone?
 Why are we not together?

Enter Eliot.

O, Sir, welcome!

You are an Englishman: When Treason's hatching,
 One might have thought you'd not have been behindhand.

In what Whore's Lap have you been lolling?
 Give but an Englishman his Whore and Ease,
 Beef, and a Sea-coal Fire, he's yours for ever.

Eli. Frenchman, you are faucy.

Ren. How?

Enter Bedamar the Ambassador, Theodore, Bramveil, Durand, Brabe, Revillido, Mezzana, Ternon, Retrofi, Conspirators.

Bed. At Difference, fie?

Is this a Time for Quarrels? Thieves and Rogues
 Fall out and brawl: Should Men of Your high Calling,
 Men separated by the Choice of Providence
 From the gross Heap of Mankind, and set here
 In this Assembly as in one great Jewel,
 T' adorn the bravest Purpose it e'er smil'd on;
 Should you, like Boys, wrangle for Trifles?

Ren. Boys!

Bed.

Bed. Renault, thy Hand.

Ren. I thought I'd given my Heart
Long since to every Man that mingles here ;
But grieve to find it trusted with such Tempers,
That can't forgive my forward Age its Weakness.

Bed. Eliot, thou once had'st Virtue ; I have seen
Thy stubborn Temper bend with God-like Goodness,
Not half thus courted : 'Tis thy Nation's Glory
To hug the Foe that offers brave Alliance.
One more embrace, my Friends—we'll all embrace—
United thus, we are the mighty Engine
Must twist the rooted Empire from its Basis,
Totters not it already ?

Eli. Would 'twere tumbling.

Bed. Nay, it shall down : This Night we seal its Ruin.

Enter Pierre.

Oh ! Pierre, thou art welcome.
Come to my Breast, for by its Hopes thou look'st
Lovely dreadful, and the Fate of Venice
Seems on thy Sword already. Oh ! my Mars !
The Poets, that first feign'd a God of War,
Sure prophecy'd of thee.

Pier. Friends, was not Brutus,
(I mean that Brutus, who in open Senate Stabb'd the first Cæsar that usurp'd the World)
A gallant Man ?

Ren. Yes, and Cataline too ;
Tho' Story wrong his Fame : For he conspir'd
To prop the reeling Glory of his Country :
His Cause was good.

Bed. And our's as much above it,
As Renault, thou'rt superior to Cethegus,
Or Pierre, to Cassius.

Pier. Then to what we aim at,
When do we start ? or must we talk for ever ?

Bed. No, Pierre, the Deed's near Birth : Fate seems to have set
The Business up, and given it to our Care :
I hope there's not a Heart or Hand amongst us,
But is firm and ready.

All. All.

We'll

We'll die with Bedamar.

Bed. O Men

Matchless ! as will your Glory be hereafter :
The Game is for a matchless Prize, if won :
If lost, disgraceful Ruin.

Ren. Who can lose it ?

The publick Stock's a Beggar ; one Venetian
Trusts not another ; Look into their Stores
Of general Safety ; empty Magazines,
A tatter'd Fleet, a murmuring unpaid Army,
Bankrupt Nobility, a harrafs'd Commonalty,
A factious, giddy, and divided Senate,
Is all the Strength of Venice : Let's destroy it ;
Let's fill their Magazines with Arms to awe them,
Man out their Fleet, and make their Trade maintain it ;
Let loose their murmuring Army on their Masters
To pay themselves with Plunder ; lop their Nobles
To the base Roots, whence most of them first sprung ;
Enslave the Rout, whom Smarting will make humble ;
Turn out their droning Senate, and possess
That Seat of Empire which our Souls were fram'd for.

Pier. Ten thousand Men are armed at your Nod,
Commanded all by Leaders fit to guide

A Battle for the Freedom of the World :

This wretched State has starv'd them in its Service ;
And, by your Bounty quicken'd, they're resolv'd
To serve your Glory, and revenge their own :
They're all their different Quarters in this City,
Watch for the Alarm and grumble 'tis so tardy.

Bed. I doubt not, Friend, but thy unwearied Diligence
Has still kept waking, and it shall have Ease ;
After this Night it is resolv'd we meet
No more, till Venice owns us for her Lords.

Pier. How lovely the Adriatic Whore,
Dress'd in her Flames, will shine ! devouring Flames !
Such as shall burn her to the watry Bottom,
And hiss in her Foundation.

Bed. Now if any
Amongst us, that owns this glorious Cause,
Have Friends or Interest he'd wish to save,
Let it be told : The general Doom is seal'd

But

But I'd forego the Hopes of a World's Empire,
Rather than wound the Bowels of my Friend.

Pier. I must confess, you there have touch'd my
I have a Friend, hear it! such a Friend! [Weakness,
My Heart was ne'er shut to him. Nay I tell you:
He knows the very Business of this Hour;
But he rejoices in the Cause, and loves it:
We've chang'd a Vow to live and die together,
And he's at Hand to ratify it here.

Ren. How! all betray'd.

Pier. No—I've dealt nobly with you,
I've brought my All into the publick Stock:
I'd but one Friend, and him I'll share amongst you:
Receive and cherish him; or if, when seen
And search'd, you find him worthless, as my Tongue
Has lodg'd this Secret in his faithful Breast,
To ease your Fears I wear a Dagger here
Shall rip it out again, and give you Rest.
Come forth, thou only Good I e'er could boast of.

Enter Jaffier with a Dagger.

Bed. His Presence bears the Shew of manly Virtue.

Jaff. I know you'll wonder all, that thus uncall'd
I dare approach this Place of fatal Councils;
But I'm amongst you, and by Heav'n it glads me
To see so many Virtues thus united
To restore Justice, and dethrone Oppression.
Command this Sword, if you would have it quiet,
Into this Breast; but, if you think it worthy
To cut the Throats of Reverend Rogues in Robes,
Send me into the curs'd assembled Senate:
It shrinks not, tho' I meet a Father there.
Would you behold this City flaming? Here's
A Hand shall bear a lighted Torch at Noon
To th' Arsenal, and set its Gates on Fire.

Ren. You talk this well, Sir.

Jaff. Nay——by Heaven I'll do this.
Come, come, I read Distrust in all your Faces:
You fear me a Villain, and indeed it's odd
To hear a Stranger talk thus, at first Meeting,
Of Matters that have been so well debated;
But I come ripe with Wrongs, as you with Councils:
I hate

I hate this Senate, am a Foe to Venice ;
 A Friend to none, but Men resolv'd like me
 To push on Mischief. Oh! did you but know me,
 I need not talk thus!

Bed. Pierre, I must embrace him,
 My Heart beats to this Man, as if it knew him.

Ren. I never lov'd these Huggers.

Jaff. Still I see
 The Cause delights me not. Your Friends survey me
 As I were dangerous——But I come arm'd
 Against all Doubts, and to your Trust will give
 A Pledge, worth more than all the World can pay for,
 My Belvidera. Ho! my Belvidera!

Bed. What Wonder next?

Jaff. Let me intreat you,
 As I have henceforth Hope to call you Friends,
 That all but the Ambassador, this
 Grave Guide of Councils, with my Friend that owns me, Withdraw a While to spare a Woman's Blushes.

[Exeunt all but Bed. Ren. Jaff. Pier.

Bed. Pierre, whither will this Ceremony lead us?

Jaff. My Belvidera! Belvidera!

Enter Belvidera.

Belv. Who?

Who calls so loud at this late peaceful Hour?
 That Voice was wont to come in gentle Whispers,
 And fill my Ears with the soft Breath of Love:
 Thou hourly Image of my Thoughts, where art thou?

Jaff. Indeed 'tis late.

Belv. Oh! I have slept and dreamt,
 And dreamt again: Where hast thou been, thou Loiterer?
 Tho' my Eyes clos'd, my Arms have still been open'd:
 Stretch'd every Way betwixt my broken Slumbers,
 To search if thou wer't come to crown my Rest:
 There's no Repose without thee: Oh! the Day
 Too soon will break, and wake us to our Sorrow:
 Come, come to Bed and bid thy Cares Good-night.

Jaff. Oh! Belvidera! we must change the Scene,
 In which the past Delights of Love were tasted:
 The Poor sleeps little; we must learn to watch
 Our Labours late and early every Morning;

'Midst

'Midst Winter Frosts, thin clad and fed with Sparing,
Rise to our Toils, and drudge away the Day.

Belv. Alas! where am I! whither is't you lead me?
Methinks I read Distraction in your Face,
Something less gentle than the Fate you tell me.
You shake and tremble too! your Blood runs cold!
Heav'ns guard my Love, and bless his Heart with Patience.

Jaff. That I have Patience, let our Fate bear Witness,
Who has ordain'd it so, that thou and I,
(Thou, the divinest Good Man e'er possess'd,
And I, the wretched'st of the Race of Man)
This very Hour without one Tear must part.

Belv. Part! must we part? Oh! am I then forsaken?
Why drag you from me? whither are you going?
My Dear! my Life! my Love!

Jaff. Oh! Friend!

Belv. Speak to me.

Jaff. Take her from my Heart,
She'll gain such Hold else, I shall ne'er get loose;
I charge thee take her, but with tender'st Care
Relieve her Troubles, and assuage her Sorrows.

Ren. Rise, Madam, and command amongst your Servants.

Jaff. To you, Sir, and your Honours, I bequeath her,
And with her this, when I prove unworthy——

[Gives a Dagger.

You know the rest——Then strike it to her Heart;
And tell her, he who three whole happy Years
Lay in her Arms, and each Night repeated
'The passionate Vows still of increasing Love,
Sent that Reward for all her Truth and Sufferings.

Belv. Nay, take my Life, since he has sold it cheaply;
Or send to me to some distant Clime your Slave!
But let it be far off, lest my Complaining
Should reach his guilty Ears, and shake his Peace.

Jaff. No, Belvidera, I've contriv'd thy Honour:
Trust to my Faith, and be but Fortune kind
To me, as I'll preserve that Faith unbroken,
When next we meet, I'll lift thee to a Height
Shall gather all the gazing World about thee,

To

To wonder what strange Virtue plac'd thee there.
But, if we ne'er meet more—

Belv. O! thou unkind one;
Ne'er meet more! have I deserv'd this from you?
Look on me, tell me, tell me; speak thou dear Deceiver.
Why am I separated from thy Love?
If I am false, accuse me; but if true,
Don't, prithee don't, in Poverty forsake me?
But pity the sad Heart, that's torn with Parting.
Yet hear me? yet recal me—[Ex. Ren. Bed. and Belv.

Jaff. Oh! My Eyes,
Look not that Way, but turn yourselves a While
Into my Heart, and be wean'd altogether.
My Friend, where art thou?

Pier. Here, my Honour's Brother.

Jaff. Is Belvidera gone?

Pier. Renault has led her
Back to her own Apartment; but, by Heav'n,
Thou must not see her more, till our Work's over.

Jaff. No?

Pier. Not for your Life.

Jaff. O Pierre, wer't thou but she,
How I would pull thee down into my Heart,
Gaze on thee till my Eye-strings crack'd with Love;
Till all my Sinews with its Fire extended,
Fix'd me upon the Rack of ardent Longing:
Then, swelling, fighting, raging to be blest,
Come like a panting Turtle to thy Breast;
On thy soft Bosom hovering, bill and play,
Confess the Cause why last I fled away;
Own 'twas a Fault, but swear to give it o'er.
And never follow false Ambition more. [Exeunt.

ACT III. SCENE I.

Enter Aquilina and her Maid.

Aqui. TELL him I am gone to Bed; tell him I am not at home; tell him I've better Company with me, or any thing; tell him, in short, I will not see him, the eternal troublesome vexatious Fool: He's worse Company than an ignorant Physician——I'll not be disturb'd at these unreasonable Hours.

Maid. But, Madam! He's here already, just enter'd the Doors.

Aqui. Turn him out again, you unnecessary, useless, giddy-brain'd Ass: If he will not be gone, set the House a Fire, and burn us both: I'd rather meet a Toad in my Dish, than an old hideous Animal in my Chamber to Night.

Enter Antonio.

Ant. Nacky, Nacky, Nacky——how dost do, Nacky? Hurry, durry. I am come, little Nacky; past Eleven o' Clock, a late Hour; Time in all Conscience to go to Bed, Nacky——Nacky, did I say? Ah, Nacky, Aquilina, lina, lina, quilina, quilina, quilina, Aquilina, Naquilina, Naquilina, Acky, Acky, Nacky, Nacky, Queen Nacky——come, let's to Bed——you Fubbs, you Pugg you——you little Puss——Purree, Tuzzy——I am a Senator.

Aqui. You are a Fool, I am sure.

Ant. May be so too, Sweetheart: Never the worse Senator for all that. Come, Nacky, Nacky, let's have a Game at Romps, Nacky.

Aqui. You would do well, Signor, to be troublesome here no longer, but leave me to myself; be sober and go Home, Sir.

Ant. Home, Madona!

Aqui. Ay, Home, Sir. Who am I?

Ant. Madona, as I take it, you are my—you are——thou art my little Nicky, Nacky——that's all.

Aqui. I find you are resolv'd to be troublesome; and so to make short of the Matter in few Words, I hate you, detest detest you, loath you, I am weary of you, sick of you—hang you, you are an old, silly, impertinent, impotent, sollicitous Coxcomb; crazy in your Head, and lazy in your Body, love to be meddling with every thing, and, if you had no Money, you are good for nothing.

Ant. Good for nothing! Hurry durry, I'll try that presently. Sixty-one Years old, and good for nothing! that's brave: [To the Maid] Come, come, come Mrs. Fiddle-Faddle, turn you out for a Season: Go, turn out, I say, it is our Will and Pleasure to be private some Moments——out, out, when you are bid too—[Puts her out and locks the Door] Good for nothing you say?

Aqui. Why, what are you good for?

Ant. In the first Place, Madam, I am old, and consequently very wise, very wise, Madona, d'ye mark that? In the second Place, take Notice if you please, that I am a Senator, and, when I think fit, can make Speeches, Madona. Hurry durry, I can make a Speech in the Senate-House now and then—would make your Hair stand an End, Madona.

Aqui. What care I for your Speeches in the Senate-House; if you would but be silent here, I should thank you.

Ant. Why I can make Speeches to thee too, my lovely Madona; for Example——My cruel Fair one, [takes out a Purse of Gold, and at every Pause shakes it. Since it is my Fate, that you should with your Servant angry prove; tho' late at Night——I hope 'tis not too late with this to gain Reception for my Love—There's for thee, my little Nicky Nacky—take it, here take it—I say take it, or I'll throw it at your Head—how now, Rebel!

Aqui. Truly, my illustrious Senator, I must confess your Honour is at present most profoundly eloquent indeed.

Ant. Very well: Come, now let's sit down and think upon't a little——come, sit, I say——sit down by me a little, my Nicky Nacky, ha——[Sits down] Hurry durry——good for nothing——

Aqui. No, Sir, if you please, I can know my Distance, and stand.

Ant.

Ant. Stand! How Nacky up and I down! Nay, then let me exclaim with the Poet,

*Shew me a Case more pitiful who can,
A standing Woman and a falling Man.*

Hurry durry—not sit down—see this, ye Gods
You won't sit down?

Aqui. No, Sir.

Ant. Then look you now, suppose me a Bull, a Basan-Bull, the Bull of Bulls, or any Bull. Thus up I get and with my Brows thus bent—I broo, I say I broo, I broo, I broo. You won't sit down will you—I broo—

[Belows like a Bull, and drives her about.]

Aqui. Well, Sir, I must endure this. [She sits down.] Now your Honour has been a Bull, pray what Beast will your Worship please to be next?

Ant. Now I'll be a Senator again, and thy Lover, little Nicky Nacky. [He sits by her.] Ah! Toad, Toad, Toad, Toad! spit in my Face a little, Nacky,—spit in my Face prithee, spit in my Face never so little: Spit but a little bit——spit, spit, spit, spit when you are bid, I say; do, prithee spit—now, now, now, spit; what you won't spit, will you? Then I'll be a Dog.

Aqui. A Dog, my Lord!

Ant. Ay a Dog—and I'll give thee this t'other Purse to let me be a Dog—and use me like a Dog a little. Hurry durry—I will—here 'tis—[Gives the Purse.]

Aqui. Well, with all my Heart. But let me beseech your Dogship to play your Tricks over as fast as you can, that you may come to stinking the sooner, and be turn'd out of Doors as you deserve.

Ant. Ay, ay——no matter for that——that shan't move——[He gets under the Table.] Now, bough, waugh waugh, bough waugh——[Barks like a Dog.]

Aqui. Hold, hold, hold, Sir, I beseech you: What is't you do? If Curs bite, they must be kick'd, Sir: Do you see, kick'd thus.

Ant. Ay, with all my Heart: Do, kick, kick on, now I am under the Table, kick again——kick harder——harder yet, bough waugh waugh, waugh, bough—— odd odd I'll have a Snap at thy Shins—bough waugh waugh, waugh, bough——odd, she kicks bravely——

Aqui. Nay, then I'll go another Way to work with you: And I think here's an Instrument fit for the Purpose!

[Fetches a Whip and a Bell.

What, bite your Mistrefs, Sirrah! out of Doors you Dog, to Kennel, and be hang'd.—bite your Mistrefs by the Legs, you Rogue——

[She whips him.

Ant. Nay, prithee Nacky, now thou art too loving: Hurry durry, odd, I'll be a Dog no longer.

Aqui. Nay, none of your Fawning and Grinning: But be gone, or here's the Discipline: What bite your Mistrefs by the Leg, you Mungrel! out of Doors—hout, hout, to Kennel, Sirrah, go.

Ant. This is very barbarous Usage, Nacky, very barbarous; look you, I will not go—I will not stir from the Door, that I resolve—hurry durry, what shut me out?

[She whips him out.

Aqui. Ay, if you come here any more to Night, I'll have my Footman lug you, you Cur; What, bite your poor Mistrefs Nacky, Sirrah!

Enter Maid.

Maid. Heaven's! Madam, what's the Matter?

[He howls at the Door like a Dog.

Aqui. Call my Footmen hither presently.

Enter two Footmen.

Maid. They're here already, Madam, all the House is alarm'd with a strange Noise, that no-body knows what to make of.

Aqui. Go, all of you, and turn that troublesome Beast in the next Room out of my House—If ever I see him within these Walls again without my Leave for his Admittance, you sneaking Rogues—I'll have you poison'd, all poison'd like Rats; every Corner of the House shall stink of one of you; Go, and learn hereafter to know my Pleasure. So; now for my Pierre.

Thus, when the Godlike Lover is displeas'd,

We sacrifice our Fool, and he's appeas'd. [Exeunt.

SCENE

S C E N E II.

Enter Belvidera.

Belv. I'm sacrific'd! I'm sold! betray'd to Shame!
Inevitable Ruin has inclos'd me!
No sooner was I to my Bed repair'd
To weigh and (weeping) ponder my Condition,
But the old hoary Wretch, to whose false Care
My Peace and Honour was intrusted, came (Like Tarquin) ghastly with infernal Lust.
Oh! thou Roman Lucrece! thou could'st find Friends to vindicate thy Wrong?
I never had but one, and he's prov'd false:
He that should guard my Virtue, has betray'd it;
Left me! Undone me! Oh that I could hate him!
Where shall I go? Oh whither, whither wander!

Enter Jaffier.

Jaff. Can Belvidera want a Resting-place,
When these poor Arms are ready to receive her!
Oh! 'tis in vain to struggle with Desires.
Strong is my Love to thee; for, every Moment
I'm from thy Sight, the Heart within my Bosom
Mourns like a tender Infant in its Cradle,
Whose Nurse had left it: Come, and with the Songs
Of gentle Love persuade it to his Peace.

Belv. I fear the stubborn Wanderer will not own me;
'Tis grown a Rebel, to be rul'd no longer,
Scorns the indulgent Bosom that first lull'd it;
And, like a disobedient Child, disdains.
The soft Authority of Belvidera.

Jaff. There was a Time——

Belv. Yes, yes, there was a Time
When Belvidera's Tears, her Cries, and Sorrows,
Were not despis'd; when if she chanc'd to sigh,
Or look but sad; —— there was indeed a Time
When Jaffier would have ta'en her in his Arms,
Eas'd her declining Head upon his Breast,
And never left her till he found the Cause.
But let her now weep Seas,
Cry till she rend the Earth, sigh till she burst

C

Her

he

Her Heart afunder; still she bears it all,
Deaf as the Wind, and as the Rocks unshaken.

Jaff. Have I been deaf? Am I that Rock unmov'd, Against whose Root Tears beat, and Sighs are sent?
In vain have I beheld thy Sorrows calmly!
Witness against me, Heav'n's, have I done this?
Then bear me in a Whirlwind back again,
And let that angry dear One ne'er forgive me.
Oh! thou too rashly censur'st of my Love!
Could'st thou but think how I have spent this Night,
Dark and alone, no Pillow to my Head,
Rest in my Eyes, nor Quiet in my Heart!
Thou would'st not, Belvidera, surely thou would'st not Talk to me thus, but like a pitying Angel,
Spreading thy Wings, come settle on my Breast
And hatch warm Comforts there, e're Sorrows freeze it.

Belv. Why then, poor Mourner, in what baleful Corner
Hast thou been talking with that Witch, the Night?
On what cold Stone hast thou been stretch'd along,
Gathering the grumbling Winds about thy Head,
To mix with theirs the Accent of thy Woes?
Oh! now I find the Cause my Love forsakes me:
I am no longer fit to bear a Share
In his Concernments: My weak female Virtue
Must not be trusted: 'Tis too frail and tender.

Jaff. Oh! Porcia! Porcia! What a Soul was thine?

Belv. That Porcia was a Woman; and when Brutus,
Big with the Fate of Rome, (Heav'n guard thy Safety!)
Conceal'd from her the Labours of the Mind;
She let him see her Blood was great as his,
Flow'd from a Spring as noble, and a Heart
Fit to partake his Troubles, as his Love.
Fetch, fetch that Dagger back, the dreadful Dower
Thou gav'st last Night in parting with me; strike it
Here to my Heart, and, as the Blood flows from it,
Judge if it run not pure as Cato's Daughter's.

Jaff. Thou art too good, and I indeed unworthy, Unworthy so much Virtue: Teach me how
I may deserve such matchless Love as thine,
And see with what Attention I'll obey thee.

Belv. Do not despise me: That's the All I ask.

Jaff.

Jaff. Despise thee! Hear me —

Belv. Oh! Thy charming Tongue
Is but too well acquainted with my Weakness;
Knows, let it name but Love, my melting Heart
Dissolves within my Breast; till with clos'd Eyes
I reel into thy Arms, and all's forgotten.

Jaff. What shall I do?

Belv. Tell me, be just, and tell me,
Why dwells that busy Cloud upon thy Face?
Why am I made a Stranger? Why that Sigh,
And I not know the Cause? Why when the World
Is wrapp'd in Rest, why chuses then my Love
To wander up and down in horrid Darknes,
Loathing his Bed, and these desiring Arms?
Why are these Eyes Blood-shot with tedious Watching?
Why starts he now, and looks as if he wish'd
His Fate were finish'd? Tell me, ease my Fear;
Lest, when we next Time meet, I want the Power
To search into the Sicknes of thy Mind,
But talk as wildly then, as thou look'st now.

Jaff. Oh! Belvidera!

Belv. Why was I last Night deliver'd to a Villain?

Jaff. Ha! a Villain?

Belv. Yes, to a Villain! Why at such an Hour
Meets that Assembly, all made up of Wretches,
That look as Hell had drawn them into League?
Why, I in this Hand, and in that a Dagger,
Was I deliver'd with such dreadful Ceremonies?

“ To you, Sirs, and to your Honour I bequeath her,

“ And with her this: Whene'er I prove un-worthy—

“ You know the rest—then strike it to her Heart. ”

Oh! why's that rest conceal'd from me? must I
Be made the Hostage of a hellish Trust?

For such I know I am; that's all my Value:

But, by the Love and Loyalty I owe thee,

I'll free thee from the Bondage of these Slaves;

Straight to the Senate, tell 'em all I know,

All that I think, all that my Fears inform me.

Jaff. Is this the Roman Virtue? this the Blood
That boasts its Purity with Cato's Daughter!

Would she have e'er betray'd her Brutus?

Belv. No:

For Brutus trusted her: Wert thou so kind,
What would not Belvidera suffer for thee?

Jaff. I shall undo myself, and tell thee all.

Belv. Look not upon me as I am a Woman,
But as a Bone, thy Wife, thy Friend; who long
Has had Admission to thy Heart, and there
Study'd the Virtues of thy gallant Nature:
Thy Constancy, thy Courage, and thy Truth,
Have been my daily Lesson: I have learn'd 'em,
And, bold as thou, can suffer or despise
The worst of Fates for thee, and with thee share 'em.

Jaff. Oh! thou divinest Power! look down and hear
My Prayers! instruct me to reward this Virtue!
Yet think a little, e're thou tempt me further;
Think I've a Tale to tell will shake thy Nature,
Melt all this boasted Constancy thou talk'st of,
Into vile Tears and despicable Sorrows:
Then if thou should'st betray me!

Belv. Shall I swear?

Jaff. No, do not swear: I would not violate
Thy tender Nature with so rude a Bond:
But as thou hop'st to see me live my Days,
And love thee long, lock this within thy Breast:
I've bound myself by all the strictest Sacraments,
Divine and Human——

Belv. Speak!

Jaff. To kill thy Father——

Belv. My Father!

Jaff. Nay, the Throats of the whole Senate
Shall bleed, my Belvidera: He, amongst us,
That spares his Father, Brother, or his Friend,
Is damn'd. How rich and beauteous will the Face
Of Ruin look, when these wide Streets run Blood?
I, and the glorious Partners of my Fortune,
Shouting, and striding o'er the prostrate Dead
Still to new Waste; whilst thou far off in Safety,
Smiling, shalt see the Wonders of our Daring;
And, when Night comes, with Praise and Love receive me.

Belv. Oh!

Jaff.

Jaff. Have a Care, and shrink not even in Thought:
For if thou do'st——

Belv. I know it, thou wilt kill me.
Do, strike thy Sword into this Bosom: Lay me
Dead on the Earth, and then thou wilt be safe.
Murder my Father! tho' his cruel Nature
Has persecuted me to my Undoing:
Driven me to basest Wants; can I behold him,
With Smiles of Vengeance, butcher'd in his Age?
The sacred Fountain of my Life destroy'd?
And can'st thou shed the Blood, that gave me Being?
Nay, be a Traytor too, and sell thy Country?
Can thy great Heart descend so vilely low,
Mix with hir'd Slaves, Bravoës, and common Stabbers,
Nose-flitters, Alley-lurking Villains! join
With such a Crew, and take a Ruffian's Wages
To cut the Throats of Wretches as they sleep?

Jaff. Thou wrong'st me, Belvidera! I've engag'd
With Men of Souls; fit to reform the Ills
Of all Mankind: There's not a Heart amongst them
But's stout as Death, yet honest as the Nature
Of Man first made, e're Fraud and Vice were Fashions.

Belv. What's he, to whose curs'd Hands last Night thou gav'st me?
Was that well done? Oh! I could tell a Story
Would rouse thy Lion Heart out of its Den,
And make it rage with terrifying Fury.

Jaff. Speak on, I charge thee.

Belv. Oh! my Love, if e'er
Thy Belvidera's Peace deserv'd thy Care,
Remove me from this Place: Last Night, last Night!

Jaff. Distract me not, but give me all the Truth.

Belv. No sooner wert thou gone, and I alone,
Left in the Power of that old Son of Mischief;
No sooner was I lain on my sad Bed,
But that vile Wretch approach'd me, loose, unbutton'd,
Ready for Violation: Then my Heart
Throbb'd with its Fears: Oh! how I wept and sigh'd!
And shrunk and trembled! wish'd in vain for him
That should protect me! Thou, alas, wert gone.

Jaff. Patience sweet Heav'n, till I make Vengeance sure.

Belv. He drew the hideous Dagger forth, thou gav'st
 And with upbraiding Smiles he said, Behold it, [him,
This is the Pledge of a false Husband's Love :
 And in my Arms then press'd, and would have clasp'd
 But with my Cries I scar'd his Coward Heart, [me ;
 'Till he withdrew, and mutter'd Vows to Hell.
 These are thy Friends ! with these thy Life, thy Honour,
 Thy Love all stak'd, and all will go to Ruin.

Jaff. No more ; I charge thee keep this Secret close ;
 Clear up thy Sorrows, look as if thy Wrongs
 Were all forgot, and treat him like a Friend,
 As no Complaint were made. No more ; retire,
 Retire, my Life, and doubt not of my Honour ;
 I'll heal his Failings, and deserve thy Love.

Belv. Oh ! should I part with thee, I fear thou wilt
 In Anger leave me, and return no more.

Jaff. Return no more ! I would not live without thee
 Another Night to purchase the Creation.

Belv. When shall we meet again ?

Jaff. Anon at Twelve
 I'll steal myself to thy expecting Arms,
 Come like a travell'd Dove, and bring thee Peace.

Belv. Indeed !

Jaff. By all our Loves.

Belv. 'Tis hard to part :
 But sure no Falshood ever look'd so fairly.
 Farewel ; remember Twelve.

[Exit.

Jaff. Let Heav'n forget me,
 When I remember not thy Truth, thy Love.
 How curs'd is my Condition, toss'd and jostled
 From every Corner ; Fortune's common Fool,
 The Jest of Rogues, an instrumental Ass,
 For Villains to lay Loads of Shame upon,
 And drive about just for their Ease and Scorn.

Enter Pierre.

Pier. Jaffier !

Jaff. Who calls ?

Pier. A Friend, that could have wish'd
 T' have found thee otherwise employ'd : What, hunt
 A Wife on the dull Soil ! sure a staunch Husband
 Of all Hounds is the dullest. Wilt thou never,

Never

Never be wean'd from Caudles and Confections?
What feminine Tales hast thou been list'ning to,
Of unair'd Shirts, Catarrhs and Tooth-ach, got
By thin-sol'd Shoes? Damnation! that a Fellow,
Chosen to be a Sharer in the Destruction
Of a whole People, should sneak thus in Corners
To ease his fulsome Lusts, and fool his Mind.

Jaff. May not a Man then trifle out an Hour
With a kind Woman, and not wrong his Calling!

Pier. Not in a Cause like ours.

Jaff. Then, Friend, our Cause
Is in a damn'd Condition: For, I'll tell thee,
That Canker-worm, call'd Leachery, has touch'd it;
'Tis tainted vilely: Wouldst thou think it? Renault
(That mortify'd old wither'd Winter Rogue)
Loves simple Fornication like a Priest;
I found him out for watering at my Wife;
He visited her last Night, like a kind Guardian:
Faith, she has some Temptation, that's the Truth on't.

Pier. He durst not wrong his Trust.

Jaff. 'Twas something late though,
To take the Freedom of a Lady's Chamber.

Pier. Was she in Bed?

Jaff. Yes, Faith! in Virgin-sheets
White as her Bosom, Pierre, dish'd neatly up,
Might tempt a weaker Appetite to taste.
Oh! how the old Fox stunk, I warrant thee,
When the rank Fit was on him.

Pier. Patience guide me!
He us'd no Violence?

Jaff. No, no, out on't, Violence!
Play'd with her Neck! brush'd her with his grey Beard,
Struggl'd and touz'd, tickl'd her till she squeak'd a little,
May be, or so—but not a Jot of Violence—

Pier. Damn him.

Jaff. Ay, so say I: But hush, no more on't;
All hitherto is well, and I believe
Myself no Monster yet: Tho' no Man knows
What Fate he's born to. Sure 'tis near the Hour
We all should meet for our concluding Orders:
Will the Ambassador be here in Person?

Pier. No: he has sent Commission to that Villain Renault
To give the executing Charge: [nault
I'd have thee be a Man, if possible,
And keep thy Temper; for a brave Revenge
Ne'er comes too late

Jaff. Fear not, I am as cool as Patience.
Had he compleated my Dishonour, rather Than hazard the Success our Hopes are ripe for,
I'd bear it all with mortifying Virtue.

Pier. He's yonder, coming this Way thro' the Hall;
His Thoughts seem full.

Jaff. Prithee retire and leave me
With him alone: I'll put him to some Trial;
See how his rotten Part will bear the Touching.

Pier. Be careful then. [Exit.

Jaff. Nay, never doubt, but trust me.
What, be a Devil! take a damning Oath
For shedding native Blood! Can there be a Sin
In merciful Repentance? Oh! this Villain!

Enter Renault.

Ren. Perverse and peevish: What a Slave is Man
To let his itching Flesh thus get the better of him?
Dispatch the Tool her Husband — that were well.
Who's there?

Jaff. A Man,

Ren. My Friend, my near Ally,
The Hostage of your Faith, my beauteous Charge, is very well.

Jaff. Sir, are you sure of that?
Stands she in perfect Health? Beats her Pulse even?
Neither too hot nor cold?

Ren. What means that Question?

Jaff. Oh! Women have fantastick Constitutions,
Inconstant as their Wishes, always wavering,
And never fix'd: Was it not boldly done
Even at first Sight to trust the Thing I lov'd
(A tempting Treasure too) with Youth so fierce
And vigorous as thine? But thou'art honest..

Ren. Who dare accuse me?

Jaff. Curs'd be he that doubts
Thy Virtue; I have try'd it, and declare,

Were

Were I to chuse a Guardian of my Honour,
I'd put it in thy keeping: For I know thee.

Ren. Know me!

Jaff. Ay, know thee: There's no Falshood in thee,
Thou look'st just as thou art; let us embrace.

Now would'st thou cut my Throat, or I cut thine.

Ren. You dare not do't.

Jaff. You lye, Sir.

Ren. How!

Jaff. No more.

'Tis a base World, and must reform that's all.

Enter Spinosa, Theodore, Eliot, Revellido, Durand,
Bramveil, and the rest of the Conspirators.

Ren. Spinosa, Theodore.

Spin. The same.

Ren. You are welcome.

Spin. You are trembling, Sir.

Ren. 'Tis a cold Night, indeed; I am aged,
Full of Decay, and natural Infirmities; [Pier. re-enters.
We shall be warm, my Friends, I hope, To-morrow.

Pier. 'Twas not well done; thou should'st have stroak'd
And not have gaul'd him. [him,

Jaff. Damn him, let him chew on't.
Heav'n! Where am I? beset with cursed Friends,
That wait to damn me! What a Devil's Man,
When he forgets his Nature————hush, my Heart.

Ren. My Friends, 'tis late: Are we assembled all?
Where's Theodore?

Theo. At hand.

Ren. Spinosa.

Spin. Here.

Ren. Bramveil.

Bram. I am ready.

Ren. Durand and Brabe.

Dur. Command us;

We are both prepar'd.

Ren. Mezzana, Revellido,

Ternon, Retrosi: Oh! You're Men I find,
Fit to behold your Fate, and meet her Summons:
To morrow's rising Sun must see you all
Deck'd in your Honours. Are the Soldiers ready?

All. All, all.

C 5

Ren.

Ren. You, Durand, with your Thousand must possess
St Mark's; you Captain, know your Charge already;
 'Tis to secure the Ducal Palace: You,
Brabe, with a hundred more, must gain the Secque:
 With the like Number, Bramveil, to the Procurale.
 Be all this done with the least Tumult possible,
 'Till in each Place you post sufficient Guards:
 Then sheathe your Swords in every Breast you meet.

Jaff. Oh! reverend Cruelty! damn'd bloody Villain!

Ren. During this Execution, Durand, you
 Must in the Midst keep your Battalia fast;
 And, Theodore, be sure to plant the Cannon
 That may command the Streets; whilst Revellido,
Mazzano, Ternon, and Retrofi guard you.
 This done, we'll give the general Alarm,
 Apply Petards, and force the Ars'nal Gates;
 Then fire the City round in several Places,
 Or with our Cannon (if it dare resist)
 Batter to Ruin. But above all I charge you,
 Shed Blood enough, spare neither Sex nor Age,
 Name nor Condition; if there lives a Senator
 After To-morrow; though the dullest Rogue
 That e'er said nothing, we have lost our Ends:
 If possible, let's kill the very Name
 Of Senator, and bury it in Blood.

Jaff. Merciless horrid Slave——Ay, Blood enough!
 Shed Blood enough, old Renault! how thou charm'st me!

Ren. But one thing more, and then Farewel, till Fate
 Join us again, or separate us ever:
 First let's embrace. Heav'n knows who next shall thus Wing ye together: But let us all remember,
 We wear no common Cause upon our Sword:
 Let each Man think, that on his single Virtue
 Depends the Good and Fame of all the rest;
 Eternal Honour, or perpetual Infamy.
 Let us remember, through what dreadful Hazards
 Propitious Fortune hitherto has led us:
 How often on the Brink of some Discovery
 Have we stood tottering, yet still kept our Ground
 So well, that the busiest Searchers ne'er could follow
 Those subtle Tracks, which puzzled all Suspicion?
 You droop, Sir.

Jaff.

Jaff. No: with most profound Attention
I've heard it all, and wonder at thy Virtue.

Ren. Tho' there be yet few Hours 'twixt them and Are not the Senate lull'd in full Security, [Ruin,
Quiet and satisfy'd, as Fools are always?
Never did so profound Repose fore-run
Calamity so great: Nay, our good Fortune
Has blinded the most piercing of Mankind,
Strengthen'd the fearfullest, charm'd the most suspicious,
Confounded the most subtle: For we live,
We live my Friends, and quickly shall our Life
Prove fatal to these Tyrants: Let's consider,
That we destroy Oppression, Avarice,
A People nurs'd up equally with Vices
And loathsome Lusts which Nature most abhors,
And such as without Shame she cannot suffer.

Jaff. Oh! Bel-videra, take me to thy Arms,
And shew where's my Peace, for I have lost it. [Exit.

Ren. Without the least Remorse then let's resolve
With Fire and Sword t' exterminate these Tyrants;
And when we shall behold these curs'd Tribunals
Stain'd by the Tears and Sufferings of the Innocent,
Burning with Flames rather from Heav'n than ours,
The raging, furious, and unpitying Soldier
Pulling his reeking Dagger from the Bosoms
Of gasping Wretches; Death in every Quarter,
With all that sad Disorder can produce
To make a Spectacle of Horror; then,
Then let us call to mind, my dearest Friends,
That there is nothing pure upon the Earth;
That the most valu'd Things have most Alloys,
And that in Change of all those vile Enormities,
Under whose Weight this wretched Country labours,
The Means are only in our Hands to crown them.

Pier. And may those Powers above, that are propitious
To gallant Minds, record this Cause and bless it.

Ren. Thus happy, thus secure of all we wish for,
Should there, my Friends, be found amongst us one
False to this glorious Enterprize, what Fate,
What Vengeance were enough for such a Villain?

Eli. Death here without Repentance, Hell hereafter.

Ren. Let that be my Lot, if, as here I stand,
Lifted by Fate among her darling Sons,
Tho' I had one only Brother, dear by all
The strictest Ties of Nature; tho' one Hour
Had given us Birth, one Fortune fed our Wants,
One only Love, and that but of each other,
Still fill'd our Minds: Could I have such a Friend
Join'd in this Cause, and had but Ground to fear
He meant foul Play; may this right Hand drop from me,
If I d not hazard all my future Peace,
And stab him to the Heart before you. Who?

Who would do less? would'st thou not, Pierre, the same?

Pier. You've singled me, Sir, out for this hard Question,
As if 'twere started only for my Sake?

Am I the Thing you fear? Here, here's my Bosom,
Search it with all your Swords: Am I a Traytor?

Ren. No: But I fear your late commended Friend
Is little less: Come, Sirs, 'tis now no Time
'To trifle with our Safety. Where's this Jaffier?

Spin. He left the Room just now in strange Disorder.

Ren. Nay, there is Danger in him: I observ'd him;
During the Time I took for Explanation,
He was transported from most deep Attention
To a Confusion which he could not smother.
His Looks grew full of Sadness and Surprise,
All which betray'd a wavering Spirit in him,
That labour'd with Reluctancy and Sorrow.
What's requisite for Safety must be done
With speedy Execution; he remains
Yet in our Power: I for my own Part wear
A Dagger —————

Pier. Well.

Ren. And I could wish it —————

Pier. Where?

Ren. Bury'd in his Heart.

Pier. Away; we're yet all Friends;
No more of this, 'twill breed ill Blood among us.

Spin. Let us all draw our Swords and search the House,
Pull him from the dark Hole where he sits brooding
O'er his cold Fears, and each Man kill his Share of him.

Pier. Who talks of killing? who's he'll shed the Blood,
That's

That's dear to me? Is't you? or you, Sir?
 What, not one speak? how you stand gaping all
 On your grave Oracle, your wooden God there!
 Yet not a Word! Then, Sir, I'll tell y' a Secret;
 Suspicion's but at best a Coward's Virtue. [To Ren.

Ren. A Coward!—— [Handles his Sword,

Pier. Put up thy Sword, old Man,
 Thy Hand shakes at it. Come, let's heal this Breach;
 I am too hot: We yet may all live Friends.

Spin. Till we are safe, our Friendship cannot be so.

Pier. Again! Who's that?

Spin. 'Twas I.

Theod. And I.

Rev. And I.

Eli. And all.

Ren. Who are on my Side?

Spin. Every honest Sword,
 Let's die like Men, and not be sold like Slaves.

Pier. One such Word more, by Heav'n I'll to the Se-
 And hang ye all like Dogs, in Clusters. [nate,
 Why weep your Coward Swords half out their Shells?
 Why do you not all brandish them like mine?
 You fear to die, and yet dare talk of killing.

Ren. Go to the Senate and betray us! haste,
 Secure thy wretched Life; we fear to die
 Less than thou dar'st be honest.

Pier. That's rank Falshood;
 Fear'st not thou Death? Fie, there's a knavish Itch
 In that salt Blood, an utter Foe to Smarting.

Had Jaffier's Wife prov'd kind, he'd still been true.
 Faugh——how that stinks?

Thou die! thou kill my Friend, or thou, or thou,
 With that lean, wither'd Face!

Away; disperse all to your several Charges,
 And meet To-morrow where your Honour calls you;
 I'll bring that Man, whose Blood you so much thirst for,
 And you shall see him venture for you fairly——

Hence, hence, I say [Exit Renault angrily.

Spin. I fear we have been to blame,
 And done too much.

Theod. 'Twas too far urg'd against the Man you lov'd.
Rev.

Rev. Here take our Swords, and crush them with your Spin. Forgive us, gallant Friend. [Feet.

Pier. Nay, now you've found
 The Way to melt, and cast me as you will:
 I'll fetch this Friend, and give him to your Mercy:
 Nay, he shall die, if you will take him from me.
 For your Repose, I'll quit my Heart's best jewel;
 But would not have him torn away by Villains,
 A spiteful Villainy.

Spin. No, may you both
 For ever live, and fill the World with Fame. [cord?

Pier. Now ye're too kind. Whence rose all this Dis-
 Oh! What a dangerous Precipice have we 'scap'd!
 How near a Fall was all we'd long been building!
 What an eternal Blot had stain'd our Glories,
 If one, the bravest and the best of Men,
 Had fall'n a Sacrifice to rash Suspicion,
 Butcher'd by those whose Cause he came to cherish!
 O! could you know him all, as I have known him,
 How good he is, how just, how true, how brave,
 You would not leave this Place till you had seen him;
 Humbled yourselves before him, kiss'd his Feet,
 And gain'd Remission for the worst of follies.

Come but To-morrow, all your Doubts shall end,
And to your Loves me better recommend,
That I've preserv'd your Fame, and sav'd my Friend. }
 [Exeunt.

ACT IV. SCENE I.

Enter Jaffier and Belvidera.

Jaff. WHere dost thou lead me? Ev'ry Step I move,
 Methinks I tread upon some mangled Limb
 Of a rack'd Friend: O my charming Ruin!
 Where are we wandering?

Belv. To eternal Honour.
 You do a Deed shall chronicle thy Name,
 Among the glorious Legends of those few,

That

That have sav'd sinking Nations : Thy Renown
Shall be the future Song of all the Virgins,
Who by thy Piety have been preserv'd
From horrid Violation ? Every Street
Shall be adorn'd with Statues to thy Honour,
And at thy Feet this great Inscription written,
Remember him that propp'd the Fall of Venice.

Jaff. Rather, remember him, who, after all
The sacred Bonds of Oaths and holier Friendship,
In fond Compassion to a Woman's Tears,
Forgot his Manhood, Virtue, Truth, and Honour,
To sacrifice the Bosom that reliev'd him.
Why wilt thou damn me ?

Belv. Oh ! Inconstant Man !
How will you promise ! How will you deceive !
Do, return back, and replace me in my Bondage,
Tell all thy Friends how dang'rously thou lov'st me,
And let thy Dagger do its bloody Office.
Oh ! that kind Dagger, Jaffier, how 'twill look Struck thro' my Heart, drench'd in my Blood to th' Hilt ;
Whilst these poor dying Eyes shall with their Tears
No more torment thee, then thou wilt be free :
Or, if thou think'st it nobler, let me live,
Till I'm a Victim to the hateful Lust
Of that Infernal Devil, that old Fiend,
That's damn'd himself, and would undo Mankind.
Last Night, my Love !

Jaff. Name it not again :
It shews a beastly Image to my Fancy,
Will wake me into Madness : Oh ! the Villain !
That durst approach such Purity as thine
On Terms so vile : Destruction, swift Destruction,
Fall on my Coward Head, and make my Name
The common Scorn of Fools, if I forgive him :
If I forgive him ! If I not revenge
With utmost Rage, and most unstaying Fury,
Thy Suffering, thou dear Darling of my Life.

Belv. Delay no longer then, but to the Senate,
And tell the dismal'd Story ever utter'd :
Tell 'em what Bloodshed, Rapines, Desolations,
Have been prepar'd ; How near's the fatal Hour.

Save thy poor Country, save the reverend Blood
 Of all its Nobles, which To-morrow's Dawn
 Must else see shed: Save the poor tender Lives
 Of all those little Infants, which the Swords
 Of Murderers are whetting for this Moment:
 Think thou already hear'st their dying Screams,
 Think that thou see'st their sad distracted Mothers
 Kneeling before thy Feet, and begging Pity:
 With torn dishevel'd Hair, and streaming Eyes,
 Their naked mangled Breasts besmear'd with Blood;
 And even the Milk, with which their fondled Babes
 Softly they hush'd, dropping in Anguish from 'em:
 Think thou seest this, and then consult thy Heart.

Jaff. Oh!

Belv. Think too, if you lose this present Minute,
 What Miseries the next Day brings upon thee:
 Imagine all the Horrors of that Night;
 Murder and Rapine, Waste and Desolation,
 Confus'dly raging: Think what then may prove
 My Lot; the Ravisher may then come safe,
 And 'midst the Terror of the publick Ruin
 Do a damn'd Deed; perhaps may lay a Train
 To catch thy Life: Then where will be Revenge,
 The dear Revenge that's due to such a Wrong?

Jaff. By all Heav'n's Powers, prophetick Truth dwells in thee,

For every Word thou speak'st strikes thro' my Heart,
 Like a new Light, and shews it how't has wander'd.
 Just what thou'lt made me, take me, Bel-videra,
 And lead me to the Place where I'm to say
 This bitter Lesson; where I must betray
 My Truth, my Virtue, Constancy, and Friends:
 Must I betray my Friend? Ah! take me quickly;
 Secure me well before that Thought's renew'd;
 If I relapse once more, all's lost for ever.

Belv. Hast thou a Friend more dear than Bel-videra?

Jaff. No; thou art my Soul itself, Wealth, Friendship, Honour,

All present Joys, and Earnest of all future
 Are summ'd in thee: Methinks when in thy Arms,
 Thus leaning on thy Breast, one Minute's more

Than

Than a long thousand Years of vulgar Hours.
 Why was such Happiness not given me pure?
 Why dash'd with cruel Wrongs, and bitter Warnings?
 Come, lead me forward now like a tame Lamb
 To Sacrifice. Thus, in his fatal Garlands
 Deck'd fine and pleas'd, the Wanton skips and plays,
Trots by th' enticing flatt'ring Priestess' Side,
And much transported with its little Pride,
Forgets his dear Companions of the Plain;
'Till, by her bound he's on the Altar lain,
Yet then too hardly bleats, such Pleasure's in the Pain. }

Enter Officer, and six Guards.

Offi. Stand, who goes there?

Belv. Friends.

Jaff. Friends, Belvidera? hide me from my Friends;
 By Heav'n, I'd rather see the Face of Hell,
 Than meet the Man I love.

Offi. But what Friends are you?

Jaff. Friends to the Senate, and the State of Venice.

Offi. My Orders are to seize on all I find
 At this late Hour, and bring 'em to the Council,
 Who are now sitting.

Jaff. Sir, you shall be obey'd.
 Hold, Brute, stand off, none of your Paws upon me.
 Now the Lot's cast, and Fate do what thou wilt.

[Exeunt guarded.]

SCENE II. The Senate-house.

Where appear sitting the Duke of Venice, Priuli, Antonio, and eight other Senators.

Duke. Antony, Priuli, Senators of Venice,
 Speak, why are we assembled here this Night;
 What have you to inform us of, concerns
 The State of Venice' Honour, or its Safety?

Pri. Could Words express the Story I've to tell you,
 Fathers, these Tears were useless, these sad Tears
 That fall from my old Eyes; but there is Cause
 We all should weep, tear off these purple Robes,
 And wrap ourselves in Sackcloth, sitting down

On

On the sad Earth, and cry aloud to Heav'n :
Heav'n knows if yet there be an Hour to come,
E're Venice be no more.

All Sen. How !

Pri. Nay, we stand
Upon the very Brink of gaping Ruin.
Within this City's form'd a dark Conspiracy
To massacre us all, our Wives and Children,
Kindred and Friends, our Palaces and Temples
To lay in Ashes : Nay, the Hour too fix'd ;
The Swords, for aught I know, drawn e'en this Moment,
And the wild Waste begun. From unknown Hands
I had this Warning : But, if we are Men,
Let's not be tamely butcher'd, but do something
That may inform the World, in After-ages,
Our Virtue was not ruin'd, tho' we were. [A Noise without.
Room, Room, make Room for some Prisoners—

Sen. Let's raise the City.

Enter Officer and Guards.

Pri. Speak there. What Disturbance ?

Off. Two Prisoners have the Guards seiz'd in the Street,
Who say, they come to inform this reverend Senate
About the present Danger.

Enter Jaffier and Belvidera guarded.

All. Give 'em Entrance——Well, who are you ?

Jaff. A Villain.

Ant. Short and pithy :
The Man speaks well.

Jaff. Would every Man, that hears me,
Would deal so honestly, and own his Title.

Duke. 'Tis rumour'd, that a Plot has been contriv'd
Against this State ; that you have a Share in't too.
If you are a Villain, to redeem your Honour
Unfold the Truth, and be restor'd with Mercy.

Jaff. Think not, that I to save my Life came hither ;
I know its Value better ; but in Pity
To all those Wretches, whose unhappy Dooms
Are fix'd and seal'd. You see me here before you,
The sworn and covenanted Foe of Venice :
But use me as my Dealings may deserve,
And I may prove a Friend.

Duke.

Duke. The Slave capitulates;
Give him the Tortures.

Jaff. That you dare not do,
Your Fear won't let you, nor the longing Itch
To hear a Story which you dread the Truth of:
Truth, which the Fear of Smart shall ne'er get from me.
Cowards are scar'd with Threat'nings? Boys are whipt
Into Confessions: But a steady Mind
Acts of itself, ne'er asks the Body Counsel.
Give him the Tortures! Name but such a Thing
Again, by Heaven I'll shut these Lips for ever.
Not all your Racks, your Engines, or your Wheels,
Shall force a Groan away, that you may guess at.

Ant. A bloody-minded Fellow, I'll warrant;
A damn'd bloody-minded Fellow.

Duke. Name your Conditions.

Jaff. For myself full Pardon,
Besides the Life of two and twenty Friends,

[Delivers a List.

Whose Names are here enroll'd: Nay, let their Crimes
Be ne'er so monstrous, I must have the Oaths
And sacred Promise of this reverend Council,
That in a full Assembly of the Senate
The Thing I swear be ratify'd. Swear this,
And I'll unfold the Secret of your Danger.

All. We'll swear.

Duke. Propose the Oath.

Jaff. By all the Hopes
You have of Peace and Happiness hereafter, Swear.

All. We all swear.

Jaff. To grant me what I've ask'd,
Ye swear?

All. We swear.

Jaff. And, as ye keep the Oath,
May you and your Posterity be bless'd,
Or curs'd for ever.

All. Else be curs'd for ever.

Jaff. Then here's the List, and with't the full Disclose
Of all that threatens you, [Delivers another Paper.
Now, Fate, thou hast caught me,

Ant.

Ant. Why, what a dreadful Catalogue of Cut-throats is here! I'll warrant you not one of these Fellows but has a Face like a Lion. I dare not so much as read their Names over.

Duke. Give Order, that all diligent Search be made To seize these Men; their Characters are publick. The Paper intimates their Rendezvous To be at the House of the fam'd Grecian Courtezan, Call'd Aquilina; see the Place secur'd.

Ant. What? my Nicky Nacky! Hurry, durry! Nicky Nacky in the Plot — I'll make a Speech. Most Noble Senators,

What headlong Apprehensions drive you on,
Right, noble, wise, and truly solid Senators,
To violate the Laws and Rights of Nations?
The Lady is a Lady of Renown:
'Tis true, she holds a House of fair Reception,
And, tho' I say't myself, as many more
Can say as well as I.

2. Sen. My Lord, long Speeches
Are frivolous here, when Dangers are so near us:
We all well know your Interest in that Lady;
The World talks loud on't.

Ant. Verily I have done;
I say no more.

Duke. But, since he has declar'd
Himself concern'd, pray, Captain, take great Caution
To treat the Fair One as becomes her Character,
And let her Bed-chamber be search'd with Decency.
You, Jaffier, must with Patience bear till Morning
To be our Prisoner.

Jaff. Would the Chains of Death
Had bound me safe, e're I had known this Minute.
I've done a Deed will make my Story hereafter
Quoted in Competition with all ill Ones:
The Story of my Wickedness shall run
Down thro' the low Traditions of the Vulgar,
And Boys be taught to tell the Tale of Jaffier.

Duke. Captain, withdraw your Prisoner.

Jaff. Sir, if possible, [me;
Lead me where my own Thoughts themselves may lose
Where

Where I may doze out what I've left of Life,
Forget myself, and this Day's Guilt and Falshood.
Cruel Remembrance, how shall I appease thee?

[Ex. guarded. Noise without.

More Traytors; Room, Room, make Room there.

Duke. How's this, Guards?

Where are our Guards? Shut up the Gates, the Treason's Already at our Doors. [Enter Officer.

Off. My Lords, more Traytors
Seiz'd in the very Act of Consultation;
Furnish'd with Arms and Instruments of Mischief.
Bring in the Prisoners

Enter Pierre, Renault, Theodore, Eliot, Revellido, and other Conspirators in Fetters.

Pier. You, my Lords and Fathers
(As you are pleas'd to call yourselves) of Venice;
If you sit here to guide the Course of Justice,
Why these disgraceful Chains upon the Limbs
That have so often labour'd in your Service?
Are these the Wreaths of Triumph ye bestow
On those, that bring you Conquests Home, and Honours?

Duke. Go on; you shall be heard, Sir.

Ant. And be hang'd too, I hope.

Pier. Are these the Trophies I've deserv'd for fighting
Your Battles with Confederated Powers?

When Winds and Seas conspir'd to overthrow you;
And brought the Fleets of Spain to your own Harbours;
And you, great Duke, shrunk trembling in your Palace,
And saw your Wife, the Adriatick, plough'd
Like a lewd Whore, by bolder Prows than yours,
Stepp'd not I forth, and taught your loose Venetians
The Task of Honour, and the Way of Greatness?

Rais'd you from your capitulating Fears
To stipulate the Terms of su'd-for Peace?
And this my Recompence! If I'm a Traytor,
Produce my Charge; or shew the Wretch that's base
And brave enough, to tell me I'm a Traytor. [enough,

Duke. Know you one Jaffier? [All the Consp. murmur.

Pier. Yes, and know his Virtue,
His Justice, Truth, his general Worth, and Sufferings
From a hard Father, taught me first to love him.

Enter

Enter Jaffier guarded.

Duke. See him brought forth.

Pier. My Friend too bound ! nay then
Our Fate has conquer'd us, and we fall.
Why droops the Man whose Welfare's so much mine,
They're but one thing ? these reverend Tyrants, Jaffier,
Call us Traytors : Art thou one, my Brother ?

Jaff. To thee I am the falsest, veriest Slave
That e'er betray'd a generous, trusting Friend,
And gave up Honour to be sure of Ruin :
All our fair Hopes, which Morning was to have crown'd,
Has this curs'd Tongue o'erthrown.

Pier. So, then all's over :

Venice has lost her Freedom, I my Life :
No more ; farewell.

Duke. Say ; will you make Confession
Of your vile Deeds, and trust the Senate's Mercy ?

Pier. Curs'd be your Senate : Curs'd your Constitution :
The Curse of growing Factions and Divisions
Still vex your Councils, shake your publick Safety,
And make the Robes of Government you wear
Hateful to you, as these base Chains to me.

Duke. Pardon, or Death !

Pier. Death ! honourable Death !

Ren. Death's the best thing we ask, or you can give.

All Consp. No shameful Bonds, but honourable Death.

Duke. Break up the Council : Captain, guard your Prisoners.

Jaffier, you're free, but these must wait for Judgment.

[Ex. All the Senators.]

Pier. Come, where's my Dungeon ? Lead me to my
It will not be the first Time I have lodg'd hard [Straw :
To do the Senate Service.

Jaff. Hold one Moment.

Pier. Who's he disputes the Judgment of the Senate ?
Presumptuous Rebel——on—— [Strikes Jaff.

Jaff. By Heav'n, you stir not,
I must be heard, I must have Leave to speak :
Thou hast disgrac'd me, Pierre, by a vile Blow :
Had not a Dagger done thee nobler Justice ?
But use me as thou wilt, thou can'st not wrong me,
For

For I am fallen beneath the basest Injuries :
Yet look upon me with an Eye of Mercy,
With Pity and with Charity behold me ;
Shut not thy Heart against a Friend's Repentance ;
But, as there dwells a godlike Nature in thee,
Listen with Mildness to my Supplications.

Pier. What whining Monk art thou ? what holy Cheat,
That would'st inroach upon my credulous Ears,
And can'st thus vilely ? hence ! I know thee not ;
Dissemble and be nasty : Leave, Hypocrite.

Jaff. Not know me, Pierre !

Pier. No, know thee not ; what art thou ?

Jaff. Jaffier, thy Friend, thy once lov'd valu'd Friend !
Tho' now deserv'dly scorn'd, and us'd most hardly.

Pier. Thou Jaffier ! thou my once lov'd, valu'd Friend !
By Heav'n's thou ly'st ; the Man so call'd, my Friend,
Was generous, honest, faithful, just, and valiant,
Noble in Mind, and in his Person lovely,
Dear to my Eyes, and tender to my Heart :
But thou a wretched, base, false, worthless Coward,
Poor even in Soul, and loathsome in thy Aspect :
All Eyes must shun thee, and all Hearts detest thee.
Prithee avoid, nor longer cling thus round me,
Like something baneful, that my Nature's chill'd at.

Jaff. I have not wrong'd thee, by these Tears I have
But still am honest, true, and, hope too, valiant ; [not,
My Mind still full of thee, therefore still noble.
Let not thy Eyes then shun me, nor thy Heart :
Detest me utterly : Oh ! look upon me,
Look back and see my sad, sincere Submission !
How my Heart swells, as e'en 'twould burst my Bosom ;
Fond of its Goal, and labouring to be at thee ;
What shall I do ? what say to make thee hear me ?

Pier. Hast thou not wrong'd me ? dar'st thou call thyself
That once lov'd, valu'd Friend of mine,
And swear thou hast not wrong'd me ? Whence these Chains ?

Whence the vile Death, which I may meet this Moment ?
Whence this Dishonour, but from thee, thou false one ?

Jaff.—All's true ; yet grant one Thing, and I've done asking.

Pier. What's that ?

Jaff.

Jaff. To take thy Life on such Conditions
The Council have propos'd : Thou and thy Friends
May yet live long, and to be better treated.

Pier. Life ! ask my Life ! confess ! record myself
A Villain for the Privilege to breathe,
And carry up and down this cursed City
A discontented and repining Spirit,
Burdenfome to itself, a few Years longer,
To lose it, may be, at last, in a lewd Quarrel
For some new Friend, treacherous and false as thou art !
No, this vile World and I have long been jangling,
And cannot part on better Terms than now,
When only Men like thee are fit to live in't.

Jaff. By all that's just ———

Pier. Swear by some other Powers,
For thou hast broke that sacred Oath too lately.

Jaff. Then by that Hell I merit, I'll not leave thee,
Till to thyself at least thou'rt reconcil'd,
However thy Resentment deal with me.

Pier. Not leave me !

Jaff. No ; thou shalt not force me from thee :
Use me reproachfully, and like a Slave ;
Tread on me, buffet me, heap Wrongs on Wrongs
On my Poor Head ; I'll bear it all with Patience
Shall weary out thy most unfriendly Cruelty :
Lie at thy Feet and kiss 'em, tho' they spurn me,
Till wounded by my Sufferings thou relent,
And raise me to thy Arms with dear Forgiveness.

Pier. Art thou not ———

Jaff. What ?

Pier. A Traytor ?

Jaff. Yes.

Pier. A Villain ?

Jaff. Granted.

Pier. A Coward, a most scandalous Coward,
Spiritlefs, void of Honour, one who has sold
Thy everlasting Fame for shameless Life ?

Jaff. All, all, and more, much more : my Faults are numberless.

Pier. And would'st thou have me live on Terms like thine ?

Base as thou'rt false ———

Jaff.

Jaff. No ; 'tis to me that's granted :
The Safety of thy Life was all I aim'd at,
In Recompence for Faith and Trust so broken.

Pier. I scorn it more, because preserv'd by thee ;
And as when first my foolish Heart took Pity
On thy Misfortunes, fought thee in thy Miseries,
Reliev'd thy Wants, and rais'd thee from thy State
Of Wretchedness, in which thy Fate had plung'd thee,
To rank thee in my List of noble Friends ;
All I receiv'd, in Surety for thy Truth,
Were unregarded Oaths, and this, this Dagger,
Given with a worthless Pledge thou since hast stol'n.
So I restore it back to thee again ;
Swearing by all those Powers which thou hast violated,
Never from this curs'd Hour to hold Communion,
Friendship, or Interest with thee, tho' our Years
Were to exceed those limited the World.
Take it — Farewel — for now I owe thee nothing.

Jaff. Say thou wilt live then.

Pier. For my Life, dispose it
Just as thou wilt, because 'tis what I'm tir'd with.

Jaff. Oh Pierre !

Pier. No more.

Jaff. My Eyes won't lose the Sight of thee,
But languish after thine, and ake with Gazing.

Pier. Leave me — Nay, then thus, thus I throw thee from me ;

And Curses great as is thy Falshood catch thee. [Exit.

Jaff. Amen.

He's gone, my Father, Friend, Preserver,
And here's the Portion he has left me, [Holds the Dagger up.
This Dagger : Well remember'd, with this Dagger
I gave a solemn Vow of dire Importance ;
Parted with this and Belvidera together.
Have a Care, Mem'ry drive that Thought no farther ;
No, I'll esteem it as a Friend's last Legacy,
Treasure it up within this wretched Bosom,
Where it may grow acquainted with my Heart,
That, when they meet, they start not from each other.
So, now for Thinking : A Blow, call'd Traytor, Villain,
Coward, dishonourable Coward, fough !

Oh! for a long sound Sleep, and so forget it.
Down, busy Devil.

Enter Belvidera.

Belv. Whither shall I fly?
Where hide me and my Miseries together?
Where's now the Roman Constancy I boasted?
Sunk into trembling Fears and Desperation.
Not daring to look up to that dear Face
Which us'd to smile, even on my Faults, but, down
Bending these miserable Eyes to Earth,
Must move in Penance, and implore much Mercy.

Jaff. Mercy! kind Heav'n has surely endless Stores
Hoarded for thee, Blessings yet untasted:
Let Wretches, loaded hard with Guilt, as I am,
Bow with the Weight, and groan beneath the Burden,
Creep with a Remnant of that Strength they've left
Before the Footstool of that Heav'n they've injur'd.
Oh! Belvidera! I'm the wretched'st Creature
E'er crawl'd on Earth: Now, if thou'art Virtue, help me,
Take me into thy Arms, and speak the Words of Peace
To my divided Soul, that wars within me,
And raises every Sense to my Confusion:
By Heav'n I'm tottering on the very Brink
Of Peace; and thou art all the Hold I've left.

Belv. Alas! I know thy Sorrows are most mighty:
I know thou'art Cause to mourn, to mourn, my Jaffier,
With endless Cries, and never-ceasing Wailing;
Thou'art lost——

Jaff. Oh! I've lost what can't be counted;
My Friend too, Belvidera, that dear Friend,
Who next to thee was all my Health rejoic'd in,
Has us'd me like a Slave, shamefully us'd me:
'Twould break thy pitying Heart to hear the Story.
What shall I do? Resentment, Indignation,
Love, Pity, Fear, and Mem'ry how I've wrong'd him,
Distract my Quiet with the very Thought can't,
And tear my Heart to Pieces in my Bosom.

Belv. What has he done?

Jaff. Thou'dst hate me, should I tell thee.

Belv. Why?

Jaff. Oh! he has us'd me! yet by Heav'n I bear it;
He

He has us'd me, Belvidera! But first swear
That, when I've told thee, thou wilt not loath me utterly,
Tho' vilest Blots and Stains appear upon me;
But still at least with charitable Goodness
Be near me in the Pangs of my Affliction;
Nor scorn me, Belvidera, as he has done.

Belv. Have I then e'er been false, that now I'm doubted?

Speak, what's the Cause, I'm grown into Distrust?
Why thought unfit to hear my Love's Complaining?

Jaff. Oh!

Belv. Tell me.

Jaff. Bear my Failings, for they're many,
Oh! my dear Angel! in that Friend I've lost
All my Soul's Peace; for every Thought of him
Strikes my Sense hard, and dead's it in my Brains;
Would'st thou believe it?

Belv. Speak.

Jaff. Before we parted,
E're yet his Guards had led him to his Prison,
Full of severest Sorrows for his Sufferings,
With Eyes o'erflowing, and a bleeding Heart,
Humbling myself almost beneath my Nature,
As at his Feet I kneel'd, and su'd for Mercy;
Forgetting all our Friendship, all the Dearness
In which we've liv'd so many Years together,
With a reproachful Hand he dash'd a Blow:
He struck me, Belvidera, by Heav'n he struck me!
Buffetted, call'd me Traytor, Villain, Coward.
Am I a Coward? Am I a Villain? Tell me:
Thou'rt the best Judge, and mad'st me, if I am so.
Damnation! Coward!

Belv. Oh! forgive him, Jaffier;
And, if his Sufferings wound thy Heart already,
What will they do To-morrow?

Jaff. Hah!

Belv. To morrow,
When thou shalt see him stretch'd in all the Agonies
Of a tormenting and a shameful Death;
His bleeding Bowels, and his broken Limbs,
Insulted o'er by a vile butchering Villain,

What will thy Heart do then! Oh! sure 'twill stream
Like my Eyes now.

Jaff. What means thy dreadful Story?
Death, and To-morrow? Broken Limbs and Bowels?
Insulted o'er by a vile butchering Villain?
By all my Fears I shall start out to Madness
With bravely guessing, if the Truth's hid longer.

Belv. The faithful Senators, 'tis they've decreed it:
They say, according to our Friend's Request,
They shall have Death, and no ignoble Bondage:
Declare their promis'd Mercy all as forfeited:
False to their Oaths, and deaf to Intercession;
Warrants are pass'd for publick Death To-morrow.

Jaff. Death! doom'd to die! condemn'd unheard!
unpleaded!

Belv. Nay, cruelst Racks and Torments are preparing
To force Confession from their dying Pangs.
Oh! do not look so terribly upon me!
How your Lips shake, and all your Face disorder'd!
What means my Love?

Jaff. Leave me, I charge thee leave me——Strong Temptations
Wake in my Heart.

Belv. For what?

Jaff. No more, but leave me.

Belv. Why?

Jaff. Oh! by Heav'n I love thee with that Fondness,
I would not have thee stay a Moment longer,
Near these curs'd Hands: Are they not cold upon thee?

[Pulls the Dagger half out of his Bosom, and puts it back again.]

Belv. No, everlasting Comfort's in thy Arms.
To lean thus on thy Breast is softer Ease,
Than downy Pillows deck'd on Leaves of Roses.

Jaff. Alas! thou think'st not of the Thorns 'tis fill'd with:

Fly, e're they gaul thee: There's a lurking Serpent
Ready to leap, and sting thee to the Heart:
Art thou not terrify'd?

Belv. No.

Jaff. Call to Mind

What

What thou hast done, and whither thou hast brought me.

Belv. Hah!

[Mischief?]

Jaff. Where's my Friend? my Friend, thou smiling
Nay, shrink not, now 'tis too late; thou should'st have fled
When thy Guilt first had Cause; for dire Revenge
Is up, and raging for my Friend. He groans!
Hark how he groans! his Screams are in my Ears
Already; see, they've fix'd him on the Wheel,
And now they tear him——Murder! perjur'd Senate!
Murder——oh!—hark thee, Traiteurs, thou hast done this;
Thanks to thy Tears, and false persuading Love.
How her Eyes speak! O thou bewitching Creature!

[Fumbling for his Dagger.]

Madness can't hurt thee: Come thou little Trembler,
Creep even into my Heart, and there lie safe;
'Tis thy own Citadel——hah——yet stand off.
Heav'n must have Justice, and my broken Vows
Will sink me else beneath its reaching Mercy.
I'll wink, and then 'tis done——

Belv. What means the Lord

Of me, my Life and Love? What's in thy Bosom,
Thou grasp'st at so? Nay, why am I thus treated?

[Draws the Dagger, offers to stab her.]

What wilt thou do? Ah! do not kill me, Jaffier:
Pity these panting Breasts, and trembling Limbs,
That us'd to clasp thee when thy Looks were milder,
That yet hang heavy on my unpurg'd Soul;
And plunge it not into eternal Darknefs.

Jaff. Know, Belvidera, when we parted last,
I gave this Dagger with thee, as in Trust
To be thy Portion, if I e'er prov'd false.
On such Condition was my Truth believ'd:
But now 'tis forfeited, and must be paid for.

[Offers to stab her again.]

Belv. Oh! Mercy!

[Kneeling.]

Jaff. Nay, no Struggling.

Belv. Now then kill me.

[Leaps upon his Neck, and kisses him.]

While thus I c'ing about thy cruel Neck,
Kiss thy revengeful Lips, and die in Joys
Greater than any I can guess hereafter.

Jaff. I am, I am a Coward, witness't Heav'n,
Witness it; Earth, and ev'ry Being witness:
'Tis but one Blow! Yet my immortal Love,
I cannot longer bear a Thought to harm thee.

[He throws away the Dagger, and embraces her.]

The Seal of Providence is sure upon thee;
And thou wert born for yet unheard-of Wonders:
O! thou wert either born to save or damn me.
By all the Power that's given thee o'er my Soul,
By thy resistless Tears and conquering Smiles,
By the victorious Love that still waits on thee;
Fly to thy cruel Father, save my Friend,
Or all our future Quiet's lost for ever.
Fall at his Feet, cling round his reverend Knees:
Speak to him with thy Eyes, and with thy Tears
Melt his hard Heart, and wake dead Nature in him,
Crush him in th'Arms, torture him with thy Softness;

*Nor, till thy Prayers are granted, set him free,
But conquer him as thou hast conquer'd me.*

[Exit.]

A C T V. S C E N E I.

Enter Priuli solus.

Pri. WHY, cruel Heav'n, have my unhappy Days
Been lengthen'd to this sad one? Oh! Dis-
And deathless Infamy is fall'n upon me. [honour]
Was it my Fault? Am I a Traytor? No.
But then, my only Child, my Daughter wedded;
There my best Blood runs foul, and a Disease
Incurable has seiz'd upon my Memory,
To make it rot and stink to After-ages.
Curs'd be the fatal Minute when I got her;
Or would that I'd been any Thing but Man,
And rais'd an Issue which would ne'er have wrong'd me.
The miserablest Creatures (Man excepted)
Are not the less esteem'd, tho' their Posterity
Degenerate from the Virtues of their Fathers:
The vilest Beasts are happy in their Offspring,

While

While only Man gets Traytors, Whores, and Villains.
Curs'd be the Name, and some swift Blow from Fate
Lay his Head deep, where mine may be forgotten.

Enter Belvidera in a long Mourning Veil.

Belv. He's there, my Father, my inhuman Father,
That for three Years has left an only Child
Expos'd to all the Outrages of Fate,
And cruel Ruin!——oh!——

Pri. What Child of Sorrow
Art thou, that com'st wrapt up in Weeds of Sadness,
And mov'st as if thy Steps were towards a Grave?

Belv. A Wretch who from the very Top of Happiness
Am fallen into the lowest Depths of Misery,
And want your pitying Hand to raise me up again.

Pri. Indeed thou talk'st as thou hadst tasted Sorrows?
Would I could help thee.

Belv. 'Tis greatly in your Power:
The World too speaks you charitable; and I,
Who ne'er ask'd Alms before, in that dear Hope
Am come a Begging to you, Sir.

Pri. For what?

Belv. Oh! well regard me, is this Voice a strange one?
Consider too, when Beggars once pretend
A Case like mine, no little will content 'em.

Pri. What would'st thou beg for?

Belv. Pity and Forgiveness. [Throws up her Veil.]
By the kind tender Names of Child and Father,
Hear my Complaints, and take me to your Love.

Pri. My Daughter!

Belv. Yes, your Daughter, by a Mother
Virtuous and noble, faithful to your Honour,
Obedient to your Will, kind to your Wilhes,
Dear to your Arms. By all the Joys she gave you,
When in her blooming Years she was your Treasure,
Look kindly on me; in my Face behold
The Lineaments of her's you've kiss'd so often,
Pleading the Cause of your poor cast-off Child.

Pri. Thou art my Daughter.

Belv. Yes—and you've oft told me,
With Smiles of Love and chaste paternal Kisses,
I'd much Resemblance of my Mother.

Pri. Oh !

Hadst thou inherited her matchless Virtues,
I'd ad too been blest'd.

Belv. Nay, do not call to Memory
My Disobedience, but let Pity enter
Into your Heart, and quite deface the Impression.
For could you think how mine's perplex'd, what Sadness,
Fears and Despairs distract the Peace within me.
Oh ! you would take me into your dear, dear Arms,
Hover with strong Compassion o'er your young One,
To shelter me with a protecting Wing
From the black gather'd Storm, that's just, just breaking.

Pri. Don't talk thus.

Belv. Yes, I must ; and you must hear too,
I have a Husband.

Pri. Damn him.

Belv. Oh ! do not curse him ;
He would not speak so hard a Word towards you
On any Terms, howe'er he deal with me.

Pri. Ha ! what means my Child ?

Belv. Oh ! there's but this short Moment
'Twixt me and Fate : You send me not with Curses
Down to my Grave ; afford me one kind Blessing
Before we part : Just take me in your Arms,
And recommend me with a Prayer to Heav'n,
That I may die in Peace ; and when I'm dead —

Pri. How my Soul's catch'd !

Belv. Lay me, I beg you, lay me
By the dear Ashes of my tender Mother,
She would have pity'd me, had Fate yet spar'd her.

Pri. By Heav'n, my aking Heart forebodes much Mischief.

Tell me thy Story, for I'm still thy Father.

Belv. No : I'm still contented.

Pri. Speak.

Belv. No Matter.

Pri. Tell me,

By yon blest'd Heav'n, my Heart runs o'er with Fond-

Belv. Oh !

[ness.

Pri. Utter't.

Belv. Oh ! my Husband, my dear Husband,

Carries

Carries a Dagger in his once kind Bosom,
To pierce the Heart of your poor Belvidera.

Pri. Kill thee!

Belv. Yes, kill me. When he pass'd his Faith
And Covenant against your State and Senate,
He gave me up as Hostage for his Truth:
With me a Dagger, and a dire Commission,
Whene'er he fail'd, to plunge it thro' this Bosom.
I learnt the Danger, chose the Hour of Love
T'attempt his Heart, and bring it back to Honour.
Great Love prevail'd, and bless'd me with Success;
He came, confess'd, betray'd his dearest Friends
For promis'd Mercy. Now they're doom'd to suffer,
Gall'd with Remembrance of what then was sworn,
If they are lost, he vows t'appease the Gods
With this poor Life, and make my Blood th'Atone-

Pri. Heav'ns! [ment.

Belv. Think you saw what pass'd at our last Parting:
Think you beheld him like a raging Lion,
Pacing the Earth, and tearing up his Steps,
Eate in his Eyes, and roaring with the Pain
Of burning Fury: Think you saw his own Hand
Fix'd on my Throat, whilst the extended other Grasp'd a keen threat'ning Dagger: Oh! 'twas thus
We last embrac'd, when, trembling with Revenge,
He dragg'd me to the Ground, and at my Bosom
Presented horrid Death; cry'd out, my Friends,
Where are my Friends? swore, wept, rag'd, threaten'd,
lov'd;

For he yet lov'd, and that dear Love preserv'd me
To this last Trial of a Father's Pity.
I fear not Death, but cannot bear a Thought
That that dear Hand should do the unfriendly Office.
If I was ever then your Care, now hear me;
Fly to the Senate, save the promis'd Lives
Of his dear Friends, e're mine be made the Sacrifice.

Pri. Oh! my Heart's Comfort!

Belv. Will you not, my Father?
Weep not, but answer me.

Pri. By Heav'n I will.

Not one of 'em but what shall be immortal.

Canst thou forgive me all my Follies past,
 I'll henceforth be indeed a Father; never Never more thus expose, but cherish thee,
 Dear as the vital Warmth that feeds my Life,
 Dear as these Eyes that weep in Fondness o'er thee:
 Peace to thy Heart. Farewel.

Belv. Go, and remember

'Tis Belvidera's Life her Father pleads for. [Ex. severally.]

Enter Antonio.

Hum, hum, ha!

Signor Priuli, my Lord Priuli, my Lord, my Lord, my Lord: Now we Lords love to call one another by our Titles. My Lord, my Lord, my Lord,—Pox on him, I am a Lord as well as he. And so let him fiddle—I'll warrant him he's gone to the Senate-house, and I'll be there too soon enough for somebody. Odd —here's a tickling Speech about the Plot, I'll prove there's a Plot with a Vengeance,—Would I had it without Book; let me see——

Most reverend Senators,

That there is a Plot, surely by this Time no Man that hath Eyes or Understanding in his Head will presume to doubt; 'tis as plain as the Light in the Cucumber—no —hold there——Cucumbers does not come in yet—'tis as plain as the Light in the Sun, or as the Man in the Moon, even at Noon-day. It is indeed a Pumpkin-Plot, which, just as it was mellow, we have gather'd, and now we have gather'd it, prepar'd and dress'd it, shall we throw it like a pickled Cucumber, out at the Window? No: That 't is not only a bloody, horrid, execrable, damnable, and audacious Plot, but it is, as I may so say, a saucy Plot: And we all know, most Reverend Fathers, that what is Sauce for a Goose is Sauce for a Gander: Therefore, I say, as those blood-thirsty
 Ganders of the Conspiracy would have destroy'd us
 Geese of the Senate, let us make haste to destroy them:
 so I humbly move for Hanging—Hah! hurry, durry,
 —I think this will do; though I was something out at first, about the Sun and the Cucumber.

Enter Aquilina.

Aqui. Good morrow, Senator.

Ant.

Ant. Nacky, my dear Nacky ; Morrow, Nacky, odd I am very brisk, very merry, very pert, very jovial——ha a a a a——kiss me, Nacky ; how dost thou do, my little tory rory Strumpet ? Kiss me, I say, Huffy, kiss me.

Aqui. Kiss me, Nacky ! hang you, Sir Coxcomb, hang you, Sir.

Ant. Haity taity, is it so indeed ? With all my Heart, Faith——Hey, then up go we. Faith, Hey——then up go we, dum dum derum dump. [Sings.

Aqui. Signor.

Ant. Maddona.

Aqui. Do you intend to die in your Bed ?

Ant. About threescore Years hence much may be done, my Dear.

Aqui. You'll be hang'd, Signor.

Ant. Hang'd, Sweet-heart, prithee be quiet ; hang'd quoth-a, that's a merry Conceit with all my Heart ; why thou jok'st, Nacky ; thou art given to Joking, I'll swear ; well, I protest, Nacky, nay, I must protest, and will protest, that I love Joking dearly, Man. And I love thee for Joking, and I'll kiss thee for Joking, and towse thee for Joking ; and odd, I have a devilish Mind to take thee aside about that Business for Joking too, odd I have ; and Hey, then up go we, dum dum derum dump. [Sings.

Aqui. See you this, Sir ? [Draws a Dagger.

Ant. O Laud, a Dagger ! Oh ! Laud ! it is naturally my Aversion, I cannot endure the Sight on't ; hide it for Heaven's sake, I cannot look that Way till it be gone——hide it, hide it, oh ! oh ! hide it.

Aqui. Yes, in your Heart I'll hide it.

Ant. My Heart ! what, hide a Dagger in my Heart's Blood !

Aqui. Yes, in thy Heart, thy Throat, thou pamper'd Devil ;

Thou hast help'd to spoil my Peace, and I'll have Vengeance

On thy curs'd Life for all the bloody Senate,
The perjur'd faithless Senate : Where's my Lord,
My Happiness, my Love, my God, my Heroe,
Doom'd by thy accursed Tongue among the rest,

T' a shameful Rack? By all the Rage that's in me,
I'll be whole Years in murdering thee.

Ant. Why, Nacky?

Wherefore so passionate? What have I done; what's the Matter, my dear Nacky? Am not I thy Love, thy Happiness, thy Lord, thy Heroe, thy Senator, and every Thing in the World, Nacky.

Aqui. Thou! think'st thou, thou art fit to meet my
To bear the eager Clasps of my Embraces? [Joys:
Give me Pierre, or——

Ant. Why, he's to be hang'd, little Nacky;
Truss'd up for Treason, and so forth, Child.

Aqui. Thou ly'st; stop down thy Throat that hellish
Sentence,

Or 'tis thy last: Swear that my Love shall live,
Or thou art dead.

Ant. Ah! h h h.

Aqui. Swear to recall his Doom;
Swear at my Feet, and tremble at my Fury.

Ant. I do; now if she would but kick a little bit, one
Ah! h h h. [Kick now.

Aqui. Swear, or——

Ant. I do by these dear fragrant Foots [Nacky.
And little Toes, sweet as, e e e e, my Nacky, Nacky,

Aqui. How! [and Troth.

Ant. Nothing but untie thy Shoe strings a little, Faith
That's all, that's all, as I hope to live, Nacky, that's all.

Aqui. Nay, then——

Ant. Hold; hold, thy Love, thy Lord, thy Heroe
Shall be preserv'd and safe.

Aqui. Or may this Poniard
Rust in thy Heart.

Ant. With all my Soul.

Aqui. Farewel.

[Ex. Aqui.]

Ant. Adieu: Why, what a bloody-minded inveterate termagant Strumpet have I been plagu'd with! oh! h h!
Yet more! nay, then I die, I die—I'm dead already.

[Stretches out himself.

Enter Jaffier.

Jaff. Final Destruction seize on all the World,
Bend down, ye Heav'ns, and, shutting round this Earth,
Crush

Crush the vile Globe into its first Confusion ;
Scorch it with elemental Flames to one curs'd Cinder,
And all us little Creepers in't call'd Men
Burn, burn to nothing : But let Venice burn
Hotter than all the rest : Here kindle Hell,
Ne'er to extinguish ; and let Souls hereafter
Groan here in all those Pains, which mine feels now.

Enter Belvidera.

Bel. My Life ———

[Meeting him.

Jaff. My Plague ———

[Turning from her.

Belv. Nay, then I see my Ruin :
If I must die !

Jaff. No, Death's this Day too busy ;
Thy Father's ill-tim'd Mercy came too late.
I thank thee for thy Labours though, and him too :
But all my poor betray'd unhappy Friends
Have Summons to prepare for Fate's black Hour :
And yet I live.

Belv. Then be the next my Doom :
I see thou hast pass'd my Sentence in thy Heart,
And I'll no longer weep or plead against it,
But with the humblest, most obedient Patience
Meet thy dear Hands, and kiss 'em when they wound.
Indeed I am willing, but I beg thee do it [me.
With some Remorse ; and when thou giv'st the Blow,
View me with Eyes of a relenting Love,
And shew me Pity, for 'twill sweeten Justice.

Jaff. Shew Pity to thee ?

Belv. Yes, and when thy Hands,
Charg'd with my Fate, come trembling to the Deed,
As thou hast done a Thousand Thousand dear Times
To this poor Breast, when kinder Rage hath brought thee,

When our stung Hearts have leap'd to meet each other,
And melting Kisses seal'd our Lips together ;
When Joys have left me gasping in thy Arms :
So let my Death come now, and I'll not shrink from't.

Jaff. Nay, Belvidera, do not fear my Cruelty,
Nor let the Thoughts of Death perplex thy Fancy ;
But answer me to what I shall demand,
With a firm Temper and unshaken Spirit.

Belv. I will when I've done weeping——

Jaff.

Jaff. Fie, no more on't——
How long is't since that miserable Day
We wedded first?

Belv. Oh! h h!

Jaff. Nay, keep in thy 'Tears,
Lest they unman me too.

Belv. Heav'n knows I cannot;
The Words you utter sound so very sadly
The Streams will follow——

Jaff. Come, I'll kiss 'em dry then.

Belv. But was't a miserable Day?

Jaff. A curs'd one.

Belv. I thought it otherwise; and you've oft sworn,
In the transporting Hours of warmest Love,
When sure you spoke the Truth, you've sworn you

Jaff. 'Twas a rash Oath. [blest'd it.

Belv. Then why am I not curs'd too?

Jaff. No, Belvidera, by th'eternal Truth,
I doat with too much Fondness.

Belv. Still so kind!

Still then do you love me?

Jaff. Nature, in her Workings,
Inclines not with more Ardour to Creation,
Than I do now towards thee: Man ne'er was blest'd,
Since the first Pair met, as I have been.

Belv. Then sure you will not curse me?

Jaff. No, I'll bless thee.

I came on Purpose, Belvidera, to bless thee.
'Tis now, I think, three Years, we've liv'd together.

Belv. And may no fatal Minute ever part us,
Till reverend grown for Age and Love, we go
Down to one Grave, as our last Bed, together;
There sleep in Peace, till an eternal Morning.

Jaff. When will that be? [Sighing.

Belv. I hope long Ages hence.

Jaff. Have I not hitherto (I beg thee tell me Thy very Fears) us'd thee with tender'st Love?
Did e'er my Soul rise up in Wrath against thee?
Did I e'er frown, when Belvidera smil'd?
Or, by the least unfriendly Word betray Abating Passion? Have I ever wrong'd thee?

Belv. No.

Jaff.

Jaff. Has my Heart, or have my Eyes e're wander'd
To any other Woman?

Belv. Never, never—I were the worst of false Ones, should I accuse thee.

I own I've been too happy, blest'd above
My Sex's Charter.

Jaff. Did I not say I came to bless thee?

Belv. Yes.

Jaff. Then hear me, bounteous Heaven;
Pour down your Blessings on this beauteous Head,
Where everlasting Sweets are always springing,
With a continual giving Hand: Let Peace,
Honour, and Safety always hover round her;
Feed her with Plenty, let her Eyes ne'er see
A Sight of Sorrow, nor her Heart know Mourning:
Crown all her Days with Joy, her Nights with Rest,
Harmless as her own Thoughts; and prop her Virtue
To bear the Loss of one that too much lov'd;
And comfort her with Patience in our Parting.

Belv. How, Parting, Parting!

Jaff. Yes, for ever Parting;
I have sworn, Belvidera, by yon Heav'n,
That best can tell how much I lose, to leave thee,
We part this Hour for ever.

Belv. Oh! call back
Your cruel Blessing; stay with me and curse me!

Jaff. No, 'tis resolv'd.

Belv. Then hear me too, just Heav'n:
Pour down your Curses on this wretched Head
With never-ceasing Vengeance; let Despair,
Danger, and Infamy, nay all, surround me;
Starve me with Wantings; let my Eyes ne'er see
A Sight of Comfort, nor my Heart know Peace,
But dash my Days with Sorrow, Nights with Horrors
Wild as my own Thoughts now, and let loose Fury
To make me mad enough for what I lose,
If I must lose him. If I must? I will not,
Oh! turn and hear me!

Jaff. Now hold, Heart, or never.

Belv. By all the tender Days we've liv'd together,
By all our charming Nights and Joys that crown'd 'em,
Pity

Pity my sad Condition ; speak, but speak.

Jaff. Oh ! h h !

Belv. By these Arms that now cling round thy Neck,
By this dear Kifs, and by Ten Thousand more,
By these poor streaming Eyes——

Jaff. Murder ! unhold me :
By th' immortal Destiny that doom'd me

[Draws his Dagger.

To this curs'd Minute, I'll not live one longer ;
Resolve to let me go, or see me fall——

Belv. Hold, Sir, be patient.

Jaff. Hark, the dismal Bell [Passing-Bell tolls.
Tolls out for Death ! I must attend its Call too ;
For my poor Friend, my dying Pierre, expects me :
He sent a Message to require I'd see him
Before he dy'd, and take his last Forgiveness.
Farewel, for ever.

Belv. Leave thy Dagger with me,
Bequeath me something——Not one Kifs at Parting ;
Oh ! my poor Heart, when wilt thou break ?

[Going out, looks back at him.

Jaff. Yet stay :

We have a Child, as yet a tender Infant ;
Be a kind Mother to him when I'm gone,
Breed him in Virtue, and the Paths of Honour,
But never let him know his Father's Story ;
I charge thee guard him from the Wrongs my Fate
May do his future Fortune, or his Name.

Now——nearer yet—— [Approaching each other.

Oh ! that my Arms were riveted
Thus round thee ever ! But my Friends ! my Oath !
This, and no more. [Kisses her.

Belv. Another, sure another,
For that poor little One you've ta'en such Care of,
I'll give't him truly.

Jaff. So now farewel.

Belv. For ever ?

Jaff. Heav'n knows for ever ; all good Angels guard thee. [Exit.

Belv. All ill ones sure had Charge of me this Moment.
Curs'd be my Days, and doubly curs'd my Nights,
Which

Which I must now mourn out in widow'd Tears ;
 Blasted by every Herb, and Fruit, and Tree ;
 Curs'd be the Rain that falls upon the Earth,
 And may the general Curse reach Man and Beast !
 Oh ! give me Daggers, Fire or Water :
 How I could bleed, how burn, how drown, the Waves
 Huzzing and foaming round my sinking Head,
 Till I descended to the peaceful Bottom !
 Oh ! there's all Quiet, here all Rage and Fury :
 The Air's too thin, and pierces my weak Brain ;
 I long for thick substantial Sleep : Hell ! Hell !
 Burst from the Center, rage and roar aloud,
 If thou art half so hot, so mad as I am.

Enter Priuli and Servants.

Who's there ? [They seize her.]

Pri. Run, seize, and bring her safely home,
 Guard her as you would do Life : Alas, poor Creature !

Belv. What to my Husband ? then conduct me quickly ;

Are all Things ready ? Shall we die most gloriously ?
 Say not a Word of this to my old Father :
 Murmuring Streams, soft Shades, and springing Flowers,
 Lutes, Laurels, Seas of Milk, and Ships of Amber. [Ex.]

SCENE opening discovers a Scaffold, and a Wheel prepar'd for the Executing of Pierre ; then enter Officers, Pierre and Guards, a Friar, Executioner, and a great Rabble.

Off. Room, Room there—stand all by, make Room for the Prisoner.

Pier. My Friend not yet come ?

Friar. Why are you so obstinate ?

Pier. Why you so troublesome, that a poor Wretch can't die in Peace,

But you, like Ravens, will be croaking round him ?—

Friar. Yet Heav'n—

Pier. I tell thee, Heav'n and I are Friends :
 I ne'er broke Peace with't yet by cruel Murders,
 Rapine, or Perjury, or vile Deceiving :
 But liv'd in moral Justice towards all Men :
 Nor am a Foe to the most strong Believers,
 Howe'er my own short-sighted Faith confines me.

Friar.

Friar. But an All-seeing Judge——

Pier. You say my Conscience
Must be my Accuser; I have search'd that Conscience,
And find no Records there of Crimes that scare me.

Friar. 'Tis strange you should want Faith.

Pier. You want to lead
My Reason blind-fold, like a hamper'd Lion,
Check'd of its nobler Vigour; then when bated
Down to obedient Tameness, make it couch,
And shew strange Tricks, which you call Signs of Faith.
So silly Souls are gull'd, and you get Money.
Away; no more: Captain, I'd have hereafter
This Fellow write no Lyes of my Conversion,
Because he has crept upon my troubled Hours.

Enter Jaffier.

Jaff. Hold: Eyes be dry;
Heart, strengthen me to bear
This hideous Sight, and humble me: Take
The last Forgiveness of a dying Friend,
Betray'd by my vile Falshood to his Ruin.
Oh! Pierre!

Pier. Yet nearer.

Jaff. Crawling on my Knees,
And prostrate on the Earth, let me approach thee:
How shall I look up to thy injur'd Face,
That always us'd to smile with Friendship on me;
It darts an Air of so much manly Virtue,
That I, methinks, look little in thy Sight,
And Stripes are fitter for me than Embraces.

Pier. Dear to my Arms, tho' thou'st undone my Fame,
I can't forget to love thee: Prithee, Jaffier,
Forgive that filthy Blow my Passion dealt thee:
I am now preparing for the Land of Peace,
And fain would have the charitable Wishes
Of all good Men, like thee, to bless my Journey.

Jaff. Good! I am the vilest Creature, worse than e'er Suffer'd the shameful Fate thou'rt going to taste of.
Why was I sent for to be us'd thus kindly?
Call, call me Villain, as I am; describe
The foul Complexion of my hateful Deeds;
Lead me to th'Rack, and stretch me in thy Stead,

I've

I've Crimes enough to give it its full Load,
And do it Credit: Thou wilt but spoil the Use on't,
And honest Men hereafter bear its Figure
About 'em as a Charm from treacherous Friendship.

Offi. The Time grows short, your Friends are dead already.

Jaff. Dead!

Pier. Yes, dead, Jaffier; they've all dy'd like Men too!
Worthy their Character.

Jaff. And what must I do?

Pier. Oh! Jaffier!

Jaff. Speak aloud thy burthen'd Soul,
And tell thy Troubles to thy tortur'd Friend.

Pier. Friend! Could'st thou yet be a Friend, a generous Friend,
I might hope Comfort from thy noble Sorrows.
Heav'n knows I want a Friend.

Jaff. And a kind one,
That would not thus scorn my repenting Virtue,
Or think, when he's to die, my Thoughts are idle.

Pier. No! Live, I charge thee, Jaffier.

Jaff. Yes, I will live:
But it shall be to see thy Fall reveng'd
At such a Rate as Venice long shall groan for.

Pier. Wilt thou?

Jaff. I will, by Heav'n.

Pier. Then still thou'rt noble,
And I forgive thee. Oh! — yet — shall I trust thee?

Jaff. No; I've been false already.

Pier. Do'st thou love me?

Jaff. Rip up my Heart, and satisfy thy Doubtings.

Pier. Curse on this Weakness. [He weeps.

Jaff. Tears! Amazement! Tears!
I never saw thee melted thus before;
And know there's something labouring in thy Bosom
That must have Vent: Tho' I'm a Villain, tell me.

Pier. See'st thou that Engine? [Pointing to the Wheel.

Jaff. Why?

Pier. Is't fit a Soldier, who has liv'd with Honour,
Fought Nations Quarrels, and been crown'd with Con-
Be expos'd a common Carcase on a Wheel? [quest,
Jaff.

Jaff. Hah!

Pier. Speak: Is't fitting?

Jaff. Fitting?

Pier. Yes, is't fitting?

Jaff. What's to be done?

Pier. I'd have thee undertake
Something that's noble to preserve my Memory
From the Disgrace that's ready to attain it.

Offi. The Day grows late, Sir.

Pier. I'll make haste. Oh! Jaffier!

Tho' thou'st betray'd me, do me some Way Justice.

Jaff. No more of that: Thy Wishes shall be satisfy'd;
I have a Wife, and she shall bleed: my Child too
Yield up his little Throat, and all
T' appease thee——

[Going away, Pierre holds him.

Pier. No—this—no more.

[He whispers Jaffier.

Jaff. Hah! Is't then so?

Pier. Most certainly.

Jaff. I'll do't.

Pier. Remember.

Offi. Sir.

Pier. Come, now I'm ready.

[He and Jaffier ascend the Scaffold.

Captain, you should be a Gentleman of Honour;
Keep off the Rabble, that I may have Room
To entertain my Fate, and die with Decency.

Come. [Takes off his Gown, Executioner prepares to bind him.

Friar. Son.

Pier. Hence, Tempter.

Offi. Stand off, Priest.

Pier. I thank you, Sir,

You'll think on't? [to Jaffier.

Jaff. 'Twon't grow stale before To-morrow.

Pier. Now, Jaffier! now I'm going. Now——

[Executioner having bound him.

Jaff. Have at thee,

Thou honest Heart, then—here——

[Stabs him.

And this is well too.

[Then stabs himself.

Friar. Damnable Deed!

Pier. Now thou hast indeed been faithful.

This

This was done nobly — We have deceiv'd the Senate.

Jaff. Bravely.

Pier. Ha, ha, ha — oh ! oh !

[Dies.

Jaff. Now, ye curs'd Rulers,

Thus of the Blood y've shed I make Libation,
And sprinkle it mingling : May it rest upon you,
And all your Race ; be henceforth Peace a Stranger
Within your Walls ; let Plagues and Famine waste
Your Generations — Oh ! poor Belvidera !

Sir, I have a Wife, bear this in Safety to her,
A Token that with my dying Breath I blest'd her,
And the dear little Infant behind me.

I'm sick — I'm quiet.

[Jaffier dies.

Offi. Bear this News to the Senate,
And guard their Bodies till there's farther Orders :

Heav'n grant I die so well. [Scene shuts upon them.

Soft Musick. Enter Belvidera distracted, led by two of her Women, Priuli and Servants.

Pri. Strengthen her Heart with Patience, pitying
Heav'n.

Belv. Come, come, come, come, come, nay, come to Bed.

Prithee, my Love. The Winds : hark how they whistle ;
And the Rain beats : Oh ! how the Weather shrinks
me !

You are angry now, who cares ? Pish, no indeed.
Chuse then, I say you shall not go, you shall not.
Whip your Ill-nature ; get you gone then ; oh !

[Jaffier's Ghost arises.

Are you return'd ? See, Father, here he's come again,
Am I to blame to love him ? O thou dear one.

[Ghost sinks.

Why do you fly me ? Are you angry still then ?

Jaffier, where art thou ? Father, why do you do thus ?
Stand off, don't hide him from me. He's there somewhere.

Stand off, I say : What gone ? Remember't, Tyrant :
I may revenge myself for this Trick, one Day,
I'll do't — I'll do't. Renault's a nasty Fellow ;
Hang him, hang him, hang him.

Enter

Enter Officers and others.

Pri. News, what News? [Officer whispers Priuli.

Off. Most sad, Sir;

Jaffier, upon the Scaffold, to prevent
A shameful Death, stabb'd Pierre, and next himself:
Both fell together.

Pri. Daughter.

Belu. Ha! look there! [The Ghosts of Jaffier and Pierre rise together, both bloody.

My Husband bloody, and his Friend too! Murder!
Who has done this? Speak to me, thou sad Vision;

[Ghosts sink.

On these poor trembling Knees I beg it: Vanish'd—
Here they went down: Oh! I'll dig, dig the Den up.
You shan't delude me thus. Hoa, Jaffier, Jaffier,
Peep up, and give me but a Look. I have him!
I've got him, Father: Oh! now how I'll smuggle him!
My Love! my Dear! my Blessing! help me! help me!
They have hold on me, and drag me to the Bottom.
Nay—now they pull so hard—farewel— [She dies.

Maid. She's dead,
Breathless and dead.

Pri. Then guard me from the Sight on't:
Lead me into some Place that's fit for Mourning;
Where the free Air, Light, and the chearful Sun
May never enter: Hang it round with Black;
Set up one Taper, that may light a Day,
As long as I've to live: And there all leave me:

*Sparing no Tears, when you this Tale relate,
But bid all cruel Fathers dread my Fate,*

[Exeunt Omnes.

EPILOGUE.

THE Text is done, and now for Application,
 And when that's ended, pass your Approbation.
 Though the Conspiracy's prevented here,
 Methinks I see another hatching there:
 And there's a certain Faction fain would sway,
 If they had Strength enough, and damn this Play:
 But this the Author bid me boldly say,
 If any take this Plainness in ill Part,
 He's glad on't from the Bottom of his Heart:
 Poets in Honour of the Truth should write,
 With the same Spirit brave Men for it fight.
 And though against him causeless Hatreds rise,
 And daily where he goes of late he spies
 The Scowles of sullen and revengeful Eyes;
 'Tis what he knows, with much Contempt, to bear,
 And serves a Cause too good to let him fear.
 He fears no Poison from an incens'd Drab,
 No Russian's five Foot Sword, nor Rascal's Stab;
 Nor any other Snares of Mischief laid,
 Not a Rose-Alley Cudgel Ambuscade.
 From any private Cause where Malice reigns,
 Or general Pique all Blockheads have to Brains;
 Nothing shall damn his Pen, when Truth does call,
 No, not the † Picture-mangler at Guildhall.
 The Rebel-Tribe, of which that Vermin's one,
 Have now set forward, and their Course begun;

† The Rascal that cut the Duke of York's Picture.

And

*And while that Prince's Figure they deface,
 As they before had massacred his Name,
 Durst their base Fears but look him in the Face,
 They'd use his Person as they've us'd his Fame :*

*A Face in which such Line'ments they read
 Of that great Martyr's, whose rich Blood they shed,
 That their rebellious Hate they still retain,
 And in his Son would murder him again.
 With Indignation then let each brave Heart
 Rouze, and unite, to take his injur'd Part ;
 'Till Royal Love and Goodness call him Home,
 And Songs of Triumph meet him as he come :
 'Till Heav'n his Honour and our Peace restore,
 And Villains never wrong his Virtue more.*

PREFACE to the READER.

THE Beauties, of Nature, will be Beauties, everlastingly.—If they are, sometimes eclips'd, by a Cloud of ill Accidents, they disperse the dark Screen; and, again, become amiable.

But, unwilling to suppose, we are, now, under Influence of such a Cloud, with Regard to Dramatical Taste, I thought it more decent, (and juster) to charge its Degeneracy to the STAGE, than to the Genius of the Nation.

Accounting in this manner for the Defect, I have often taken Pleasure, (when turning my Search towards a Remedy) to consider it, as no improbable Hope, that YOUNG Actors, and Actresses, beginning, uneduc'd by AFFECTED EXAMPLES, might go some Length, towards what has been said, of a celebrated Writer,

“ Who reach'd Perfection, in his first Essay.

It requir'd, methought, but the Assistance of a lively Imagination, join'd to an easy, and natural, Power; with a resolute Habitude, to BE, for an Hour or two, the very Persons, they wou'd seem.—Such a Foundation for accomplish'd Acting, lies so open, and so clearly in Nature, that they, who find it at all, must discover it at first: because, when Men are once got out of the Road, they, who travel the farthest, have but most Length of Way to ride back again.

Yet, the Interested in Playhouses were so positive, in the contrary Sentiment, that they submitted to reverence, as a Maxim, this extraordinary Concession, “ That Actors must be twenty Years such, before they can expect to be Masters, of the Air, and Tread, of the Stage.
Now,

PREFACE to the READER.

Now, there is but one View, in Nature, wherein I was willing to admit of this Argument: I was forc'd to confess, I had seen some particular Stage Airs, and Stage Treads, which a Man of good Sense might indeed, waste a long Life, in endeavouring to imitate, and, at last, lose his Labour!

However, since an Opinion, in Opposition to these Gentlemen's, wanted Weight to make That believ'd possible, which had not, yet, been reduc'd into Practice, I took a sudden Resolution, actually to try, WHO was in the Right, by attempting the EXPERIMENT.— This, I knew, was a Design, which, succeeding, wou'd not fail to give Pleasure to the Publick; and, which, miscarrying, cou'd produce no worse Consequence, than my particular Mortification.

I imagin'd it reasonable to found a Trial, of this Nature, rather on a New Play, than an Old one: And, as it ought to be a Play of unquestionable Merit, it must have been Presumption, and Vanity, to have cast a Thought toward any thing, of my own.—Upon the whole, that I might keep out of the Reach either of Prejudice, or Partiality, a Foreign Production seem'd the properest Choice; and, the ZAIRE, of Monsieur de Voltaire, offer'd me every thing that Nature could do, on the Part of the Poet: But, I had still something to wish, with regard to that other Part of her Influence, which depended on the Player.

I had (of late) among the rest of the Town, been depriv'd of all rational Pleasure from the Theatre, by a monstrous, and unmoving, Affectation: which, choking up the Avenues to Passion, had made Tragedy FORBIDDING, and HORRIBLE!

I was despairing to see a Correction of this Folly; when I found myself, unexpectedly, re-animated, by the War which the THE PROMPTER has proclaim'd, and is now, Weekly, waging against the Ranters, and Whiners, of the Theatre; after having undertaken to reduce the Actor's lost Art, into PRINCIPLES, with Design, by reconciling them to the touching, and spirited,
Medium,

PREFACE to the READER.

Medium, to reform those wild Copies of Life, into some Resemblance, at least, of their Originals.

Thus, confirm'd in my Sentiments, I ventur'd on the Cast of two Capital Characters, into Hands, not disabled, by Custom, and obstinate Prejudice, from pursuing the Plain Track, of NATURE.

It was easy to induce OSMAN, (as he is a Relation of my own, and but too fond of the Amusement) to make Trial, how far his Delight, in an Art, I shall never allow him to practise, might enable him to supply one Part of the Proof, that, to imitate Nature, we must proceed, upon Natural Principles.

At the same Time, it happened, that Mrs. CIBBER was, fortunately, inclinable to exert her inimitable Talent, in additional Aid of my Purpose, with View to continue the Practice of a Profession, for which, Her Person, Her Voice, the unaffected Sensibility of her Heart, (and, her Face, so finely dispos'd, for assuming, and expressing, the PASSIONS) have, so naturally, qualify'd her.

And, to give this bold Novelty of Design, all its necessary Furtherance, Mr. FLEETWOOD, who professes the most generous Inclinations, for Improvement of his troublesome Province, very willingly concurr'd, in whatever cou'd, on His Part, be of Use, to the Experiment.

Behold, in this little Detail, from what Motive, I have taken upon me to throw one of the finest of French Plays upon the Publick.—If my Expectations are not strangely deceiv'd, it will be found, by the Event, whether our Taste for true Tragedy is declin'd; or, the true Art of Acting it forgotten.

From the First, I can have nothing to conclude, but, that my Judgment has been weak, and mistaken.

But, if the Last proves the Case, I shall flatter myself, that those Persons of Quality, from whose imaginary Want of Discernment some People have not blush'd, to DERIVE their Dull Qualities, will, in Right of their insulted

PREFACE to the READER.

insulted Understanding, EXACT, for the future, a warm, and, toilsome, Exertion, of the Strong and the Natural, tho' at the COST of the Lazy, and Affected.

This would awaken, at once, the Reflexion, of many, who have it in their POWER to be moving, and natural Actors; and, by effectually convincing them, that their Present Opinion is wrong, bring 'em over (for their own, and the Publick Advantage) to embrace, and succeed by, a New one.

Such a Step, toward reforming the Theatre, wou'd draw on, (as a Consequence) many, of its nobler Improvements—For, where Emotions are keenest, the Delight becomes greatest; and, to whatever most charms, we, most closely, adhere; and, encourage it, most actively.

If, in translating this excellent Tragedy, I have regarded, in some Places, the Soul, and, in others, the Letter, of the Original, Monsieur de Voltaire, who has made himself a very capable Judge, both of our Language, and Customs, will indulge me that Latitude; except, he shou'd, in observing some Alterations I have made, in his Names, and his Diction, forget, that their Motives are to be found, in the Turn of our National Difference.

After what I have said of the Playhouses, it wou'd be Injustice, not to declare, that I exclude from the Censure, of Speaking, or acting, unnaturally, Any One of the Persons, who have been cast into ZARA.—And, in particular, I must say This, of TWO of them; that Mr. MILWARD, who is already a very excellent, and hourly rising to be an accomplish'd, Actor, has a VOICE, that both comprehends, and expresses, the utmost Compass of HARMONY.—And, Mr. CIBBER, discerningly, pursued, thro' the numberless Extent of his Walks, is an Actor, of as unlimited a Compass of GENIUS, as ever I saw on the Stage: and, is, barely, receiv'd, as he deserves, when the Town is most favourable.

P R O-

P R O L O G U E,

Written by COLLEY CIBBER, Esq;

Spoke by Mr. CIBBER.

THE French, howe'er Mercurial they may seem,
Extinguish half their Fire, by Critic Phlegm:
While English Writers Nature's Freedom claim,
And warm their Scenes with an ungovern'd Flame:
'Tis strange that Nature never should inspire
A Racine's Judgment, with a Shakespear's Fire!

Howe'er, to-night—(to promise much we're loth)
But—you've a Chance, to have a Taste of Both.
From English Plays, Zara's French Author fir'd,
Confess'd his Muse, beyond herself, inspir'd;
From rack'd Othello's Rage, he rais'd his Style,
And snatch'd the Brand, that lights this Tragick Pile:
Zara's Success his utmost Hopes outflaw,
And a twice twentieth Weeping-Audience drew.

As for our English Friend, he leaves to you,
Whate'er may seem to his Performance due;
No Views of Gain, his Hopes or Fears engage,
He gives a Child of Leisure to the Stage:
Willing to try, if yet, forsaken Nature,
Can Charm, with any One remember'd Feature.

Thus far, the Author speaks—but now, the Player,
With trembling Heart, prefers his humble Prayer.

To-night

P R O L O G U E.

*To-night, the greatest Venture of my Life,
Is Lost, or Sav'd, as You receive—a Wife :
If Time, you think, may ripen her, to Merit,
With gentle Smiles, support her wav'ring Spirit.
Zara in France, at once, an Actress rais'd,
Warm'd into Skill, by being kindly Prais'd :
O ! cou'd such Wonders Here, from Favour flow,
How would our Zara's Heart, with Transport glow !
But she, alas ! by juster Fears oppress'd,
Begs but your bare Endurance, at the Best.
Her unskill'd Tongue would simple Nature speak,
Nor dares Her Bounds, for false Applauses break.
Amidst a thousand Faults, her best Pretence
To please—is unpresuming Innocence.
When a chaste Heart's Distress your Grief demands,
One silent Tear outweighs a thousand Hands.
If she conveys the pleasing Passions, RIGHT,
Guard and Support her, this decisive Night.
If she MISTAKES—or, finds her Strength too small,
Let interposing Pity——break her Fall,
In You it rests, to Save her, or Destroy,
If She draws Tears from You, I Weep—for Joy.*

ZARA.

ACT I. SCENE I.

Zara and Selima.

Selima.

I moves my Wonder, young and beauteous Zara,
Whence these new Sentiments inspire your Heart!
Your Peace of Mind increases with your Charms;
Tears, now, no longer shade your Eyes soft Lustre:
You meditate, no more, those happy Climes,
To which Nerestan will return to guide you:

You

2 The TRAGEDY of ZARA.

You talk no more of that gay Nation, now,
Where Men adore their Wives, and Woman's Power
Draws Rev'rence from a polish'd People's Softness :
Their Husband's Equals; and their Lovers' Queens!
Free without Scandal; wise, without Restraint;
Their Virtue, due to Nature, not to Fear!
Why have you ceas'd to wish this happy Change?
A barr'd Seraglio!—sad, unfocial Life!
Scorn'd, and a Slave! All this has lost its Terror:
And Syria rivals, now, the Banks of Seine!

Zara. Joys, which we do not know, we do not
with;

My Fate's bound in, by Sion's sacred Wall;
Clos'd, from my Infancy, within this Palace,
Custom has learnt, from Time, the Power to please :
I claim no Share in the remoter World,
The Sultan's Property, his Will my Law;
Unknowing All, but Him, his Power, his Fame;
To live his Subject, is my only Hope,
All, else, an empty Dream.—.

Selima. Have you forgot
Absent Nerestan then? Whose gen'rous Friendship,
So nobly vow'd Redemption from your Chains!
How oft have you admir'd his dauntless Soul!
Osman, his Conqu'ror, by his Courage, charm'd,
Trusted his Faith, and, on his Word, releas'd him:
Tho' not return'd, in Time— —we, yet, expect Him.
Nor had his Noble Journey other Motive,
Than to procure our Ransom;—And is this,
This dear, warm, Hope—become an idle Dream?

Zara. Since after two long Years, he not returns,
'Tis plain, his Promise stretch'd beyond his Power:
A Stranger, and a Slave, unknown like him,
Proposing Much, means Little;—Talks, and vows,
Delighted with a Prospect of Escape:—
He promis'd to redeem Ten Christians more,
And free us All, from Slavery!—I own.

I once admir'd th' unprofitable Zeal,
But, now, it charms no longer.—

Selima. What! if yet,
He, faithful, shou'd return, and hold his Vow!
Wou'd you not, then—

Zara. No matter—Time is past;
And every Thing is chang'd—

Selima. But, whence comes This?

Zara. Go—'twere too much, to tell thee Zara's
Fate;

The Sultan's Secrets, all, are sacred here:
But my fond Heart delights to mix with Thine.—
Some three Months past, when thou, and other Slaves,
Were forc'd to quit fair Jordan's flow'ry Bank;
Heaven, to cut short the Anguish of my Days,
Rais'd me, to Comfort, by a powerful Hand!
This mighty Osman!

Selima. What of Him?

Zara. This Sultan!

This Conqu'ror of the Christians! loves—

Selima. Whom?

Zara. Zara!—

Thou blushest, and I guess, thy Thoughts accuse me;
But, know me better—'twas unjust Suspicion:
All Emperor, as he is, I cannot stoop
To Honours, that bring Shame and Baseness with 'em:

Reason, and Pride, those Props of Modesty,
Sustain my guarded Heart, and strengthen Virtue;
Rather than sink to Infamy, let Chains
Embrace me, with a Joy; such Love denies:
No—I shall, now, astonish thee;—His Greatness

Submits, to own a pure, and honest Flame;
Among the shining Crowds, which live, to please
him,

His whole Regard is fix'd on Me, alone:

He

He offers Marriage——and its Rites, now, wait,
To crown me Empress of this Eastern World.

Selima. Your Virtue, and your Charms, deserve it
All :

My Heart is not surpris'd, but struck, to hear it;
If, to be Empress, can compleat your Happiness,
I rank myself, with Joy, among your Slaves.

Zara. Be, still, my Equal——and enjoy my Blessings :

For, Thou partaking, they will bless Me more.

Selima. Alas! but Heaven! will it permit this Marriage?

Will not this Grandeur, falsely, call'd a Bliss,
Plant Bitterness, and root it, in your Heart?
Have you forgot, you are of Christian Blood?

Zara. Ah me! what hast thou said? Why wou'dst thou, thus,

Recal my wav'ring Thoughts?—How know I, what,
Or whence I am? Heaven kept it, hid, in Darkness,
Conceal'd me from myself, and from my Blood.

Selima. Nerestan, who was born a Christian, here,
Asserts, that You, like Him, had Christian Parents;
Besides—That Cross, which, from your Infant Years,
Has been preserv'd, was found upon your Bosom,
As if design'd, by Heaven, a Pledge of Faith,
Due to the God, you purpose to forsake!

Zara. Can my fond Heart, on such a feeble Proof,
Embrace a Faith, abhorr'd by him I love?
I see, too plainly, Custom forms us All;
Our Thoughts, our Morals, our most fix'd Belief,
Are Consequences of our Place of Birth :
Born beyond Ganges, I had been a Pagan ;
In France, a Christian;——I am, here, a Saracen :
'Tis but Instruction, all! Our Parents' Hand
Writes, on our Heart, the first, faint Characters,
Which Time, re-tracing, deepens into Strength,
That nothing can efface, but Death, or Heaven!—
Thou wert not made a Pris'ner in this Place,

'Till,

'Till, after Reason, borrowing Force from Years,
Had lent its Lustre, to enlighten Faith: —
For me, who in my Cradle was their Slave,
Thy Christian Doctrines were, too lately, taught me:
Yet, far from having lost the Rev'ence due,
This Cross, as often as it meets my Eye,
Strikes thro' my Heart a kind of awful Fear!
I honour, from my Soul, the Christian Laws,
Those Laws, which, soft'ning Nature, by Humanity,
Melt Nations into Brotherhood; —no doubt,
Christians are happy; and, 'tis just to love 'em.

Selima. Why have you, then, declar'd yourself their Foe? [man's?]

Why will you join your Hand, with this proud Os-
Who owes his Triumphs to the Christian's Ruin!

Zara. Ah! — Who could slight the Offer of his Heart?

Nay ——— for I mean to tell thee all my Weakness;
Perhaps, I had, ere now, profess'd Thy Faith,
But Osman lov'd me ——— and I've lost it All: ———
I think, on none, but Osman ——— my pleas'd Heart,
Fill'd with the Blessing, to be lov'd, by Him,
Wants Room for other Happiness: ——— Place thou,
Before thy Eyes, his Merit, and his Fame,
His Youth, yet, blooming but in Manhood's Dawn!
How many conquer'd Kings have swell'd his Pow'r!
Think, too, how lovely! how his Brow becomes
This Wreath of early Glories! ——— Oh! my Friend!
I talk not of a Scepter, which he gives me:
No ——— to be charm'd with That, were Thanks,
too humble!

Offensive Tribute, and, too poor, for Love!
'Twas Osman, won my Heart, not Osman's Crown:
I love not, in Him, aught, besides Himself.
Thou think'st, perhaps, that these are starts of Passion;
But, had the Will of Heav'n, less bent to bless him,
Doom'd Osman to my Chains, and Me, to fill

The Throne, that Osman sits on—Ruin and Wretchedness,

Catch and consume my Wishes, but I wou'd——

To raise me, to my self, descend to Him.

Selima. Hark! the wish'd Music sounds!——'Tis he——he comes—— [Exit Selima.

Zara. My Heart prevented him, and found him near:

Absent, two whole long Days, the slow-pac'd Hour,
At last, is come—and gives him, to my Wishes!

Enter Osman, reading a Paper, which he re-delivers to Orasmin.

Osman. Wait my Return——or, shou'd there be a Cause,

That may require my Presence——do not fear

To enter——ever mindful, that my Own

[Exit Orasmin.

Follows my People's Happiness.——At length, Cares have releas'd my Heart——to Love, and Zara.

Zara. 'Twas not in cruel Absence, to deprive me
Of your Imperial Image——every where,
You reign, triumphant: Memory supplies
Reflexion, with your Pow'r; and you, like Heaven,
Are always present——and are, always gracious.

Osman. The Sultans, my great Ancestors, bequeath'd

Their Empire to me, but their Taste they gave not;
Their Laws, their Lives, their Loves, delight not me:
I know, our Prophet smiles, on am'rous Wishes;
And opens a wide Field, to vast Desire:

I know, that, at my Will, I might possess;

That, wasting Tendernefs, in wild Profusion,

I might look down, to my surrounded Feet,

And bless contending Beauties.——I might speak,

Serenely slothful, from within my Palace,

And bid my Pleasure be my People's Law,

But, sweet, as Softness is, its End is cruel;

The TRAGEDY of ZARA.

I can look round, and count a Hundred Kings,
Unconquer'd, by themselves, and Slaves to others:
Hence was Jerusalem, to Christians, lost;
But, Heaven, to blast that unbelieving Race,
Taught me, to be a King, by thinking like one.
Hence, from the distant Euxine, to the Nile,
The Trumpet's Voice has wak'd the World to War;
Yet, amidst Arms, and Death, thy Power has reach'd
For, thou disdain'st, like me, a languid Love; [me:
Glory, and Zara, join——and charm, together.

Zara. I hear at once, with Blushes, and, with Joy,
This Passion, so unlike your Country's Customs.

Osman. Passion, like mine, disdains my Country's
The Jealousy, the Faintness, the Distrust, [Customs,
The proud, superior, Coldness, of the East:

I know to love you, Zara, with Esteem;
To trust your Vertue, and to court your Soul.
Nobly confiding, I unveil my Heart,
And dare inform you, that, 'tis All your own:
My Joys must, All, be yours——only my Cares
Shall lie, conceal'd, within——and reach not Zara.

Zara. Oblig'd, by this Excess of Tendernefs,
How low, how wretched, was the Lot of Zara!
Too poor with aught, but Thanks, to pay such Blessings!

Osman. Not so——I love——and wou'd be lov'd,
Let me confess it, I possess a Soul, [again;
That what it wishes, wishes, ardently.
I shou'd believe, you bated, had you Power
To love, with Moderation: 'Tis my Aim,
In every Thing, to reach supreme Perfection.
If, with an equal Flame, I touch your Heart,
Marriage attends your Smile—but know, 'twill make Me wretched, if it makes not Zara happy.

Zara. Ah! Sir, if such a Heart, as gen'rous Os
Can, from my Will, submit to take its Bliss, [man's,
What Mortal, ever, was decreed so happy!
Pardon the Pride, with which I own my Joy;

Thus,

8 The TRAGEDY of ZARA.

Thus, wholly, to possess the Man, I love!
To know, and to confess, his Will my Fate!
To be the happy Work of his dear Hands!
To be——

Enter Orasmin.

Osman. Already interrupted! What?
Who?——Whence?

Orasmin. This Moment, Sir, there is arriv'd
That Christian Slave, who, licens'd, on his Faith,
Went hence, to France——and, now return'd, prays Audience.

Zara. [Aside.] O! Heaven! [not?—

Osman. Admit him——What?—Why comes he

Orasmin. He waits, without?—No Christian dares approach

This Place, long sacred to the Sultan's Privacies.

Osman. Go—bring him with thee—Monarchs, like the Sun,

Shine but in vain, unwarming, if unseen;
With Forms, and Rev'ence, let the Great approach
Not the Unhappy;——Every Place, alike, [us;
Gives the Distress'd a Privilege to enter.——

[Exit Orasmin.

I think, with Horror, on these dreadful Maxims,
Which harden Kings, insensibly, to Tyrants.

Re-enter Orasmin, with Nerestan.

Nerestan. Imperial Sultan! honour'd, even by Foes!
See me, return'd, regardful of my Vow,
And, punctual, to discharge a Christian's Duty:
I bring the Ransom of the Captive, Zara,
Fair Selima, the Partner of her Fortune,
And of Ten Christian Captives, Pris'ners, here.
You promis'd, Sultan, if I shou'd return,
To grant their rated Liberty:——Behold,
I am return'd, and they are yours no more.
I wou'd have stretch'd my Purpose, to Myself,

But

But Fortune has deny'd it;—My poor All
Suffic'd, no further; and a noble Poverty
Is, now, my whole Possession:—I redeem
The promis'd Christians; for I taught 'em Hope.
But, for myself, I come, again, your Slave,
To wait the fuller Hand of future Charity.

Osman. Christian! I must confess, thy Courage charms me;

But let thy Pride be taught, it treads too high,
When it presumes to climb, above my Mercy.—
Go, ransomless, thyself—and carry back
Their unaccepted Ransoms, join'd with Gifts,
Fit to reward thy Purpose:—Instead of Ten,
Demand a Hundred Christians; they are thine:
Take 'em—and bid 'em teach their haughty Country,
They left some Virtue, among Saracens.——
Be Lusignan, alone, excepted——He,
Who boasts the Blood of Kings, and dares lay Claim
To My Jerusalem——That Claim his Guilt!
Such is the Law of States, had I been vanquish'd,
Thus had He said of Me:——I mourn his Lot,
Who must, in Fetters, lost to Day-light, pine,
And sigh away old Age, in Grief, and Pain.——
For Zara——but to name her, as a Captive,
Were to dishonour Language;——she's a Prize,
Above my Purchase;——All the Christian Realms,
With all their Kings to guide 'em, wou'd unite
In vain, to force her from me,——Go, retire——

Nerestan. For Zara's Ransom, with her own Consent,

I had your Royal Word——For Lusignan——
Unhappy, poor, old Man——

Osman. Was I not heard?

Have I not told thee, Christian, all my Will?
What, if I prais'd thee!—This presumptuous Virtue,
Compelling my Esteem, provokes my Pride:
Be gone——and, when to-morrow's Sun shall rise
On my Dominions, be not found——too near me.

[Exit Nerestan.

Zara.

Zara. [Aside.] Assist him, Heaven!

Osman. Zara, retire a Moment——

Assume, throughout my Palace, Sovereign Empire,
While I give Orders, to prepare the Pomp,
That waits, to crown the Mistress of my Throne:

[Leads her out, and returns.]

Oraşmin! didst thou mark th' imperious Slave?

What cou'd he mean?—he sigh'd—and, as he went,
Turn'd, and look'd back at Zara!—didst thou mark
it?

Oraşmin. Alas! my Sovereign Master! let not Jealousy

Strike high enough, to reach your noble Heart.

Osman. Jealousy, said'st thou? I disdain it:—No!—

Distrust is poor; and a misplac'd Suspicion
Invites, and justifies, the Falshood fear'd.——

Yet, as I love with Warmth——So, I cou'd hate!

But, Zara, is above Disguise and Art:——

My Love is stronger, nobler, than my Power.

Jealous!——I was not Jealous——If I was,

I am not—no—my Heart—but, let us drown

Remembrance of the Word, and of the Image:

My Heart is fill'd with a diviner Flame.——

Go——and prepare for the approaching Nuptials;

Zara to careful Empire joins Delight.

I must allot one Hour to Thoughts of State,

'Then, all the smiling Day is Love, and Zara's.

[Exit Oraşmin.]

Monarchs, by Forms of pompous Misery, press'd,

In proud, unsocial Solitude, unblest'd,

Wou'd, but for Love's soft Influence, curse their Throne,

And, among crowded Millions, live, alone.

End of the First Act.

A C T

ACT II. SCENE I.

Nerestan, Chatillon.

MATCHLESS Nerestan! Generous, and Great!
You, who have broke the Chains of hopeless Slaves!

You, Christian Saviour! by a Saviour sent!
Appear, be known, enjoy your due Delight;
The grateful Weepers wait, to clasp your Knees,
They throng, to kiss the happy Hand, that sav'd 'em:
Indulge the kind Impatience of their Eyes,
And, at their Head, command their Hearts, for ever.

Nerestan. Illustrious Chatillon! this Praise o'erwhelms me;

What have I done, beyond a Christian's Duty?
Beyond, what You wou'd, in my Place, have done?

Chatillon, True——It is ev'ry honest Christian's
Nay, 'tis the Blessing of such Minds as ours, [Duty;
For others' Good to sacrifice our own.——

Yet, happy they, to whom Heav'n grants the Power,
To execute, like you, the Duty's Call!

For us——the Relicks of abandon'd War,
Forgot in France, and, in Jerusalem,
Left, to grow old, in Fetters;——Osman's Father
Consign'd us to the Gloom of a damp Dungeon,
Where, but for you, we must have groan'd out Life;
And native France have blest'd our Eyes no more.

Nerestan. The Will of Gracious Heaven, that soften'd Osman,

Inspir'd me, for your Sakes;——But, with our Joy,
Flows, mix'd, a bitter Sadness——I had hop'd,
To save, from their Perversion, a young Beauty,

Who, in her Infant Innocence, with me,
 Was made a Slave by cruel Noradin;
 When, sprinkling Syria, with the Blood of Christians,
Cæsarea's Walls saw Lusignan, surpris'd,
 And the proud Crescent rise, in bloody Triumph:
 From this Seraglio, having, young, escap'd,
 Fate, Three Years since, restor'd me to my Chains;
 Then, sent to Paris, on my plighted Faith,
 I flatter'd my fond Hope, with vain Resolves,
 To guide the lovely Zara, to that Court,
 Where Lewis has establish'd Virtue's Throne;—
 But Osman will detain her——yet, not Osman;
Zara, herself, forgets she is a Christian,
 And loves the Tyrant Sultan!——Let that pass:
 I mourn a Disappointment, still, more cruel;
 The Prop of all our Christian Hope is lost!

Chatillon. Dispose me, at your Will——I am your own.

Nerestan. Oh, Sir, great Lusignan, so long, their
 That last, of an Heroic Race of Kings! [Captive,
 That Warrior! whose past Fame has fill'd the World!
Osman refuses, to my Sighs, for ever!

Chatillon. Nay, then, we have been all redeem'd, in vain;
 Perish that Soldier, who wou'd quit his Chains,
 And leave his noble Chief, behind, in Fetters.
 Alas! you know him not, as I have known him;
 Thank Heav'n, that plac'd your Birth, so far, remov'd,
 From those detested Days of Blood, and Woe;
 But I, less happy, was condemn'd to see
 Thy Walls, Jerusalem, beat down——and all
 Our pious Fathers' Labours lost, in Ruins!
 Heav'n! had you seen the very Temple rifled!
 The sacred Sepulchre, itself, profan'd!
 Fathers with Children, mingled, flame together!
 And our last King, oppress'd, by Age, and Arms,
 Murder'd——and bleeding, o'er his murder'd Sons!
 Then, Lusignan, sole Remnant of his Race

Rallying

Rallying our fated Few, amidst the Flames,
Fearless, beneath the Crush of falling Towers,
The Conqu'rors, and the Conquer'd, Groans, and Death!

Dreadful——and, waving in his Hand, his Sword,
Red, with the Blood of Infidels——cry'd out,
This Way, ye faithful Christians! follow Me——

Nerestan. How full of Glory was that brave Retreat!

Chatillon. 'Twas Heav'n, no doubt, that sav'd, and led him on;

Pointed his Path; and march'd our Guardian Guide:
We reach'd Cæsarea——there, the general Voice
Chose Lusignan, thenceforth, to give us Laws;
Alas! 'twas vain——Cæsarea cou'd not stand,
When Sion's Self was fall'n!——we were betray'd;
And Lusignan condemn'd, to Length of Life,
In Chains, and Damps, and Darknefs, and Despair:
Yet, Great, amidst his Miseries, he look'd,
As if he could not feel his Fate, himself,

But, as it reach'd his Followers:——And shall we,
For whom our gen'rous Leader suffer'd This,
Be, vilely, safe? and dare be blest'd, without him?

Nerestan. Oh! I shou'd hate the Liberty, he shar'd
I knew, too well, the Miseries, you describe, [not:
For I was born, amidst 'em——Chains, and Death,
Cæsarea lost, and Saracens, triumphant,
Were the first Objects, which my Eyes e'er look'd on.
Hurried, an Infant, among other Infants,
Snatch'd, from the Bosoms of their bleeding Mothers,
A Temple sav'd us, till the Slaughter ceas'd;
Then, were we sent to this ill-fated City,
Here, in the Palace of our former Kings,
To learn, from Saracens; their hated Faith,
And be completely wretched.——Zara, too,
Shar'd this Captivity; we, both, grew up,
So near each other, that a tender Friendship
Endear'd her to my Wishes:—My fond Heart——
Pardons its Weakness! bleeds, to see her lost,
And, for a barb'rous Tyrant, quit her God!

Chatillon. Such is the Saracens', too fatal, Policy!
 Watchful Seducers, still, of Infant Weakness:
 Happy, that You, so young, escap'd their Hands!
 But, let us think——May not this Zara's Int'rest,
 Loving the Sultan, and, by him belov'd,
 For Lusignan procure some softer Sentence?
 'The Wise, and Just, with Innocence, may draw
 Their own Advantage, from the Guilt of others.

Nerestan. How shall I gain Admission to her Presence?

Osman has banish'd me——but That's a Trifle;
 Will the Seraglio's Portals open to me?
 Or, cou'd I find That, easy, to my Hopes,
 What Prospect of Success, from an Apostate?
 On whom I cannot look, without Disdain;
 And who will read her Shame, upon my Brow?
 The hardest Trial of a gen'rous Mind
 Is, to court Favours, from a Hand it scorns.

Chatillon. Think, it is Lusignan, we seek to serve.

Nerestan. Well——It shall be attempted——Hark!
 who's this?

Are my Eyes false? or, is it, really, she?

Enter Zara.

Zara. Start not, my worthy Friend! I come, to seek you;

The Sultan has permitted it; fear nothing:——
 But, to confirm my Heart, which trembles, near you,
 Soften that angry Air, nor look Reproach;
 Why should we fear each other, Both, mistaking?
 Associates, from our Birth, one Prison held us,
 One Friendship taught Affliction, to be calm;
 Till Heav'n thought fit to favour your Escape,
 And call you to the Fields of happier France;
 Thence, once again, it was my Lot to find you,
 A Pris'ner here; where, hid, amongst a Crowd
 Of undistinguish'd Slaves, with less Restraint,
 I shar'd your frequent Converse;——

It

It pleas'd your Pity, shall I say your Friendship?
Or, rather, shall I call it generous Charity?
To form that noble Purpose, to redeem
Distressful Zara——you procur'd my Ransom,
And, with a Greatness, that out-soar'd a Crown,
Return'd, Yourself a Slave, to give Me Freedom!
But Heaven has cast our Fate, for different Climes;
Here, in Jerusalem, I fix, for ever:
Yet, among all the Shine, that marks my Fortune,
I shall, with frequent Tears, remember yours;
Your Goodness will, for ever, sooth my Heart,
And keep your Image, still, a Dweller, there.
Warm'd, by your great Example, to protect
That Faith, that lifts Humanity, so high,
I'll be a Mother to distressful Christians.

Nerestan. How!——You protect the Christians!

You, who can

Abjure their saving Truth!——and, coldly, see
Great Lusignan, their Chief, die slow, in Chains?

Zara. To bring him Freedom, you behold me here,
You will, this Moment, meet his Eyes, in Joy:

Chatillon. Shall I, then live, to bless that happy Hour? [Zara?

Nerestan. Can Christians owe, so dear a Gift, to

Zara. Hopeless, I gather'd Courage, to intreat
The Sultan, for his Liberty——Amaz'd,
So soon, to gain the Happiness, I wish'd!
See! where they bring the good, old Chief, grown dim,
With Age, by Pain, and Sorrows, hasten'd on!

Chatillon. How is my Heart dissolv'd, with sudden Joy!

Zara. I long to view his venerable Face,
But Tears, I know not why, eclipse my Sight!
I feel, methinks, redoubled Pity for him;
But I, alas! myself, have been a Slave;
And, when we pity Woes, which we have felt,
'Tis but a partial Virtue!

Nerestan. Amazement!—Whence this Greatness, in an Infidel!

Enter Lusignan, led in by two Guards.

Lusignan. Where am I! What forgiven Angel's
Has call'd me, to revisit long-lost Day? [Voice
Am I with Christians?—I am weak—forgive me,
And guide my trembling Steps?—I'm full of Years,
Yet, Misery has worn me, more than Age.

[Seating himself.] Am I, in Truth, at Liberty?

Chatillon. You are;
And every Christian's Grief takes end, with yours.

Lusignan. O, Light!—O! dearer, far, than Light! that Voice!

Chatillon! is it you?—my Fellow Martyr!
And, shall our Wretchedness, indeed, have end?
In what Place are we, now?—my feeble Eyes,
Disus'd to Daylight, long, in vain, to find you.

Chatillon. This was the Palace of your Royal Fa-
'Tis now, the Son of Noradin's Seraglio. [thers,

Zara. The Master of this Place—the mighty Of-Distinguishes, and loves to cherish, Virtue; [man!
This gen'rous Frenchman, yet, a Stranger to you,
Drawn from his Native Soil, from Peace, and Rest,
Brought the vow'd Ransoms of Ten Christian Slaves,
Himself, contented, to remain a Captive:
But Osman, charm'd by Greatness, like his own,
To equal, what he lov'd, has giv'n him, You.

Lusignan. So, gen'rous France inspires her social
They have been, ever, dear, and useful to me! [Sons!
Wou'd I were nearer to him——Noble Sir!

[Nerestan approaches.

How have I merited, that you, for me,
Shou'd pass such distant Seas, to bring me Blessings,
And hazard your own Safety, for my Sake?

Nerestan. My Name, Sir, is Nerestan—Born, in Syria,
I wore the Chains of Slav'ry, from my Birth;
Till, quitting the proud Crescent, for the Court,
Where

Where warlike Lewis reigns, beneath his Eye,
 I learnt the Trade of Arms:—The Rank, I hold,
 Was but the kind Distinction, which he gave me,
 To tempt my Courage, to deserve Regard.
 Your Sight, unhappy Prince, wou'd charm his Eye;
 That Best, and Greatest Monarch, will behold,
 With Grief, and Joy, those venerable Wounds,
 And print Embraces, where your Fetters bound you:
 All Paris will revere the Cross's Martyr;
Paris, the Refuge, still, of ruin'd Kings!

Lusignan. Alas! In Times, long past, I've seen its Glory:

When Philip, the Victorious, liv'd—I fought,
 Abreast, with Montmorency, and Melun,
D'Estaing, De Neile, and the far-famous Courcy;—
 Names, which were, then, the Praise, and Dread,
 But, what have I to do, at Paris, now? [of War!
 I stand upon the Brink of the cold Grave;
 That way, my Journey lies—to find, I hope,
 The King of Kings, and move Remembrance, there,
 Of all my Woes, long-suffer'd, for his Sake.—
 You, gen'rous Witnesses of my last Hour,
 While I yet live, assist my humble Prayers,
 And join the Resignation of my Soul.

Nerestan! Chatillon! and you—fair Mourner!
 Whose Tears do Honour to an old Man's Sorrows!
 Pity a Father, the unhappiest, sure!
 That ever felt the Hand of angry Heaven!
 My Eyes, tho' dying, still, can furnish Tears:
 Half my long Life they flow'd, and, still, will flow!
 A Daughter, and three Sons, my Heart's proud Hopes,
 Were, all, torn from me, in their tend'rest Years;
 My Friend Chatillon knows, and can remember—

Chatillon. Wou'd I were able, to forget your Woe.

Lusignan. Thou wert a Pris'ner, with me, in Cæsarea,

And, there, beheld'st my Wife, and Two dear Sons
 Perish, in Flames—They did not need the Grave,

Their Foes wou'd have deny'd 'em!—I beheld it;
Husband! and Father! helpless, I beheld it!

Deny'd the mournful Privilege, to die!

If ye are Saints in Heaven, as, sure! ye are!

Look, with an Eye of Pity, on That Brother,

That Sister, whom you left!—if I have, yet,

Or Son, or Daughter:—for, in early Chains,

Far from their lost, and unassisting Father,

I heard, that they were sent, with Numbers more,

To this Seraglio; hence to be dispers'd,

In nameless Remnants, o'er the East, and spread

Our Christian Miseries, round a faithless World.

Chatillon. 'Twas true—for, in the Horrors of that Day,

I snatch'd your Infant Daughter, from her Cradle;

But, finding ev'ry Hope of Flight was vain,

Scarce had I sprinkled, from a publick Fountain,

Those sacred Drops, which wash the Soul from Sin;

When, from my bleeding Arms, fierce Saracens

Forc'd the lost Innocent, who, smiling, lay,

And pointed, playful, at the swarthy Spoilers!

With Her, your youngest, then, your only Son,

Whose little Life had reach'd the fourth, sad Year,

And, just, giv'n Sense, to feel his own Misfortunes,

Was order'd to this City.

Nerestan. I, too, hither,

Just, at that fatal Age, from lost Cæsarea,

Came, in that Crowd of undistinguish'd Christians.—

Lusignan. You?—came You thence?—Alas!

who knows but you

Might, heretofore, have seen my Two, poor Children?

[Looking up.] Hah! Madam! that small Ornament

you wear,

Its Form a Stranger to this Country's Fashion,

How long has it been yours?

Zara. From my first Breath, Sir——

Ah! What!——you seem surpris'd!——Why should

This move you?

Lusignan.

Lusignan. Wou'd you confide it to my trembling Hands?

Zara. To what new Wonder, am I now reserv'd? Oh! Sir, what mean you?

Lusignan. Providence! and Heaven!
O, failing Eyes! deceive ye not my Hope?
Can this be possible?——Yes, yes—'tis She!
'This little Cross——I know it, by sure Marks;
Oh! take me, Heav'n! while I can die with Joy—

Zara. O! do not, Sir, distract me!—rising Thoughts,
And Hopes, and Fears, o'erwhelm me!

Lusignan. Tell me, yet,
Has it remain'd, for ever, in your Hands?
What!—Both, brought Captives, from Cæsarea hither?

Zara. Both, both—— [ther?

Nerestan. Oh, Heaven! have I then found a Fa-

Lusignan. Their Voice! their Looks!
The living Images of their dear Mother!
O, Thou! who, thus, canst bless my Life's last Sand!
Strengthen my Heart, too feeble for this Joy.
Madam! Nerestan!—Help me, Chatillon! [Rising.
Nerestan! if thou ought'st to own that Name,
Shines there, upon thy Breast, a noble Scar,
Which, ere Cæsarea fell, from a fierce Hand,
Surprising us, by Night, my Child receiv'd?

Nerestan. Bless'd Hand!——I bear it, Sir—— the Mark is there!

Lusignan. Merciful Heaven!

Nerestan. [Kneeling.] O, Sir!—O, Zara, kneel.—

Zara. [Kneeling.] My Father?——Oh!——

Lusignan. O, My lost Children!

Both. Oh!—— [bracing you,

Lusignan. My Son! my Daughter! Lost, in em-
I wou'd, now, die, lest this should prove a Dream.

Chatillon. How touch'd is my glad Heart, to see their Joy!

Lusignan. Again, I find you—dear, in Wretched-
ness:

O, my brave Son—and, Thou, my nameless Daugh—
Now, dissipate all Doubt, remove all Dread: [ter:
Has Heaven, that gives me back my Children—
giv'n 'em,

Such, as I lost 'em?—Come they, Christians, to me?—
One weeps—and one declines a conscious Eye!
Your Silence speaks—Too well I understand it.

Zara. I cannot, Sir, deceive you—Osman's Laws
Were mine—and Osman is not Christian.—

Lusignan. Oh! my misguided Child!—at that sad
Word,

The little Life, yet mine, had left me, quite,
But that my Death might fix thee, lost, for ever.
Full sixty Years, I fought the Christians' Cause,
Saw their doom'd Temple fall, their Power destroy'd:
Twenty, a Captive, in a Dungeon's Depth,
Yet, never, for myself, my Tears sought Heaven;
All, for my Children, rose my fruitless Prayers:
Yet, what avails a Father's wretched Joy?
I have a Daughter gain'd, and Heav'n an Enemy.
But, 'tis my Guilt, not her's—Thy Father's Prison
Depriv'd thee of thy Faith—yet, do not lose it:—
Reclaim thy Birthright—Think upon the Blood
Of Twenty Christian Kings, that fills thy Veins;
'Tis Heroes' Blood—the Blood of Saints, and Martyrs!

What wou'd thy Mother feel, to see thee, thus?
She, and thy murder'd Brothers!—Think, they call thee;

Think, that thou see'st 'em, stretch their bloody Arms,
And weep, to win thee, from their Murderers' Bosom.

Ev'n, in the Place, where thou betray'st thy God,
He dy'd, my Child, to save thee.—Turn thy Eyes,
And see; for thou art near, his sacred Sepulchre;
Thou can'st not move a Step, but where He trod!
Thou tremblest—Oh! admit me to thy Soul;
Kill not thy aged, thy afflicted Father;

Take

Take not, thus soon, again, the Life thou gav'st him;
Shame not thy Mother—nor betray thy God.—

'Tis past—Repentance dawns, in thy sweet Eyes;
I see bright Truth, descending to thy Heart,
And, now, my long-lost Child, is found, for ever.

Nereffan. O! doubly blest'd! a Sister, and a Soul,
To be redeem'd, together!

Zara. O! my Father!
Dear Author of my Life! inform me, teach me,
What shou'd my Duty do?

Lusignan. By one short Word,
To dry up all my Tears, and make Life welcome,
Say, thou art Christian——

Zara. Sir——I am a Christian.

Lusignan. Receive her, gracious Heaven! and bless her, for it.

Enter Orasmin.

Orasmin. Madam, the Sultan order'd me, to tell
That he expects, you, instant, quit this Place, [you,
And bid your last Farewell, to these vile Christians:
You, Captive Frenchmen, follow me;——for you,
It is my Task, to answer.——

Chatillon. Still, new Miseries!
How cautious Man shou'd be, to say, I'm happy!

Lusignan. These are the Times, when Men of Virtue, prove, [ness.
That, 'tis the Mind, not Blood, insures their Firm-

Zara. Alas! Sir——Oh!——

Lusignan. O, you!——I dare not name you:
Farewell—but, come what may, besure, remember,
You keep the fatal Secret!——for the rest,
Leave all to Heaven,——be faithful, and be blest.

End of the Second Act.

A C T

A C T III. S C E N E I.

Osman, and Orasmin.

Osman. O RASMIN! this Alarm was false, and groundless;

Lewis, no longer, turns his Arms, on Me:

The French, grown weary, by a Length of Woes,
Wish not, at once, to quit their fruitful Plains,
And famish, on Arabia's desert Sands.

Their Ships, 'tis true, have spread the Syrian Seas;

And Lewis, hovering, o'er the Coast of Cyprus,

Alarms the Fears of Asia;——But, I've learnt,

That, steering wide, from our unmenac'd Ports,

He points his Thunder, at th' Egyptian Shore.

There, let him war, and waste my Enemies;

Their mutual Conflict will but fix my Throne.——

Release those Christians——I restore their Freedom;

'Twill please their Master, nor can weaken Me:

'Transport 'em, at my Coast, to find their King;

I wish, to have him know me: Carry thither,

This Lusignan, whom, tell him, I restore,

Because I cannot fear his Fame in Arms;

But love him, for his Virtue, and his Blood.

Tell him, my Father having conquer'd, twice,

Condemn'd him to perpetual Chains; but I

Have set him free, that I might triumph more.

Orasmin. The Christians gain an Army, in His

Osman. I cannot fear a Sound.—— [Name.

Orasmin. But, Sir,——shou'd Lewis——

Osman. Tell Lewis, and the World—it shall be so:

Zara propos'd it, and my Heart approves:

Thy Statesman's Reason is too dull, for Love!

Why

Why wilt thou force me, to confess it all ?
 Tho' I, to Lewis, send back Lusignan,
 I give him but to Zara——I have griev'd her ;
 And ow'd her the Atonement of this Joy.
Thy false Advices, which, but now, misled
 My Anger, to confine those helpless Christians,
 Gave her a Pain, I feel, for Her and Me :
 But I talk on, and waste the smiling Moments.
 For one long Hour, I yet, defer my Nuptials ;
 But, 'tis not lost, that Hour! 'twill all be Hers !
 She wou'd employ it, in a Conference,
 With that Nerestan, whom thou know'st——That Christian!

Oraşmin. And have you, Sir, indulg'd that strange Desire ?

Osman. What mean'st thou? they were Infant
 Slaves together;
 Friends should part, kind, who are to meet no more;
 When Zara asks, I will refuse her nothing.
 Restraint was never made for those, we love ;
 Down, with these Rigours, of the proud Seraglio ;
 I hate its Laws——where blind Austerity
 Sinks Virtue, to Necessity.——My Blood
 Disclaims your Asian Jealousy;——I hold
 The fierce, free, Plainness, of my Scythian Ancestors,
 Their open Confidence, their honest Hate,
 Their Love, unfearing, and their Anger, told.
 Go—the good Christian waits—conduct him to her;
Zara expects thee——What she wills, obey.

[Exit Osman.]

Oraşmin. Ho! Christian! enter——wait, a Moment, here ;

Enter Nerestan.

Zara will soon approach——I go, to find her.

[Exit Oraşmin.]

Nerestan. In what a State, in what a Place, I leave her!

O,

O, faith ! O, Father ! O ! my poor, lost Sister !
She's here !————

Enter Zara.

Thank Heaven, it is not, then, unlawful,
To see you, yet, once more, my lovely Sister !
Not All so happy !————We, who met, but now,
Shall never meet again————for Lusignan————
We shall be Orphans, still, and want a Father.

Zara. Forbid it, Heaven !

Nerestan. His last, sad Hour's at Hand.————
That Flow of Joy, which follow'd our Discovery,
Too strong, and sudden, for his Age's Weakness,
Wasting his Spirits, dry'd the Source of Life,
And Nature yields him up, to Time's Demand :
Shall he not die, in Peace ?————Oh ! let no Doubt
Disturb his parting Moments, with Distrust ;
Let me, when I return, to close his Eyes,
Compose his Mind's Impatience, too, and tell him,
You are confirm'd a Christian.————

Zara. Oh ! may his Soul enjoy, in Earth, and Heaven,

Eternal Rest ! nor let one Thought, one Sigh,
One bold Complaint, of mine, recall his Cares !
But, You have injur'd me, who, still, can doubt.——
What ! am I not your Sister ? and shall You
Refuse me Credit ? You suppose me light ?
You, who shou'd judge my Honour, by your own !
Shall You distrust a Truth, I dar'd avow,
And stamp Apostate, on a Sister's Heart !

Nerestan. Ah ! do not misconceive me !————If I err'd,

Affection, not Distrust, misled my Fear ;
Your Will may be a Christian, yet, not You :
There is a sacred Mark————a Sign, of Faith,
A Pledge, of Promise, that must firm your Claim ;
Wash you from Guilt, and open Heaven, before you :
Swear, swear, by all the Woes, we All have borne,
By

By all the martyr'd Saints, who call you Daughter;
That you consent, this Day, to seal our Faith,
By that mysterious Rite, which waits your Call.

Zara. I swear, by Heaven, and all its holy Host,
Its Saints, its Martyrs, its attesting Angels,
And the dread Presence of its living Author,
To have no Faith, but yours;—to die, a Christian!
Now, tell me, what this mystick Faith requires?

Nerestan. To hate the Happiness of Osman's Throne,
And love that God, who, thro' this Maze of Woes,
Has brought us All, unhoping, thus, together;
For me—I am a Soldier, uninstructed,
Nor daring to instruct, tho' strong in Faith:
But I will bring th' Ambassador of Heaven,
To clear your Views, and lift you to your God:
Be it your Task, to gain Admission for him.—
But where? from whom?—Oh! thou Immortal Power!

Whence can we hope it, in this curs'd Seraglio?
Who is this Slave of Osman?—Yes, this Slave!
Does she not boast the Blood of twenty Kings?
Is not her Race the same, with That, of Lewis?
Is she not Lusignan's unhappy Daughter?
A Christian? and my Sister?—yet, a Slave!
A willing Slave!—I dare not speak, more plainly.

Zara. Cruel! go on—Alas! you know not Me!
At once, a Stranger, to my secret Fate,
My Pains, my Fears, my Wishes, and my Power:
I am—I will be, Christian—will receive
This holy Priest, with his mysterious Blessing;
I will not do, nor suffer, aught, unworthy
Myself, my Father, or my Father's Race.—
But, tell me—nor be tender, on this Point;
What Punishment your Christian Laws decree,
For an unhappy Wretch, who, to herself,
Unknown, and, all abandon'd, by the World,
Lost, and enslav'd, has, in her Sovereign Master,
Found a Protector, Generous, as Great,

Has

Has touch'd his Heart, and giv'n him, all her own ?

Nerestan. The Punishment of such a Slave, shou'd be Death, in This World—and Pain, in That to come.

Zara. I am that Slave—strike here—and save my Shame :

Nerestan. Destruction to my Hopes!—Can it be you ?

Zara. It is——ador'd by Osman, I adore him : This Hour, the Nuptial Rites will make us, One.

Nerestan. What! marry Osman!—Let the World grow dark,

That the extinguish'd Sun may hide thy Shame !

Cou'd it be thus, it were no Crime to kill thee.

Zara. Strike, strike—I love him—yes, by Heav'n !
I love him. [Me :

Nerestan. Death is thy Due---but not thy Due from. Yet, were the Honour of our House no Bar—— My Father's Fame, and the too gentle Laws Of that Religion, which thou hast disgrac'd—— Did not the God, thou quit'st, hold back my Arm, Not there—I cou'd not there ;—but, by my Soul, I wou'd rush, desp'rate, to the Sultan's Breast, And plunge my Sword, in his proud Heart, who damns thee.

Oh! Shame! Shame! Shame! at such a Time, as this!

When Lewis, that Awak'ner of the World, Beneath the lifted Cross, makes Egypt pale, And draws the Sword of Heaven, to spread our Faith!

Now, to submit to see my Sister, doom'd

A Bosom Slave, to Him, whose Tyrant Heart

But measures Glory, by the Christian's Woe!

Yes——I will dare acquaint our Father with it;——

Departing Lusignan may live, so long,

As just, to hear, thy Shame, and die, to 'scape it.

Zara. Stay--my too angry Brother,---stay--perhaps, Zara has Resolution, great as Thine:

'Tis cruel——and unkind!--Thy Words are Crimes;
My Weakness but Misfortune! Dost thou suffer?

I suffer more;—Oh! wou'd to Heaven, this Blood
Of Twenty boasted Kings, would stop, at once,
And stagnate in my Heart!—It, then, no more,
Would rush, in boiling Fevers, thro' my Veins,
And ev'ry trembling Drop, be fill'd with Osman.
How has he lov'd me! How has he oblig'd me!
I owe Thee to him! What has he not done,
To justify his boundless Pow'r of charming!
For me, he softens the severe Decrees
Of his own Faith;—And is it just, that mine
Shou'd bid me hate him, but because he loves me?
No—I will be a Christian—but, preserve
My Gratitude, as sacred, as my Faith;
If I have Death to fear, for Osman's Sake,
It must be, from his Coldness, not his Love.

Nerestan. I must, at once, condemn, and pity thee;
I cannot point thee out, which Way to go,
But Providence will lend its Light to guide thee.
That sacred Rite, which thou shalt, now, receive,
Will strengthen, and support, thy feeble Heart,
To live, an Innocent; or die, a Martyr:
Here, then, begin Performance of thy Vow;
Here, in the trembling Horrors of thy Soul,
Promise thy King, thy Father, and thy God,
Not to accomplish these detested Nuptials,
Till, first, the reverend Priest has clear'd your Eyes,
Taught you to know, and giv'n you Claim to, Heaven.

Promise me this—

Zara. So bless me, Heaven! I do.—
Go——hasten the good Priest, I will expect him;
But, first, return——cheer my expiring Father,
Tell him, I am, and will be, All he wishes me:
Tell him, to give Him Life, 'twere Joy, to die.

Nerestan. I go---farewell---farewell, unhappy Sister!
[Exit Nerestan.]

Zara. I am alone---and, now, be just, my Heart!
And tell me, Wilt thou dare betray thy God!

What

What am I? What am I about to be?
 Daughter of Lusignan?———or Wife to Osman?
 Am I a Lover, most? or, most, a Christian?
 Wou'd Selima were come! and, yet, 'tis just,
 All Friends shou'd fly Her, who forsakes Herself:
 What shall I do?—What Heart has Strength, to bear
 These double Weights of Duty?—Help me Heaven!
 To thy hard Laws I render up my Soul:
 But, Oh! demand it back—for, now, 'tis Osman's.---

Enter Osman.

Osman. Shine out, appear, be found, my lovely
Zara!

Impatient Eyes attend——The Rites expect thee;
 And my devoted Heart, no longer, brooks
 This Distance, from its Soft'ner!—All the Lamps
 Of Nuptial Love are lighted, and burn pure,
 As if they drew their Brightness from thy Blushes;
 The holy Mosque is fill'd with fragrant Fumes,
 Which emulate the Sweetness of thy Breathing:
 My prostrate People, all, confirm my Choice,
 And send their Souls to Heaven, in Prayer, for Blessings.
 Thy envious Rivals, conscious of thy Right,
 Approve superior Charms, and join to praise thee;
 The Throne, that waits thee, seems to shine, more
 As all its Gems, with animated Lustre, [richly,
 Fear'd to look dim, beneath the Eyes of Zara!
 Come, my slow Love! the Ceremonies wait thee;
 Come, and begin, from this dear Hour, my Triumph.

Zara. Oh! what a Wretch am I? O, Grief! Oh,
 Love!

Osman. Come———come———

Zara. Where shall I hide my Blushes?

Osman. Blushes?—here, in my Bosom, hide 'em.—

Zara. My Lord?

Osman. Nay, Zara---give me thy Hand, and come---

Zara. Instruct me, Heaven!

What I shou'd say———Alas! I cannot speak:

Osman,

Osman. Away——this modest, sweet, reluctant,
Trifling
But doubles my Desires, and thy own Beauties!

Zara. Ah, me!

Osman. Nay---but thou should'st not be too cruel---

Zara. I can, no longer, bear it——Oh! my Lord---

Osman. Ha!——what!——whence? how?——

Zara. My Lord! my Sovereign!

Heaven knows, this Marriage wou'd have been a Bliss,
Above my humble Hopes!—yet, witness Love!

Not from the Grandeur of your Throne, that Bliss,
But, from the Pride of calling Osman, Mine.

Wou'd, You had been no Emperor! and I,
Possess'd of Power, and Charms, deserving You!

That, flighting Asia's Thrones, I might, alone,
Have left a proffer'd World, to follow You,

Through Desarts, uninhabited by Men,

And bless'd, with ample Room, for Peace, and Love:

But, as it is——these Christians——

Osman. Christians! what!

How start two Images into thy Thoughts,

So distant——as the Christians, and my Love!

Zara. That good, old Christian, reverend Lusignan,
Now, dying, ends his Life, and Woes, together!

Osman. Well! let him die---What has thy Heart to feel,

Thus pressing, and thus tender, from the Death
Of an old, wretched, Christian?---Thank our Prophet,

Thou art no Christian!——educated, here,

Thy happy Youth was taught our better Faith:

Sweet, as thy Pity shines, 'tis, now, mistim'd;

What! tho' an aged Sufferer dies, unhappy,

Why shou'd his foreign Fate disturb our Joys?

Zara. Sir, if you love me, and wou'd have me
That, I am, truly, dear—— [think,

Osman. Heaven! if I love——

Zara. Permit me——

Osman. What?

Zara.

Zara. To desire——

Osman. Speak out——

Zara. The Nuptial Rites
May be deferr'd, till——

Osman. What?——is That the Voice
Of Zara?

Zara. Oh! I cannot bear his Frown!

Osman. Of Zara!

Zara. It is dreadful to my Heart,
To give you but a seeming Cause, for Anger;
Pardon my Grief---Alas! I cannot bear it;
There is a painful Terror, in your Eye,
That pierces to my Soul——hid, from your Sight,
I go, to make a Moment's Truce, with Tears,
And gather Force, to speak of my Despair.

[Exit disorder'd.]

Osman. I stand, immoveable, like senseless Marble!
Horror had frozen my suspended Tongue:
And an astonish'd Silence robb'd my Will
Of Power, to tell her, that she shock'd my Soul!
Spoke she to Me?---sure! I misunderstood her!
Cou'd it be Me, she left?---What have I seen!

Enter Orasmin.

Orasmin! What a Change is here!---She's gone,
And I permitted it, I know not how!

Orasmin. Perhaps, you but accuse the charming
Of Innocence, too modest, oft, in Love. [Fault

Osman. But why, and whence, those Tears?----- those Looks! that Flight!

That Grief! so strongly stamp'd, on every Feature!
If it has been that Frenchman!---What a Thought!
How low, how horrid, a Suspicion, That!
The dreadful Flash, at once, gives Light, and kills
My too bold Confidence, repell'd my Caution; [me:
An Infidel!---a Slave!---a Heart, like mine,
Reduc'd, to suffer, from so vile a Rival!
But, tell me, did'st thou mark 'em, at their parting?
Did'st

Didst thou observe the Language of their Eyes?
Hide nothing from me----Is my love betray'd?
Tell me my whole Disgrace: Nay, if thou tremblest,
I hear thy Pity speak, tho' thou art silent.

Orafin. I tremble at the Pangs, I see you suffer;
Let not your angry Apprehension urge
Your faithful Slave, to irritate your Anguish;
I did, 'tis true, observe some parting Tears;
But, there are Tears, of Charity, and Grief:
I cannot think, there was a Cause, deserving
This Agony of Passion-----

Osman. Why no-----I thank thee-----
Orafin, thou art wise! It cou'd not be,
That I shou'd stand, expos'd, to such an Insult:
Thou know'st, had Zara meant me the Offence,
She wants not Wisdom, to have bid it, better;
How rightly didst thou judge!---Zara shall know it:
And thank thy honest Service---After all,
Might she not have some Cause for Tears, which I
Claim no concern in---but the Grief it gives her?
What an unlikely Fear-----from a poor Slave!
Who goes, to-morrow, and, no doubt, who wishes,
Nay, who resolves, to see these Climes no more!

Orafin. Why did you, Sir, against our Country's Custom,
Indulge him, with a second Leave to come?
He said, he shou'd return, once more, to see her.

Osman. Return! the Traitor! He return!---Dares Presume, to press a second Interview? [he Wou'd he be seen, again?---He shall be seen;
But, dead;---Ill punish the audacious Slave,
To teach the faithless Fair, to feel my Anger:
Be still, my Transports; Violence is blind:
I know, my Heart, at once, is fierce, and weak;
I feel, that I descend, below my self;
Zara can never, justly, be suspected;
Her Sweetness was not form'd to cover Treason:
Yet, Osman must not stoop to Woman's Follies.

Their

Their Tears, Complaints, Regrets, and Reconcile-ments,

With all their light, capricious, Roll of Changes,

Are Arts, too vulgar, to be try'd on Me.

It wou'd become me, better, to resume

The Empire of my Will :----Rather than fall

Beneath myself, I must, how dear soe'er

It costs me, rise----till I look down, on Zara !

Away---but mark me---these Seraglio Doors,

Against all Christians, be they, henceforth, shut,

Close, as the dark Retreats of silent Death.----

What have I done, just Heav'n ! thy Rage to move,

That thou should'st sink me down, so low, to Love?

ACT IV. SCENE I.

Zara, Selima.

Selima.

AH! Madam, how, at once, I grieve your Fate,
And, how admire your Virtue!-----Heaven permits, [fortune ;

And Heaven will give you Strength, to bear, Mis-
To break these Chains, so strong, and, yet, so dear.

Zara. Oh ! that I cou'd support the fatal Struggle !

Selima. Th' Eternal aids your Weakness, sees your
Will ;

Directs your Purpose, and rewards your Sorrows.

Zara. Never had Wretch more Cause, to hope, he does.

Selima. What ! tho', you here, no more, behold
There is a Father to be found, above, [your Father!
Who can restore That Father to his Daughter.

Zara. But, I have planted Pain, in Osman's Bosom;
He loves me, ev'n to Death !---and I reward him,

With

With Anguish, and Despair:---How base: how cruel!
But I deserv'd him not, I shou'd have been Too happy, and the Hand of Heaven repell'd me.

Selima. What! will you, then, regret the glorious
And hazard, thus, a Vict'ry, bravely won? [Lofs,

Zara. Inhuman Victory!----thou dost not know,
This Love, so pow'rful, this sole Joy of Life,
This first, best, Hope of earthly Happiness,
Is, yet, less pow'rful, in my Heart, than Heaven!
To him, who made that Heart, I offer it;
There, there, I sacrifice my bleeding Passion:
I pour, before him, ev'ry guilty Tear;
I beg him, to efface the fond Impression,
And fill, with his own Image, all my Soul;
But, while I weep, and sigh, repent, and pray,
Remembrance brings the Object of my Love,
And ev'ry light Illusion floats before him.
I see, I hear him, and, again, he charms!
Fills my glad Soul, and shines, 'twixt me, and Heav'n!

Oh! all ye Royal Ancestors! Oh, Father!
Mother! you Christians, and the Christians' God!
You, who deprive me of this gen'rous Lover!
If you permit me not to live for him,
Let me not live, at all, and I am bless'd:
Let me die, innocent; let his dear Hand
Close the sad Eyes of her, he stoop'd to love,
And I acquit my Fate, and ask no more.
But he forgives me not-----regardless, now
Whether, or how, I live, or, when I die,
He quits me, scorns me -----and I, yet live on,
And talk of Death, as distant.-----

Selima. Ah! despair not,
Trust your Eternal Helper, and be happy.

Zara. Why-----what has Osman done, that He, too, shou'd not?

Has Heaven, so nobly, form'd his Heart, to bate it?
Gen'rous, and Just, Beneficent, and Brave,

Were he but Christian-----what can Man be, more ?
 I wish, methinks, this reverend Priest were come ;
 To free me from these Doubts, which shake my Soul :
 Yet, know not, why I shou'd not dare to hope,
 That Heaven, whose Mercy All confess, and feel,
 Will pardon, and approve, th' Alliance wish'd :
 Perhaps, it seats me on the Throne of Syria,
 To tax my my Pow'r, for these good Christians' Comfort.

Thou know'st the mighty Saladine, who, first,
 Conquer'd this Empire, from my Father's Race,
 Who, like my Osman, charm'd th' admiring World,
 Drew Birth, tho' Syrian, from a Christian Mother.

Selima. What mean you, Madam ! Ah ? you do not see -----

Zara. Yes, yes-----I see it all ; I am not blind :
 I see, my Country, and my Race, condemn me ;
 I see, that, spite of all, I still, love Osman.
 What ! if I, now, go throw me at his Feet,
 And tell him, there, sincerely, what I am ?

Selima. Consider - -That might cost your Brother's
 Expose the Christians, and betray you All. [Life,

Zara. You do not know the noble Heart of Osman ;

Selima. I know him the Protector of a Faith,
 Sworn Enemy to ours ; -----The more he loves,
 The less will he permit you, to profess
 Opinions, which he hates : To Night, the Priest,
 In private, introduc'd, attends you, here ;
 You promis'd him Admission-----

Zara. Wou'd I had not !

I promis'd, too, to keep this fatal Secret ;
 My Father's urg'd Command requir'd it, twice ;
 I must obey, all dangerous, as it is :
 Compell'd to Silence, Osman is enrag'd,
 Suspicion follows, and I lose his Love.

Enter

Enter Osman.

Osman. Madam! there was a Time, when my charm'd Heart
Made it a Virtue, to be lost, in Love;
When, without blushing, I indulg'd my Flame;
And ev'ry Day, still, made you dearer to me.
You taught me, Madam, to believe, my Love
Rewarded, and return'd——nor was that Hope,
Methinks, too bold for Reason: Emperors,
Who chuse to sigh, devoted, at the Feet
Of Beauties, whom the World conceive their Slaves,
Have Fortune's Claim, at least, to sure Success:
But, 'twere profane to think of Pow'r, in Love.
Dear, as my Passion makes you, I decline
Possession of her Charms, whose Heart's another's;
You will not find me a weak, jealous, Lover,
By coarse Reproaches giving Pain to you,
And shaming my own Greatness——wounded deeply,
Yet shunning, and disdaining, low Complaint,
I come——to tell you——

Zara. Give my trembling Heart
A Moment's Respite——

Osman. That unwilling Coldness,
Is just the Prize of your capricious Lightness;
Your ready Arts may spare the fruitless Pains,
Of colouring Deceit with fair Pretences;
I wou'd not wish to hear your slight Excuses;
I cherish Ignorance, to save my Blushes.
Osman, in ev'ry Trial, shall remember,
That he is Emperor——Whate'er I suffer,
'Tis due to Honour, that I give up You,
And, to my injur'd Bosom, take Despair,
Rather than, shamefully, possess you, fighting,
Convinc'd, those Sighs were, never, meant for Me.—
Go, Madam—you are free—From Osman's Pow'r
Expect no Wrongs, but see his Face no more.

Zara. At last, 'tis come—the fear'd, the murder'ring Moment

Is come—and I am curs'd by Earth, and Heaven!

[Throws herself on the Ground.]

If it is true, that I am lov'd no more;—

If you—

Osman. It is too true, my Fame requires it;

It is too true, that I, unwilling, leave you:

That I, at once, renounce you, and adore.—

Zara!—you weep!

Zara. If I am doom'd to lose you,

If I must wander o'er an empty World,

Unloving, and unlov'd—Oh! yet, do Justice

To the Afflicted—do not wrong me, doubly:

Punish me, if 'tis needful to your Peace,

But say not, I deserv'd it—This, at least,

Believe— for, not the Greatness of your Soul

Is Truth, more pure, and sacred—no Regret

Can touch my bleeding Heart, for having lost

The Rank, of Her, you raise to share your Throne:

I know, I never ought to have been there;

My Fate, and my Defects require, I lose you:

But ah! my Heart was, never, known to Osman.

May Heaven, that punishes, for ever hate me,

If I regret the Loss of aught, but You.

Osman. Rise—rise—This means not Love?

[Raises her.]

Zara. Strike—Strike me, Heaven!

Osman. What! is it Love, to force yourself to wound

The Heart, you wish to gladden?—But I find,

Lovers, least know Themselves, for, I believ'd,

That I had taken back the Power I gave you;

Yet, see!—you did but weep, and have resum'd me!

Proud, as I am—I must confess, one Wish

Evades my Power—the Blessing to forget you.

Zara—Thy Tears were form'd to teach Disdain,

That Softness can disarm it.—'Tis decreed,

I must, for ever, love—but, from what Cause,

If

If thy consenting Heart partakes my Fires,
Art thou reluctant to a Blessing, meant me?
Speak? Is it Levity——or, is it Fear?
Fear of a Power, that, but for blessing Thee,
Had, without Joy, been painful.——Is it Artifice?
Oh! spare the needless Pains——Art was not made
For Zara;——Art, however innocent,
Looks like Deceiving——I abhorr'd it, ever.

Zara. Alas! I have no Art, not ev'n enough,
To hide this Love, and this Distress, you give me.

Osman. Now Riddles! speak, with Plainness, to What canst thou mean; [my Soul;

Zara. I have no Power to speak it.

Osman. Is it some Secret, dangerous to my State?
Is it some Christian Plot, grown ripe, against me?

Zara. Lives there a Wretch, so vile, as to betray
Osman is blest'd, beyond the Reach of Fear; [you!
Fears, and Misfortunes, threaten only Zara.

Osman. Why threaten Zara?

Zara. Permit me, at your Feet,
Thus, trembling, to beseech a Favour from you.

Osman. A Favour!——Oh; you guide the Will of Osman. [united,

Zara. Ah! wou'd to Heaven, our Duties were Firm, as our Thoughts and Wishes!—But This Day,
But This one sad, unhappy Day, permit me,
Alone, and far-divided, from your Eye,
To cover my Distress, lest you, too tender,
Shou'd see, and share it with me---from To-morrow,
I will not have a Thought, conceal'd from you.

Osman. What strange Disquiet! from what stranger
Cause?

Zara. If I am, really, blest'd with Osman's Love,
He will not, then, refuse this humble Prayer.

Osman. If it must be, it must.---Be pleas'd---my
Will

Takes Purpose, from your Wishes;---And, Consent
Depends not on my Choice, but your Decree:

Go——but remember, how He loves, who thus,
Finds a Delight in Pain, because you give it.

Zara. It gives me more than Pain, to make you feel it.

Osman. And——can you, Zara, leave me?

Zara. Alas! my Lord! [Exit Zara.]

Osman. [Alone.] It shou'd be, yet, methinks, too soon to fly me!

Too soon, as yet, to wrong my easy Faith;
The more I think, the less I can conceive,
What hidden Cause shou'd raise such strange Despair!
Now, when her Hopes have Wings, and ev'ry Wish
Is courted to be lively!——When I love,
And Joy, and Empire, press her to their Bosom;
When, not alone belov'd, but, ev'n, a Lover:
Professing, and accepting; blest'd, and blessing;
To see her Eyes, thro' Tears, shine mystick Love!
'Tis Madness! and I were unworthy Power,
To suffer, longer, the capricious Insult!
Yet, was I blameless?——No——I was too rash;
I have felt Jealousy, and spoke it, to her;
I have distrusted her——and, still, she loves:
Gen'rous Atonement, That! and 'tis my Duty
To expiate, by a Length of soft Indulgence,
The Transports of a Rage, which, still, was Love.
Henceforth, I, never, will suspect her false;
Nature's plain Power of Charming dwells about her,
And Innocence gives Force to ev'ry Word:
I owe full Confidence to All, she looks,
For, in her Eye, shines Truth, and ev'ry Beam
Shoots Confirmation round her:—I remark'd,
Ev'n, while she wept, her Soul, a thousand times,
Sprung to her Lips, and long'd to leap to mine,
With honest, ardent, Utt'rance of her Love.——
Who can possess a Heart, so low, so base,
To look such Tendernefs, and, yet, have none?

Enter

Enter Melidor, with Orasmin.

Melidor. This Letter, great Disposer of the World!
Address'd to Zara, and, in private, brought,
Your faithful Guards, this Moment, intercepted,
And, humbly, offer to your Sovereign Eye.

Osman. Come nearer; give it me.---To Zara.--- Rise!

Bring it, with Speed——Shame on your flatt'ring
Distance——

[Advancing, and snatching the Letter.
Be honest——and approach me, like a Subject,
Who serves the Prince, yet, not forgets the Man.

Melidor. One of the Christian Slaves, whom, late, your Bounty
Releas'd from Bondage, fought, with heedful Guile,
Unnotic'd, to deliver it,——discover'd
He waits, in Chains, his Doom, from your Decree.

Osman. Leave me---I tremble, as if something fatal,
Were meant me, from this Letter---shou'd I read it?

Orasmin. Who knows, but it contains some happy
Truth,
That may remove all Doubts, and calm your Heart?

Osman. Be it, as 'twill---it shall be read---my Hands
Have Apprehension, that outreaches mine!
Why shou'd they tremble, thus?----'Tis done---and now,

[Opens the Letter.
Fate be thy Call obey'd---Orasmin, mark——

“ There is a secret Passage, toward the Mosque,
“ That Way, you might escape; and, unperceiv'd,
“ Fly your Observers, and fulfil our Hope;
“ Despise the Danger, and depend on me,
“ Who wait you, but to die, if you deceive.”

Hell! Tortures! Death! and Woman!——What?
Orasmin?

Are we awake? Heard'st thou? Can this be Zara?

Oraşmin. Wou'd, I had lost all Sense---for, what I heard,

Has cover'd my afflicted Heart with Horror!

Osman. Thou see'st how I am treated?

Oraşmin. Monstrous Treason!

To an Affront, like This, you cannot---must not--- Remain, insensible---You, who, but now,
From the most slight Suspicion, felt such Pain,
Must, in the Horror of so black a Guilt,
Find an effectual Cure, and banish Love.

Osman. Seek her this Instant---go---Oraşmin, fly---
Shew her, this Letter---bid her read, and tremble:
Then, in the rising Horrors of her Guilt,
Stab her unfaithful Breast---and let her die.
Say, while thou strik'st---Stay, stay---return, and pity me:

I will think, first, a Moment---Let that Christian
Be, strait, confronted with her---Stay---I will,
I will---I know not what;---Wou'd, I were dead!
Wou'd, I had dy'd, unconscious of this Shame!

Oraşmin. Never did Prince receive so bold a Wrong.

Osman. See! here, detected, this infernal Secret!
This Fountain of her Tears, which my weak Heart
Mistook for Marks of Tendernefs and Pain!
Why! what a Reach has Woman, to deceive!
Under how fine a Veil, of Grief, and Fear,
Did she propose Retirement, 'till To-morrow!
And I, blind Dotard! gave the Fool's Consent,
Sooth'd her, and suffer'd her to go!---She parted,
Dissolv'd in Tears; and parted, to betray me!

Oraşmin. Reflexion serves but to confirm her Guilt:
At length, resume Yourself; awaken Thought;
Assert your Greatness; and resolve, like Osman.

Osman. Nereştan, too---Was this the boasted Ho-
Of that proud Christian? whom Jerusalem [nour
Grew loud, in Praising! whose half-envy'd Virtue
I wonder'd at, myself! and felt Disdain,

To

To be but, equal, to a Christian's Greatness !
 And does he thank me thus ?———base Infidel !
 Honest, pretending, pious, praying, Villain !
 Yet, Zara is, a thousand times, more base,
 More Hypocrite, than He !———a Slave ! a Wretch !
 So low, so lost, that, ev'n the vilest Labours,
 In which he lay, condemn'd, could never sink him,
 Beneath his Native Infamy !———Did she not know,
 What I have done, what suffer'd———for Her Sake ?

Orafin. Cou'd you, my gracious Lord ! forgive
 You wou'd——— [my Zeal !

Osman. I know it———Thou art right———I'll see her———

I'll tax her, in thy Presence ;———I'll upbraid her——
 I'll let her learn——go——find, and bring her, to me.

Orafin. Alas ! my Lord, disorder'd as you are,
 What can you wish to say ?

Osman. I know not, now :———
 But I resolve to see her———lest she think,
 Her Falshood has, perhaps, the Power to grieve me.

Orafin. Believe me, Sir, your Threatnings, your Complaints,

What will they All produce, but Zara's Tears,
 To quench this fancy'd Anger ! your lost Heart,
 Seduc'd, against itself, will search but Reasons,
 To justify the Guilt, which gives it Pain :
 Rather conceal, from Zara, this Discovery ;
 And let some trusty Slave convey the Letter,
 Reclos'd to her own Hand———then, shall you learn,
 Spite of her Frauds, Disguise, and Artifice,
 The firmness, or Abasement, of her Soul.

Osman. Thy Counsel charms me ! We'll about it,
 'Twill be some Recompence, at least, to see [now :
 Her Blushes, when detected,———

Orafin. Oh ! my Lord,
 I doubt you, in the Trial———for, your Heart———

Osman. Distrust me not———my Love, indeed, is weak,

But, Honour, and Disdain, more strong than Zara :
 Here, take this fatal Letter——chuse a Slave,
 Whom, yet, she never saw, and who retains
 His try'd Fidelity——Dispatch——be gone——

[Exit Orasmin.

Now, whither shall I turn my Eyes, and Steps,
 The surest Way, to shun her ; and give Time
 For this discovering Trial ?——Heav'n ! she's here !

Enter Zara.

So, Madam ! Fortune will befriend my Cause,
 And free me from your Fetters :——You are met,
 Most aptly, to dispel a new-ris'n Doubt,
 That claims the finest of your Arts, to gloss it.
 Unhappy, each, by other, it is Time,
 To end our mutual Pain, that Both may rest :
 You want not Generosity, but Love :
 My Pride forgotten, my obtruded Throne,
 My Favours, Cares, Respect, and Tendernefs,
 Touching your Gratitude, provok'd Regard ;
 Till, by a Length of Benefits, besieg'd,
 Your Heart submitted, and you thought, 'twas Love ;
 But, you deceiv'd Yourself, and injur'd me.
 There is, I'm told, an Object, more deserving
 Your Love, than Osman—I wou'd know his Name ?
 Be just, nor trifle with my Anger : Tell me,
 Now, while expiring Pity struggles faint ;
 While I have yet, perhaps, the Pow'r to pardon :
 Give up the bold Invader of my Claim,
 And let him die, to save thee.—Thou art known ;
 Think, and resolve—While I yet speak, renounce
 him ;

While yet the Thunder rolls, suspended, stop it ;
 Let thy Voice charm me, and recall my Soul,
 That turns, averse, and dwells no more on Zara.

Zara. Can it be Osman, speaks ? and speaks to Zara ?

Learn, cruel ! learn, that this afflicted Heart,

This

This Heart, which Heaven delights to prove, by Tortures,

Did it not love, has Pride, and Pow'r, to shun you:

Alas! you will not know me! What have I

To fear, but that unhappy Love, you question?

That Love, which, only, cou'd outweigh the Shame,

I feel, while I descend, to weep my Wrongs.

I know not, whether Heaven, that frowns upon me,

Has destin'd my unhappy Days, for Yours;

But, be my Fate, or blest'd, or curs'd, I swear,

By Honour, dearer ev'n than Life, or Love,

Cou'd Zara be but Mistress of Herself,

She wou'd, with cold Regard, look down on Kings,

And, You alone excepted, fly 'em all:

Wou'd you learn more, and open all my Heart?

Know then, that, spite of this renew'd Injustice,

I do not——cannot——wish to love you less:

That, long before you look'd so low, as Zara,

She gave her Heart to Osman——Yours, before

Your Benefits had bought her, or your Eye

Had thrown Distinction round her; never had,

Nor ever will acknowledge, other Lover.——

And, to this sacred Truth, attesting Heaven!

I call thy dreadful Notice! If my Heart

Deserves Reproach, 'tis for, but not from, Osman.

Osman. What! does she, yet, presume to swear

Sincerity!

Oh! Boldness of unblushing Perjury!

Had I not seen, had I not read, such Proof,

Of her light Falshood, as extinguish'd Doubt,

I cou'd not be a Man, and not believe her.

Zara. Alas! my Lord, what cruel Fears have seiz'd you?

What harsh, mysterious Words were those, I heard?

Osman. What Fears shou'd Osman feel, since Zara loves him?

Zara. I cannot live, and answer to your Voice,

In that reproachful Tone!——Your angry Eye

Trembles

Trembles with Fury, while you talk of Love;

Osman. Since Zara LOVES him!

Zara. Is it possible,

Osman should disbelieve it?——Again, again

Your late-repent'd Violence returns;

Alas! what killing Frowns you dart against me!

Can it be kind? Can it be just, to doubt me?

Osman. No—I can doubt no longer—You may retire. [Exit Zara.

Re-enter Orasmin.

Orasmin! she's perfidious, ev'n beyond
Her Sex's undiscover'd Power of Seeming:
She's at the topmost Point of shameless Artifice;
An Empress, at Deceiving!——Soft, and easy
Destroying like a Plague, in calm Tranquility:
She's innocent, she swears——So is the Fire;
It shines, in harmless Distance, bright, and pleasing,
Consuming nothing, till it, first, embraces.——
Say? Hast thou chos'n a Slave?——Is he instructed?
Haste, to detect her Vileness, and my Wrongs.

Orasmin. Punctual, I have obey'd your whole Command;

But, have you arm'd, my Lord, your injur'd Heart,
With Coldness, and Indiff'rence? Can you hear,
All, painless and unmoy'd, the False One's Shame?

Osman. Orasmin! I adore her, more than ever!

Orasmin. My Lord! my Emperor! forbid it,
Heaven!

Osman. I have discern'd a Gleam of distant
Hope;

This hateful Christian, the light Growth of France,
Proud, young, vain, amorous, conceited, rash,
Has misconceiv'd some charitable Glance,
And judg'd it Love, in Zara:——He, alone,
Then, has offended me.—Is it her Fault,
If those, she charms, are indiscreet and daring?
Zara, perhaps, expected not this Letter;

And

And I, with Rashness, groundless, as its Writer's,
Took Fire, at my own Fancy, and have wrong'd her.
Now, hear me, with Attention——Soon as Night
Has thrown her welcome Shadows, o'er the Palace;
When this Nerestan, this ungrateful Christian,
Shall lurk, in Expectation, near our Walls,
Be watchful, that our Guards surprize, and seize him;
Then, bound in Fetters, and o'erwhelm'd with Shame,
Conduct the daring Traitor, to my Presence;
But, above all, be sure, you hurt not Zara:
Mindful to what supreme Excess, I love.
I feel, I must confess, a kind of Shame,
And blush, at my own Tendernefs;—but, Faith,
Howe'er it seems deceiv'd, were weak, as I am,
Cou'd it admit Distrust, to blot its Face,
And give Appearance Way, till Proof takes Place.

End of the Fourth Act.

ACT V. SCENE I.

Zara, Selima.

Zara. SOOTH me, no longer, with this vain Defire;
To a Recluse, like me, who dares, henceforth,
Presume Admission!—The Seraglio's shut—
Barr'd, and unpassable—as Death, to Time!
My Brother ne'er must hope to see me, more:—
How now! what unknown Slave accosts us, here!

Enter Melidor.

Melidor. This Letter, trusted to my Hands, receive,

In

In secret Witness, I am, wholly, yours.

[Zara reads the Letter.

Selima. [Aside.] Thou, everlasting Ruler of the World!

Shed thy wish'd Mercy on our hopeless Tears;
Redeem us from the Hands of hated Infidels,
And save my Princess from the Breast of Osman.

Zara. I wish, my Friend, the Comfort of your Counsel.

Selima. Retire—you shall be call'd—wait near—
Go, leave us: [Exit Melidor.

Zara. Read this—and tell me, what I ought to answer?

For I wou'd, gladly, hear my Brother's Voice.

Selima. Say rather, you wou'd hear the Voice of Heav'n.

'Tis not your Brother, calls you, but your God.

Zara. I know it, nor resist his awful Will;
Thou know'st, that I have bound my Soul, by Oath;
But, can I——ought I——to engage myself,
My Brother, and the Christians in this Danger?

Selima. 'Tis not their Danger, that alarms your Fear;

Your Love speaks loudest, to your shrinking Soul;
I know your Heart, of Strength, to hazard All,
But, it has let in Traitors, who surrender,
On poor Pretence of Safety:---Learn, at least,
To understand, the Weakness, that deceives you:
You tremble, to offend your haughty Lover,
Whom Wrongs, and Outrage, but endear the more;
Yes——you are blind to Osman's cruel Nature,
That Tartar's Fierceness, that obscures his Bounties:
This Tyger, savage, in his Tenderness,
Courts, with Contempt, and threatens, amidst Soft-
ness;

Yet, cannot your neglected Heart efface
His fated, fix'd, Impression!

Zara. What Reproach.

Can

Can I, with Justice, make him?—I, indeed,
Have given Him Cause to hate me!—
Was not his Throne, was not his Temple, ready?
Did not he court his Slave, to be a Queen?
And have not I declin'd it?—I, who ought
To tremble, conscious of affronted Power!
Have not I triumph'd o'er his Pride, and Love?
Seen him submit his own high Will, to mine?
And sacrifice his Wishes, to my Weakness?

Selima. Talk we, no more, of this unhappy Pass—
What Resolution will your Virtue take? [sion:

Zara. All Things combine, to sink me to Despair:
From the Seraglio, Death, alone, will free me.
I long to see the Christians' happy Climes;
Yet, in the Moment, while I form that Prayer,
I sigh a secret Wish, to languish, here:
How sad a State is mine! my restless Soul
All ign'rant, what to do, or what to wish?
My only Perfect Sense is, That of Pain.
O, Guardian Heav'n! protect my Brother's Life:
For I will meet him, and fulfil his Prayer.
Then, when, from Solyma's unfriendly Walls,
His Absence shall unbind his Sister's Tongue,
Osman shall learn the Secret of my Birth,
My Faith unshaken, and my deathless Love;
He will approve my Choice, and pity me.
I'll send my Brother Word, he may expect me;
Call in the faithful Slave—God of my Fathers!

[Exit Selima.

Let thy Hand save me, and thy Will direct.

Enter Selima, and Melidor.

Go—tell the Christian, who intrusted thee,
That Zara's Heart is fix'd, nor shrinks at Danger;
And, that my faithful Friend will, at the Hour,
Expect, and introduce him, to his Wish.
Away—the Sultan comes; he must not find us.

[Exeunt Zara and Selima.

Enter

Enter Osman, and Orasmin.

Osman. Swifter, ye Hours, move on; my Fury glows
Impatient, and wou'd push the Wheels of Time:—
How now! What Message dost thou bring? Speak boldly——

What Answer gave she, to the Letter, sent her?

Melidor. She blush'd, and trembled, and grew pale, and paus'd;

Then blush'd, and read it; and, again, grew pale;
And wept, and smil'd, and doubted, and resolv'd:
For, after all this Race of vary'd Passions,
When she had sent me out, and call'd me back,
Tell him (she cry'd) who has intrusted thee,
That Zara's Heart is fix'd, nor shrinks at Danger;
And, that my faithful Friend will, at the Hour,
Expect, and introduce him, to his Wish.

Osman. Enough—be gone—I have no Ear for more.——— [To the Slave.

Leave me, Thou too, Orasmin.—Leave me Life,
[To Orasmin.

For, ev'ry Mortal Aspect moves my Hate:
Leave me, to my Distraction—I grow mad,
And cannot bear the Visage of a Friend.
Leave me, to Rage, Despair, and Shame, and Wrongs;

Leave me, to seek Myself—and shun Mankind.

[Alone.]

Who am I?—Heav'n! Who am I? What resolve I?
Zara! Nerestan! Sounds those Words, like Names
Decreed to join!—Why pause I?—Perish Zara——
Wou'd, I cou'd tear her Image from my Heart:—
'Twere happier, not to live, at all, than live
Her Scorn, the Sport of an ungrateful False One!
And sink the Sovereign, in a Woman's Property.

Re-enter

Re-enter Orasmin.

Orasmin!——Friend! return——I cannot bear
This Absence, from thy Reason: 'Twas unkind,
'Twas cruel, to obey me, thus distress'd,
And wanting Pow'r to think, when I had lost thee.
How goes the Hour? Has he appear'd? This Rival!
Perish the shameful Sound—This Villain Christian!
Has he appear'd, below?

Orasmin. Silent, and dark,
Th' unbreathing World is hush'd, as if it heard,
And listen'd to, your Sorrows.

Osman. O, treach'rous Night!
Thou lend'st thy ready Veil, to ev'ry Treason,
And teeming Mischiefs thrive, beneath thy Shade.

Orasmin! Prophet! Reason! Truth! and Love!
After such Length of Benefits to wrong me!
How have I over-rated, how mistaken,
The Merit of her Beauty!—Did I not Forget I was a Monarch? Did I remember,
That Zara was a Slave?—I gave up All;
Gave up Tranquility, Distinction, Pride,
And fell, the shameful Victim of my Love!

Orasmin. Sir! Sovereign! Sultan! my Imperial Master!

Reflect on your own Greatness, and disdain
The distant Provocation.——

Osman. Heard'st thou nothing?

Orasmin. My Lord?

Osman. A Noise, like Dying Groans?

Orasmin. I listen, but can hear nothing.

Osman. Again!——look out——he comes——

Orasmin. Nor Tread of Mortal Foot—nor Voice,
I hear:

The still Seraglio lies, profoundly plung'd,
In Deathlike Silence! nothing stirs.——The Air
Is soft, as Infants' Sleep, no breathing Wind
Steals, thro' the Shadows, to awaken Night.

Osman.

Osman. Horrors, a thousand times more dark,
 than these,
 Benight my suff'ring Soul——Thou dost not know,
 To what Excess of Tendernefs, I lov'd her.
 I knew no Happiness, but what she gave me,
 Nor cou'd have felt a Mis'ry, but for her!
 Pity this Weaknefs——mine are Tears, Orafmin!
 That fall not oft, nor lightly:——

Orafmin. Tears!——Oh, Heaven!

Osman. The first, which, ever, yet, unmann'd my Eyes!

O! pity Zara——pity Me——Orafmin,
 These but forerun the Tears of destin'd Blood.

Orafmin. Oh, my unhappy Lord!——I tremble for you——

Osman. Do——tremble at my Suff'rings, at my Love;

At my Revenge, too, tremble——for, 'tis due,
 And will not be deluded.

Orafmin. Hark! I hear
 The Steps of Men, along the neighb'ring Wall!——

Osman. Fly——seize him——'tis Nereftan! wait no
 Chains,

But, drag him down, to my impatient Eye.

[Exit Orafmin.]

Enter Zara, and Selima, in the Dark.

Zara. Where art thou, Selima? Give me thy Hand;
 It is so dark, I tremble, as I step,
 With Fears, and Startings, never felt, 'till now!

Osman. Damnation! 'tis Her Voice! the well known Sound,

That has, so often, charm'd me into Baseness!

Oh! the perfidious Hypocrite!——she goes,
 To meet th' inviting Infidel!——now, now,

[Drawing a Dagger.]

Revenge, stand firm, and intercept his Wishes:—— Revenge! on whom?——no matter——Earth, and Heaven, Wou'd

Wou'd blush, shou'd I forbear:—Now—Zara, now;
[Drops the Dagger.]

I must not——cannot strike, the starting Steel,
Unwilling, flies my Hand, and shuns to wound her.

Zara. This is the private Path—come nearer, lead
me——

Are we not notic'd, think'st thou?

Selima. Fear not, Madam;

It cannot, now, be long, ere we shall meet him.

Osman. That Word has giv'n me, back, my ebbing Rage; [Recover's the Dagger.]

Zara. I walk in Terror, and my Heart forebodes:
Who's there?—Nerestan! Is it you!—Oh! Welcome——

Osman. [Stabbing her.] This to thy Heart—'Tis not the Traitor, meets thee,
'Tis the Betray'd——who writes it, in thy Blood.

Zara. O, gracious Heaven! receive my parting
Soul. [Dies.]

Osman. Soul?—then Revenge has reach'd thee—
I will, now,

Haste, from this fatal Place——I cannot leave her!
Whom did I strike? Was this the Act of Love?
Swallow me, Earth!—She's silent—Zara's dead!
And should I live, to see returning Day,
'Twill shew me but her Blood!—shew me, left joy-
less,

In a wide, empty World, with nothing round me,
But Penitence, and Pain—and, yet, 'twas just:—
Hark!——Destiny has sent her Lover to me,
To fill my Vengeance, and restore my joy.

Enter Orasmin, with Nerestan.

Approach thou Wretch! thou more than curs'd!
come near——

Thou! who, in Gratitude, for Freedom gain'd,
Hast given Me Miseries, beyond thy own!
Thou Heart of Heroe, with a Traitor's Soul!

Go

Go——reap thy due Reward, prepare to suffer,
 Whate'r inventive Malice can inflict,
 To make Thee feel thy Death, and perish, slow.
 Are my Commands obey'd?

Orafmin. All is prepar'd:

Osman. Thy wanton Eyes look round, in Search of Her,

Whose Love, descending to a Slave, like Thee,
 From my dishonour'd Hand, receiv'd her Doom?
 See! where she lies——

Nerestan. O, fatal, rash, Mistake!

Osman. Dost thou behold her, Slave?

Nerestan. Unhappy Sister!

Osman. Sister!——Did'st thou say Sister? if thou did'st,

Bless me, with Deafness, Heaven!

Nerestan. Tyrant! I did——

She was my Sister——All, that, now, is left thee,
 Dispatch——From my distracted Heart, drain, next,
 The Remnant of the Royal, Christian, Blood:

Old Lusignan, expiring, in my Arms,
 Sent his too wretched Son, with his last Blessing,
 To his, now, murder'd Daughter!——

Wou'd I had seen the bleeding Innocent!
 I wou'd have liv'd, to speak to her, in Death;
 Wou'd have awaken'd, in her languid Heart,
 A livelier Sense of her abandon'd God:

That God, who, left by Her, forsook Her, too,
 And gave the poor, lost, Suff'rer, to thy Rage.

Osman. Thy Sister?——Lusignan, her Father——
Selima!

Can this be true;—and have I wrong'd thee, Zara?

Selima. Thy Love was all the Cloud, 'twixt her, and Heav'n!

Osman. Be dumb——for thou art base, to add Distraction,

To my, already, more, than bleeding Heart:
 And was thy Love sincere?—What, then, remains?

Nerestan.

Nerestan. Why shou'd a Tyrant hesitate, on Murder!

There, now, remains, but mine, of all the Blood,
Which, through thy Father's cruel Reign, and Thine,
Has, never, ceas'd to stream, on Syria's Sands;
Restore a Wretch to his unhappy Race;
Nor hope, that Torments, after such a Scene,
Can force one feeble Groan, to feast thy Anger.
I waste my fruitless Words, in empty Air;
The Tyrant, o'er the bleeding Wound, he made,
Hangs his unmoving Eye, and heeds not me.

Osman. O, Zara!——

Oraşmin. Alas! my Lord, return—whither wou'd Grief

Transport your gen'rous Heart?——This Christian Dog——

Osman. Take off his Fetters, and observe my Will:
To Him, and all his Friends, give instant Liberty:
Pour a Profusion, of the richest Gifts,
On these unhappy Christians; and, when heap'd,
With vary'd Benefits, and charg'd, with Riches,
Give 'em safe Conduct, to the nearest Port.

Oraşmin. But, Sir!——

Osman. Reply not, but obey.——

Fly—nor dispute thy Master's last Command,
Thy Prince, who orders—and thy Friend, who loves thee!

Go—lose no Time—farewell—be gone—and thou!
Unhappy Warrior!—yet, less lost, than I!——
Haste, from our bloody Land—and, to thy own,
Convey this poor, pale, Object of my Rage:
Thy King, and all his Christians, when they hear
Thy Miseries, shall mourn 'em, with their Tears;
But, if thou tell'st 'em mine, and tell'st 'em, truly,
They, who shall hate my Crime, shall pity Me.

Take, too, this Poinard, with thee, which my Hand
Has stain'd with Blood, far dearer, than my own;
Tell 'em—with This, I murder'd, Her, I lov'd;

The

The noblest, and most virtuous, among Women!
 The Soul of Innocence, and Pride of Truth!
 Tell 'em, I laid my Empire at her Feet;
 Tell em, I plung'd my Dagger in her Blood;
 Tell 'em, I so ador'd—and, thus reveng'd her.

[Stabs himself.

Rev'rence this Heroe—and conduct him, safe.

[Dies.

Nerestan. Direct me, Great Inspirer of the Soul!
 How shou'd I act, how judge, in this Distress?
 Amazing Grandeur! and detested Rage!
 Ev'n I, amidst my Tears, admire this Foe,
 And mourn his Death, who liv'd to give me Woe.

End of the Fifth Act.

E P I L O G U E,

Spoke by Mrs. CLIVE.

HERE, *take a Surfeit, Sirs, of being Jealous;
And shun the Pains, that plague those Turkish Fellows:*

Where LOVE and DEATH join Hands, their Darts confounding,

Save us, good Heaven! from this new Way of WOUNDING!

Curs'd Climate!---where, to CARDS, a lone-left Woman

Has only, One of her Black-Guards, to summon!

Sighs, and sits mop'd, with her tame Beast to gaze at:

And, that cold Treat, is all the Game she plays at!

For---shou'd she once, some Abler Hand be trying,

Poignard's the Word!---and, the first Deal is---DY-ING!

'Slife! shou'd the bloody Whim get Ground, in Britain,

Where Woman's FREEDOM has such Heights, to sit on;

Daggers, PROVOK'D, wou'd bring on DESOLATION:

And, murder'd Belles un-people half the Nation!----

Fain

E P I L O G U E.

*Fain wou'd I help this Play, to move Compassion;
And live, to hunt SUSPICION out of Fashion.——*

FOUR Motives, strongly recommend, to Lovers,
Hate of this Weakness, that our Scene discovers :

*First then---A Woman WILL, or WON'T---depend
on't :*

*If she will do't, she WILL :---and, there's an End on't.
But, if she won't,---since safe and sound your Trust is,
Fear is AFFRONT : and Jealousy INJUSTICE.*

*Next,---He who bids his Dear do, what she pleases,
Blunts Wedlock's Edge ; and, all its Torture eases :
For---not to feel your Suff'rings, is the same,
As not to suffer :---All the Diff'rence---Name.*

*Thirdly---The Jealous Husband wrongs his Honour;
No Wife goes Lame, without some Hurt upon Her :
And, the malicious World will still be guessing,
Who, oft, Dines out, dislikes her own Cook's Dressing.*

*Fourthly, and lastly,---to conclude my Lecture,
If you wou'd FIX th' inconstant Wife---RESPECT her.
She who perceives her Vertues OVER-RATED,
Will fear to have th' Account more justly stated :
And, bor'r'wing, from her Pride, the Good Wife's*

SEEMING,

Grow REALLY SUCH---to Merit your Esteeming.
